Suppose he told the truth now and saved Harry. He had never done a brave deed for the sake of truth or righteousness or for the love of any human being, but he could do one now. For the one red coward that had been a symbol of a day of evil living he could render a deed that would make requital for those unpaid days. He would not have played the coward's part. It would repair the wrong he had done Jessica. He would have made expiation. Forgiveness and pity, not reproaches and shame, would follow him, and it would balance perhaps the one dreadful count that stood against him. He thought of the scaffold and shivered, yet there was a more terrible thought: It is a fearful thing to fall into the hands of the living God!

He made his way again to the door and unlocked it. It was only to cross that space, to speak, and then the grim brick building and the penalty.

With a hoarse cry he slammed the door and frantically locked it. The edge of the scorching pain was upon him again. He stumbled back to the couch and fell across it face down, dragging the cushions in frantic haste over his head to shut out the slat threshing of the steam that seemed slaughtering at the fate he covering must dared not face.

• • • • • • • •

The groups outside the courthouse made way deferentially for Jessica, but she was unconscious of it. Some one asked a question on the steps, and she heard the answer. "The state has just finished, and the judge is charging."

The narrow hall was filled, and, though all who saw gave her instant place, the space beyond the inner door was crowded beyond the possibility of passage. She could see the judge's bench with its ordered, gray bearded figure, the jury box at the left, the moving, restless faces about it, set like a living mosaic.

She became aware suddenly that the figure at the high bench was speaking, had been speaking all along:

"With the prisoner's later career in Smoky Mountain they had nothing to do nor had the law. The question it raised the only question it asked—was it in Hill Harvest? They might be unable to believe the same man capable of such contradictory acts—the courageous saving of a child from death, for example, and the shooting down of a fellow mortal in cold blood—but it had been truly said that such contrasts were not impossible—nay, were even matters of common observation. Prejudice and bias aside, and sympathy and liking aside, they constituted a tribunal of justice. This the state had a right to demand, and this they, the jury, had made solemn oath to give."

The words had no meaning for her ears. "What did he say?" she whispered to herself piteously. She caught but a glimpse of the prisoner as the sheriff touched his arm and led the way quickly to the door through which he had been brought.

It opened and closed upon them, and the tension of the packed room broke all at once in a great respiration of relief and a hum of conversation.

A voice spoke beside her. It was Dr. Brent. "Come with me," he said. "Felder asked me to watch for you. We can wait in the judge's room."

Chapter 31

MEANWHILE in the narrow cell Harry was alone with his bitterness. His judicial sense, keenly alive, from the very first had appreciated the woeful weakness, evidentially speaking, of his position. He had no illusions on this score. A little while—after such deliberation as was decent and seemly—and he would be a condemned criminal, waiting in the shadow of the hempen noose. In such localities justice was swift. There would be scant time be-

READY MADE MINING.

The marvellous evolution of Gold dredging and methods of recovering values from auriferous ground, is today attracting world-wide attention. The Saskatchewan gravels" in the early days of North West Canada, supplied many hundreds of settlers with gold sufficient to maintain themselves if not in influence, at least in comfort. To-day steam and electric dredges produce the major portion of the World's gold output. Formerly, this alluvial gold was separated from the sands and gravels containing it, by washing them in pans, cradles, rockers and sluices. In 1852, the hydraulic method was first employed, in California. By this means a "giant" stream of water, turned against the side of a mountain, washed everything before it. The gold settles at the bottom of the tunnel or sluic, through which the gravel, sand and water flow. In 1869 dredges or excavators were first used, in Australia. In Everybody's Magazine for April, 1910, Mr. Byron W. Holt, a financial authority, formerly Editor of "Moody's Magazine," a gentleman recognized as a prominent and sound economist, writes an article entitled "Too much Gold," from which the following extracts are made:—

1870	125,000,000
1890	118,848,000
1900	284,576,000
1909	457,576,200

"Gold producing is no longer mainly or even largely, a placer mining proposition. It is to-day A BUSINESS AND COMMERCIAL PROPOSITION AS MUCH AS IS THE MINING OF COAL OR IRON ORE or the production of cotton or copper."

Measured by the scale of progress, it is a long step from primitive methods to the modern gold dredge now operating on the Saskatchewan river. Counting the years that have actually elapsed since designers and manufacturers began to seriously consider the applications of power-driven mechanism to auriferous fields, it is found that the inventions and improvements brought forward in a single decade, along this line, have resulted in [illegible] their branch of gold mining on the Western Continent, from [illegible] level of hand labor with always uncertain and at best meagre results, to the plane of thoroughly organized and established industry, the returns from which may be as accurately forecasted, [illegible] the profits of a manufacturing [illegible] which form all the raw material it uses in the manufacture of its products, with an assured demand at fixed prices for all it can produce. Mr. Gilbert, a well-known authority writing upon the subject says: "Two years ago it was generally considered that the Oroville district (California) was practically the only field for longer dredging operations. To-day, the proved successful dredging field extends from Alaska to Mexico. Dredging for gold has become a mechanical and commercial proposition. As an investment, it is becoming one of the safest in the business world." These remarks are supported by the publication of an announcement in this issue, of the operations of the Saskatchewan Mining and Development Company, an organization composed mostly of prominent Toronto gentlemen, who have elected Lieut-Gov. C. H. MacKinnon of the North West, President and Captain T. H. Brooks M. E. General Manager. The Company is highly spoken of in financial circles.

A Call From Oregon
Opportunities in the Far West

The greatest industrial activity in this country is now centered in Oregon. Two of the biggest railroad systems in the U. S., with intense rivalry, are pushing branch lines into the remote portions of this State, and as needed from the East is on in the competition of this the LAST FRONTIER ON THE CONTINENT. Fortunes will be made here THIS YEAR—NEXT YEAR and EVERY YEAR for the next decade.

Our valleys are the most fertile in the world and irrigation projects are converting the bordering hillsides into gardens. Orchards lands are leaping upward in price and the sub-vanes has only started. Water from mountain streams is the purest, timber the finest and climate the most perfect in Uncle Sam's domains. Power plants are springing up along the rapids and electrical energy for mines and factories, all convey torrents to develop electrical energy for mines and mills and industrious colonies. Fish abound in the rivers, game in the forests, and health and joy fill the atmosphere. There are no eyesores here or pestilence breeders to endanger life, or make it a burden.

I want to tell you of the numerous and lucrative openings, business, professional and kindly, financial and, otherwise, to the various opportunities that surround this picturesque city of Baker. The returns will be out of all proportion to the help extended. The opportunities are among the lines of vegetable fruit, hay, grain, stock, timber, and mineral lands. There are fortunes in all these. Some mines in this vicinity have record outputs, in gold, running into the millions. Yet the county, excepting the mineral deposits of Baker County, has hardly been [illegible].

On a ledge of free gold bearing quartz two miles in length I made a test [illegible] of ore taken at a depth of only a hundred feet and got over [illegible] per ton. The assay is herein [illegible] National Bank here.

VOL. XXXI NO. 139 PETERBOROUGH, ONTARIO SATURDAY JUNE 18 1910 PRICE TWO CENTS

A Reserve Case is Granted Henderson

Toronto, June 17.—On the ground that Mr. Justice Riddell misdricted the jury, F. D. Kerr, K.C., of Peterborough, was granted a reserve case for Robert Henderson, the 17-year-old boy for whom the gallows are erected in the Peterborough jail for the murder of Miss Margaret McPherson. Mr. Kerr will argue the case at a special sitting of the Court of Appeal on Monday morning.

The grounds are practically the same as those in the case of Ventricini, the Italian murderer.

"There is a fountain of mercy which is open to him who may be found guilty on the strict letter of the law, even of murder," said Judge Riddell at the trial.

After the jury had been out for an hour his lordship called them back and said: "I did not tell you—I suppose you know without being told—that if your verdict be one of guilty, you are at perfect liberty to couple that verdict with a recommendation for mercy, which will be sent to the proper authorities."

"After five minutes," said Mr. Kerr this morning, "the jury came back with a verdict of guilty and a very strong recommendation for mercy. The gallows have already been erected in Peterborough jail. He is to hang on Thursday, June 23."

Mr. Kerr went on to say that Henderson is an absolutely moral imbecile. He killed Margaret McPherson with an axe. She was 76 years of age, and lived with her sister near Peterborough. The sister was also badly injured, but recovered.

New York will Roar Welcome to Roosevelt

New York, June 17.—He's nearing home! With the news that the Kaiserin Augusta Victoria, bearing Theodore Roosevelt, was less than 400 miles east of Ambrose channel light house this morning, New York settled down to the final preparation for tomorrow's celebration, and to wishing for fair weather.

Clouds and fog today gave the greatest uneasiness to the Reception Committee and all others interested in the welcoming of the former president. Mist today held up many liners, and it was felt that the Kaiserin might also be delayed either at sea or while entering the harbor.

A GREAT ATTRACTION.

According to hotel men, the reception of Mr. Roosevelt is the biggest attraction of several years for out of town people, save the Hudson Fulton celebration. From all over the country welcomers have come, in delegations of all sizes from two or three to hundreds.

Former Peterborough Citizen's Death.

Mr. Arthur White has passed away. This sad intelligence will possibly affect the older of our citizens more than the rising generation as the late Mr. White was generally and favorably known by scores of our older residents. In his capacity al traffic manager of the—Midland Division of the Grand Trunk Railway with offices over the present Canadian Express office, and later as general freight manager of the G.T.R. at Toronto, Mr. White met most of Peterborough's business men and their memory of his upright dealing and personal sauvity will cause regret at learning of his death. The late Mr. White died in Toronto. As yet particulars as to his funeral have not been received.

McAllister Milling Co. Wins.

The Supreme Court has delivered judgment dismissing the appeal brought by the Ontario Bank from the order of the Court of Appeal for Ontario. By the supreme court judgment the Ontario Bank is ordered to pay $1,500 and costs to the McAllister Milling Co. It will be remembered that this case was tried three years ago, when judgment was given in favor of the McAllisters against the bank. The case was then tried respectively in the Divisional Court and Court of Appeal, leading finally to the above noted judgmeny of the Supreme Court. $21,000 rest isinvolved in this test case.

Captured 15-Pound 'Lunge.

On Thursday morning Messrs. H. Winch and E. A. Peck went a-fishing near the C.G.E. Angling Club's cottage. These local knights of the rod were successful in hooking and landing a magnificent maskinonge that turned the beam at fifteen pounds. These lucky fishermen were members of a party who went down the river in Mr. T. Hooper's launch the party consisting of Messrs. Hooper, H. Winch, C. G. Graham, Snelgrove, E. A. Peck, and Davies, of Toronto. Messrs. Graham and Snelgrove captured a beauty also.

The plan for the closing concert of the Conservatory of Music, opened this morning at Madill's drug store.

Here on a Tour of the Lakes.

District Passenger Agent Thompson, of the C.P.R., is in the city and will leave this morning in company with the manager, Mr. Pinchin, of the Otonabee Navigation Company, on a tour of the Kawartha Lakes. Mr. Thompson will go through to Fenelon Falls and Coboconk.

Fire Brigade Turn Out.

Yesterday afternoon the fire brigade turned out as a matter of courtesy, in response to a suggestion made by some delegates of the Park street Baptist church convention. Rev. J. R. Webb turned in an alarm from box No. 33. The visitors were greatly pleased by the promptness and efficiency shown by the Peterborough Brigade.

The Gallows Shut Off From View.

A large number of citizens, particularly those possessing a morbid curiosity, have seen the gallows, erected in the local jail yard, built for the purpose of complying with the law's stern demands in young Henderson's case. Even a number of children boast of having seen the gruesome structure. Very properly the jail authorities finding the general anxiety to witness this, the saddest structure erected by the handicraft of man, at once built a high board fence to conceal from public view this terrible sight. Many of the witnesses and jurymen attending the June sessions of the court saw the gallows.

Died as Result of Accident.

Little four-year-old Thomas Irvine Hickson, son of Mr. and Mrs. B. H. Hickson of the township of Eamsmore, passed away early yesterday morning after his terrible accident. It seems that the little fellow on Thursday, whilst playing about stumbled fell into a bucket of boiling water. The child suffered agony although his parents did all that they could. The funeral will be held today from the home of Mr. and Mrs. Hickson to Ennismore cemetery.

The small boy is now wearing a broad smile. A CIRCUS is coming.

JUDGMENT RESERVED.

Suit for Damages Over Alleged Delay in Delivery of Goods.

Judgment was reserved in the case of Fowler and McBride versus the Grand Trunk Railway Company, the evidence in which was concluded yesterday morning before his Honor Judge Huycke in the June sessions.

The plaintiffs claimed that in August last, by their agents, the John Goodison Co., Ltd., they deliver to the defendants at Sarnia a thresher and engine complete with fittings and accessories upon a G.T.R. car for prompt and safe delivery, as it was wanted for the harvest then in progress. Plaintiffs claimed that the car was missent thus debarring prompt delivery. They claim that the thresher arrived 25 days late, so they refused acceptance. Plaintiffs claim $653.68 damages. Mr. Foster, counsel for the company consented to dispense with the jury. He did not call any witnesses for the defence and was agreeable to his honor giving judgment on the facts as presented by the plaintiffs and on the law involved.

FARMER TELLS INTERESTING STORY.

Whether Sick or Well, in Good Weather or in Stormy, He is Obliged to Work Always.

Market people complain about prices they have to pay for farm produce. They forget that rain or shine, warm or cold, the farmer must keep at it or else the narrow profit, his bare living, will be lost to him.

A well-known Haldimand farmer, Mr. J. P. Pelletier, writes: "For nearly three years I was in poor health. A drenching storm caught me in the fields, and wet me to the skin. I got home only to find I was threatened with inflammation of the bowels. I never got over it and felt weak and heavy and my system never worked right. But a farmer has to work—and I found myself going down hill with stomach, liver and kidney troubles. Failure seemed to follow everything. I remained wretched and sick until advised to use Dr. Hamilton's Pills. It is not easy to describe the sort of feeling a sick man gets when he strikes a medicine that he can see is doing him a lot of good. I was overjoyed— Hamilton's Pills put new life into me and everything worked right. Since cured with Dr. Hamilton's Pills I haven't had a single symptom or stomach liver or kidney trouble. I am free from headaches, languor and weakness, as strong, robust as a man could be." No better medicine for general family use than Dr. Hamilton's Pills. They are mild, healthful and certain to cure. Sold in yellow 25c boxes, all dealers, or The Catarrh Remedy Co., Kingston, Ont.

Montreal Herald Printer Loses Reason

Shouting "Keep Back the Flames, Boys," He Falls Unconscious--Twenty Bodies were Found

Montreal, June 17.—With a terrible cry of "Keep back the flames, boys,' John O'Callaghan, 70 years old, printer in the Herald, fell unconscious over his case in the paper's temporary office this morning. O'Callaghan had a narrow escape from death in Monday's holocaust, and the scene so preyed on his mind that he temporarily lost his reason. He kept shouting to those about him to run from the fire. He visited the morgue yesterday and ever since viewing the blackened corpses had complained of feeling ill. The doctor thinks that he will recover after a rest.

Up to noon no more bodies were recovered today. There are four bodies still under the mass of rubbish. Twenty-eight have been recovered. Only three are now unidentified.

The funerals of four of the victims held this morning were attended by thousands. Public funerals have been arranged for unidentified victims tomorrow.

Reginald Harris, one of the victims, is said to have come from Toronto.

The inquest was resumed this morning, but was not concluded. The engineer stated that the tank support was the longest in the city.

BRITAIN'S TRADE IS ON THE JUMP

The volume of Britain's external trade is emphasized by the returns for the first quarter of the present calendar year. The total values of merchandise imported into the United Kingdom was nearly £226,000,000, or 9½ per cent. in excess of the imports for the same months of 1909. The exports of United Kingdom produce amounted to nearly £137,000,000, an increase of over 16½ per cent.; of colonial and foreign produce, to almost £39,000,000, an increase of over 23 per cent. The increase in imports appears all the larger when viewed in the light of a decrease of £4,500,000 in the raw cotton imported, owing to the failure of the cotton crop. Practically the whole of the increase was due to Britain becoming a better customer of countries within the Empire imports from foreign countries having increased less than £100,000. Canada sent goods valued at £5,337,000 to the United Kingdom during the quarter, and received from the same source merchandise worth £5,220,000. Thus Canada's trade with the Old Land amounted to $10,657,000.

OIL FUEL FOR BATTLESHIPS.

San Francisco, Cal., June 18.—The advantages of oil fuel have been the subject of exhaustive inquiry and experiment by British and American experts.

An extensive oil fuel establishment was fitted up near Portsmouth, England, and experiments carried out with various boilers, systems of firing and mechanical stokers, while further trials were made in both battleships and destroyers. According to the New York Herald's naval correspondent, the great objection caused by the dense volumes of smoke which poured from the funnels of vessels at previous trials, has been eliminated. "At present," he writes, "it may be said that within the conception of liquid fuel alone, there is almost complete freedom from flame and smoke at the funnel, even when the boilers are pressed."

The importance of these experiments is obvious. If oil can be used without revealing the presence of vessels by smoke, the only objection to its use by battleships has been removed. The comparative economy of oil over coal is unquestioned. It is proven sixteen tons of oil is the equivalent of twenty-five tons of coal, that it will convert an equal amount of water into steam, at a saving of several dollars per ton, ton for ton. The stokers' work would be lightened, the heat in the stokehold reduced, and an avoidance of the dirt and discomfort when furnaces had to be fed. Moreover the laborious work of coaling ship would be supplanted by the far speedier and easier use of the hose and pump. The ease with which liquid fuel can be transferred from one vessel to another is essentially in favor of oil.

you could come and see the wonderful Cartwright Automatic Press, which is destined to revolutionize the job-printing world, and make money for the shareholders of the Company, as other great inventions, like the Linotype and Telephone, have done.

But, if you cannot call and see the Press itself, you can do as many other investors are doing,—you can read the interesting Prospectus and our little booklet, entitled "Expert Opinions", which gives some adequate idea of this great invention.

You will note when you read the literature we send you, how Publishers, Printers, and all classes of men connected with the printing business—men who thoroughly understand the real merits and value of such an invention—are the most enthusiastic endorsers of the Press, and what is still more important, they are buyers of both the presses and the shares.

Write us at once for this free literature, and we will forward it by return mail.

Those who buy earliest get shares at the most favorable price.

Angry Mother Used a Knife on Italian

North Bay, Ont., June 17.—North Bay's Italian colony had another sensation today in which the usual knife figured.

Alfredo Orsatti, Italian thirty years of age, became enamored of Rosina Pelangio, a handsome lass of thirteen, daughter of James Pelangio, a wealthy leader of this section of Little Italy. Orsatti's suit was distasteful to Rosani's parents, but no serious attention was paid to the letters received breathing of deathless devotion. Of late Orsatti has been hanging about Rosani's residence of nights, and today her mother intercepted a letter urging the girl to run away with him and suggesting that she secure a sum of money.

Mrs. Pelangio, a buxom lady of thirty, on reading the letter, grabbed a long butcher knife and went in quest of Orsatti. She found him and Orsatto is in the hospital carved up so his mother would not recognize him. Mrs. Pelangio is openly proud of her job.

Orsatti will recover.

REPRESENTED BY TRADITION.

There was no "representation by population," at King Edward's funeral. The populace, in fact were not represented at all in the splendid cortege. Their legitimate deputy, the premier of the United Kingdom, was absent because there was no place for him in the procession. The representation was by tradition. The gay uniforms of the Army and Navy were there, and all the gold braid and plumed splendor that stand for what was most regarded in past ages. If a minister or a peer or a member of parliament was there, it was not because he was a minister or a peer or a member of parliament but because of some other office which he holds. And every princelet took precedence over the heads of two great republics.

The Morning Post and other British papers have commented adversely upon the "ordering of a funeral procession which keeps itself carefully five hundred years behind the growth of British society and institutions, and the comment is not inopportune. That the people, the real mourners at the bier of one who was emphatically a People's King, should not be represented among the official mourners, is an anomaly which points to the desirability of less tradition and more common sense. The red tape and the gold braid of the courts should be a secondary consideration when the rights of the public are at stake.

Sad Mistake in Naming the Dead

Montreal, June 17.—Twenty-seven bodies have been taken from the Herald Ruins at an early hour leant crowd, which has hovered aroun today and more than likely the silent crowd which has hovered round the building ever since the awful accident took place, will continue the vigil till the last crushed and blackened body is removed.

Some very sad mistakes have occurred, and families who were certain that they identified the remains of a brother, a sister, or a father were compelled to admit their error a little later on, when the real body was brought to light.

The report of the building inspector declares that it was the crumbling wall which caused the tank to fall.

Big Fight will be held at Goldfields, Nevada

THE LATEST SPOT.

San Francisco, June 17.—Tex Rickard announced today on receipt of a telegram from Morris Sullivan of Goldfield, Nev., that the Jeffries-Johnson fight would be held there on July 4th. Sullivan guaranteed $120,000 to the promoters.

Reno, Nev., June 17.—Billy McCarney, representative of Jack Gleason and Tex Rickard, promoters of the Jeffries-Johnson fight, was notified by county and state officials today that there would be no legal opposition to the fight if it is transferred from San Francisco. He was told that a license fee of $1000 is all that is necessary.

San Francisco, June 17.—That the Jeffries-Johnson world's championship fight will be held in Reno, Nev., on July 4th, is a safer prediction than the one made months ago to the effect that it would take place in San Francisco.

Tex Rickard said today that he would not wait longer than Saturday for an intimation from the attorney-general that he might go ahead with his arrangements for putting the men in the ring at San Francisco. As many a Saturday is likely to elapse before the attorney-general gives out any such comforting intelligence, it is practically a certainty that the white man and the negro will settle their little affair up in the sage brush.

TOUGHEST DEAL OF ALL.

"Webb told me," said he, "that he wouldn't leave a stone unturned to stop the fight. In other words, that he would surely stop it. He said, if necessary, militiamen would invade the ring and keep the men apart, if matters came to that stage, I have had many tough deals in my lifetime, but this is the toughest I ever experienced.

"I have spent about $25,000 in San Francisco, which it now appears will be a dead loss," said Rickard. "It can't be helped, however, and for that matter I don't care. I am going through with this fight now if it costs me every dollar I possess. A few weeks ago it looked as though we would sell a half a million dollars worth of tickets, now Jack Gleason and myself will be lucky if we pull out even. For that matter I don't believe we will pull out even, unless the pictures turn out to be extra fine, and we get our money back through them."

MUST TAKE IN $146,000.

Rickard and Gleason will have to take in $126,000 through the box office in order to break even if the fight takes place at Reno, but the writer knows that each fighter is to get a bonus of $10,000, so that the prize really amounts to $121,000. This means that Rickard and Gleason would have $146,000 invested by the time the first blow of the battle struck.

The information come to the writer in a roundabout way, but I'll vouch for its accuracy. Jeffries and his trainers are in readiness to break camp at any moment in case it is decided to have the fight take place in Nevada. Manager Sam Berger said that the Jeffries party would be prepared to leave for Nevada on any given day.

THEOLOGY AND CRITICISM.

Ranked against the theological teaching of Victoria College is a brigade of the battalions of Methodism. By the narrowest of margins the Toronto Conference voted against a proposal to censure the Rev. Professor George Jackson and all his works. To the outsider it seems extraordinary that such a proposal could be made. The Christianity of Mr. Jackson cannot be doubted. His life is exemplary. His creed is evangelical and Trinitarian. His scholarship is unquestioned. But he does no regard every word of the canonical books of the Bible as absolute history. His position is buttressed by the results of philological and scientific investigation. He can meet argument by argument, logic by logic, and his study is illumined by the light of a living faith. For him "wisdom is profitable to direct."

Does it seem reasonable to suppose, when human knowledge of the body of man is progressing and increasing from day to day because of the research work of earnest students that the knowledge of the impalpable soul of man and its relation to the universe, to past, present and future, is complete? Are we to believe that a careful scientific study all the literary sources of Christianity is another method of touching the Ark, and that the published results of that study are the false lights of a deviish heresy?

If so, then it is possible for man to know the whole inwardness and fulness of Divine revelation—a manifest absurdity. If the bases of theology are settled forever, then Tenny son was a heretic when he plucked the flower out of the crannied wall and longed for a perfect knowledge of God and man. It is not apparent to the ordinary mind in what way the story of the Deluge affects the noble maxims of conduct uttered by Jesus of Nazareth. Nor is it clear that the authorship of the Book of Deuteronomy is any foundation for the preaching of St. Paul.

Evangelical Christianity is the child of independent investigation. From Gregory the Great to Savonarola, from Martin Luther to John Wesley, the great evangelists have cast aside the empty husks of formula and glorified the search for truth. No Methodist if he is worth of his spiritual ancestors, can accept any cut-and-dried theory if it does not appeal to his reason and his conscience. The Methodist keeps his owe conscience and protests against the assumption of that duty by bishop or clergy, by church or conference. How, then, consistently, can any Methodist seek to stifle the voice of one crying in the wilderness or dwell contented in an atrophied orthodoxy?

Let knowledge grow from more to more
But more of reverence in us dwell
That mind and soul according well
May make one music as before.

LUXURIES AND NECESSITIES.

The borderland between luxury and necessity is uncertain territory No Daniel Webster of economics can frame an Ashburton treaty which will define it. With the passing of years, indeed, this no-man's land is becoming broader rather than narrower. Vast areas which were once conceded to the domain of luxury without dispute, are now declared by many to be in the realm of necessity.

People on this side of the Atlantic have been amused, sometimes, at the viewpoint of Old Country novelists who have a habit of picturing dire poverty as a condition in which "only one servant" can be afforded. This idea seems droll to Canadians because many well to do and perfectly happy people in the Dominion do without this English "necessity" altogether. It all depends upon the view-point. These same Canadians probably indulge in some extravagances which shock the new-comers from across the water.

It is not unlikely that the tendency of the age is to over-enumerate the necessities to include among them many things which might be given up with no real suffering. Like children with too many toys, there are people nowadays who cannot enjoy the multiplicity of their playthings, and this is especially the case when they have mortgaged their necessities in order to obtain their luxuries.

Chancellor Day, of Syracuse University, complains that the automobile has been a curse, as well as a blessing, to the country. Its commercial uses are unquestioned, and as a pleasure vehicle for those who can afford it, it is supreme. "But," says the chancellor, "young mechanics and clerks and business men, who need all their capital, are mortgaging their homes by the thousands, and losing their positions, often by this form of infatuation." Five hundred millions of dollars are said to be invested in the automobile trade in the United States; some of it undoubtedly ill-invested. And the automobile is only one type of very many modern luxuries, which those who really cannot afford them seem to think necessary to their enjoyment of life. The child with the one rag doll is happy until she looks with envious eyes upon the playthings of the daughters of the rich. It is doubtful if she is nothappier than the blase child whose taste for play has been cloyed by a too-elaborate nursery equipment.

In sickness, if a certain hidden nerve goes wrong, then the organ that this nerve controls will also surely fail. It may be a Stomach nerve, or it may have given strength and support to the Heart or Kidneys. It was Dr. Shoop that first pointed to this vital truth. Dr. Shoop's Restorative was not made to dose the Stomach nor to temporarily stimulate the Heart or Kidneys. That old-fashioned method is all wrong. Dr. Shoop's Restorative goes directly to these failing inside nerves. The remarkable success of this prescription demonstrates the wisdom of treating the actual cause of these failing organs. And it is indeed easy to prove. A simple five or ten days' test will surely tell. Try it once, and see! Sold by all dealers.

ELIMINATE THE HANGMAN.

It seems a pity that the degrading office of public hangman is perpetuated by the system of capital punishment which Canadian law demand It is unfortunate, although adegree less unpleasant to contemplate, that anyone should have to touch an electric button to send even a condemned criminal to his doom. Indeed there is here a field for useful invention which appears to have been neglected. Why should any man be forced to kill his fellow when the law's penalty could be satisfied otherwise?

The problem of a less degrading death penalty is one capable of solution. Modern science should be able to eliminate the hangman. There are instruments so fine that a single ray of light will set them whirling. The sun itself might be made the executioner, were one of these attached to an electric battery which, at first streak of dawn, would strike down the murderer in his cell. Public sentiment has accomplished the abolition of public hangings. Public sentiment and science could obviate the necessity of any human being acting as the agency whereby the guilty would satisfy the law. The brutalizing office of hangman could be abolished, and it ought to be.

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

PE-RU-NA PROMPTLY RELIEVES

A Case of Dreadful Suffering Which Had Continued For Months.

An Account of a Remarkable Recovery Given By Mr. Alfred Wood, Teacher of a Private School at Launceston, Tasmania.

MR. AND MRS. ALFRED WOOD.

Mr. Alfred Wood, who has a private school at 29 Frederick street, Launceston, Tasmania (Australia), has been a teacher for 37 years under the Education Department of Tasmania. He writes, concerning his wife's case, as follows:

"My wife was suffering for months fr[om] gastro-enteritis, and was given up by her medical attendant.

"By good fortune I was induced to try Peruna in her case, and I can truthfully state that from the first dose her dreadful suffering ceased; and after taking five bottles she is permanently cured."

HOW does Peruna make such extraordinary cures as above recited?

By simply arousing the forces of Nature to throw off the diseased action.

Peruna contains no magic and does not operate in any mysterious way, but it does help Nature to combat disease, and thus many times comes to the rescue of the patient in some important crisis.

There is always a time in the course of any disease when a little help goes a great way.

Just as the scales are beginning to descend, when one ounce more would determine the fate of the patient, a little lift will turn the scales in favor of the patient.

Peruna is a handy medicine to have in the household.

It helps many diseases by imparting a natural vigor to the whole system.

As a tonic or catarrh remedy, its reputation is well established all over the world.

As a remedy for stomach and bowel disease, the fame of Peruna is undoubtedly destined to become greater than that of any other medicine in the world.

A great many cases like that above referred to have found Peruna of untold value when no other help seemed of any avail.

Pe-ru-na For Indigestion.

Mr. Donald Robb, Jr., 16 Wrights Ave., Halifax, Nova Scotia, member Independent Order of Forresters, writes:

"While on a visit to Boston, I must have eaten something that did not agree with my stomach, as a terrible case of indigestion followed.

"Peruna was recommended to me and after using three bottles I was entirely cured.

"I therefore recommend Peruna to any one suffering with stomach trouble."

Mr. Chas. Brown, Rogersville, Tenn., writes:

"A friend advised me to take Peruna for indigestion and it cured me in a short time."

The company has a surplus of $30,000,000, but the directors decided that a stock rather than a cash dividend was advisable.

The Lime Juice Club

in Dublin, Ireland, where both members originally hailed from. Hard words and very violent language followed in the presence of Tom McDonough, who sells postage stamps and writes people's name in a large book at the Oriental Hotel, and after some wrangling the two members clinched and rolled in the mud. It was only after the heroic efforts of Bros. Givedam Slabs and Tiedup Garlev that the members were separated.

It was only after the offenders had been called up before the president's desk that it was found that the rope in question belonged to neither, and President McBride said:

"I don't ask you to fall on each other's neck and weep, but I want you to understand that if this trouble ain't bridged over before the next meeting you will hear something drop. As the case stands you are both fined $350 and costs, which money the treasurer will place to the credit of fund to purchase life preservers for one-horse sailors, whose perils on Mud and other lakes has on several occasions nearly drove the club into mourning. (Wild cheer by mistake by Bro. Tom Rutherford, who was promptly fined $1200 and costs.

The two members were then conducted to the ante-room, where they remained a short time, after which they returned to report that all was joy and harmony. A motion was then made to remit the fine, which was carried, and the reunited pair returned to their seats and lovingly chewed the same gum tara about.

MUSICAL.

The Harmony Club now secured the floor and rendered in delicious harmony the following touching hymn, which were written expressly for the occasion by Bro. Anvil Davis of the Lakefield branch:

There is one thing certain, as the sun do rise;
This road is a hard one to travel!
It's dusty and hot with the roughest ties
Where the sun falls blazing from the burning skies,
And one's throat is drier than a clothes line dries—
O, this road is a hard one to travel

There is one thing certain as the sun goes down:
This road is a hard one to travel!
The rye is wilted and the grass is brown;
There ain't enough lager for a cat to drown,
All we can do is to hold it down,
O, this is a hard road to travel.

A LITERARY TREAT.

Bro. Cautious Mann announced that Prof. Talkaway Smith of Millbrook, had arrived unexpectedly and declared his willingness to deliver a brief question on the subject of "Time."

Bros. Blain and Gingerale Kennaley donned their claw-hammer coats and white kids and escorted the professor into the hall. When he ascended the platform he appeared to be as much at home as Bro. Rutherford in the middle of Rice Lake, or a general three miles in the rear of a battle. After removing his coat, collar and necktie, and taking a long drink of water, the professor launched out:

"Time," said the speaker, as he stood on one leg and surved the vast audience, "has considerable to do with the daylight of this country. If some sharp man hadn't thought of inventing clocks and watches, the world would have been in a bad muss. No one could have told whether it was yesterday, to-day, or the day after tomorrow. (Cheers.) Some people would have been eating breakfast, while others would have been splitting kindling wood for night. Some men would have been starting out for a day's fishing, while others were going home to get ready to attend one of Bro. Jackson's political speeches or a meeting of the Great Lime Juice Club. Luckily for the world, time has been invented, and patented up to suit everybody except a man with a bank note to meet. (Significant nods from all parts of the hall.) I believe it is the greatest importance that every man shall be on time. (Cheers). Fortunes have been lost by people being two or three minutes late. I hold that even a murderer going to the gallows should step right off and be on the drop at the right tick. (Sensation.) His promptness might not bring him a reprieve but it could not fail of exciting the admiration to have their noon dinner at a quarter to one o'clock.

When the Professor concluded Bro. Cyrus Shroope tendered him a drink of water from the dipper, after which he was escorted to a seat amid a storm of applause.

NEARING THE CLOSE.

Pile Driver Rilly, the Janitor, submitted a bill for extras amounting to 39 cents, and attempted to make a speech defending the Chicago strike, but his bill was cut down to 16 cents, his speech sat on, and he fell over three dogs on his way out.

THE CLOSE.

There being no further business to sour before the next meeting, Bro. Talkaway was given permission to take the ice left in the water pail, and the meeting went home, with a sweet smiling illuminating every countenance.

A Call From Oregon
Opportunities in the Far West

The greatest industrial activity in this country is now centered in Oregon. Two of the biggest railroad systems in the U. S., with intense rivalry, are pushing branch lines into the remote portions of this State, and an exodus from the East is on in the competition of this the LAST FRONTIER ON THE CONTINENT. Fortunes will be made here THIS YEAR—NEXT YEAR and EVERY YEAR for the next decade.

Our valleys are the most fertile in the world and irrigation projects are converting the bordering hillsides into gardens. Orchards lands are leaping upward in price and the advance has only started. Water from mountain streams in the purest, timber the finest and climate the most perfect in Uncle Sam's dominion. Power plants are springing up along the channels of silvery torrents to develop electrical energy for mines and mills and interborhan railways. Fish abound in the rivers, game in the forests and health and joy in the atmosphere. There are no cyclones here or pestiferous insects to endanger life, or make it a burden.

I want Eastern connections and help, financial and otherwise, to mine opportunities that surround this picturesque city of Baker. The returns will be out of all proportion to the help extended. The opportunities are along the lines of vegetable fruit, hay, grain, stock, timber, and mineral lands. There are fortunes in all these. Some mines in this vicinity have record outputs in gold, running into the millions. Yet the surface, overlying the mineral deposits of Baker County, has hardly been scratched.

On a ledge of free gold bearing quartz two miles in length I made a test of 100 tons of ore taken at a depth of only a hundred feet and got $3000.00 out of it. The mint returns passed through the Citizen's National Bank here.

Among other things, I need money, right now, to begin the MANUFACTURE OF GOLD out of this immense ore body. The shares of the Amber Canyon Mines Company, which OWNS this property, and of which I am secretary have an intrinsic value of at least 50 cents a share and on a conservative valuation of the property and the amount of stock issued.

I will deliver on order, with draft attached, up to 50,000 shares of this stock at 25 cents a share, NET. The full amount of the purchase price will go back in dividends inside of 18 months. Take a block of this as a starter, and get in step with this Eldorado of the West. If there is anything else out here that I can do for you, or you can do for me,—WRITE ME.

Yours for business, and MONEY for both of us,

The LME JUICE CLUB

A Long Way After the Lime Kiln Club

Long lines of people might have been seen last night wending their way in the direction of the Hall of Wisdom, and as the hands of the town clock pointed to the hour of eight, the jam at the spacious door was bigger than at Martin Connor's free lunch counter on a rainy day. Conspicuous among the crowd of members eager to gain admittance could be seen the familiar faces of Henroost Brown, Fortypercent Conery, Talkaway Robinson, Cripes Mulcahy and many others. The visitors' gallery was as usual loaded with the elite of town and country, amongst whom we noticed many prominent citizens.

CANCELLED.

The president announced that he had cancelled the following certificates of membership for reasons given below:—

No. 1402, being the certificate of J. Gumchewer Hawkins, of Lakefield. Evidence had been produced that he had seven wives.

No. 1914 being the certificate of Runway Sampson, of Keene, Evidence was furnished that he is the biggest liar in the Midland counties except one Anvil Davis of Lakefield.

No. 2316, being the certificate of Walkway Jones of Smith, who was convicted of stealing Brother Slab's straw hat, which he had hung up in a tree at the quarry a few evenings ago, while enjoying a quiet siesta under its shade and of giving four bags of turnips and a pug dog to settle the case, and then hiring a man to steal the pug.

No. 4066, being the certificate of Turnaround Watson, who was accused of stealing from Bro. Lemonade Garlick a receipt for cleaning red paint off patent leather shoes, and endeavoring to dispose of the same to Bro. Slowdown Samuel, chairman of the Committee on Whirlwinds.

Talkaway Robinson rose and explained that the last case was one in which the club should not act hastily. Bro. Turnaround was one of the club's most enthusiastic members. He had always advanced its interests whenever possible, and was never known to do anything worse since being a member than to drop a button on the collection plate instead of a quarter. He would move that the erring brother be given one more chance.

The president said he would endorse the sentiments of the last speaker, and would in this instance err on the side of mercy. The erring brother was forgiven.

No. 3021, being the certificate of Whalebone Webb of Bobcaygeon, who was supposed to enforce the law with regard to catching suckers during the close season, and who himself had been caught in his own net and was heavily fined by the mayor.

During the reading of thos resolution all the hair on Whalebone's head stood straight on end with indignation. He was about to launch forth a speech 27 feet long in his own defence, when the president objected:

"Sit down Bro. Webb. The milk of human kindness which guided me in forgiving Bro. Watson is sufficient to meet your case. You are also forgiven, but in future be careful when you go fishing contrary to law not to carry your fish home during daylight."

Hebroost Brown, chairman of the Committee on Internal Harmony, reported a sad state of affairs existing between Cripes Mulcahy and Threeply Holmes. It started originally about seven feet of clothes line

GREAT FORTUNES IN CALIFORNIA OIL

More Men Have Amassed Wealth from Oil Investments than from Any Other Securities

This advertising announcement will appear in this publication but once. It contains a message for men who have money to invest, in small or large amounts, in a proposition which at the same time, embraces the maximum amount of security for the money invested, and promises greater profit than any other form of investment in the Western field.

If you will take the time to review the history of the oil fields, both in the Eastern and Western portions of this Continent, you will find that the men who have amassed fortunes are the men who invested originally very small sums of money in oil shares.

Do you know that $100 invested at the inception of many an oil company frequently multiplied in profits and actual worth until the holding to-day represents from $1000 to $15,000.

Take, for instance, if you had invested $100 in the following companies, on the following basis, you would have made:

Silver Tip	$ 600
W. K.	1,000
Sterling	1,000
Premier	1,100
Monte Christo	1,120
Record	2,000
S. F. & McK.	2,400
Sauer Dough	4,166
Lucile	5,000
San Joaquin	5,700
Peerless	6,350
Kern River	9,500
Central Oil	15,000

"Pinal" shares sold at 25 cents are now selling at $25, and paying monthly dividends of 15 per cent., an income of $60 per month on an investment of $100. When the "Silver Tip" came in, the stock jumped over night from 66 cents to $4 and has been paying monthly dividends of 10 per cent. ever since.

Similar opportunities are open to you, but you must think for yourself, have the courage of your convictions and ACT.

Coalinga is a district situated in the State of California, which is now so generally known as the greatest producer of high-grade petroleum that it is unnecessary for us to take up much space in describing the geographical construction of the field, or the actual results of the many companies who control property in Coalinga.

This Company, The Coalinga-Eureka Oil Company, Inc., is a limited liability corporation, the shares of which are non-assessable, and have a par value of $1.

As development progresses, the price of stock will naturally advance. Even now trading in Coalinga-Eureka shares is very active. The limited block to be sold at 25 cents per share should, we estimate, be taken up on or before July 16th. We have therefore set this as the closing-out date for the unsold shares in this Company at 25 cents each.

This means that it will be impossible for you to buy a share in this Company at 25 cents after July 15th, 1910, and we give this notice that the price of stock will be advanced to at least 50 cents on the morning of July 16th. Should there then remain any portion of the block at 25 cents, the same will be immediately withdrawn from the market.

Stock May be Advance Any Day

The Company reserves the right to advance the price of shares at any time prior to July 16th, should the block of 100,000 shares at 25 cents be taken up in the interim.

We have recommended our most intimate friends to reserve their stock by wire, and not delay in writing by mail. On receipt of the reserve order, we will immediately set aside such stock, allowing the applicant the necessary time for the remittance to reach this office by mail.

The very fact that the stock of this Company will be sold for 50 cents on July 16th, should warrant the reader in reserving by wire as many shares as possible forthwith.

You will readily see if you purchase a block of 500 shares to-day on easy terms, at the present price, 25 cents per share, you would sell one-half of your holdings when the price advances to 50 cents and thus have the other half free of cost to yourself.

The trading in the stock of this Company will naturally be more active when the price is 50 cents than at the original price, 25 cents.

There is every indication of the stock being worth and selling for $1 in 90 days' time. Do not delay in making your application.

No application received for less than 200 shares.

The stock may be purchased on an all-cash basis, in which case certificates are issued at once, or on an easy payment plan, as per schedule herewith:

WHAT YOUR MONEY WILL BUY. (Cash Plan 5% Deducted)

VOL. XXXI NO. 140 PETERBOROUGH, ONTARIO MONDAY JUNE 20 1910 PRICE TWO CENTS

Henderson Repentent to be Confirmed

His Lordship Bishop Reeves Coming from Toronto for That Purpose

That Henderson, the young man now awaiting execution on June 22rd in the county jail, at last realizes his awful condition, , is assured.

At the morning service in St. John's church yesterday, the rector, Rev. Canon Davidson, repeated the special prayer for the condemned, as read the Sunday preceding. In a voice choked with emotion and eyes wet with tears he told the congregation that Henderson at last appreciates the fact that he is facing certain death in a few hours time and that he understands that he must meet his God. As a result of the strenuous efforts made by the rector, Henderson, who is, by birth and early training at his mother's side a member of the Church of England, has asked to be confirmed. His Lordship Bishop Reeves, is coming from Toronto this morning spesially to administer the rite of confirmation today. On Tuesday the young man will receive the sacrament.

Never possibly in the history of St. John's church did a few words from the rector produce a more marked result on the congregation, than when the speaker referred to the impending fate of the young man "who is only a boy." A tense spirit of emotion characterized both the rector and the congregation.

The result of Mr. F. D. Kerr's splendid fight for young Henderson's life will probably be known here tonight and will be anxiously awaited by hundreds of citizens. Within the past few days there seems to have been a pretty general change of opinion as to whether the full penalty of the law should be enacted in Henderson's case owing to his extreme youth, he being but 17 years of age, or as remarked yesterday by Rev. Mr. Davidson, "Only a boy."

Children Torn from Mothers---Hundreds of Jews Expelled

Berlin, June 16.—According to a telephone; which reached the Auxiliary Union of German Jews, hundreds of Jews are being expelled from Torbes, in the Government of Pliaker, in Russia, where they have been settled for thirty and forty years.

This expulsion is due to the orders of the Chief of Police Dominski, not withstanding protests to the ministry on the part of all classes of society, official and non-official, and their plea for the cancellation of the order of expulsion. These orders extend to children and press protests against this cruelty are severely punished. The weekly Jewish World has been supressed for saying: "No Government can take its stand on a cannibalistic law that directs children to be torn from the arms of their mothers."

COMPROMISE AFTER THE TRUCE IN ENGLAND.

The death of King Edward forced a truce on the political combatants in and out of Parliament. The truce still continues, but warfare must be resumed soon if no definite understanding or compromise is reached by the respective leaders. Last week parliament reassembled in a grave and calm mood, and Lord Rosebery, at the suggestion of the cabinet, agreed not to press his resolutions for a reorganization of the upper house. He did not admit that there was any real connection between his scheme and the threatened "revolutionary" destruction of the lords' veto, and no doubt he was right. However, he yieldedd or the sake of peace.

Now reports are current that King George himself is earnestlly advising compromise and is responsible for the government-opposition conference on the question of the lords that is to be held. Britons naturally turn to compromise and have a genius for avoiding extreme measures. It is possible that Asquith and Balfour may devise a plan of reform which will render another general election unnecessary and enable parliament to take up the budget and other promised but delayed legislation. Such a plan cannot fail to involve limitation of the power of the lords and concessions to the liberal and democratic spirit.

But to say possible is not to say probable. Already the radical liberals ask the fiery tories are up in arms, protesting against surrender, declaring that the issue must be settled once for all, and only time serving politicians can see any advantage in makeshifts and postponements.

Asquith must reckon with his heterogeneous majority—with the labor-men, nationalists and leftists. He must reckon with the more impatient protectionists as well as with the aggressive defenders of the usurping lords. A conference is an excellent thing for those who meet at the round table. but what of the outsiders, the stump orators, the organizers of elections, the editors of part organs? Still, nothing can be lost by negotiating, and something may be gained. Neither side is really desirous of an early appeal to the country; neither side is confident of victory, although the liberals realize that time as a factor works rather against them than for them.

LIVER LAZINESS.

Those Who Lack Energy and are Unsuccessful Should Read This Closely.

"I am only thirty years old, yet for almost two years I have felt more like seventy-five. I have found it difficult to sleep at night and in the morning feel so depressed and heavy that effort was difficult. My hands were always clammy and perspiration would break out all over me. It was not unnatural that I should begin to brood over the chance that I should soon be unfit to do my work, and this dread made my sleepless nights perfect misery. After repeated trials of medicines and mixtures Dr. Hamilton's Pills gave me the first gleam of hope. From the very first I could see they were different in action from other pills. They didn't gripe and acted as naturally as if nature and not the pills were cleansing my clogged up system. My spirits rose. I felt much better, the sluggish action of the system gave way to normal activity Dizziness and headache ceased, appetite, good color and ambition to work returned and have remained. I am like a new man and I thank Dr. Hamilton's Pills for it all."

This was the experience of J. E. Parkhurst, a well-known grocert dealer in Jefferson. Follow his advice. Use Dr. Hamilton's Pills for your stomach, kidneys and liver and you'll enjoy good health and robust good health. FARMERS' INSTITUTE.

Annual Meeting Held at Home of President J. H. Garbutt.

Over one hundred members of the West Peterborough Farmers' Institute, attended the annual meeting held at the home of the president, Mr. J. H. Garbutt. He referred to the fact that Mr. Duff, who was present, would give a lesson on drainage.

The secretary, Mr William Collins, read his report, stating that the past year had been satisfactory to agriculturists. He then referred to the various meetings which had been held. Death of Mr. Barton Earle.

The many personal friends, including hundred of former pupils of his, will regret to learn that Mr. Barton Earle, one of Peterborough's oldest citizens, passed away at Kingston on Friday. The late Mr. Earle was for many years a teacher in the local Public schools. Mr. Earle was a highly educated man and a charming writer. Some years ago, the deceased resigned his position as teacher. His forte was English literature and few men in Canada were better acquainted with that object. He leaves to mourn his loss two sons, one in Toronto and one out West. Funeral arrangements are not yet known here.

ONTARIO CROPS LOOK GOOD

The crop situation in Ontario to day is encouraging, especially in the neighborhood of Peterborough. Fall wheat is heading out in a great many places; the clover crop is fairly good; excellent in some places; there is lots of pasture for cattle, and oats and barley seem to be coming on all right. Root crops have also had a fair start, and turnips and mangels have broken through the ground without being hindered any from a top crust.

Clergymen Voted for Liquor in the Clubs

Thirty-Six Members of the Anglican Synod Endorse Club Licenses, but Resolution is Defeated

Toronto, June 16.—Before the adjournment of the Synod yesterday afternoon a hornet's nest was stirred up over the question of club licenses.

"I protest against the Moral Reform Committee objecting to all club licenses," said Mr. H. T. Beck. The late Archbishop belonged to a club, the present chancellor does, and many of the most prominent members of the Synod do. This kind of thing only alienates the substantial men of the community. (Applause.)

"We don't oppose clubs," explained Mr. Blake, "but granting licenses for intoxicants."

"Well, these men will think mighty little of the Synod if we oppose their license. We'll lose their financial and moral support."

"You mean immoral," corrected one.

"There are clubs and clubs," stated Dr. T. Millman. If you mean the Brockton Club I'm opposed too, but not if you mean the National Club, or the Royal Canadian Yacht Club and others of that class. There is no more abuse of liquor there than in the members' homes, and the clubs have as much right to liquor there as in their own homes.

Rural Dean Cayley supported Mr. Beck.

"This country is going mad on prohibition," said he. This resolution is the work of the same men who restrict our locomotion on Sunday, who tell us they oppose Sunday cars so must ride in cabs. What humbug! (Applause.) Why add to God's commands? A minister told me the church is being made to stink in the nostrils of the substantial men of the community who don't wish to be more prohibitory than God Himself. The church is to preach the Gospel, but I can't find prohibition in the teaching of Christ."

"I'm much more afraid of the fashionable club than the low tavern," said Rev. T. Beverly Smith. "My boy is much more apt to be ruined by it."

The vote was called for, which sustained the anti-license recommendation by 60 to 36.

Number of Dead will Reach 1,000

Vienna, June 16.—The destruction of life and property by floods throughout Hungary exceeds all records. The number of deaths has not been ascertained, but it yet been ascertained, but it is believed they will average close to a thousand. The damage to crops and property will amount to several million kronen. The entire harvest is seriously threatened with destruction.

In the Kronstadt district, 300 bodies have been recovered. In the Moldave district 100 persons perished as the result of the sudden collapse of houses, and in the Temesvar district 180 persons are reported drowned.

LUXURIES AND NECESSITIES

The borderland between luxury and necessity is uncertain territory No Daniel Webster of economics can frame an Ashburton treaty which will define it. With the passing of years, indeed, this no-man's land is becoming broader rather than narrower. Vast areas which were once conceded to the domain of luxury without dispute, are now declared by many to be in the realm of necessity.

People on this side of the Atlantic have been amused, sometimes, at the viewpoint of Old Country novelists, who have a habit of picturing dire poverty as a condition in which "only one servant" can be afforded. This seem droll to Canadians because many wall to do and perfectly happy people in the Dominion do without this English "necessity" altogether. It all depends upon the view-point. These same Canadians probably indulge in some extravagances which shock the new-comers from across the water.

It is not unlikely that the tendency of the age is to over-enumerate the necessities to include among them many things which might be given up with no real suffering. Like children with too many toys, there are people nowadays who cannot enjoy the multiplicity of their playthings, and this is especially the case when they have mortgaged their necessities, in order to obtain their luxuries.

Chancellor Day, of Syracuse University, complains that the automobile has been a curse, as well as a blessing, to the country. Its commercial uses are unquestioned, and as a pleasure vehicle for those who can afford it, it is supreme. "But," says the chancellor, "young mechanics and clerks and business men, who need all their capital, are mortgaging their homes by the thousands, and losing their positions, often by this form of infatuation." Five hundred millions of dollars are said to be invested in the automobile trade in the United States; some of it undoubtedly ill-invested. And the automobile is only one type of very many modern luxuries, which those who really cannot afford them seem to think necessary to their enjoyment of life. The child with the one rag doll is happy until she looks with envious eyes upon the playthings of the daughters of the rich. It is doubtful if she is nothappier than the blase child whose taste for play has been cloyed by a too-elaborate nursery equipment.

A Great Stream of Immigration

OVER A MILLION AND A HALF SETTLERS CAME TO CANADA IN LAST DECADE.

Multitude From England—About Six Hundred Thousands Came From the Old Country.

Ottawa, June 16.—During the past ten years over one and a half million immigrants have entered Canada, of whom nearly 600,000 have come from Great Britain and a little over half a million from the United States. Immigration from non-English-speaking countries has totalled a little over 400,000.

The Immigration Department has in compilation a new pamphlet giving the facts and figures respecting the immigration of the past decade up to the close of the last fiscal year. The records show that of the total immigration from Great Britain since 1900 England and Wales sent over 420,000, Scotland about 115,000, and Ireland about 57,000.

During the past fiscal year the total immigration was 286,731 distributed as follows:—From the United States 103,793; from England and Wales, 41,144; from Scotland, 11,703; from Ireland, 3,940; from other Continental countries, 45,288; from Japan, 377.

Deportations during the year totalled 734, and since 1902 the total has been 3,663. Of the total deportation over 2,000 have been English immigrants. During the past fiscal year 8,997 persons seeking admission to Canada from the United States were debarred as undesirable.

CEMENT HOUSES.

It should be good news to the world, wherein live so many people of moderate means, that Edison has at last realized his hope of erecting a "poured cement house," a highly ornamental, water proof, vermin proof dwelling which it is possible to build for $1200.

Believing that for $10 a month the workingman could live in a detached cement house, Edison went ahead and perfected his process. He patented several inventions for making and handling cement until he produced a mixture almost like water. This mixture holds the stone, or aggregates in suspension, flows freely to all parts of the moulds and makes a uniform distribution of the aggregates throughout the mass.

By a clever Edison arrangement the moulds are adapted to variations, making it possible to change the style of houses with the same set of moulds. The decorations will be cast with the house, and so will be part of "the structure; carved to it in a sense.

This is a welcome invention that must certainly do much to relieve in these days of the mounting prices of lumber. A handsome spacious and durable house for $1200 is just what the masses of the people have long the majority of the people have long needed.

Body Found in a Rope-Bound Trunk

New York, June 18.—A new murder mystery developed today with the finding of the body of a man packed in a trunk, in the hallway of a house in Goerk street. The police took the trunk and body in charge, and a detail of detectives immediately began an investigation.

The police arrested three foreigners, one of them, it is alleged, an ex-conviet. The prisoners, the police declare, admitted under a third degree examination, that the victim sold them some jewellery yesterday afternoon. He was not seen alive after that.

An hour after the discovery, the body was identified as that of Moses Sachs, a jewelry salesman.

Sachs has been missing since yesterday. It was only a short time before the body was found that Sachs' two sons, Isidor and Moses, jr., had gone to police headquarters to report that their father had left home yesterday afternoon with $2,000 worth of jewelry in his possession and had not returned.

The police found that the rope-bound trunk containing the body had been left at 51 Georhe street this morning by an expressman. The janitress, not knowing to whom it belonged, asked the police to remove it. The trunk was taken to the nearest police station, where the body bent double, with the head against the knees, was discovered in the trunk.

Sachs was former proprietor of a Houston street jewelry store. Up to noon the police had found no clew to the circumstances under which he had been murdered.

A RARE OPPORTUNITY.

Secure Asbestos Mining Stock at Ground Floor Prices.

Every business man knows the great, and constantly increasing demand for asbestos. This demand comes from the enormous development of electrical knowledge and consequent manufacture of electrical apparatus. In electrical machinery alone is a vast demand for this mineral. Asbestos must be had as it, like gutta percha, cannot be replaced by any substitute. At the present time the greater part of the world's supply of asbestos comes from the Province of Quebec, whilst a very large percentage of the Canadian output is sold to our neighbors in the United States. Thousands of dollars has been spent by prospectors in that country searching for bodies of asbestos containing the minerals in paying quantities and of good quality.

The Rochester and Wyoming Asbestos Co., has succeeded in purchasing 820 acres of rich asbestos bearing land near Glenrock, in Converse County, Wyoming. The Burlington Transcontinental Railroad is adjacent to the property, thus ensuring cheap transportation, whilst low price fuel is provided by nearby coal mines. Mr. Edwin Hall, state geologist, State inspector of mines, has examined the company's asbestos property and has made a favorable property and has made a most favorable report.

The company is offering a limited number of shares at $1 each; such shares are nonassessable. For full particulars address the Rochester and Wyoming Asbestos Co., Rochester, N.Y.

Rain is Needed to Save the Crops

Winnipeg, June 17.—The time of the year has arrived when the West thinks, dreams and talks of nothing but crops. Even politics, over streams run in the West, must take second place. Every one is a crop expert in the West from the sour-dough farmer to the latest arrival from the old land. The business world follows as closely as the homesteader every turn and whim of the weather on. This is the dangerous period, the period which decides whether the west is to have a bumper crop or a lean year. The next three weeks means everything to the farmer and the whole business world of the West. Hence the anxiety of the West and the care with which it daily scans the clouds.

The spring season so far has been a most erratic one. March was a magnificent month, with almost June weather. Many farmers got on their land months earlier than usual However, the wiseheids shrewedly refrained from March sowing, and now the more impetuous ones wish they had followed their advice. April was a month with winter and summer weather alternating in a most annoying fashion. May was exceptionally cold and there was little growth during the whole month. During the last week, however, there was a great deal of rain, even snow storms in Alberta and western Saskatchewan. This has been followed by magnificent June weather, very hot even if a little dry. During the past two weeks the crops have been growing splendidly and the outlook is that there will be a fair average crop.

ABOVE THE AVERAGE.

While the crop will only be average the total wheat yield of the West will be much above the average and will probably even break the record of last year, as the acreage in all three provinces is vastly increased. In Alberta the increase will be as high as 27 per cent. Manitoba's increase will be around thirteen per cent. according to the official figures, while Saskatchewan will have an equally large increase. Never in the history of the West has there been so much land under cultivation and the enormous immigration of the past year is easily reflected in the increased acreage.

MOTHER GRIEVES FOR MISSING GIRL

Toronto, June 16.—"I hope—I hope—she hasn't—that she isn't where they fear she is," said Mrs. Peter Christensen, a stout little Danish woman, to a reporter at her home, 26 Wright street, this morning, which place her sixteen-year-old daughter, Hannah, left two weeks ago for Boston, where the police are now dragging the Charles River for the girl's body. She is believed to have committed suicide.

"We came here from Boston only eight months ago," said Mrs. Christensen, who was shaking with sobs, as she read a newspaper clipping. "Hannah was a good girl as far as I know, and I don't know why she would want to do it. She said some thing a little while ago about having trouble, but I didn't think from the way she said it that it was serious. She didn't tell me what it was at all. We had a letter from her last week, and she seemed cheerful enough. She said she was going to get work in a few days."

A PITIFUL SCENE.

Mrs. Christensen stooped to put her arm around a curly-headed boy of ten years of age, the next eldest in the family. There were two others younger who clung to her skirts in sympathy for her tears which they were too young to understand. Mr. Christensen was unable to leave his work today to go to Boston, but if there is no word by tonight he will go to Boston work notwithstanding. The girl has been missing since Wednesday last, when she left two notes in her room at the home of Alexander Anderson at Allstone Boston.

EARACHE, TOOTHACHE!

To Cure the Pain in Ten Seconds and Get Instant Relief, Nothing Equals.

NERVILINE.

Fifty years ago Nerviline was used from coast to coast and in thousands of homes this trusty liniment served the entire family, cured all their minor ills and kept the doctor's bill small. Today Nerviline still holds first rank in Canada among pain-relieving remedies — scarcely a home you can find that doesn't use it.

TESTIMONIAL NO. 4398

From Port Hope, Ont., Mr. W. T. Greenway, of the Guide newspaper staff, writes: "For twenty years we have used Nerviline in our home, and not for the world would we be without it. As a remedy for all pain, earache, toothache, cramps, headache and disordered stomach, I know of no preparation so useful and quick to relieve as Nerviline."

Let every mother give Nerviline a trial; it's good for children, good for old folks—you can rub it on as a liniment or take it internally.

Wherever ther is pain, Nerviline will cure it. Refuse anything but Nerviline, 25c. per bottle, five for $1.00, all dealers, or The Catarrhozone Co., Kingston, Ont.

LIVING ON ONE DOLLAR A WEEK

All the miracles of finance are not performed on a large scale. Wonders may be worked with millions, true; but they may also be worked with pennies. The most accomplished financial prestidigitator of the day seems to be the Harvard student who proclaims his success in living on a dollar a week. He rivals the ancient Greek who did so much on an olive or two and a sip of wine. Young Mr. Long instead employs the peanut and an occasional draught of molasses—with now and then an egg or a spoonful of oatmeal.

There are those who make economy a fad, who luxuriate in its various refinements and attentuations, and who take a sort of smug credit and perverse joy in boasting of the discomfort it occasions. But Mr. Long claims to be a student of the science of right living, and to be holding his own, both in studies and in athletics. All the same we should feel more comfortable if he would put his mind to the task of increasing his income rather than to that of keeping down his expenses. A strain of boasthulness is to be detected in his ingenuities and may invite an ultimate punishment. He should keep in mind the experience of the horse that died close on the heels of a demonstration that one straw a day was enough. The verdict on a scheme of meager dietetics lies with the future.

"GIVE WHILE YOU LIVE."

Do it in your own lifetime. Such is the maxim followed by the St. Louis philanthropist who has just given his entire fortune of $3,000,000—except for a small annuity of $5,000—for the furtherance of good works. This action is, of course, a pointed lesson to such wealthy willmakers as cling to the old familiar fashion of making their benefactions posthumous, with all the chances of family opposition and of faulty administration.

David J. Ranken wisely chooses to see his money doing good in his own lifetime, under the direction of trustees of his own choosing. Detaching himself from his fortune, he modestly steps to one side and lets the fructifying work proceed. He "dies poor" in one sense, yet rich, as may be hoped, in satisfaction and content.

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but a inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

PE-RU-NA PROMPTLY RELIEVES

A Case of Dreadful Suffering Which Had Continued For Months.

An Account of a Remarkable Recovery Given By Mr. Alfred Wood, Teacher of a Private School at Launceston, Tasmania.

MR. AND MRS. ALFRED WOOD.

Mr. Alfred Wood, who has a private school at 39 Frederick street, Launceston, Tasmania (Australia), has been a teacher for 37 years under the Educational Department of Tasmania. He writes, concerning his wife's case, as follows:

"My wife was suffering for months fr[om] gastro-enteritis, and was given up by her medical attendant.

"By good fortune I was induced to try Peruna in her case, and I can truthfully state that from the first dose her dreadful suffering ceased; and after taking [Pe]-ru-na she is permanently cured."

HOW does Peruna make such extraordinary cures as above recited?

By simply arousing the forces of Nature to throw off the diseased action.

Peruna contains no magic and does not operate in any mysterious way, but it does help Nature to combat disease, and thus many times comes to the rescue of the patient in some important crisis.

There is always a time in the course of any disease when a little help goes a great way.

Just as the scales are beginning to descend, when one ounce more would determine the fate of the patient, a little lift will turn the scales in favor of the patient.

Peruna is a handy medicine to have in the household.

It helps many diseases by imparting a natural vigor to the whole system.

As a tonic or catarrh remedy, its reputation is well established all over the world.

As a remedy for stomach and bowel diseases, the fame of Peruna is undoubtedly destined to become greater than that of any other medicine in the world.

A great many cases like that above referred to have found Peruna of untold value when no other help seemed of any avail.

Pe-ru-na For Indigestion.

Mr. Donald Robb, Jr., 16 Wrights Ave., Halifax, Nova Scotia, member Independent Order of Forresters, writes:

"While on a visit to Boston, I must have eaten something that did not agree with my stomach, as a terrible case of indigestion followed.

"Peruna was recommended to me and after using three bottles I was entirely cured.

"I therefore recommend Peruna to any one suffering with stomach trouble."

Mr. Chas. Brown, Rogersville, Tenn., writes:

"A friend advised me to take Peruna for indigestion and it cured me in a short time."

CONFERENCE OF 1911.

Coronation and Imperial Conference Both Fall in 1911.

The fact that the coronation of George V., and the next Imperial Conference both fall in 1911 may be regarded as a coincidence of no little importance to the Empire. The double attraction should ensure a full attendance of colonial premiers and ministers. The august Imperial ceremonial will impress them with the unity and worth-whileness" of the Empire, and, thus prepared, they should bring to the discussion of those weighty problems with which they have go do with the open mind and the stimulated vision.

Telegraphic communication within the Empire in one department in which some progress has been made; but much remains to be done. It should be possible next year to move further in the direction of better and cheaper cable service between all the British dominions. It would be difficult to overestimate the commercial value of reasonable low telegraph rates to all parts of the Empire, and an all- red cable system is essential for defence purposes. Such success has attended the use of wireless telegraphy between Cape Breton and Cornwall that the Marconi system is sure to become an important medium of inter-imperial communication.

It is practically certain that the next Imperial conference will devote special attention to the problem of directing emigration from the British Isles to other parts of the Empire. Only fifty-five positions are available in the Old Country to every one hundred boys, and some organized plan should be devised for sending the surplus to Canada, Australia, New Zealand and South Africa. No effort should be spared to save such an enormous asset to the State. It may even be possible to extend the national system of labor bureaus created by the Asquith government to the overseas dominions. If they were given a full voice in it, labor organizations probably welcome any scheme that would tend to keep labor conditions upon a stable basis. In any event, when the colonial ministers meet in London next summer they will have before them the opportunity of serving the Empire at large by essaying some adequate control over the movements of British populations.

The question of the Imperial control of ocean carriage tolls will likewise come up next summer. There is need that it should. It is complained that all the transportation agencies between the British producer and the Canadian consumer have combined to absorb the advantage of the Canadian tariff preference on British goods. The ocean lines, the Canadian railways and the Canadian inland navigation companies are declared to be involved. Since 1908 the rate on tin plates from South Wales to Winnipeg has been advanced from 63½ cents per 100 pounds to 77½ cents per 100 pounds. In the same period the freight charges on the same products from Pittsburg to Winnipeg have been considerable reduced. The Welsh tin plates carry the additional burden of ocean insurance. The result is the steady diversion of trade from Great Britain to the United States in direct opposition to the will of the people as expressed in the British preference schedules of 1897 and succeeding years.

THE NEW GOLDEN BUCKET
GOLDEN HARVEST from FIELD and STREAM

IT IS NOTEWORTHY that the PROVINCE OF SASKATCHEWAN has been generously favored by nature. From the days of the Hudson Bay Factors, until the Territory became a Province, the people have been progressive, self-reliant, courageous. Each epoch marked improvements, each obstacle only awakened fresh zeal. To-day the golden grain, covering thousands and thousands of acres, is about to be supplemented by the golden heritage so long resting in the sands and gravel beds of the famous river. The pittance yielded in past years, is about to resolve itself into vast potentialities—for the modern dredge, the recently discovered methods of treatment, the effort to save the gold formerly lost in treatment, should add immensely to the importance of the province as well as to the gold output of the Dominion.

In the argonaut days it kept a placer miner busy handling four cubic yards. One dredge of 1910 is doing, therefore, the work, 2000 miners on '49; and, as sixty dredges are to-day giving California's auriferous soil a shake down, their combined work foots up fully the output of an army of $150,000 pick and shovel miners. Similar conditions are rapidly developing in SASKATCHEWAN, Northern British Columbia and the Yukon country.

A Call From Oregon
Opportunities in the Far West

The greatest industrial activity in this country is now centered in Oregon. Two of the biggest railroad systems in the U. S., with intense rivalry, are pushing branch lines into the remote portions of this State, and an exodus from the East is on in the occupation of this the LAST FRONTIER ON THE CONTINENT. Fortunes will be made here THIS YEAR—NEXT YEAR and EVERY YEAR for the next decade.

Our valleys are the most fertile in the world and irrigation projects are converting the bordering hillsides into gardens. Orchards lands are leaping upward in price and the advance has only started. Water from mountain streams is the purest, timber the finest and climate the most perfect in Uncle Sam's domain. Power plants are springing up along the channels of silvery torrents to develop electrical energy for mines and mills and interburban railways. Fish abound in the rivers, game in the forests and health and joy in the atmosphere. There are no cyclones here or pestiferous insects to endanger life, or make it a burden.

I want Eastern connections and help, financial and otherwise, to seize opportunities that surround this picturesque city of Baker. The returns will be out of all proportion to the help extended. The opportunities are along the lines of vegetable fruit, hay, grain, stock, timber, and mineral lands. There are fortunes in all these. Some mines in this vicinity have record outputs in gold, running into the millions. Yet the surface, overlying the mineral deposits of Baker County, has hardly been scratched.

On a ledge of free gold bearing quartz two miles in length I made a test of 100 tons of ore taken at a depth of only a hundred feet and got over $3000.00 out of it. The mint returns passed through the Citizen's National Bank here.

Among other things, I need money, right now, to begin the MANUFACTURE OF GOLD out of this immense ore body. The shares of the Amber Canyon Mines Company, which OWNS this property, and of which I am secretary have an intrinsic value of at least 50 cents a share based on a conservative valuation of the property and the amount of rock exposed.

I will deliver on order, with draft attached, up to 50,000 shares of this stock at 25 cents a share, NET. The full amount of the purchase price will go back in dividends inside of 10 months. Take a block of this as a starter, and get in step with this Eldorado of the West. If there is anything else out here that I can do for you, or you can do for me,—WRITE ME.

Yours for business, and MONEY for both of us,

A BLOW AT BRIDGE WHIST.

A member of the Louisiana legislature has introduced a bill to suppress bridge whist in that state.

"I am introducing this measure," he explained, "for the benefit of the children of my state, who seldom have an opportunity to know their bridge-playing mothers."

Furthermore, he allowed that his bill was intended to give married men in Louisiana a chance to establish a speaking acquaintance with their bridge-playing wives.

It appears that his bill is distinctly drawn for the purpose of curtailing the liberties of Louisiana women, and it will be surprising if surprising if the ladies down there do not adopt a retaliatory measure of some kind. They can hardly be expected to give up bridge without effort to make it appear that they are not alone to blame if they and their husbands seldom see one another.

The controversy is likely to be very unfortunate. What if the women were to unite for the purpose of having the golf blubs abolished? The golf widows are doubtless as numerous as the bridge whist widowers, and a contest between them might disrupt society.

Tell Some Sick One
It Is Free If It Fails.

Will you do an act of Humanity?
Will you tell some sick friend of this remarkable offer?

Tell him or her, that you have learned of a medicine so certain that its maker does not fear the risk. It is absolutely and unconditionally free if it fails.

And you, too, may be entirely ignorant of this discovery and its remarkable offer.

For 20 years it has been the standard remedy for stomach, kidney and liver ailments everywhere in America.

When the "Doctor" or counselling nurses of some relative or friend is called in, it is Dr. Shoop's Restorative that has quickly vitalized and revived flagging nerves and restored health to bewildered minds.

I do not know the formula, for although the Shoop Restorative is sold by druggists generally, Dr. Shoop's Restorative is never shown to the ailments of others or the formula disclosed to medical or counselling nurses. And besides that the formula is of no account.

What is of account and of all account, more than 5 to the credit of each and every statement.

Try it at my expense, that I can prove to you that it is what I say it is. Then you can decide whether it is worth what the dealer charges for it.

Then only should the sick make any purchase. Only when they have proved to their own satisfaction that it is the best medicine they ever used.

Is this fair? Is it not just what you would do yourself?

I have learned that the sick have been disappointed so often that they have grown skeptical. Many have come to believe that no medicine will do them good.

Therefore I have arranged with druggists to supply Dr. Shoop's Restorative on the following terms:

If you are sick, or ailing, or feel that you need a medicine, go to your druggist and tell him you want to try Dr. Shoop's Restorative on my guarantee. Tell him you will pay him for one bottle when it has restored you to health, but not a penny if it fails. Tell him you will leave it entirely with me.

Then, when you have taken the medicine and it has restored you to health, go to your druggist and tell him to charge me with the bottle. Tell him you have found it to be all I claim for it.

But if it fails to restore you, if it fails to do what I claim it will do, then you owe him nothing. Not a penny. Simply tell him you will leave it with me.

Will you take me at my word? Will you thus make me prove my claims? Will you accept this offer?

Will you do me this favor? Will you do yourself this favor? Will you write me about your case?

Will you tell some sick friend of this offer?

Dr. Shoop, Box 500, Racine, Wis.

Dr. Shoop's Restorative is sold by druggists generally. If your druggist cannot supply you, do not accept substitutes, but send to me direct.

Mr. O'Connell entered objections to the jury's finding.

In sickness, if a certain hidden nerve goes wrong, then the organ that this nerve controls will also surely fail. It may be a Stomach nerve, or it may have given strength and support to the Heart or Kidneys. It was Dr. Shoop that first pointed to this vital truth. Dr. Shoop's Restorative was not made to dose the Stomach nor to temporarily stimulate the Heart or Kidneys. That old-fashioned method is all wrong. Dr. Shoop's Restorative goes directly to these failing inside nerves. The remarkable success of this prescription demonstrates the wisdom of treating the actual cause of these failing organs. And it is indeed easy to prove. A simple five or ten days' test will surely tell. Try it once, and see! Sold by all dealers.

READY MADE MINING.

The marvellous evolution of Gold dredging and methods of recovering values from auriferous ground, is today attracting world-wide attention. The Saskatchewan gravels" in the early days of North West Canada, supplied many hundreds of settlers with gold sufficient to maintain themselves if not in influence, at least in comfort. To-day steam and electric dredges produce the major portion of the World's gold output. Formerly, this alluvial gold was separated from the sands and gravels containing it, by washing them in pans, cradles, rockers and sluices. In 1892, the hydraulic method was first employed, in California. By this means a "giant" stream of water, turned against the side of a mountain, washed everything before it. The gold settles at the bottom of the tunnel or sluice, through which the gravel, sand and water flow. In 1899 dredges or excavators were first used, in Australia. In Everybody's Magazine for April, 1910, Mr. Byron W. Holt, a financial authority, formerly Editor of "Moody's Magazine," a gentleman recognized as a prominent and sound economist, writes an article entitled "Too much Gold," from which the following extracts are made:—

1866	$ 44,500,000
1870	123,000,000
1890	116,000,000
1900	254,576,200
1909	457,576,200

"Gold producing is no longer mainly or even largely, a placer mining proposition. It is to-day A BUSINESS AND COMMERCIAL PROPOSITION AS MUCH AS IS THE MINING OF COAL OR IRON ORE? or the production of corn or copper."

Measured by the scale of progress, it is a long step from primitive river. Counting the years that have actually elapsed since dredgers and manufacturers began to seriously consider the application of power-driven mechanism to auriferous fields, it is found that the inventions and improvements brought forward in a single decade, along this line, have resulted in lifting their branch of gold mining on the Western Continent, from the level of hand labor with always uncertain and at best meagre results, to the plane of thoroughly organized and established industry, the returns from which may be as accurately forecasted, as can the profits of a manufacturing company which owns all the raw material it uses, in the manufacture of its products, with an assured demand at fixed prices for all it can produce. methods to the modern gold dredge now operating on the Saskatchewan writing upon the subject says: "Two years ago it was generally considered that the Oroville district (California) was practically the only field for larger dredging operations. Today, the proved successful dredging field extends from Alaska to Mexico. Dredging for gold has become a mechanical and commercial proposition. As an investment, it is becoming one of the safest in the business world." These remarks are suggested by the publication of an announcement in this issue, of the operations of the Saskatchewan Mining and Development Company, an organization composed mostly of prominent Toronto gentlemen, who have elected former Lieut-Gov. C. H. MacKintosh of the North West, President and Captain T. H. Brooks M. P. General Manager. The Company is highly spoken of in financial circles.

$400 YEARLY FROM A $40 INVESTMENT

Borders on the Incredible, It is a Fact, However.

I have under control 10,000 acres of the richest bottom land in the State of Georgia. This land costs the Syndicate $12.50 per acre, with the timber on it. The timber can be sold for $7.50 per acre. I want to put 1,000 acres of this land into Cotton cultivation which will net with cotton at 10 cents a pound, $40,000 from the first crop. Cotton is now selling at 15 cents per pound. At this price the land would produce $105,000. It will take $40,000 to put this first 1,000 acres under cultivation. I want 200 people, more or less, to take one or more shares of a Syndicate at $40 per share, $10 down and $10 in three monthly payments. About 100 shares have been taken up in the last ten days.

The balance of the land—9,000 acres—can be put into cultivation from the receipts from the cotton crop grown on the first 1,000 acres, and besides doing this it will earn a dividend of not less than ten to twenty per cent. each year.

At the end of the fourth year the entire tract will be earning not less than $400,000 net annually. The 1,000 Syndicate shares will absolutely own the whole 10,000 acres.

SOLID COMMERCIAL FACTS ABOUT COTTON

Seven States in the Union produce 85 per cent. of the world's supply of cotton. The crop of 1909 brought $800,000,000 to planters.

If the United States were to stop the exportation of cotton for two seasons it would pauperize Europe.

There is no substitute for cotton, and cotton fabrics are the most essential commodities in the world's markets.

Food and clothing constitute the absolute necessities of life. There are a thousand food bearing plants that will grow anywhere, but 80 per cent. of the world's clothing is cotton that will grow ONLY IN SEVEN STATES.

The cotton land is the safest investment in the world to-day, and Georgia Bottoms is the safest of all, for it has 300 to 400 per cent. potential value.

A warehouse receipt for a bale of cotton is worth its face value in any bank in the South.

Any cotton investment is bound to be good. The Georgia Bottom Lands is the soundest and most attractive ever presented.

Why? Because this bottom land will produce THREE BALES AT THE COST OF ONE.

If the world's industrial progress is as great in the next fifteen years as it has been in the last fifteen, Cotton must either be double in VOLUME OR QUADRUPLE IN PRICE.

COTTON—FEBRUARY TO OCTOBER.

Here is just one more big significant world interest stories of the work of the twentieth century farmer who is getting results by brain power in new ways, rather than by plodding blind-luck-old-ways and old methods. You know it if you have been watching agriculture's progress.

A FINAL WORD

Those who join this Syndicate WILL OWN ABSOLUTELY THE WHOLE ENTERPRISE. The balance of the land can be handled from the profits or stock enough sold to take it up. I believe sincerely from my investigation that at the end of five years every $40.00 invested by a syndicate member will yield $400.00 annually. This looks like an impossibility, but the facts move thus justify the belief. The first payment on the syndicate shares will be $10.00 cash with the subscription, and the balance in three equal payments, 30, 60 and 90 days.

There will be no other syndicate and this will be closed on or before June 30.

In the above I have presented facts only—it is an enterprise of unusual merit. It is a big and sound money earner from its inception. If the Syndicate is oversubscribed, I reserve the right to allot pro rata.

Should you desire further information, address me frankly and openly. The ONLY WAY TO CREATE CONFIDENCE IS TO BE WORTHY OF IT.

I have the highest testimonials as to character, business and executive ability. Write for full report, free.

VOL. XXXI NO. 141 PETERBOROUGH, ONTARIO TUESDAY JUNE 21 1910 PRICE TWO CENTS

City Board of Works Have Busy Session

The City Board of Works met last night. There were present: Mayor Morrow, Chairman Ald. Hicks, Aldermen Graham, Metheral and Duncan.

A letter was read from Mrs. T. Rush, asking for a sewer connection with her premises, 193 Smith St.

Ald. Graham moved, seconded by Ald. Metheral,—That the above be granted on condition that Mrs. Rush pay $25 as required by law, and agrees not to oppose the construction of a sewer on Smith St.—Carried.

D. Henry asked for a concrete crossing on Park street at the south side of Parnell street.

Ald. Duncan moved, seconded by Ald. Graham,—That this be granted, the work to be done when the men are constructing other crossings.—Carried.

The city engineer reported regarding the grading of Bolivar street, from Park to St. John, and estimating the cost of such work at $63.

Ald. Duncan moved, seconded by Ald. Metheral,—That this work be done in accordance with the engineer's report.

The city engineer reported regarding the removal of the stand pipe at the corner of Aylmer and Wolfe streets, and saying the standpipe was in a good position, but if it had to be moved, he suggested that it be put on Dalhousie, between Aylmer and Bethune streets.

The city engineer also recommended that the standpipe ordered to be placed on Gilmour street be erected on St. Thomas street.

Ald. Metheral moved, seconded by Ald. Duncan,—That the engineer's suggestion as above be carried out.—Carried.

OWNERSHIP OF BRIDGE.

The City engineer reported as to the ownership of the bridge on London street, over the raceway. It seems there is some doubt as to whether the city has any vested rights in this property in consideration of grading its approaches from London and Mill streets, or whether the Dickson Estate are sole owners. This question was left for the engineer to settle.

GRADING KING EDWARD ST.

Mr. D. W. Dumble, asked that King Edward street be graded.

Ald. Graham moved, seconded by Ald. Metheral—That if Mr. Dumble fills in the cellar on the street, the street be assumed by the city and graded.—Carried.

J. Hoovey asked permission to remove a tree at 34 Dalhousie St.

Moved by the Mayor, seconded by Ald. Duncan,—That this matter be referred to the city engineer with power to act.—Carried.

L. Dobbin asked that a road be opened from Rogers street, south of the Croly property to the railway track.

Ald. Graham moved, seconded by Ald. Duncan,—That this matter be referred to the city engineer to report.—Carried.

REMOVAL OF STONE CRUSHER.

Ald. Graham moved, seconded by Ald. Duncan,—That the stone crusher be moved to the bed of the river above Roger's dam, and operated there. Also that $500 received from sale of Quaker street, be added to the board's appropriation for streets.—Carried.

Ald. Graham moved, seconded by Ald. Duncan,—That Dalhousie street from Aylmer to the creek be repaired.—Carried.

The mayor moved, seconded by Ald. Metheral,—That the portable engine be sold, the crusher now being operated by electrical power.—Carried.

QUAKER OATS SPUR LINE.

Mr. Denham, superintendent of the Quaker Oats Company, asked the board to pass an acceptable resolution to his company by which the construction of the new C.P.R. line to their premises might be proceeded with at once. Mr. Denham took exception to the board's previous objection to the proposed railway frog at Simcoe street, and offered that Mr. Oborne of the C.P.R. had assured him that when the city opened up Simcoe street to the river, said frog would be removed.

Ald. Metheral moved, seconded by Ald. Duncan,—That the Quaker Oats be granted permission for the construction of a C.P.R. spur line across Simcoe street and the government reserve, providing that when the city opens up Simcoe street to the river said frog is removed and the city be safeguarded against the cost of such removal on guarantee of the Quaker Oats Co.—Carried.

SITE FOR PUMPING STATION.

Mr. O. LaPlante was present on Chairman Hicks' invitation, re the proposition that his property west of George, (a three-cornered lot between the G.T.R. and George St.) be acquired by the city as a suitable site on which to erect a pumping station in connection with the sewerage and drainage system for south western Peterborough.

Mr. LaPlante would set no price for the piece of land in addition but said he would be pleased to accept an offer from the city. Subsequently however, Mr. LaPlante said he would accept the same price per square foot as was paid Mr. Oliver for his property. The committee, however, did not think the same conditions applied to both properties, and Mr. LaPlante promised to think the matter over and acquaint Chairman Hicks of the lowest figure he would accept for this property.

Ald. Duncan moved, seconded by the mayor,—That the engineer report on Friday night as to construction of an approach to Robert Nicholls' house on Park street.—Carried.

On complaint of Ald. Graham the boulders will be removed from Waterstreet.

Ten Survivors Rescued from the Vessel ---Was Rammed by Steamer Yews in the English Channel and Cut in Two

Holyhead, June 20.—Rammed by the steamer Yews, and cut almost in half, the steamer La Rochelle sank within five minutes of the collision early today, carrying the captain and eight men to death in the English Channel.

Ten survivors were picked up by the boats of the Yews.

COLLIDED IN DENSE FOG.

The collision came in a dense fog, but neither vessel had any warning. The Yews steaming at half-speed through the almost impenetrable fog, struck the La Rochelle squarely amidships, the steel bow spearing almost entirely through the other craft. None but the earnly watches of both craft was on deck, and several of the victims were penned in their quarters below, and unable to make the deck before the La Richelle settled and went down.

In the confusion the Yews was backed away from the La Rochelle, permitting the water to rush into the immense hole in her side.

As soon as order could be restored every effort was made by the officers and crews of the Yews to rescue the men of the sinking craft. Boats were lowered, and ten men, all of whom had jumped immediately after the crash, were picked up.

WAS A BIG FREIGHT BOAT.

The LaRochelle was a big freighter sailing from Bayonne, N.J.. The Yews is bound from Harrington to Port Albert.

Most of the dead are said to have been members of the engine room forces of the La Rochelle.

Mrs. Nicholas Longworth Smokes in Public

Boston, June 20.—Clifton Carberry, managing editor of the Boston Post, who came across the ocean on the Kaiserin Augusta Victoria with ex-President Roosevelt, has the following wireless despatch in his newspaper today: "I hear much comment among the women passengers over the fact that Mrs. Nicolas Longworth, the ex-president's daughter, who was Miss Alice Roosevelt before her marriage, does not wear a wedding ring. This fact especially pleased the suffragettes. They regard it as evidence on her part of the revolt against woman's bondage to man. On the other hand, most of the married women appear somewhat shocked by the ommission.

"Otherwise Mrs. Longworth fairly blazed with jewels at times. A diamond necklace and a diamond studded bracelet are especially conspicuous.

"Frank Kellog appears to have the president's ear as much as anybody on board. While Kellog and other friends have been sitting on deck, engaged in warm discussion, Mrs. Longworth has been sitting opposite the party. In her hand was a cigarette. From her lips she blew a fine smoke wreath around her father's head.

This is not the first time she has been seen in public with a cigarette, and the tongues of women who observed the event are busily wagging over it.

Henderson Must Hang On Appointed Day

Notwithstanding the splendid work done by Mr. F. D. Kerr, at his own expense and the strenuous efforts put forth by Rev. Canon Davidson, rector of St. John's church, Robert Henderson must hang this week.

On Thursday, Robert Henderson, a boy who came from England a year or two ago, must atone, by the ignominious loss of his life on the scaffold, for his proven crime of killing an old lady that had supplied him with food.

Yesterday Mr. Kerr made a strong plea for the life of the young man Henderson, trying on a technical error to avert the impending execution.

Mr. Kerr, in the Court of Appeal, in Toronto yesterday morning, argued at great length that his client, Henderson, now under sentence of death, had not been given a fair trial, that the jury had not been properly charged, and that the presiding judge had assumed an attitude which prejudiced the jury against the prisoner. Mr. C. R. Cartwright, deputy attorney general, said that in his career, he had never known a murder case in which the prisoner had been given a fairer trial, and that there was nothing to bear out the charge of hostility on the part of the judge. Judgment was reserved until 2 o'clock and when given refused a new trial for the prisoner.

RAIN IS NEEDED TO SAVE THE CROPS.

Conditions in Canadian West Generally Favorable. Though Grains are Some Days Later Than Last Year.

Toronto, June 20.—Crop reports from the Canadian West indicate weather conditions to be generally favorable, though in certain districts moisture is needed.

A wire from Saltcoats on the new branch of the C.P.R. in Saskatchewan stated that early sown wheat and oats showed frost damage, but with favorable weather a fair crop was indicated. Later sown grain looked healthy and strong, with rapid growth indicating a most promising crop. Sufficient moisture had fallen to carry crop another week. Generally speaking crop was from five to ten days later than last year.

A despatch from Winnipeg read as follows: We are only getting showers, and with extreme warm weather we are having, these are not sufficient. Unless we have good heavy rain there is liable to be a crop scare."

A despatch from a point on the Grand Trunk Pacific between Winnipeg and Saskatoon received yesterday was as follows:

"Crops looking fine, but with this hot weather will soon suffer from want of rain. Considerable damage has been done by winds in light land where seed was blown out of the ground."

Murderer Henderson Condemned.

His Lordship Bishop Reeves of the Toronto Diocese of the Church of England, administered the rite of confirmation on the prisoner Robert Henderson, now in the county jail, awaiting execution on Thursday of this week. His lordship, at this solemn rite was visibly moved by the sad errand bringing him to Peterborough. Today Rev. John C. Davidson, rector of St. John's church, will administer the sacred rites of the sacrament. The prisoner, now, fully understands the awful state in which he stands and fully realizes that this week he must atone for his past life.

A RARE OPPORTUNITY.

Secure Asbestos Mining Stock at Ground Floor Prices.

Every business man knows the great, and constantly increasing demand for asbestos. This demand comes from the enormous development of electrical knowledge and consequent manufacture of electrical apparatus. In electrical machinery alone is a vast demand for this mineral. Asbestos must be had as it, like gutta percha, cannot be replaced by any substitute. At the present time the greater part of the world's supply of asbestos comes from the Province of Quebec, whilst a very large percentage of the Canadian output is sold to our neighbors in the United States. Thousands of dollars has been spent by prospectors in that country searching for bodies of asbestos containing the minerals in paying quantities and of good quality.

The Rochester and Wyoming Asbestos Co., has succeeded in purchasing 220 acres of rich asbestos bearing land near Glenrock, in Converse County, Wyoming. The Burlington Transcontinental Railroad is adjacent to the property, thus ensuring cheap transportation, whilst low price fuel is provided by near-by coal mines. Mr. Edwin Hall, State geologist, State inspector of mines, has examined the company's asbestos property and has made a favorable report and has made a most favorable report.

The company is offering a limited number of shares at $1 each; such shares are nonassessable. For full particulars address the Rochester and Wyoming Asbestos Co., Rochester, N.Y.

DO YOU USE PILLS?

It is Doubt About the Right Pills to Use Read the Following Letter Carefully:

"I am one of those persons whose system requires aid," writes Mr. Young Gledhill from Picton, "but it is so easily affected by reason of the great sentiveness of the bowels that ordinary drastic pills inflict great injury to the delicate coating, and cause such persistent activity as to be with difficulty checked.

"I wish in the highest terms to express the great value of Dr. Hamilton's Pills in cases like mine, and I am sure also for elderly people and the very weak there is no pill like them.

"Speaking of my own experience with Dr. Hamilton's Pills, I can say they have proved the most stimulating pills for the liver I have found. I have proved their tonic action upon digestion, and the same results have been secured by friends upon whom I have urged their use. The manufacturers are to be congratulated upon possessing so valuable a prescription, and the public should know that so valuable a remedy has been placed at their command."

No other pill for constipation, for liver, kidney or stomach trouble, compares with Dr. Hamilton's Pills: they are mild and sure always to restore health. Refuse substitutes. Sold by all dealers, 25c per box, or The Catarrhozone Co., Kingston, Ont.

Jimmy Reynolds Breaks Down.

A Newcastle despatch received here yesterday states that the veteran tonsorical, Jimmy Reynolds, had begun another record-breaking walk to Toronto from his native town, Port Hope. Jimmy left Port Hope at 5 a.m., and passed through Newcastle about 9 o'clock. When half a mile west of the village this plucky pedestrian took a cramp in his legs, and had to retire to the hotel there.

Street Paving May be Started This Year

The City Board of Works last night discussed the ways and means of paying for street paving and are taking this question up with a view to an early incipiency of such work. Three methods of meeting this expenditure were discussed as follows: On the same basis as sidewalks—ratepayers benefitted 60 and city 40 per cent; by general tax; or on a frontage tax of 75 per cent as against 25 per cent by the public at large. It was generally conceded that pavements were a crying need, and the solicitor offered that they would save the city in interest over and over again.

Ald. Hicks suggested that the first installment of this work might be begun this year by paving George street from the C.P.R. station to McDonnell street, and Charlotte St. from G.T.R. station to George St.

The committee fell in line with this suggestion and will retake the matter up Friday night.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured.

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and the tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

Third Trial for Murder.

Franklin, Ky., June 21.—The case of Rufus Browder, the negro charged with the murder of James Cummingham, a farmer living near Russellville, will be called in court here today for its third trial. The first trial of the case resulted in a hung jury, and the second, when the death penalty was the verdict, was reversed by the courts of appeals. State troops were called out at both trials.

THE WEATHER.

Fine and decidedly warm.

HUNDREDS POISONED AT SPRING

Viana, June 20.—Poisoning of the waters of a spring near Trau, in Dalmatia, is responsible for the immediate death of three religious processionists, the probable fatal illness of 200 others, and the serious condition of at least another hundred.

The hospitals at Trau are today crowded with the victims of the poisoning outrage.

During a religious parade yesterday in the Trau diocese, the procession passed a famous alkaline and sulphur spring. The day was insufferably hot, and the processionists broke ranks and rushed to the spring in the disorder one of the attendants at the spring was trampled and killed.

The thirsty paraders drank eagerly of the water and three died within a few minutes. Others became violently ill at once, and the religious observance was abandoned, the priests turning to care for the stricken men, women and children.

Fifty of the processionists were placed under arrest today charged with the murder of the attendant.

No clew to the poisoning has been found.

A BLOW AT BRIDGE WHIST.

A member of the Louisiana legislature has introduced a bill to suppress bridge whist in that state.

"I am introducing this measure," he explained, "for the benefit of the children of my state, who seldom have an opportunity to know their bridge-playing mothers."

Furthermore, he allowed that his bill was intended to give married men in Louisiana a chance to establish a speaking acquaintance with their bridge-playing wives.

It appears that his bill is distinctly drawn for the purpose of curtailing the liberties of Louisiana women, and it will be surprising if surprising if the ladies down there do not adopt a retaliatory measure of some kind. They can hardly be expected to give up bridge without effort to make it appear that they are not alone to blame if they and their husbands seldom see one another.

The controversy is likely to be very unfortunate. What if the women were to unite for the purpose of having the golf clubs abolished? The golf widows are doubtless as numerous as the bridge whist widowers, and a contest between them might disrupt society.

SUMMER SKIN TROUBLES.

Sunburn, blistering, and irritation are the commonest form of summer skin troubles, and Zam-Buk ends these very quickly. It works in two ways. As soon as applied, its antiseptic powers get to work and kill all the poison in a wound, a sting or a sore. This generally ends the smarting and the pain. Then Zam-Buk begins the healing process, and fresh healthy tissue is built up. For sore, blistered feet, sore hands, heat rashes, baby's heat spots, sore places due to perspiration, etc., you can't equal Zam-Buk.

Also unequalled for cuts, ulcers, abscesses, piles, and all inflamed and diseased conditions of skin and subjacent tissue. Druggists and stores everywhere sell Zam-Buk, price 50c. box, but you are warned against accepting any of the harmful imitations.

CEMENT HOUSES.

It should be good news to the world, wherein live so many people of moderate means, that Edison has at last realized his hope of erecting a "poured cement house," a highly ornamental, water proof, vermin proof dwelling which it is possible to build for $1200.

Believing that for $10 a month the workingman could live in a detached cement house, Edison went ahead and perfected his process. He patented several inventions for making and handling cement until he produced a mixture almost like water. This mixture holds the stone, or aggregates in suspension, flows freely in all parts of the moulds and makes a uniform distribution of the aggregates throughout the mass.

By a clever Edison arrangement the moulds are adapted to variations, making it possible to change the style of houses with the same set of moulds.

If you would have a safe yet certain Cough Remedy in the home, try Dr. Shoop's—at least once. It is thoroughly unlike any other Cough preparation. THE MORNING TIMES

SUNDAY, JUNE 21, 1910.

OFFICIAL INTIMIDATION.

Colonel C. P. Lynden Bell, a retired officer, has published several excellent lectures dealing with the dangers which he thinks are menacing Great Britain. One, entitled "Our Policy of Drift," gives a clear account of German methods, and points out the possibility of danger in very distinct terms. He says; "There is nothing in nature or history to lead us to believe that a nation which has valuable possessions and undeveloped fighting power can escape disaster." As Great Britain has the valuable possessions he thinks she should develop her fighting power.

Another still more remarkable pamphlet is one entitled "How Germany Makes War." Colonel Lynden Bell's motto is the remark of the great German Treitschke; "We have settled our accounts with Austria and France. The last settlement—the settlement with England—is yet to come." Colonel Lynden Bell then deals ably with the three points: (1) The settlement with Austria; (2) the settlement with France; (3) the settlement with England. The treacherous diplomacy of Germany is exposed in a fearless manner, and the imminent danger to the British Empire is depicted in striking terms An extraordinary circumstance connected with this pamphlet is related in the English papers as follows:

Colonel C. P. Lynden Bell, speaking at a National Defence meeting at the Castle Theater, Richmond, Surrey, General Sir H. Prendergast, V.C., G.C.B., being in the chair, said:—"I have been asked to speak tonight on the lines of a pamphlet, 'How Germany makes War.' I find myself placed in considerable difficulties in consequence of this production. When first I expressed my intention of writing on the German question in dealing with national defence, and before I had written anything, a distinguished general now at the war office, stated that it was likely to do incalculable harm to a younger relative of mine still in the army. The suggestion appeared to me so preposterous, implying such injustice that I ridiculed it. The relative referred to has not been more than a fortnight in Germany in his life, and has had nothing to do with the pamphlet, which is the result of many years' study, two years being spent on the continent in foreign families. Further representations have, however, been made to me, and rather than run the risk of damaging a near relative I have decided to take no further part in national defence propaganda, for to treat the question in the abstract and to suppress the most important facts appears to me of little use. I trust that this public statement will remove any unjustifiable suspicions which the authorities may entertain and that no one else may suffer for it if I have brought unwelcome facts to light."

It is not easy to believe that government officials would use such disreputable methods in order to muzzle patriotic men who are trying to warn their fellow-countrymen of impending danger, but, if true, the fact simply proves to what depths political partisanship will lead men, and how far English public men have deteriorated from the high standard which distinguished them in the past.

Sciatica

EXPECTED DEATH ANY DAY.

Another Case Where Life Was Saved and Health Restored By Nerviline.

We have all read and heard of the agonies of Sciatica, but only those who have been tortured by this dread malady can fully appreciate what it must mean to be cured after years of suffering.

It is because he feels it his solemn duty to tell to the world his faith in Nerviline that Victor P. Hires makes the following declaration: "For three years I was in the Royal Mail service and in all kinds of weather had to meet the night trains. Dampness, cold and exposure brought on sciatica that affected my left side. Sometimes an attack would come on that made me powerless to work. I was so nearly a cripple that I had to give up my job. I was in despair, completely cast down because the money I spent on trying to get well was completely wasted. I was speaking to my chemist one day, and he recommended Nerviline. I had this good liniment rubbed on several times a day and got relief. In order to build up my general health and improve my blood I used Ferrozone, one tablet with each meal CURED SIX YEARS. I continued this treatment four months and was cured. I have used all kinds of liniments, and can truthfully say that Nerviline is far stronger, more penetrating, and infinitely better than anything else for relieving pain. I urge everyone with lumbago, neuralgia, rheumatism or sciatica to go Nerviline. I know it will, cure them."

There isn't a more highly esteemed citizen in Westchester than Mr. Hires. What he says can be relied upon. For six years since being cured he hasn't had a single relapse. Don't accept anything from your dealer but "Nerviline." 25 cents per bottle or five for $1. Sold everywhere or the Catarrhozone Co., Kingston.

$400 YEARLY FROM A $40 INVESTMENT

Borders on the Incredible, It is a Fact, However.

I have under control 10,000 acres of the richest bottom land in the State of Georgia. This land costs the Syndicate $12.50 per acre, with the timber on it. The timber can be sold for $7.50 per acre. I want to put 1,000 acres of this land into Cotton cultivation which will net with cotton at 10 cents a pound, $64,000 from the first crop. Cotton is now selling at 15 cents per pound. At this price the land would produce $105,000. It will take $40,000 to put this first 1,000 acres under cultivation. I want 200 people, more or less, to take one or more shares of a Syndicate at $40 per share, $10 down and $10 in three monthly payments. About 100 shares have been taken up in the last ten days.

The balance of the land—9,000 acres—can be put into cultivation from the receipts from the cotton crop grown on the first 1,000 acres, and besides doing this it will earn a dividend of not less than ten to twenty per cent. each year.

At the end of the fourth year the entire tract will be earning not less than $400,000 net annually. The 1,000 Syndicate shares will absolutely own the whole 10,000 acres.

SOLID COMMERCIAL FACTS ABOUT COTTON

Seven States in the Union produce 85 per cent. of the world's supply of cotton. The crop of 1909 brought $600,000,000 to planters.

If the United States were to stop the exportation of cotton for two seasons it would pauperize Europe.

There is no substitute for cotton, and cotton fabrics are the most essential commodities in the world's markets.

Food and clothing constitute the absolute necessities of life. There are a thousand food bearing plants that will grow anywhere, but 80 per cent. of the world's clothing is cotton that will grow ONLY IN SEVEN STATES.

The cotton land is the safest investment in the world to-day, and Georgia Bottoms is the safest of all, for it has 300 to 400 per cent. potential value.

A warehouse receipt for a bale of cotton is worth its face value in any bank in the South.

Any cotton investment is bound to be good. The Georgia Bottom Lands is the soundest and most attractive ever presented.

Why? Because this bottom land will produce THREE BALES AT THE COST OF ONE.

If the world's industrial progress is as great in the next fifteen years as it has been in the last fifteen, Cotton must either be double in VOLUME OR QUADRUPLE IN PRICE.

A FINAL WORD

Those who join this Syndicate WILL OWN ABSOLUTELY THE WHOLE ENTERPRISE. The balance of the land can be handled from the profits or stock enough sold to take it up. I believe sincerely from my investigation that at the end of five years every $40.00 invested by a syndicate member will yield $400.00 annually. This looks like an impossibility, but the facts more than justify the belief. The first payment on the syndicate shares will be $10.00 cash with the subscription, and the balance in three equal payments, 30, 60 and 90 days.

There will be no other syndicate and this will be closed on or before June 30.

In the above I have presented facts only—it is an enterprise of unusual merit. It is a big and sound money earner from its inception. If the Syndicate is oversubscribed, I reserve the right to allot pro rata.

Should you desire further information, address me frankly and openly. The ONLY WAY TO CREATE CONFIDENCE IS TO BE WORTHY OF IT.

I have the highest testimonials as to character, business and executive ability. Write for full report, free.

Satan Sanderson

By HALLIE ERMINIE RIVES.
Author of "Hearts Contrary," Etc.

Copyright, 1910, the Bobbs-Merrill Company.

tween verdict and penalty—but minus doubtless, for the problem to solve itself. For the only solution possible was Hugh's dying in the hospital at Ashton. So long as the other lived he must play out the role.

And if Hugh did die, but died too late? What a satire on truth and justice! The same error which put the rope about his own neck would fold the real Hugh in the odor of sanctity. He would lie in the little jail yard in a felon's grave, and Hugh in the cemetery on the hill beneath a marble monument erected by St James' parish to the Rev. Henry Sanderson. In the dock or in the cell, with the death watch sitting at its door, it was all one. He had elected the path, and if it led to the bleak edge of life, to the barren abyss of shame, he must tread it. He was powerless to help himself still. He had given over his life into the keeping of a power in which his better manhood had trusted. If it exacted the final tribute for those ribald years of Satan Sanderson the price would be paid.

A step came in the corridor. A voice spoke his name. The summons had come.

Before the opening of the door the hum of voices in the courtroom sank to stillness itself. The jury had taken their places. Their looks were sober and downcast. The judge was in his seat, his hand combing his beard. Harry faced him calmly. The door of a side room was partly open, and a girl's white face looked in, but he did not see.

"Gentlemen of the jury, have you arrived at a verdict?"

"We have."

There was a confusion in the hall—abrupt voices and the sound of feet. The crowd stirred, and the judge frowningly lifted his gavel.

"What say you, guilty or not guilty?"

The foreman did not answer. He was leaning forward, looking over the heads of the crowd. The judge stood up. People turned, and the room was suddenly a-quiver with surprised movement. The crowd at the back of the room parted, and up the center aisle toward the judge's desk staggered a figure—a man whose face, ghastly and convulsed, was partly swathed in bandages. At the door of the judge's room a girl stood transfixed and staring.

PERSIA'S LONE RAILWAY.

Persia, like Turkey, is awakening from her sleep of centuries, and aspires to resume the position she once occupied in the affairs of the great world. She has a constitution and some other modern improvements, but she hasn't caught up with the times sufficient to provide herself with a real transportation system. Horses and donkeys still constitute the passenger and freight carrying resources of the empire which once dominated the East. Still Persia has one railroad. It is ten miles long, and runs from Teheran, the capital, to the shrine of a dead shah. The general manager of this road hasn't much trouble in figuring his ten-mile costs. Strikes do not disturb his slumbers. The finance committee doesn't bother itself with divided policies or bond issues, nor does it lie awake at nights wondering if rate-regulating bills are going to pass the Persian parliament.

Pain anywhere stopped in 20 minutes sure with one of Dr. Shoops Pink Pain Tablets. The formula is on the 25-cent box. Ask your doctor or druggist about this formula! Stops womanly pains, headache pains anywhere. Write Dr. Shoop, Racine, Wis., for free trial to prove value.

METERING THE COW.

That nobly necessary animal, the cow, is no longer to be allowed to have her own sweet whey about her milk production. A record book which is now being furnished by the Department of Agriculture at Ottawa makes it incumbent upon the cow either to furnish good milk and plenty of it, or quit. It is, in a word, a cow meter, and quite as useful to the farmer as the gas meter, the water meter, and the speed meter to the city man.

One of these books will keep the record of twenty cows for one year. It is designed to make unpopular the animal who insists upon eating her head off without giving a quid pro quo, or a sud pro quo, or words to that effect. It enables the farmer to keep track of the amount and quality of her milk, and what is quite as important, of the amount and quality of her feed, and the comparative cost of both. Without desiring in the least to hurt the bovine feelings of any well meaning animal, it may safely be said that certain voracious cows are going to be put to black by these meter-books.

"GIVE WHILE YOU LIVE."

Do it in your own lifetime. Such is the maxim followed by the St. Louis philanthropist who has just given his entire fortune of $3,000,000 —except for a small annuity of $3,000—for the furtherance of good works. This action is, of course, a pointed lesson to such wealthy willmakers as cling to the old familiar fashion of making their benefactions posthumous, with all the chances of family opposition and of faulty administration.

David J. Ranken wisely chooses to see his money doing good in his own lifetime, under the direction of trustees of his own choosing.

DISTANCES ON KAWARTHA LAKES.

Cut This Out and Keep It for Future Use.

Below is a useful list of distances on the Kawartha Lakes. Every motor boat enthusiast should cut it out and keep it for future use. The mileages are all authentic, having been accurately measured in the centre of the channel between the points named.

Wellington-st. bridge, Lindsay, to Upper Dock, Sturgeon Point, 9 miles Long cut, lighthouse to lighthouse, 6-10 miles.
Upper dock, Sturgeon Point, to the Government dock, Pleasant Point, 1 mile.
Lower dock, Sturgeon Point, to McConnell's Island, 2¼ miles.
Bobcaygeon to Fenelon Falls, 14¼ miles.
Fenelon Falls to Rosedale bridge, 4¼ miles.
Rosedale bridge to entrance canal, Balsam Lake, 5¼ miles
Bobcaygeon to Chemong, 10¼ miles
Bobcaygeon to Buckhorn, 10¼ miles
Buckhorn to Chemong, 13¼ miles.
Buckhorn to Burleigh, 7 miles.
Burleigh to Crow's Landing (direct) 8¼ miles. (via store 9 miles.)
Crowe's Landing to Young's Point, 12 miles.
Head of Stoney Lake to Young's Point, 12 miles.
Boschink to Young's Point 9 miles
Burleigh to Juniper Island, 3¼ miles.
Young's Point to Juniper Island, 6 miles.
Young's Point to east end Clear Lake, 4 miles.
Young's Point to Lakefield, 5 miles
Lakefield to Peterboro, 10 miles.
Peterboro to Rice Lake 21 miles.
Hastings to Trent Bridge, 6 miles.
Trent Bridge to Healey's Falls, 6¼ miles.

Lists like the above are useful in planning trips with points to stop for meals or camp at night. One can also calculate the probable time of the trip, and for those who are a little timid about starting out on exploits of such a kind, it will show that although the country may look wild and desolate they are not in reality very far from points in civilization.

THE NEW GOLDEN BUCKET
GOLDEN HARVEST from FIELD and STREAM

IT IS NOTEWORTHY that the PROVINCE OF SASKATCHEWAN has been generously favored by nature. From the days of the Hudson Bay Factors, until the Territory became a Province, the people have been progressive, self-reliant, courageous. Each epoch marked improvements, each obstacle only awakened fresh zeal. To-day the golden grain, covering thousands and thousands of acres, is about to be supplemented by the golden heritage so long resting in the sands and gravel beds of the famous river. The pittance yielded in past years, is about to resolve itself into vast potentialities—for the modern dredge, the recently discovered methods of treatment, the effort to save the gold formerly lost in treatment, should add immensely to the importance of the province as well as to the gold output of the Dominion.

In the argonaut days it kept a placer miner busy handling four cubic yards. One dredge of 1910 is doing, therefore, the work, 2000 miners on '49; and, as sixty dredges are to-day giving California's auriferous soil a shake down, their combined work foots up fully the output of an army of $150,000 pick and shovel miners. Similar conditions are rapidly developing in SASKATCHEWAN, Northern British Columbia and the Yukon country.

A Call From Oregon
Opportunities in the Far West

The greatest industrial activity in this country is now centered in Oregon. Two of the biggest railroad systems in the U. S., with intense rivalry, are pushing branch lines into the remote portions of this State, and an exodus from the East is on in the competition of the LAST FRONTIER ON THE CONTINENT. Fortunes will be made here THIS YEAR—NEXT YEAR and EVERY YEAR for the next decade.

Our valleys are the most fertile in the world and irrigation projects are converting the bordering hillsides into gardens. Orchards lands are leaping upward in price and the advance has only started. Water from mountain streams is the purest, timber the finest and climate the most perfect in Uncle Sam's domain. Power plants are springing up along the channels of silvery torrents to develop electrical energy for mines and mills and interurban railways. Fish abound in the rivers, game in the forests and health and joy in the atmosphere. There are no opulence here or pestiferous insects to endanger life, or make it a burden.

I want Eastern connections and help, financial and otherwise, to seize opportunities that surround this picturesque city of Baker. The returns will be out of all proportion to the help extended. The opportunities are along the lines of vegetable fruit, hay, grain, stock, timber, and mineral lands. There are fortunes in all these. Some mines in this vicinity have record outputs in gold, running into the millions. Yet the surface, overlying the mineral deposits of Baker County, has hardly been scratched.

On a ledge of free gold bearing quartz two miles in length I made a test of 100 tons of ore taken at a depth of only a hundred feet and got over $3000.00 out of it. The mint returns passed through the Citizen's National Bank here.

Among other things, I need money, right now, to begin the MANUFACTURE OF GOLD out of this immense ore body. The shares of the Amber Canyon Mines Company, which OWNS this property, and of which I am secretary have an intrinsic value of at least 50 cents a share based on a conservative valuation of the property and the amount of stock issued.

I will deliver on order, with draft attached, up to 50,000 shares of this stock at 25 cents a share, NET. The full amount of the purchase price will go back in dividends inside of 18 months. Take a block of this as a starter, and get in step with this Eldorado of the West. If there is anything else out here that I can do for you, or you can do for me,—WRITE ME.

Yours for business, and MONEY for both of us,

Sermon to the I.O.F.

The pastor of St. James church, preached an eloquent sermon, taking as his text, "Pure religion and undefiled, God and the Father, to visit the fatherless and the widows, and keep them unspotted from the world," to the members of Court Chemong, Independent Order of Foresters. The members met in the Sons of England Hall, and marched to the church, Bros. Metcalf and Brownlee being marshalls. Pastor J. G. Brown gave an inspiring address mainly confined to the benefits conferred by belonging to such orders.

In sickness, if a certain hidden nerve goes wrong, then the organ that this nerve controls will also surely fail. It may be a Stomach nerve, or it may have given strength and support to the Heart or Kidneys. It was Dr. Shoop that first pointed to this vital truth. Dr. Shoop's Restorative was not made to dose the Stomach nor to temporarily stimulate the Heart or Kidneys. That old-fashioned method is all wrong. Dr. Shoop's Restorative goes directly to these failing inside nerves. The remarkable success of this prescription demonstrates the wisdom of treating the actual cause of these failing organs. And it is indeed easy to prove. A simple five or ten days' test will surely tell. Try it once, and see! Sold by all dealers.

Henderson Must Pay Full Penalty for Crime

Word has been received from Ottawa that Mr. F. D. Kerr was not successful in obtaining a reprieve for Henderson.

The Cabinet refused to interfere with the sentence of the court and Henderson will have to pay the full penalty of the law with his life tomorrow morning.

County Warden Moher Delivered His Address

Yesterday afternoon the midsummer session of the Peterborough County Council opened at 2 o'clock when the warden, Mr. J. H. Moher, delivered his address. All the members of the council were present. After the reading of the address, a committee consisting of Councillors Breault, Porter, Howden and Garbutt, was appointed to consider the address and report back to the council.

WARDEN'S ADDRESS.

To the members of the County Council, 1910.

Gentlemen,—As is expected of your warden at this our regular June session, I beg to address you upon the matters of importance that have been taken by you, and those that will probably occupy your attention for the balance of the year.

Before doing so, I, with all British subjects, refer to the death of King Edward VII. as a loss keenly felt by the whole empire and repeat what has been said so many times that his reign has been one of also beg to refer to the material progress and peace, largely due to his qualifications as a monarch. I progress of our country and the bright progress of a bountiful harvest.

For some years the council of the county has been considering the advisability of installing an up-to-date system of heating for the county buildings and the 1910 council after careful deliberation have ordered the installing of a steam plant that is now under way.

As you are aware, it is agitated that counties assume bridges of a lesser length than heretofore, and the old bridges now under the jurisdiction of the county are in a great many cases inadequate to carrying the heavy machinery that is necessary to carry on the agricultural industry.

In referring to the order in council as to bridge work this season, I will not, if possible, interfere with the reports of the several commissioners that will be brought in at the fall session, but permit me to draw your attention to the Pigeon Creek bridge and I would suggest that that those councillors that have seen the bridge this summer bring the matter up in committee. The bridge is maintained by three municipalities, Peterborough County, 7 29th, Peterborough City, 7 20ths and Victoria County 6 20ths, so that you will see that if anything of a permanent character is undertaken I would advise that a joint committee from each municipality meet to determine what shall be done. Having had the privilege of driving through considerable of the county in response to the duties of warden, I must say that the system of road building carried on at present by the pathmasters under the statute improvement, is due to the interest labor system and by the commissioners where statute labor has been commuted, is very much superior to that carried on some years ago.

I am pleased to note as far as I can see that our rates for House of Providence will be lower than last year, and although our duties and business are increasing very little more money on the whole will be asked from the municipalities. Matters of finance will be dealt with by the chairman of the Finance Committee, whose painstaking efforts always result in satisfaction being given.

The debenture just issued for the various purposes cited in the bylaw will, I trust, be disposed of to the satisfaction of all.

The chairman of the County Property Committee, will, no doubt, lay before you all the steps that have been taken up to the present, so that all will be familiar with what is taking place now, supplementing it with a second report at the fall session.

Permit me to again thank you for the honor you have conferred upon me by placing me in the chair during 1910, and I heartily thank you one and all for your forbearance and able assistance since I took office, and ask you for a continuance of the same.

Wishing you and the county prosperity.

I remain yours,
F. J. MOHER.

It is likely that the present session will occupy every day of this week. Full reports of the proceedings may be read from day to day in the columns of The Times.

It may be a stomach nerve, or it may have given strength and support to the Heart or Kidneys. It was Dr. Shoop that first pointed to this vital truth. Shovel Works to Re-open.

It seems that a Peterborough concern cannot be "downed." Mr. D. J. Landy has just completed arrangements for the purchase of the Peterborough Shovel and Tool Co., that recently shut down. Not only is Mr. Landy going to reopen the factory in a few weeks, but will soon enlarge the building, and add the latest kind of machinery, tools, etc. The name of the reinstated factory will be changed to the "Landy Shovel Co. of Peterborough." This will be welcome news both to the former employes and to the citizens of Peterborough in general.

OVER SIX HUNDRED HOMES WIPED OUT.

By Big Fire in a Russian City—Business Structures and Tenements Levelled by the Flames.

St. Petersburg, June 20.— Ten persons are dead, fifty missing and fully two thousand others are homeless as the result of a conflagration which swept over Mohilev today, destroying more than six hundred buildings.

Business structures, residences and tenements were levelled by the flames, which defied all efforts to check them until they had burned a great path through the heart of the town.

Ten are known to have perished, and it is feared that the death list will be much larger. It was thought that the entire town was doomed, and the panic of the inhabitants made organized efforts to fight the flames impossible. They finally burned themselves out.

The city has a population of about forty-five thousand, almost half of whom are Jews. It was among the latter that most of the casualties occurred.

Halifax is Growing Old.

Halifax, N. S., June 22.—Halifax will keep a public holiday to-day in celebration of the 161st anniversary of the founding of the city. The programme included anniversary exercises, numerous concerts, baseball and cricket matches and other sporting and athletic contests.

Ross Went to Gallows with Smile on His Face

Ross Hangs at North Bay for the Murder of Parkinson of Toronto--Protests His Innocence

North Bay, Ont., June 21.—Walter Ross, found guilty of the murder of Percy Parkinson of Toronto, his prospector chum and partner, at Ramore, Temiskaming district, last December, died on the scaffold this morning at 7 o'clock, protesting his innocence of wilful murder to the last. He walked unassisted, and met his death with a smile on his face.

In a press interview shortly before the hanging Ross strongly asserted that the shooting was done in self-defence, while Parkinson was threatening his life with an axe, and had him cornered between the table and the stove, where he could not escape. He said that death had no terrors for him, and his only trouble was the thought that Canadian justice had not given him a square deal. Some of the evidence given against him he characterized as untrue and misleading.

Retiring about 11 o'clock last night, he slept soundly until called for breakfast at 5. He ate a hearty meal, and conversed with his spiritual adviser, Rev. C. E. Bishop, an Anglican rector here. At five minutes to seven the procession to the scaffold began, not more than six people being present. Ross walked firmly with head uplifted, and took his position without sign of emotion. The black cap was drawn down, the noose adjusted, and as the words "Deliver us from evil" were spoken by the clergyman the trap was sprung and Ross' soul was swung into eternity.

His neck was broken by the fall, but on account of his strong constitution the heart continued to beat for 14½ minutes. Hangman Ellis performed his duties quickly, and the execution passed off without a hitch.

The usual throng of morbid curiosity seekers were present outside of the jail, and several men were noticed perched at the top of telegraph poles commanding a view of the jail yard.

At the trial in North Bay in April a jury found Ross guilty of murder, believing the theory of the Crown, as convincingly set forth by George Tate Blackstock, that from the position where the bullet lodged in the wall Parkinson must have been sitting down when the shot was fired.

City will be Again Asked to Purchase Exhibition Grounds

The Present Agricultural Grounds the Only Suitable Ones in Sight for Exhibition Purposes

The Special Committee of the Board of Trade, appointed to report on available and suitable properties that might be acquired for permanent fair grounds, met a few members of the Agricultural Society last night. The scheme in hand is that the city purchase such grounds, the society to pay the interest on the investment and erect suitable buildings thereon, and construct a half-mile race track. It is also proposed that the grounds could be used for park purposes. Should this proposition materialize, the property would be held in trust by the city.

Mr. J. J. Turner reported that the committee had looked over the Hilliard farm, which they think out of the question. Also the two grounds to the south offered for sale, which also are considered to be altogether unsuitable for fair purposes. So far as he knew the committee seem to be unanimous that the present exhibition grounds are the only ones in sight that would answer the Agricultural Society's requirements. It would be a calamity should these grounds be lost to the society, whose lease of the same expires in two years. Should the society give up these premises everything standing thereon will revert to the owner, which would cost considerable to replace. Although 'tis true some of the buildings are in poor shape, the stables count for quite a figure, the fence would cost $350 to replace, while the half-mile track is in good condition. He hoped the city would not neglect to seize this opportunity of purchasing the present grounds.

Mr. Collins was very much of Mr. Turner's opinion. The present grounds are unquestionably more suitable for exhibition purposes than any other available. The second best property in sight, he offered, were the two Morgan lots, with the next lot adjoining. These three lots would cost $10,000.

Mr. George E. Elliott spoke strongly in favor of the present exhibition grounds, which he urged would be the best in Ontario, outside the big cities, when properly fitted up. But $10,000 is the price asked for this property, and it would cost another $5,000 to improve the buildings and grand stand. He was very pessimistic on the question of the city's consenting to invest the $10,000 required to secure this property.

Mr. Collins pointed out that all the Agricultural Society asks is that the city purchase the grounds and retain such in trust for the people. The society to use the property for fair purposes, and erect new buildings thereon. These grounds could also be used by the general public as a park. The late bylaw, providing for this scheme was lost, on account of it being submitted to the ratepayers with three others, and citizens were not advised that it was intended that these grounds should be used also for park purposes. He thought the western 20 acres would be sufficient, but unfortunately the owner insists on the whole 30 acres being purchased or none at all.

On motion of Mr. Collins the committee will arrange for a joint meeting with the City Council, the Board of Trade, and the Agricultural Society with a view to arriving at some definite decision on this question.

DOCTORS CONDEMN OILY LINIMENTS.

The Public are Warned to Be Careful of Those Strong-Smelling Oily Liniments, Containing Harmful Acids, Ammonia, Etc.

Many people have clung to the old-fashioned idea that a thick, greasy liniment is the best kind. Doctors say not—and they know.

Recently a number of these white, oily liniments were analyzed, and they were found to contain an enormously high percentage of harmful acids, and such irritating chemicals as ammonia, etc. For the moment they may cause a warm sensation when first applied, but their continued use never cures rheumatism, and only deteriorates the skin, sets up inflammation and causes endless trouble.

When a doctor warns you to quit using a white, oily liniment—do so. He knows that a thick liniment can not penetrate, cannot sink through the pores and reach the seat of the pain.

When asked his opinion a few days ago, Dr. Roberts stated that he considered a strong, penetrating, pain-subduing liniment, such as Nerviline, to be superior to any of the white ammonia liniments. In his twenty-five years of practice he had witnessed cases of rheumatism, sciatica and lumbago that simply would not respond to ordinary treatment— but Nerviline cured them. The same physician also spoke of the great advantages of keeping a preparation like Nerviline in the house always, because of cramps, diarrhoea, stomach disorders, earache, toothache, headache and such minor ailments. Nerviline is a first-class cure. There is scarcely an ache or a pain, internal or external, that Nerviline won't cure. In thousands of homes no other pain-relieving medicine is used. Fifty years' continued success and the endorsement of the profession are proof that Nerviline is the liniment for the home.

Any good druggist or dealer can supply the large 25c. bottles of Nerviline.

MIGRATION WITHIN EMPIRE.

A Problem Bound Up With All Other Problems.

Possibly there is at the present moment no Imperial question more momentous than that of migration within the Empire. It is a problem, which is bound up with all the other problems, the solution of which is so vital to us, since it embraces Empire unity, trade and defence. Details are now to hand of the first British Emigration Conference, which was convened during the last two days of May under the auspices of the Royal Colonial Institute. The meeting dwelt chiefly on the necessity for diverting the stream of emmigration to the Overseas Dominion, it being pointed out that last year more than 110,000 British emigrants had gone to the United States as compared with eighty-six thousand to Canada and some fifty thousand to Australasia and the Cape conjointly. The most practical results of this conference are the appointment of a standing committee of the Royal Colonial Institute to deal with the interests of such migration and the decision of the Conference to urge upon the Imperial Government the desirability of convening a Subsidiary Conference as in the case of last year's Imperial Conference for the sake of carrying on the work. There seems no reason why the British Government should not have a Ministerial Department of Migration any less than a Ministerial Department of Agriculture. Such a department might do much by co-operating with the Dominions and studying their needs. The various societies are doing good work, but it is only of a partial and unofficial nature, and the dominions, possibly because of their dislike for any taint of pauperism, are somewhat harsh towards the charitably assisted emigrant. More encouragement might be given perhaps in the case of Poor Law children, and others, who are young enough to be adaptable

From the Dragoons in Camp at Petewawa

Yesterday The Times received a few lines from its special correspondent who accompanied the 3rd Dragoons to Petewawa. The lines as received read:

Third Dragoons arrived at Petewawa after their long journey from Peterborough, after an uneventful journey. The C.P.R. certainly did all in their power to get the men and horses through in quick style. The troops did not unload from the cars until daybreak and then marched to the camp grounds. The government has made very complete arrangements for the comfort and manouvers of the troops at Petewawa. All the boys speak in highest terms of the arrangements made by the Department of Militia.

Mike Tooley, former owner of the Queen's Hotel, who accompanied the 3rd Dragoons as "Poobah" of their commissariat department, was every where in evidence during the journey and possibly saved at least one life. He encouraged the soldier boys by his genuine Irish wit and is now keeping their physique up to standard by a well furnished commissariat.

The troops here under canvas are 3rd Prince of Wales Dragoons, Peterborough; 4th Hussars, Kingston district; Princess Louise Dragoon Guards, Ottawa; Four field batteries and the Royal Engineers from Toronto.

...General French is expected here on Saturday. You can tell the Peterborough folks that the 3rd Dragoons are looking well, acting well, and will be spoken of well on their return home.

Had a Delightful Outing Yesterday

The medical men of the city entertained the members of the legal profession and their friends to a trip to Rice Lake yesterday afternoon. There were about 60 on board as the trim little steamer Monarch pulled out from the Street Railway wharf at 1.30 p.m. The party reached Gore's Landing shortly after four o'clock where a game of baseball was played between the members of the two professions, resulting in a victory for the lawyers by a score of 6—12. This is said to be the first victory for the legal fraternity in nine years.

After a splendid dinner at the Rice Lake House, the party embarked for home shortly after 7, reaching the city about 10 o'clock, all delighted with the outing.

Fine and warm.

Temperature of 105 is Reported in Manitoba

Winnipeg, June 21.—No relief was furnished this sweltering city last night by thunder storms, which seemed imminent. The thermometer did not fall below 77, and with sunrise started steadily climbing again, with prospects this afternoon of passing the hundred mark.

Temperatures of over a hundred were recorded yesterday in many Manitoba points, 105 being the top notch.

No rain has fallen in this Province while the strong parching south wind prevalent must inevitably have damaged the crop on lighter lands. In some of the larger offices in the city conditions are so insupportable that they will close down this afternoon.

Radcliffe Still Hangman

Ottawa, June 21.—At the Department of Justice they say Radcliffe, the hangman, has not been replaced.

They pay him a salary as a retainer, but a sheriff can engage whoever he pleases to do the hanging, or can do it himself. Radcliffe is still on the pay list.

Over 5,000 People Hear Borden at Trenton

Trenton, Ont., June 21.—Mr. R.L. Borden arrived in Trenton at noon The greatest reception he has yet had was given him. The prosperous country, fat with good things, figuratively speaking, came up to the depot at Trenton Junction, and held out its big, broad fist to Mr. Borden.

Judge Doherty was not with Mr. Borden today, owing to the fact that he is going to England this week and had to return to Montreal to prepare for the journey.

A large number of automobiles and carriages, lavishly trimmed with flags and bunting and sheaves o' daisies, drove from the depot to the hotel. The streets were hung with flags and banners, and a band in front of the hotel made a "joyful noise."

Sir Mackenzie Bowell was one of the first to greet the leader of the Conservative party. He had come over from Belleville to attend the picnic. He will probably speak this afternoon. Mr. C. J. Mackenzie Bowell, his son, and the proprietor of the Belleville Intelligencer, was with him. In the absence of Dr. Edward Kidd, the chairman of the Conservative Association, Mr. C. W. Saylor, acting mayor of Trenton, welcomed Mr. Borden.

A large delegation from Cobourg here, and will go to make the present meeting probably the largest so far held.

After luncheon, the leader was driven at the head of a procession to Victoria Park. Mr. Borden's topic this afternoon is "Immigration," He is dealing with what is, in his opinion, the fault of our present policy, and what have been the mistakes in this regard made by the Laurier Administration.

Hon. Mr. S. B. Lucas, the youngest cabinet minister in Ontario, is to second Mr. Borden's speech. He will deal with general political matters.

Begged for Mercy as Flames Leapt Higher

Rusk, Texas, June 21.—Leonard Johnson, a negro, accused of killing Miss Maud Redding, was burned at the stake last night by a mob near Lone Star, where the young woman lived.

Sheriff Norwood was taking the negro to jail when he was overpowered by a mob. The negro was dragged to the neighborhood of the young woman's home. There, members of the mob say, he confessed his crime and begged for his life. But his pleadings were in vain.

A huge pile of brush was erected about him. This was set on fire until the negro's body was in ashes. For some time after the fire was started the negro was able to ask for mercy, but finally the heat overcame him.

Catholics Make Loud Protests

Madrid, June 21.—The Central Catholic Association has sent to Premier Canalejas a voluminous protest against the recent decree authorizing the edifices of non-Catholic religious societies to display the insignia for public worship, and against other anti-clerical measures, including those regulating the religious orders.

The protest sets forth the declaration that the extension of the Public school system is contrary to the religion of the State, and the aspirations of the immense majority of the Spanish people.

It points out that the number of religious orders in Spain is less than in Belgium, England and Germany, and dwells especially upon the liberty which religious orders enjoy in America.

GRAIN BURNING UP.

Portage La Prairie, Man., June 21.—The district around Portage was visited by a heavy wind storm last evening, doing considerable damage, blowing tops off barns, etc. The thermometer registered 100 in the shade yesterday, and is as warm today. No rain fell last evening, but it is badly needed, as the grain is just being totally burned out.

NINETEEN KILLED.

Paris, June 21.—Nineteen persons were killed outright and eighty injured in a railway collision which occurred twelve miles from Versailles. Ten cars were overturned and these caught fire.

Some of the passengers leaped from the carriages in flames.

The officials seem to have lost their heads for fifteen minutes and made no effort to rescue. Later on one had presence of mind enough to telephone to Versailles for assistance.

Two battalions of infantry were sent immediately. Firemen were also sent.

When they arrived they found that no water was available and they were powerless to give any assistance and the fire burned unchecked amid the terrifying screams of the dying.

IMPROVED POSTAL SERVICE.

Mr. Lemieux, the Dominion Postmaster-General, can be assured of public approval of his efforts to improve the mail service between Canada and the United Kingdom. The arrangement for three mails weekly would be a considerable improvement on the present service if the sailings could be arranged so as to have the despatch of the mails fall on different days. If this could be arranged there would be a mail every other week-day, and the delay caused at present by there being no departure for several days would be avoided. Such an arrangement would in practice frequently save five or six days in the time occupied in the despatch of a letter from Canada to the United Kingdom and the receipt here of the reply. This would be a great advantage to merchants and others, and would tend to an increase in the business between Canada and Great Britain. With the Canadian Pacific and the Allan line carrying the mails jointly by their vessels and the White Star-Dominion and Canadian Northern steamers, the facilities for the improvement of the Canadian mail service across the Atlantic are much better than they have ever been in the past. Mr. Lemieux has undoubtedly done a good deal to improve the services which his department can render to the country, and it is a branch of the administration that comes more into touch with the public than any other in the Federal Government.

WHAT WILL HE DO?

Now that Col. Roosevelt, after one of the most remarkable trips which have been made by a public man in recent years, is back among his people, speculation becomes active as to what effect his return will have on the political situation of the Republic. Although no longer wearing the robes of office, he received as a private citizen almost the same cordial reception wherever he went throughout Europe as though he were President. Kings and queens, princes of the royal blood and notabilities of all nations tendered to him exceptional deference and honor.

So triumphant was his tour in fact that the people of his own land have learned to regard him with more admiration and envy perhaps than they did when he was their chief executive, and his name is being frequently mentioned for the leadership of the Republican party. The power and security of Taft are much questioned in several quarters. Roosevelt would make a good man for another term to succeed him, it is held, but it is doubtful if any of these suggestions and surmises have foundation in fact. The former President has had his terms of office, he has added to them a trip which has kept his name constantly before Europe and America, and no doubt she will prefer private life to any further activity in politics.

His homecoming, nevertheless, caused a ripple in political waters. He is a strong man and his course will be watched with keen interest.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured.

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to tutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and the tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflammed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

ROOSEVELT'S RETURN.

Roosevelt is one who can afford to make a mistake or two without losing his hold on the popular heart. The welcome extended to him on his return from the old world shows that he is still the popular hero of the United States.

And this is a tribute to sheer honesty and force of character. His tactless speech on Egyptian affairs was not the result of a desire for self-advertisement. He had formed a conviction and he was bound to express it, though in doing so he broke all the conventions in Christendom.

Whether he becomes a candidate for the White House or the Senate or remains a simple citizen of the United States he must be reckoned with as an elemental force. His leadership of a movement for the conservation of national resources would mean that conservation would be no pastime for gentlemen of leisure and lovers of nature, but a deadly attack on the plunders of the public domain. If he collects himself on the side of the tariff reformers, he will advocate a kind of reform that will be something more than a rearrangement of percentages.

Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets assist nature in driving all impurities out of the system, insuring a free and regular condition and restoring the organs of the body to health and strength. Sold by all dealers.

$400 YEARLY FROM A $40 INVESTMENT

Borders on the Incredible, It is a Fact, However.

I have under control 10,000 acres of the richest bottom land in the State of Georgia. This land costs the Syndicate $12.50 per acre, with the timber on it. The timber can be sold for $7.50 per acre. I want to put 1,000 acres of this land into Cotton cultivation which will net with cotton at 10 cents a pound, $96,000 from the first crop. Cotton is now selling at 15 cents per pound. At this price the land would produce $105,000. It will take $40,000 to put this first 1,000 acres under cultivation. I want 800 people, more or less, to take one or more shares of a Syndicate at $40 per share, $10 down and $10 in three monthly payments. About 100 shares have been taken up in the last ten days.

The balance of the land—9,000 acres—can be put into cultivation from the receipts from the cotton crop grown on the first 1,000 acres, and besides doing this it will earn a dividend of not less than ten to twenty per cent. each year.

At the end of the fourth year the entire tract will be earning not less than $400,000 net annually. The 1,000 Syndicate shares will absolutely own the whole 10,000 acres.

SOLID COMMERCIAL FACTS ABOUT COTTON

Seven States in the Union produce 85 per cent. of the world's supply of cotton. The crop of 1909 brought $600,000,000 to planters.

If the United States were to stop the exportation of cotton for two seasons it would pauperize Europe.

There is no substitute for cotton, and cotton fabrics are the most essential commodities in the world's markets.

Food and clothing constitute the absolute necessities of life. There are a thousand food bearing plants that will grow anywhere, but 90 per cent. of the world's clothing is cotton that will grow ONLY IN SEVEN STATES.

The cotton land is the safest investment in the world to-day, and Georgia Bottoms is the safest of all, for it has 300 to 400 per cent. potential value.

A warehouse receipt for a bale of cotton is worth its face value in any bank in the South.

Any cotton investment is bound to be good. The Georgia Bottom Lands is the soundest and most attractive ever presented.

Why? Because this bottom land will produce THREE BALES AT THE COST OF ONE.

If the world's industrial progress is as great in the next fifteen years as it has been in the last fifteen, Cotton must either be double in VOLUME OR QUADRUPLE IN PRICE.

COTTON--FEBRUARY TO OCTOBER.

Here is just one more big significant world interest stories of the work of the twentieth century farmer who is getting results by brain power in new ways, rather than by plodding blind-luck-old-ways and old methods. You know it if you have been watching agricultural progress.

A FINAL WORD

Those who join this Syndicate WILL OWN ABSOLUTELY THE WHOLE ENTERPRISE. The balance of the land can be handled from the profits or stock enough sold to take it up. I believe sincerely from my investigation that at the end of five years every $40.00 invested by a syndicate member will yield $400.00 annually. This looks like an impossibility, but the facts more than justify the belief. The first payment on the syndicate shares will be $10.00 cash with the subscription, and the balance in three equal payments, 30, 60 and 90 days.

There will be no other syndicate and this will be closed on or before June 30.

In the above I have presented facts only—it is an enterprise of unusual merit. It is a big and sound money earner from its inception. If the Syndicate is oversubscribed, I reserve the right to allot pro rata.

Should you desire further information, address me frankly and openly. The ONLY WAY TO CREATE CONFIDENCE IS TO BE WORTHY OF IT.

I have the highest testimonials as to character, business and executive ability. Write for full report, free.

The crowd gasped. They saw the familiar profile, a replica of the prisoner's; the mark that slanted across the brow, the eyes preternaturally bright and fevered.

A pale faced, breathless man in clerical dress pushed forward through the press as the figure stopped—thrust out his hands blindly

"Not—guilty, your honour!" he said.

A cry came from the prisoner at the bar. He leaped toward him as he fell and caught him in his arms.

The group in the judge's room was hushed in awestruck silence. The door was shut, but through the panels, from the courtroom, came the murmur of many wondering voices. By the sofa on which lay the man who had made expiation stood the bishop and Harry Sanderson. Jasmin knelt beside it, and the judge and those who stood near him in the background knew that the curtain was falling upon a strange and tangled drama of hatred love and death.

"Not—guilty, your honour!" he said.

After the one long, sobbing cry of realization, throughout the confounded and confused judges had been strangely still. And amid the awful curiosity in Dr. Brent's face, and also felt a painful thankfulness. She first agonized would not be to Satan's judgment, but to God's mercy! THE NEW GOLDEN BUCKET

IT IS NOTEWORTHY that the PROVINCE OF SASKATCHEWAN has been generously favored by nature. From the days of the Hudson Bay Factors, until the Territory became a Province, the people have been progressive, self-reliant, courageous. Each epoch marked improvements, each obstacle only awakened fresh zeal. To-day the golden grain, covering thousands and thousands of acres, is about to be supplemented by the golden heritage so long resting in the sands and gravel beds of the

In the early days it kept a placer miner busy handling four cubic yards. One dredge of 1910 is doing, therefore, the work of 2000 miners of '49; and, as sixty dredges are to-day giving California's auriferous soil a shake down, their combined work foots up fully the output of an army of $150,000 pick and shovel miners. Similar conditions are rapidly developing in SASKATCHEWAN, Northern British Columbia and the Yukon country.

famous river. The pittance yielded in past years, is about to resolve itself into vast potentialities—for the modern dredge, the recently discovered methods of treatment, the effort to save the gold formerly lost in treatment, should add immensely to the importance of the province as well as to the gold output of the Dominion.

FRESH BUNS FOR JURORS.

Jurors in Kansas City Enjoy Novel Experiment.

Jurors in a trial at Kansas City have been enjoying a novel experiment. The trial relates to the use of bleached flour. In order to test its quality Miss Hannah L. Wessling of the Government Food Laboratory, Chicago, baked some buns for the jurors.

The biscuits were made from the flour seized by the government. Those subjected to the Griess reagent test turned pink, while buscuits made from unbleached flour, subjected to the same test, retained their normal color. Miss Wessling said the pink color indicated the presence of nitrates.

The report leaves us in doubt whether the jurors were asked to eat the buns of normal color, and the buns which either from nitrates or susceptibility to female charms, blushed. In any case the incident was a refreshing episode in the dreary life of a juryman. Hitherto the best he could hope for was to try a breach of promise case, and live over again the days when he wrote tender epistles in a language different from that of business. But the judical investigation of breakfast foods, canned chicken, caviare, and green peas, opens up new and alluring prospects with just that spice of danger which commends it to adventurous spirits. The fair graduate of a school of domestic science will also be a pleasing figure in the court room.

THE BOY AND THE COW.

There is no reason why every Ontario farmer should not possess a thoroughly profitable herd of milch cows. Mr. C. F. Whitley, of the Dominion Department of Agriculture, has prepared a simple herd record book, copies of which may be had free on application. With its assistance an accurate account may be kept of each animal's individual performance in the consumption of food and in the production of butter-fat in its milk. Since commencing to keep such records many farmers have doubled the outputs of their dairies. Any cow may vary considerably in the quantity and quality of its milk. What the intelligent dairyman seeks is an animal that maintains a general high average. The new scientific treatment of the herd tends to interest farmers' sons and to keep them on the land. This interest has sometimes been increased by inaugurating milk producing contests between different sections of the herd in the hands of different members of the family. Intelligent bevelopments of this character are well calculated to increase the agricultural production throughout the Province, and thus, eventually to check or moderate the long rise in the cost of living to urban residents.

GOLD EXTRACTION ON THE SASKATCHEWAN RIVER

Days of "Grizzly" and "Rocker" Now Over—Succeeded by Modern Steam Dredge.

The evolution of gold extraction from the river bed and bars of the Saskatchewan would form a volume of interesting details. On the hilly shore of the North Saskatchewan, drive from Duke Lake, the famous battle ground of 1885, on the south to Prince Albert tourists may view an old, curiously constructed, ramshackle, abandoned steamboat, which somewhat resembles a sternwheel passenger craft, and is yet rigged with an apparatus evidently intended for dredging. This is a disused gold dredge, which represents some $10,000 or $12,000 invested, mostly by Englishmen, in enabling an English engineer to develop his ideas as to what a gold dredger should be. Perhaps, if he had been furnished with wheels, pulleys, chains, stanchions and other mechanical parts of good steel; it might have worked to this day. But the parts were made in England, possibly by some one used to contracting for the war office. They gave out at all critical junctures with wondrous rapidity, and the dredger practically went to bits, as has been said, almost after the manner of Dr. Holmes' "one-hoss shay." Yet it produced in the open season of the year, gold that sold at the mint for $6100, from 16,000 cubic yards of gravel dredged from the bars of the North Saskatchewan; this means 45 cents of gold per cubic yard. The tailings are said to have contained enough to be worth reworking.

Now, extensive gold-dredging operations are carried on along the the Feather River of California, in gravel or sand, which yields less than 20 per cents per cubic yard. Boston men and money are engaged on Feather River. Many have since turned their attention to the Saskatchewan.

At present the North Saskatchewan at many points along the mean ton is being exploited by miners(dering for 500 miles below Edmonton, is being exploited by miners using a very crude apparatus locally called the "grizzly," which term is more properly applied to one part of the collection of chief contrivances.

The grizzly, whence the evolution of the gold dredge is a very simple device. Any ordinary man could construct one, at a cost of $5 or $10, according to his ability. Men earned and now earn from $2 to $4 per day along the Saskatchewan by this process. On some bars they run as high as $8 and $10. During the open season scores may be seen recovering fine gold; the work is remunerative and attractive, but now that modern invention has produced a dredge and buckets operated by water power and electricity, doing the work of 1500 or 2000 men each day, the days of the "grizzly" and "rocker" appear to be numbered—so far as being considered distinctive machines for gold recovery.

A steam dredger is essentially a "grizzly" apparatus on a great scale. The machinery lifts gravel from the river bed or bar, dumps it aboard the boat, washes it over successive screens, and ultimately leaves the gold adhering to blanket cloth, from which work it is washed in receptacles containing mercury, so that amalgam is formed. A contributing to the formation of a steam "grizzly" and all other plant first-class modern gold-dredging apparatus, cost from $60,000 to $125,000—or more, according to capacity.

Hall Grey's Medal Presented.

An interesting feature of the closing entertainment for the season, at Peterborough's Conservatory of Music last night was the presentation to Miss Julia Choate of the governor-general's medal. The attendance was large considering the intense heat and the presentation indeed great interest. The proceeds of the evening's entertainment were devoted to the building fund of All Saints' church. Mr. R. Gliddon is to be highly complimented on the great efficiency that characterizes the local Conservatory which has done much to raise the standard of music in this vicinity. Mr. Gliddon has, to use a slang expression, "Won out," and made a name for this institution that rings throughout the Provinces of Ontario.

Cars Make Awful Plunge with Crowd of Pleasure Seekers

Victims Crushed Under Overturned Cars---Lights were Turned Out in Excitement That Followed

New York, June 22.—Carrying merrymakers at a speed of seventy miles an hour two cars on the switchback railway known as the Rough Riders ride at Coney Island, jumped the track early today. Six teen persons were hurled to the ground from a height of sixty feet, and six of the victims are dying at the Coney Island Hospital. The fatally injured.

Minnie Cobalt, Brooklyn, N.Y.
Tessie Ericson, Brooklyn, N.Y.
Rose Wilson, Brooklyn, N.Y.
Manuel de Celo, Brooklyn, N.Y.
Harry Fletcher, Los Angeles, Cal.

All of the others of the sixteen were seriously injured.

ROUGH RIDERS' RIDE.

The Rough Riders' Ride has seven inclines running from the Bowery to the Beach. The highest of these is sixty feet and it was from this that the victims were hurled.

Owing to the intense heat a large number of persons spent the night on the sands of Coney Island. So at the time of the accident there was a large crowd at the resort. Two cars coupled together, each containing eight laughing persons, started from the first incline. They were in charge of Cyrus Pinto of Coney Island. After leaving the first incline and making a swift descent the cars shot up again to the top of the sixty foot incline and began to rush down it. At this point Pinto lost control of the brakes and could not check the speed. On the first turn the cars swung partly around the curve when the first car jumped the track and pulled the second with it.

Three-Year-Old Son of Wealthy Italian Physician Kidnapped

New York, June 22.—One of the most energetic hunts for a lost child ever set under way by the New York police was on today for three-year-old Michael Scinoca, son of a wealthy Italian physician, who was boldly kidnapped late yesterday afternoon almost under the very eyes of his parents by Blackhanders, who for three years have been threatening to steal the child unless money was paid to them.

SON WOULD BE STOLEN.

Dr. Marisno, Scinoca, the father, one of the best known Italian physicians in the United States, has been the subject of Blackhand attentions since far back in the late Lieut. Petrosinos' time. When his boy was four months' old, and the physician, who had foregone a lucrative practise in the fashionable district to work among his own countrymen, was prospering in a modest way in the Italian quarter, envy of his accumulations prompted demands on him by blackmailing bands Letter after letter was sent him accompanied by blood-thirsty threats and declarations that his son would be stolen if he did not pay the blackmailers $1,000. He put the case in the hands of the late Lieut. Petrisino, and the activity of the noted detective soon caused the letters to cease.

GOT BUSY AGAIN.

Soon after Petrosino was assassinated in Sicily the Blackhanders got busy again. Letters have come with increasing frequency lately and yesterday the threats were made good by the kidnapping of little Michael. Bait in the form of candy is believed to have lured the child far enough to permit the kidnappers to carry him off.

Rained Saved Wheat Crops in the West

Winnipeg, June 22.—After the most prolonged and intense hot spell in the history of the Red River valley, heavy thunder showers last night gave wholesome relief and in most of the districts suffering from heat and drought reports show that half to three-quarters of an inch of rain fell. Probably another twenty-four hours of scorching conditions without rain would have destroyed the spring wheat crop over very wide areas of central and southern Manitoba. A general feeling of optimism is to be noted today around the grain exchange where yesterday the crop was almost despaired of.

Undoubtedly the percentage value of spring wheat and oats has suffered considerably in the districts affected. But these, after all, are probably but a quarter to a sixth of the entire spring wheat country, as Western Manitoba and Saskatchewan and Alberta have not been affected by the extreme heat of this section.

Reports from North Dakota continue very pessimistic. It will be some days before the extent of the damage in this section is ascertained.

Officers Threaten Steerage Passengers with Revolvers but Human Mass Swept Past and Spilled Over Into Boats which were Overturned

St. Petersburg, June 22.—There was a wild panic on board the steamer Russi at Jenota-evsk today when the tubes of a boiler were blown out, and many steerage passengers were drowned.

As the sound of the explosion echoed through the ship the officers ran about calming the passengers.

They were able to reassure those in the first and second cabins. But they could do nothing with the steerage passengers.

In spite of the efforts of the officers, and the fact that a number of them drew their revolvers and shouted that they would kill the first man who tried to get to the boats, there was a frenzied rush.

The steerage passengers were like wild animals in their fear, and dashed past the officers and their revolvers. They piled into a number of the boats, and when these had been filled to overflowing some of the passengers let go the falls. No effort was made by the frenzied steerage passengers to lower the boats in any sort of order.

BOATS WERE UPSET.

The result was that the boats were either upset as they struck the water, or filled instantly at the end of their drop.

Many of those in them could not swim, and in spite of the efforts at rescue by the crew, these speedily sank from view.

TO HANG TOMORROW.

Georgia Murder to Pay Penalty With Life.

Savannah, Ga., June 23.—Unless saved by legal formalities, J. C. Hunter will die on the gallows in the Chatham county jail to-morrow for the murder of his wife, Mrs. Maggie Hunter, and aged Mrs. Eliza Gribble and her daughter, Mrs. Carrie Ohlander.

The murders were committed in the Hunter home in the heart of the city last December and were among the most brutal in the criminal annals of Savannah. It was at first suspected that the crimes had been committed by a negro and for a time there were fears of a bloody race riot. Within afew hours after the discovery of the triple murder the police raided the negro districts of the city and more than 150 negros were taken into custody on suspicion. Within a few days, however, the charge was fastened upon Hunter, the husband of one of the victims. Evidence was brought to light taht he had quarreled with his wife and had separated from her on account of her alleged unfaithfulness. This, it is believed, furnished the motive for the crimes.

On the afternoon of December 10, the attention of a passing patrolman was attracted to the house by hearing moans from within. A ghastly spectacle met the Officer's eyes when he forced an entrance to the house. Sprawled hideously about the hall and rooms of their home, Mrs. Eliza Gribble, aged 70 years, and her daughter, Mrs. Ohlander, were found dead, while nearby lay Mrs. Hunter, dying, with her skull beaten in. A bloody axe on the floor showed how the women had come to their deaths.

The murders were most brutal. Mrs. Gribble was killed as she sat in her easy chair reading. Her grey hair was blood-clotted where the axe crushed her skull. Beside her body on the floor were her newspaper and her spectacles. One blow, or two at the most sufficed to end her life. Mrs. Ohlander had been killed evidently while she was attempting to defend her mother, and Mrs. Hunter, whose body was found near the door, had probably been struck down as she attempted to escape from the house.

THE WEATHER.

Fine, and very warm.

Persons Sleep on Fire Escapes and Are Killed by Falling

New York, June 21.—New York sweltered again as the prevailing wave of tropical heat which prostrated scores of persons and caused five deaths yesterday showed signs of increasing energy.

MANY HEAT PROSTRATIONS.

Heat prostrations began to be reported early and accidents due to the oppressive atmospheric conditions found place in police and hospital records. A fatal accident was that which befell John McCorken, a student of the College of Physicians and Surgeons, who to avoid the cape of his home on West 92nd St., beat went to sleep on the fire escape early this morning, rolled through the opening, fell three stories to the areaway and was instantly killed.

DROPPED FOUR STORIES.

James Gaffney lay down near the the airshaft on the roof of an East side house, and fell four stories to the bottom. He will probably die.

Katherine Kenlen, eight years old, fell from the second floor fire escape where her parents had put her to sleep, and was badly injured.

No Public Tenders For War Vessels

Ottawa, June 21.—It is announced at the Department of Naval Affairs, that when tenders are called for the ships of the Canadian navy, it will not be publicly. Firms, British and Canadian, who may desire to put in proposals have been asked to so advise the department, and they will be notified when the plans and specifications are available. Following the policy of the admiralty the designs of war ships are to be kept secret and are not open to the public.

It is understood that negotiations are now being carried on with the view of having the admiralty consent to copies of the plans being sent out here so that Canadian firms may examine them with facility. The application is in the hands of Lord Strathcona.

For the construction of the ships it is intended to ask for propositions all at once, certain British firms having intimated that it would not be worth while g'o tender on a few of them, particularly if branch plants have to be located for that purpose in Canada.

It is learned that United States builders having been making inquiries, but that they have been advised that the competition will be limited to British and Canadian firms only.

ADVERTISE IN THE TIMES.

Pretty Olive Pert Lost in Toronto

"Please, sir, can you tell me where I can find my father and mother?"

These words were spoken to a News reporter at the Union Station this morning. They were uttered by a small but remarkably pretty little girl about ten years of age. She had just alighted from the Grand Trunk train from the east.

"I have never been in Toronto before, and I have no money," she further continued, trying to conceal her tears. "You know we are from Peterborough. I had my ticket; mother bought me that, but I am not sure of my street address. My name? It is Olive Pert.

Here Olive stopped for a moment to take another look around the station for parents. She was plainly attired, but neatly. In one hand she held a small paper bag, containing the remnants of a light lunch she had on the train, while the other tightly grasped a large basket containing three geranium plants.

She said her father's name was George Pert, and that he was a painter. They had lived in Peterborough, for six years, where they had come from England. He had found painting was unprofitable in Peterborough and decided to come to Toronto. This he did a month ago, and last week sent for his wife and family, of which Olive is the eldest.

"Mother came up with my brothers and sisters yesterday," said the little girl in a choked voice. "She gave me the address, but I cannot exactly remember it. She went away in a hurry and forgot to leave me any money. I would have gone with her, but the cartage company did not call for our eight trunks, so I had to stay over with a neighbor. After she had left I suddenly thought I did not have any money, so I went to a lady who owes mother some money, and I made her give me seventy-five cents to pay the cartage. She owes more but that was all I could get."

In the meantime Mrs. Adams, the station representative of the W.C.T.U. arrived, and the little girl was handed over to her to take care of until her home was found. As the little one walked away her chief trouble seemed to be that she would not be able to get home before her mother would be worried over her non-arrival.

COUNTY DEBENTURES.

Aemilius Jarvis Buys the Debt of Peterborough for $16,851.25. Excursion From Rice Lake.

At the regular session of the County Council the tenders for debentures were opened as follows: Aemilius Jarvis, $16,851.25; C. H. Burgess & Co., $16,847; Brent-Noxon So., $16,753. On motion of Messrs. Russell and Howden, the tender of Aemilius Jarvis was accepted.

School Inspector Lees read a report, showing amounts of regular government grants to the different school sections of the county.

A communication from Lakefield was read, referring to the appointment of an additional examiner re entrance school examinations. Mr. Lees being present, stated that it would not be advisable to take any action.

Mr. Tanner, reeve of Lakefield, urged upon the council the advisability of having an examiner holding a position such as principal of a school where a continuation class is being maintained, setting out the fact that the examiners at present were chiefly high school teachers.

On motion of Messrs. Breault and Howden, the matter was referred to the Committee on Schools.

Yesterday morning the council met and on motion the report of the committee to deal with the warden's address was read and adopted.

The several communications were read and referred to their respective committees.

DINNER SET HAS ARRIVED.

Someone will get that dinner set. The printers have been besieged with enquiries relating to the drawing competitions that are held annually in connection with the big day's outing of the printers. The Examiner Printing Company have donated another beautiful dinner set. Any adult going with the printers to Cobourg on Saturday afternoon has a chance to secure this grand prize. Other handsome and valuable prizes have been donated by the proprietors of the other printing offices.

DOCTORS CONDEMN OILY LINIMENTS.

The Public are Warned to Be Careful of These Strong-Smelling Oily Liniments, Containing Harmful Acids, Ammonia, Etc.

Many people have clung to the old-fashioned idea that a thick, greasy liniment is the best kind. Doctors say not—and they know.

Recently a number of these white, oily liniments were analyzed, and they were found to contain an enormously high percentage of harmful acids, and such irritating chemicals as ammonia, etc. For the moment they may cause a warm sensation when first applied, but their continued use never cures rheumatism, and only deteriorates the skin, sets up inflammation and causes endless trouble.

When a doctor warns you to use no a white, oily liniment—do so. He knows that a thick liniment can not penetrate, cannot sink through the pores and reach the seat of the pain.

When asked his opinion a few days ago, Dr. Roberts stated that he considered a strong, penetrating, pain-subduing liniment, such as Nerviline, to be superior to any of the white ammonia liniments. In his twenty-five years of practice he had witnessed cases of rheumatism, sciatica and lumbago that simply would not respond to ordinary treatment— but Nerviline cured them. The same physician also spoke of the great advantages of keeping a preparation like Nerviline in the house always, because of cramps, diarrhoea, stomach disorders, earache, toothache, headache and such minor ailments. Nerviline is a first-class cure. There is scarcely an ache or a pain, internal or external, that Nerviline won't cure. In thousands of homes no other pain-relieving medicine is used. Fifty years' continued success and the endorsement of the profession are proof that Nerviline is the liniment for the home.

Any good druggist or dealer can supply the large 25c. bottles of Nerviline.

CONSERVING ONTARIO'S FURS.

A drunken Indian and an equally intoxicated white man might seem to have little bearing upon the high cost of furs, but the story which comes from North Bay indicates otherwise. Betrayed by whiskey-loosened tongues, these men divulged a secret which showed them to be engaged in a trade which the Province cannot afford to disregard. Their secrets had to do with the contents of certain cleverly-packed tourists' bags which they had brought down from Abitibi, and their conversation as reported to Provincial Officer McRae, led to the seizure of over 100 pelts which had thus been smuggled down from the north.

There is no doubt that a merciless war upon the creatures of the wild is waged in Ontario's newer lands by men who obey no game laws, and who kill in season and out of it, year by year, from markets all over the world, comes the report that furs are higher and still higher in price, while the domestic cat, the dog, and unsavory but now valuable skunk, supply the demand for reasonably priced furs, bearing after certain combing, clipping and dyeing treatments, such names as they were never born to. Canada has squandered her natural fur resources. It is time to conserve.

It is characteristic of "game hogs" that they take no thought for the morrow. They spare neither the old nor the young. They employ the very methods most calculated to exterminate the species against which they war. Among the skins seized at North Bay were those of "kitten" beavers, no larger than an ordinary rat. Instead of leaving these youngsters to be the nucleus of a new colony, the hunters slew them in their infancy.

The provincial officer who made the seizure is to be congratulated up on his vigilance. A movement is on foot to conserve the resources of the whole Dominion, and a conservation commission is working energetically towards this end. Ontario can co-operate in various ways, by the regulation of timber-cutting primarily and also, with great effect, by the enforcing of game laws and the punishment of those who make their living by evading the same.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured.

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to to tional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and the tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

THE IMPORTANCE OF PEAT.

In a letter to his paper, the Brockville Recorder, the Hon. George P. Graham indicates that the government experiments in the production of a commercial peat at Alfred are pointing towards final success. Ontario has many peat bogs. Mr. Graham points out that Brockville has one of the richest deposits in Canada. Many other places have a supply of heat available, but have hitherto failed to take advantage of it, because the machinery used has failed in both economy and efficiency.

The value of peat fuel in view of the fast diminishing coal supply, and as a reserve in case of prolonged strikes either on the railroads or at the mines, needs no emphasizing, but the importance of Mr. Graham's estimation as to the probable success of the government's experiments is only realized when the extent of the country's peat bogs is taken into consideration. They are said to cover approximately 35,000 square miles, an area which would produce about twenty-eight billion tons of air-dried peat, equal in fuel value to about fourteen billion tons of coals. Such a supply, at the present rate of Canada's coal importation would replace imported coal for over one thousand years.

In sickness, if a certain hidden nerve goes wrong, then the organ that this nerve controls will also surely fail. It may be a stomach nerve, or it may have given strength and support to the Heart or Kidneys. It was Dr. Shoop that first pointed to this vital truth. Dr. Shoop's Restorative was not made to dope the Stomach nor to temporarily stimulate the Heart or Kidneys. That old-fashioned method is all wrong. Dr. Shoop's Restorative goes directly to these failing inside nerves. The remarkable success of this prescription demonstrates the logic of treating the actual cause—these failing organs. And it is to-day easy to prove. A simple five or ten days' test will supply full. Try it—at our risk—and cool Gold by all druggists.

$400 YEARLY FROM A $40 INVESTMENT

Borders on the Incredible, It is a Fact, However.

I have under control 10,000 acres of the richest bottom land in the State of Georgia. This land costs the Syndicate $12.50 per acre, with the timber on it. The timber can be sold for $7.50 per acre. I want to put 1,000 acres of this land into Cotton cultivation which will net with cotton at 10 cents a pound, $64,000 from the first crop. Cotton is now selling at 15 cents per pound. At this price the land would produce $105,000. It will take $40,000 to put this first 1,000 acres under cultivation. I want 200 people, more or less, to take one or more shares of a Syndicate at $40 per share, $10 down and $10 in three monthly payments. About 100 shares have been taken up in the last ten days.

The balance of the land—9,000 acres—can be put into cultivation from the receipts from the cotton crop grown on the first 1,000 acres, and besides doing this it will earn a dividend of not less than ten to twenty per cent. each year.

At the end of the fourth year the entire tract will be earning not less than $400,000 net annually. The 1,000 Syndicate shares will absolutely own the whole 10,000 acres.

SOLID COMMERCIAL FACTS ABOUT COTTON

Seven States in the Union produce 85 per cent. of the world's supply of cotton. The crop of 1909 brought $800,000,000 to planters.

If the United States were to stop the exportation of cotton for two seasons it would pauperize Europe.

There is no substitute for cotton, and cotton fabrics are the most essential commodities in the world's markets.

Food and clothing constitute the absolute necessities of life. There are a thousand food bearing plants that will grow anywhere, but 80 per cent. of the world's clothing is cotton that will grow ONLY IN SEVEN STATES.

The cotton land is the safest investment in the world to-day, and Georgia Bottoms is the safest of all, for it has 300 to 400 per cent. potential value.

A warehouse receipt for a bale of cotton is worth its face value in any bank in the South.

Any cotton investment is bound to be good. The Georgia Bottom Lands is the soundest and most attractive ever presented.

Why? Because this bottom land will produce THREE BALES AT THE COST OF ONE.

If the world's industrial progress is as great in the next fifteen years as it has been in the last fifteen, Cotton must either be double in VOLUME OR QUADRUPLE IN PRICE.

COTTON--FEBRUARY TO OCTOBER.

Here is just one more big significant world interest stories of the work of the twentieth century farmer who is getting results by brain power in new ways, rather than by plodding blind-luck-old-ways and old methods. You know it if you have been watching agricultural progress.

A FINAL WORD

Those who join this Syndicate WILL OWN ABSOLUTELY THE WHOLE ENTERPRISE. The balance of the land can be handled from the profits or stock enough sold to take it up. I believe sincerely from my investigation that at the end of five years every $40.00 invested by a syndicate member will yield $400.00 annually. This looks like an impossibility, but the facts more than justify the belief. The first payment on the syndicate shares will be $10.00 cash with the subscription, and the balance in three equal payments, 30, 60 and 90 days.

There will be no other syndicate and this will be closed on or before June 30.

In the above I have presented facts only—it is an enterprise of unusual merit. It is a big and sound money earner from its inception. If the Syndicate is oversubscribed, I reserve the right to allot pro rata.

Should you desire further information, address me frankly and openly. The ONLY WAY TO CREATE CONFIDENCE IS TO BE WORTHY OF IT.

I have the highest testimonials as to character, business and executive ability. Write for full report, free.

have been made by a public man in recent years, is back among his people, speculation becomes active as to what effect his return will have on the political situation of the Republic. Although no longer wearing the robes of office, he received as a private citizen almost the same cordial reception wherever he went throughout Europe as though he were President. Kings and queens, princes of the royal blood and notabilities of all nations tendered to him exceptional deference and honor.

So triumphant was his tour in fact that the people of his own land have learned to regard him with more admiration and envy perhaps than they did when he was their chief executive, and his name is being frequently mentioned for the leadership of the Republican party. The power and security of Taft are much questioned in several quarters. Roosevelt would make a good man for another term to succeed him, it is held, but it is doubtful if any of these suggestions and surmises have foundation in fact. The former President has had his terms of office, he has added to them a trip which has kept his name constantly before Europe and America, and no doubt he will prefer private life to any further activity in politics.

His homecoming, nevertheless, caused a ripple in political waters. He is a strong man and his course will be watched with keen interest.

Tell some deserving Rheumatic sufferer, that there is yet one simple way to certain relief. Get Dr. Shoop's book on Rheumatism and a free trial test. This book will make it entirely clear how Rheumatic pains are quickly killed by Dr Shoop's Rheumatic Remedy—liquid or tablets. Send no money. The test is free. Surprise some disheartened sufferer by first getting for him the book from Dr. Shoop, Racine, Wis.

ROOSEVELT'S RETURN.

Roosevelt is one who can afford to make a mistake or two without losing his hold on the popular heart. The welcome extended to him on his return from the old world shows that he is still the popular hero of the United States.

And this is a tribute to sheer honesty and force of character. His tactless speech on Egyptian affairs was not the result of a desire for self-advertisement. He had formed a conviction and he was bound to express it, though in doing so he broke all the conventions in Christendom.

Whether he becomes a candidate for the White House or the Senate or remains a simple citizen of the United States he must be reckoned with as an elemental force. His leadership of a movement for the conservation of national resources would mean that conservation would be no pastime for gentlemen of leisure and lovers of nature, but a deadly attack on the plunders of the public domain. If he enlists himself on the side of the tariff reformers, he will

A few years ago, the recovery of Gold from auriferous grounds and subaqueous beds, was considered impossible. The "pan" and "grizzly," operated by hand, appeared to be the sole method of recovering values. It was during this period that Dr. Linderman, Director of the United States Mint expressed the opinion that he who could devise a machine, without adding proportionately to the cost of production, capable of saving 50 per cent. of all the placer gold, would not only enrich himself, but within the lives of men still living, would double the world's available gold supply. The Director of the United States Mint further said.—"WE CAN HARDLY HOPE FOR THIS, THOUGH NO MAN DARE SAY IT IS IMPOSSIBLE."

The perfected modern Dredge, is to-day a substantial reality. Allowing for delays in shifting, for necessary repairs, etc., the Gold Dredge runs on an average about 18 hours out of twenty-four, thus making up in length of working day, loss of operation during winter months. These Dredges are operated in ready made mining areas, recovering millions of dollars annually, at the lowest possible cost.

The Director of the Mint of the United States in his report for 1909 says:
"The Gold Dredge makes money where a coolie would starve."

Outing Magazine: "When you think that bold inventive talent has been able to devise machinery that makes it profitable to extract ten cents worth of gold from a ton of earth, the enterprise becomes one of the romances of American industry."

"A chain of powerful buckets bite into the earth, each bringing up a tremendous quantity of earth and gravel. These are subjected to screen treatment and the gold recovered."

California in 45 years, within radius of less than ten miles of placer ground, produced $200,000,000 in gold. To-day the vast number of Modern Dredges working over old ground are recovering millions annually.

IMPROVED POSTAL SERVICE.

Mr. Lemieux, the Dominion Postmaster-General, can be assured of public approval of his efforts to improve the mail service between Canada and the United Kingdom. The arrangement for three mails weekly would be a considerable improvement on the present service if the sailings could be arranged so as to have the despatch of the mails fall on different days. If this could be arranged there would be a mail every other weekday, and the delay caused at present by there being no departure for several days would be avoided. Such an arrangement would in practice frequently save five or six days in the time occupied in the despatch of a letter from Canada to the United Kingdom and the receipt here of the reply. This would be a great advantage to merchants and others, and would tend to an increase in the business between Canada and Great Britain. With the Canadian Pacific and the Allan line carrying the mails jointly by their vessels and the White Star-Dominion and Canadian Northern steamers, the facilities for the improvement of the Canadian mail service across the Atlantic are much better than they have ever been in the past. Mr. Lemieux has undoubtedly done a good deal to improve the services which his department can render to the country, and it is a branch of the administration that comes more into touch with the public than any other in the Federal Government.

OIL FUEL FOR BATTLESHIPS.

San Francisco, Cal., June 13.—The advantages of oil fuel have been the subject of exhaustive inquiry and experiment by British and American experts.

An extensive oil fuel establishment was fitted up near Portsmouth, England, and experiments carried out with various boilers, systems of firing and mechanical stokers, while further trials were made in both battleships and destroyers. According to the New York Herald's naval correspondent, the great objection caused by the dense volumes of smoke which poured from the funnels of vessels at previous trials, has been eliminated. "At present," he writes, "it may be said that within the consumption of liquid fuel alone, there is almost complete freedom from flame and smoke at the funnel, even when the boilers are pressed."

The importance of these experiments is obvious. If oil can be used without revealing the presence of vessels by smoke, the only objection to its use by battleships has been removed. The comparative economy of oil over coal is unquestioned. It is proven sixteen tons of oil is the equivalent of twenty-five tons of coal, that it will convert an equal amount of water into steam, at a saving of several dollars per ton, ton for ton. The stokers' work would be lightened, the heat in the stokehold reduced, and an avoidance of the dirt and discomfort when furnaces had to be fed. Moreover the laborious work of coaling ship would be supplanted by the far speedier and easier use of the hose and pump. The ease with which liquid fuel can be transferred from one vessel to another is essential in favor of oil.

GRAIN BURNING UP.

Portage La Prairie, Man., June 21.—The district around Portage was visited by a heavy wind storm last evening, doing considerable damage, blowing tops off barns, etc. The thermometer registered 100 in the shade yesterday, and is as warm today. No rain fell last evening, but it is badly needed, as the grain is just being totally burned out.

LIVING ON ONE DOLLAR A WEEK

All the miracles of finance are not performed on a large scale. Wonders may be worked with millions, true; but they may also be worked with pennies. The most accomplished financial prestidigitator of the day seems to be the Harvard student who proclaims his success in living on a dollar a week. He rivals the ancient Greek who did so much on an olive or two and a dip of wine. Young Mr. Long instead employs the peanut and an occasional draught of molasses—with now and then an egg or a spoonful of oatmeal.

There are those who make economy a fad, who luxuriate in its various refinements and attenuations, and who take a sort of smug credit and perverse joy in boasting of the discomfort it occasions. But Mr. Long claims to be a student of the science of right living, and to be holding his own, both in studies and in athletics. All the same we should feel more comfortable if he would put his mind to the task of increasing his income rather than to that of keeping down his expenses. A strain of boastfulness is to be detected in his ingenuities and may invite an ultimate punishment. He should keep in mind the experience of the horse that died close on the heels of a demonstration that one straw a day was enough. The verdict on a scheme of meager dietetics lies with the future.

Satan Sanderson

By HALLIE ERMINIE RIVES, Author of "Haste Considerer," Etc.

Copyright, 1910, the Bobbs-Merrill Company.

A pale faced, breathless man in clerical dress pushed forward through the press as the figure stepped—thrust out his hands blindly.

"Not—guilty, your honor!" he said.

A cry came from the prisoner at the bar. He leaped toward him as he fell and caught him in his arms.

The group in the judge's room was hushed in awestruck silence. The door was shut, but through the panels from the courtroom, came the murmur of many wondering voices. By the sofa on which lay the man who had made expiation stood the bishop and Harry Sanderson. Jessica knelt beside it, and the judge and those who stood near him in the background knew that the curtain was falling upon a strange and tangled drama of life and love and death.

After the dim lull, sobbing cry of realization, throughout the excitement and confusion, Jessica had been strangely calm. She read the swift certainty in Dr. Brent's face, and she felt a painful thankfulness. The last ordeal would not be to man's justice, but to God's mercy! The memories of the old blind days and the knowledge that this man—not the one to whom she had given her love in Smoky Mountain, at whom she dared not look—had been her lover, was now in very truth her husband, rolled about her in a stinging mist. But as she knelt by the sofa the hand that chafed the nerveless one was firm, and she kissed the cold lips deftly and tenderly.

Hugh's eyes were flaming. That harrowing struggle of soul, that convulsive effort of the injured body, had demanded its price. The direful agony and its weakness had seized him. His stiffening fingers were slipping from the ledge of life, and he knew it.

He heard the bishop's earnest voice speaking from the void, "Love—over-all—all—time." The words seemed to stand out sharply, with black gulfs of nothingness between. They roused his wandering senses, called them back to the subject of feeling.

"Not because I—loved," he said. "It was because—I—was afraid!"

False as his habit of life had been, in that moment only the bare truth remained. With a last effort the dying man thrust his hand into his pocket, drew out a small, battered, red disk and laid it in the other's hand.

"Return," he whispered as Harry bent over him and the flicker of light fell in his eyes, "do you—think it will—count—when I cash in?"

But Harry's answer Hugh did not hear. He had passed out of the sound of mortal speech forever.

* * * * * * *

There came a day when the brown ravines of Smoky Mountain laughed in genial sunshine, when the tangled thickets and the foliaged reaches, painted with the cardinal and bishop's purple of late autumn, flushed and stirred to the touch of their golden lover and the silver water gushing through the flumes sang to a quicker melody. There was no wind. Everywhere save for the breathing life of the forest was dreamy beauty and waiting peace.

In the soft stillness Harry stood on the doorstep of the hillside cabin for the last time. Below him in the gulch the light glanced and sparkled from the running flume, and beyond, silhouetted the long street of the town where the dead past of Satan Sanderson had been buried forever and the old remorseful pain of consciousness had found its successor. In the far distance, a tender haze softening their outlines, stood the violet silhouette of the curling ranges, and far beyond them lay Anleton, where waited his newer life, his newer, better work and the hope that was the April of his dreams.

Since that tragic day in the courtroom he had seen Jessica once only—in the hour when the bishop's solemn "dust to dust" had been spoken above the man who had been her husband. One thought had comforted him—the town of Smoky Mountain had never known, need never know, the secret of her wifehood. And Anleton was far away. About the coming of Hugh injured and dying to his rescue would be thrown a glamour of knight errantry that would bespeak charity of judgment. When Jessica went back to the white house in the aspens she would meet only tenderness and sympathy. And that was well.

He shut the door of his cabin and, whistling to his dog, climbed the steep path where the wrinkled creeper flung its splash of scarlet and along the trail to the Knob, under the needled song of the redwoods. There in the dappled shade stood Jessica's rock statue, and now it looked upon two mounds. The prodigal had returned at last, father and son rested side by side, and that, too, was well.

He went slowly through the brown hollows to the winding mountain road, crossed it and entered the denser forest. He wanted to see once more the dear spot where he and Jessica had met—that deep, sweet day before the rude awakening. He walked on in a reverie; his thoughts were very far away.

He stopped suddenly. There before him was the little knoll where she had stood waiting on the threshold of his palace of enchantment that one recents morning. And she was there today—not standing with parted lips and eager eyes under the twittering trees, but lying face down on the moss, her red bronze hair shaming the gold of the fallen leaves.

There was a gesture in the out stretched arms that caught at his heart. He stepped forward, and at the sound she looked up, startled.

He saw the creeping color that mounted to her brow, the proud yet passionate hunger of her eyes. He dropped on his knees and took her hands and kissed them.

"My dear love that is!" he whispered. "My dearer wife that is to be!"

THE END.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and the tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but a inflammed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

Little Local Lines

The members of the T.A.S. baseball team met last night at Riverside Park in uniform, for a practice in preparation for Saturday's game against the West Ends.

Is the post office clock only to be a memory? Is this time piece put in at the expense of the Dominion Government to always stand at 6.21? Surely three weeks' rest is enough to let the clock hands once more resume their journey round the dial.

If it happens to rain Saturday morning, don't stay at home and feel mad next day because you didn't take in the Printers' Picnic to Cobourg. It is cheaper to go to Cobourg with the Knights of the Type than to stay home and kick later.

The casual stroller along George street yesterday morning noticed many strange faces. Not strange from a physiological point of view, but strangers to our city. There were visitors who arrived from Harwood and Gore's Landing per steamer Rainbow. About one hundred and fifty people from the south shore of Rice Lake came to town and, after enjoying a trip over the lift lock, returned in the cool of the evening to their respective homes. It was a well conducted, well dressed and well pleased crowd that enjoyed a day's outing in the city.

Samuel Jamieson will attend the Printers' Picnic at Cobourg. There are no street cars there.

WORKING FOR UNIVERSAL PEACE.

What is known as a "League of Federals" has been organized in New York, and Mr. Hugh J. Chisholm, a native-born Canadian is at the head of it. The objects of the league are sufficiently ambitious. Mr. Chisholm thus defined them in an interview printed in the New York Times:

"The matter can be outlined very briefly. I am a Canadian by birth, but American by adoption and grace. I entertain the highest regard for the British Empire and anything I can do to assist its Motherland is a matter to me of pride and affection. The various members of the League of Federals cherish these sentiments; but the real objective of the league is to promote the Federal system of governing not merely in the British Empire but universally.

We want to teach the lessons of federalism as the panacea for war. Wherever we discover or believe we discover, a Federal emergence in its cradle stage, there we will direct our searchlights. We believe that no Hague conferences, but that Federalism and Federalism alone will bring to a jarring world peace and goodwill.

Canada, the land of my birth, this mighty Republic of States, Germany, Switzerland, Mexico—all these countries have found salvation through Federalism and it is not too much to say that the Federal system of governing is an American discovery; that Hamilton and Washington lit the lamp and that it is our duty to keep it burning.

The world has become tired of government on the South American plan. The day may come when completing the Monroe Doctrine we may insist that those Spanish American Republic south of Panama federate and disarm. Again how much it might make for the peace of Europe and the world did Austria federate and presently attract to her Federation the neighboring Balkan States.

Hangman Ellis Arrives.

Robert Henderson, the 17-year-old murderer of Margaret McPherson, will expiate his crime on the gallows, in the county jail at, ot about seven o'clock this morning. Hangman Ellis, who officiated at the execution of Walter Ross, at North Bay on Tuesday, arrived here yesterday. Only the officials, and the clergy and the press, probably a dozen persons in all, will be admitted into the inner court of the jail yard, where the hanging is to take place.

"PILLS LIKE A PYLE."

So Harsh and Drastic are Many Pills as to Seriously Injure Health.

In a letter written from his home in Valencia, Mr. Marsh Selwyn does service to thousands by drawing attention to the injuries inflicted upon delicate people by drastic purgative pills.

"For a long time I suffered from constipation. This condition compelled the use of pills. Like many another, I made the unwise choice of using pills that were like lightning in their activity. I began to be filled with intestinal disturbances, constant rumblings, gas in the bowels, and diarrhoea. I grew pale and emaciated. Then the doctor told me drastic irritating pills had caused catarrh of the bowels, an almost incurable disease. Explaining my situation to a friend, he advised me a trial of Dr. Hamilton's Pills. I speedily experienced the healing and curative effect they exercise on the stomach, liver and bowels. The intestines freed from irritating drugs, rapidly regained natural tone, the bowels acted as if nature and not Dr. Hamilton's Pills were at work. I know it will be of value to thousands to know that a pill as mild and curative as Dr. Hamilton's is available to the ailing."

For bowel disorders, sick headache, constipation, liver and stomach derangement, there is no pill so invariably sure to cure as Dr. Hamilton's Pills. Refuse substitutes. Sold in 25c. boxes, all dealers, or The Catarrhozone Co., Kingston, Ont.

"A Passage to the Gold Ship."

The following quotation from the Booklover's Magazine, is worthy of attention, in view of the operations announced by the Saskatchewan Mining and Developing Company.

"The Gold Ships are owned by close corporations, and it is a significant thing that absolutely no stock is for sale. The first year's cruise will pay for the Monster itself; will pay the cost of the land, even at five thousand dollars an acre; will meet all expenses including repairs and depreciation of machinery and still net the owner over One Hundred Thousand Dollars. These are figures of actual operations and regarding land carrying low proportion of gold. Many of the owners are reaping a profit of more than SIX HUNDRED PER CENT ON THEIR INVESTMENT. The industry is of course, legitimate in every sense, but it has all get-rich-quick schemes absolutely eclipsed."

Practical mining man, who know the value of gold in every mile of the proposed area to be worked by this Company, all attest the great future in store for an enterprise examined by men of experience, and offered by men of unquestioned integrity.

The stock of the company is offered at a reasonable price, commensurate with the necessary expenditure, and we are informed, is meeting with ready demand. Those who take advantage of the present market value, cannot make a mistake, if inclined to invest in a great national enterprise.

A passage on the Gold Ship of the Saskatchewan will not cost much—and the benefits to be derived therefrom should certainly prompt immediate embarkation on a voyage full of marvellous possibilities.

Hastings is Heavily Seamed with Minerals

Toronto, June 23.—The mystery of the mineral riches of north Hastings county, which has been the subject of sensational stories by Indians and settlers in the locality for over fifty years, has again been given a relish by the visit of Hon. Frank Cochrane, Minister of Lands, Forests and Mines, Dr. W. G. Miller, Provincial Geologist and Mr. E. T. Corkhill, Mining Inspector. The party left last evening for Hastings and it is understood to be the intention to become thoroughly familiar with the resources of the district before their return, a week hence. Gold, silver, iron, corundum, arsenic have long been known to exist, but only iron and talc are said to be mined as commercial propositions. A large smelter is located at Delore, to handle Cobalt ores, and is run successfully. It is understood that the Hon. Mr. Cochrane has not been in the locality before. No recent valuable finds are thought to be the cause of the visit, which is more for the purpose of observation.

Mr. T. W. Gibson, deputy minister of Mines, informed a press representative this morning that Hastings, particularly in its northern districts, was heavily seamed with minerals of various kinds. The country was one of the most richly and variously endowed in the Province. Nothing commercially important had yet been achieved from the silver or gold finds, however, though other mines were in successful operation.

SAD DROWNING.

Stony Lake Claims Its First Victim for the Season.

Stony Lake, Peterborough's great summer outing spot, has its first catastrophy for this year. Yesterday morning Allen Stewart, the four-year-old son of Mr. L. B Stewart, of Toronto, missed a step and fell into the lake, off the wharf at Jupiter Island. It was some minutes before it was learned what had happened to him.

Mr. Stewart's summer house is west of Juniper Island. Yesterday Mrs. Stewart took the little boy to the Island store. Whilst Mrs. Stewart was making purchases at the store the little fellow disappeared. It was thought that he had got on the steamer and had gone to Bar leigh, but on telephoning there, it was learned that he had not. Search was then made with the result that his body was found in the lake. Efforts were made at resuscitation, but to no avail. The body is being brought to Peterborough and will be taken to Toronto for burial.

Mr. Stewart is a professor in the School of Practical Science, Toronto University. He is a near relative of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Collins of this city.

DECORATION DAY.

Local Oddfellows Decorate Graves of Their Departed Brethren.

Yesterday afternoon a time-honored ceremony was observed by local members of the Triple Linked fraternity. Friendship, Love and Truth are the passwords of the Oddfellows. About 3.30 the local Oddfellows, members of Otonabee Lodge No. 13 and Peterborough Lodge No. 111, headed by the band of the 57th Regiment paraded from Central Park to the Little Lake cemetery. Here, that ceremony of many years' observance, and which gains additional interest as the years go by, was carried out. In the procession, which was one of the longest in the annals of local Oddfellowship, were many scores of Peterborough members of the Order. Among those who walked to the ceremony were also a number of Lindsay, Toronto and Port Hope Oddfellows.

When the procession arrived at the cemetery, that simple, but touching service of Oddfellows' Decoration Day, so often described in the local press, was carried out. The members of the local lodges, each of whom carried a boquet in the parade, walked from one burial plot to another, leaving on the grave of a departed brother a silent tribute to his memory and a visible token of the links that bind members of the fraternity.

KING'S BIRTHDAY IS OBSERVED

London, June 24.—The forty-fifth birthday anniversary of King George who was born June 3, 1865, will be officially observed throughout the empire to-day, this date being chosen as one suitable for a public holiday than the actual anniversary. Reports from the British dominions beyond the seas indicate a widespread observance of the day. In London and at Windsor, where the royal family is now in residence, the customary salutes of twenty-one guns will be fired and also at all military and naval centers throughout the United Kingdom.

A MOUNTAIN CLIMBER

Gains 12 Pounds on Change of Food.

When a change of food can rebuild a man 77 years of age, it is evidence there is some value in a knowledge that can discriminate in the selection of proper food to rebuild the body. A physician attending a Calif. man 77 years old, told him that death from old age would soon claim him. He suffered from general weakness and debility.

An old lady advised him to quit coffee and drink Postum and to eat Grape-Nuts food every morning. He took the advice, and has gained 12 pounds. Says he is as well as he ever was, and can take long trips in the mountains, which he had been unable to do for a long time.

There is a reason for this; in the first place, coffee acts as a direct nerve destroyer on many highly organized people, both young and old, and many people haven't the knowledge to select nourishment, healthful, rebuilding food.

Both Postum and Grape-Nuts are made from selected parts of the field of phosphate of potash and albumen. These two elements combine in the grains that contain delicate particles gray matter in the brain and in the human body to quickly rebuild the nerve centres throughout the body.

Direct, sure, and certain results come from their use and can be proven by any person who cares to make the trial.

Read the little book, "The Road to Wellville," in pkgs. "There's a Reason."

Ever read the above letter? A new one appears from time to time. They are genuine, true, and full of human interest.

THE FARMERS' PICNIC.

Annual Outing at Idyl-Wyld Yesterday.

The Farmers' picnic which took place yesterday at Idyl Wyld, was not largely attended. Those who did go, however, were more than repaid for their time and trouble by the pleasure the picnic afforded as well as the excellent addresses delivered. Steamers were run from various points on Rice Lake and from Peterborough. On reaching Idyl Wyld a splendid dinner was served at the Idyl Wyld hotel to those who did not bring baskets.

After dinner Mr. Joshua Smithson was appointed chairman and the meeting was called to order. Spirited and forceful addresses were delivered by Mr. Smithson, Mr. Thompson, M.P.P., Mr Sexsmith, M.P., and Mr. Dawson Kennedy, which were well received and vigorously applauded.

Letters of regret were read from Hon. J. R. Stratton, M.P., Hon. Mr. Duff, minister of agriculture, and Mr. Locke Wilson, Toronto.

Music was furnished on the steamers and at the pavillion at Idyl Wyld, where those who cared to do so enjoyed the dance. The Halsey Orchestra furnished excellent music on the steamer Otonabee, which was varied by an occasional song by Mr. Halpenny, given in his usual inimitable style.

The Peterborough contingent reached home at 7.40 p.m., all thoroughly satisfied with their day's outing.

OPENLY DEFIES BRITAIN'S CLAIMS THE U. S. WON'T STAND FOR IT

GREAT BRITAIN WILL NEVER BE ALLOWED TO SET AT DEFIANCE ITS WISHES.

The States Have Equal Power With Great Britain on the Fisheries Question, Says Counsel at The Hague.

London, June 23.—Continuing his argument on behalf of the United States before the Hague Fisheries Tribunal, former Senator Turner outlined the negotiations preceding the treaty of 1818, and pointed out that the treaty was almost entirely conformable to the draft presented by the American negotiations, and the contents of the treaty implied that the American's right to fish was already existing in 1783, and was maintained in perpetuity by that treaty, and that the United States had not renounced its fishing rights in all the bays in the British possessions, but only in territorial bays.

With respect to the regularization of the fisheries, he held that the United States should regulate the fisheries by a common agreement with Great Britain and should have a share in the enforcement of such regulations.

Great Britain has no right to limit American fishermen with regard to the time or manner of fishing, he maintained.

Continuing, he maintained that the treaty of 1818 limited the sovereignty of Great Britain with regard to costal ysheries, and held that the contention that British legislation and the British Constitution furnished guarantees against the United States fishermen being unjustly treated by the British Colonies was irrelevant.

He argued that the treaty gave the United States certain advantages in perpetuity, which are not subject to control, diminution, or restriction, and cited numerous authorities to support his argument.

He again dwelt on the claim that the United States exercises equal sovereign power with Great Britain over the fisheries, and to emphasize this he quoted largely from legal works and insisted that the right to fish subject to the will or pleasure of Great Britain was no right at all.

He also asserted that Great Britain would never be allowed to set at defiance the wishes of the United States.

A Sad and Sudden Death.

While on his way to work in the Canadian General Electric Company yesterday morning early, Edward Guerin fell to the pavement at the corner of Aylmer and Westcott Sts., and almost at once expired. Drs. McGrath and Morgan were summoned. Later Lane & Kano removed the body to their morgue. Mr. Guerin resided at 250 Romaine street. The deceased has resided in the city for many years and has been employed at the gas works. He leaves a wido at the gas works. He leave a widow and four children. The funeral will be held Saturday morning to the Church of the Sacred Heart and thence to St. Peter's cemetery for interment.

Will Ring Out a Welcome to the Visitors

Now that the "chimes of St. John's church," is the main topic of conversation in Peterborough, it might be noted that the chimes of St. Peter's church in Cobourg, will ring out a welcome to the Peterborough Printers and their friends on Saturday. Rev. A. W. Sprague of Cobourg, sent word that the chimes will ring Saturday afternoon and all visitors from Peterborough will be welcomed to inspect the tower.

OUR CANADIAN EDUCATIONAL STATUS.

The movement in favor of a Bureau of Education for Canada, such as the Washington Bureau, which has done such excellent work for the United States, has assumed a new phase in the appointment of a commission under federal auspices, to look into and report on the status of education in Canada, especially industrial education. The constitutional lethargy of the Dominion Educational Association of Canada, which has fallen into hands that have only the herding of funds and the providing of a triennial convention of no more moment to the country at large than an ordinary teachers' convention, has missed its chance.

The newly appointed Commission on Education has the most important work to perform; and, though political in its origin, no party pleading should interrupt it in fulfilment terrupted the Conservative Commission of its duties, any more than has irrision, which would save our forest, mineral and water-power resources, as a means for the continuing of a prosperity of our people. The world is moving apace in the matter of educational methods, as in nearly every phase of economic growth. And the extreme sensitiveness of professionalism in its jealousies that would make a bugaboo of the British North America Act, to keep at arm's length all proposals to unify the ethical agencies in our provincial systems of education or public instruction, has stood in the way too long of having the one province simply tell the other province what it is doing along the line of school ameliorations. The Toronto Globe, which was not unfavorable to the idea of a Canadian Bureau of Education, such as is the one at Washington, claims that there is no well-founded reason for apprehending any danger to provincial autonomy in school matters, from the Commission which has just been nominated by the federal Department of Labor. Nor was there any such danger in the organization of an educational non-administrative body as the Bureau of Education was to have been, had it met with the approval of Sir Wilfred Laurier. However, now that the Commission to enquire into our Canadian educational status —with special attention to technical education—as compared with other countries, has been appointed with much the same object in view as that suggested for the proposed Bureau of Education, there is no reason why any progressive educationist should take umbrage at its nomination. Under the gentleman nominated the search for information that quicken into newness of activity, even if only in the direction of providing technical schools, will no doubt be thorough and effective. As the Globe says, "The experience will ultimately be judged by the outcome, and for this reason a heavy responsibility rests on the members of the Commission individually and collectively." From what the Hon. Mr. King has said, his department is not going to be slow to accept the findings of the Commission as a warrant of its doing what it can for technical education in Canada as a whole.

Strawberry Festival.

A strawberry festival will be held in the Orange Hall, Downers' Corners on Wednesday evening, June 29th, under the auspices of Col. Sanderson's L.O.L. No. 321. Strawberries, ice cream and other refreshments will be served from 7.30 p. m., until everybody is satisfied, after which a program of addresses, recitations and dialogues will be rendered. Everybody welcome. Admission. Adults 25 cents, children half price. God Save the King.

Henderson Was Hanged.

Well, the terrible requirements of the law have been complied with, and justice has been done. Henderson has expiated for his crime on the gallows. A ghastly scene, it must be admitted, but still, if the sanctity of human life is to be observed, necessary! Possibly some of those who thought that, on account of his youth, the death penalty should not have been inflicted, might think otherwise now. Possibly some of those apologists for the deceased might change their opinions had they heard the stories freely exchanged about the court house yesterday as to how Henderson, a few weeks ago tried to choke his watch, because the latter was suspected by him of telling Mr. Nesbitt the jailor certain things. This is, of course, only the result of gossip but the story bears the earmarks of truth. Whether substantiated or not, the awful ordeal is over, and another human being has proved that human life must be regarded as sacred.

Murdered His Wife with Wooden Mallet

New York, June 23.—Porter Charlton was arrested today as he stepped off the steamer Princess Irene.

The man drew back when the officers approached him and laughed "I am not Charlton," he said. "I see you have made a mistake," but answered in detail to the pictures and description of Charlton, who was known to Captain Scott.

Detective Sergeant Weinthat, Garret and Fallen assigned to the case by Chief of Police Hayes, took their prisoner to police headquarters.

The prisoner carried two dress suit cases, was neatly dressed, and of refined manner.

HIS NERVES GAVE WAY.

He kept his calmness until put through a "third degree" examination by Chief Hayes. His nerve had been shaken by the attempt of Captain Scott to kill him.

"I'll tell you everything," he finally cried: "I can't hide it any longer. It is too terrible a secret to keep." He then dictated a long letter telling how he had killed Mrs. Charlton, and signed it.

Charlton completely exonerated the Russian Ispalatoff, who was arrested in Italy after the murder was discovered.

A COLD-BLOODED CONFESSION

Here is Charlton's signed confession:

"My name is Porter Charlton, 21 years old. I reside at No. 204 West 55th street. My wife and I lived very happily together near Lake Como, Italy. But she had a very ungovernable temper.

"I also have an ungovernable temper. She used such degrading language that it was revolting to me to listen to it, and I know that she didn't know the meaning of it. The night I killed her her language was something revolting.

"I told her that she would have to stop it or I would put a stop to it. She did stop for a while, but then started to berate me more than ever in a very short time afterwards I struck her on the head with a wooden mallet. I struck her two or three times and thought she was dead.

USED A MALLET.

"The mallet I hit her with was one that I had been using to straighten the leg of a couch that we had been using. I then put her body into a trunk and threw the mallet in with the body. I then dragged the trunk out of the house and to a small dock that was right near the house. I then threw it into the lake. I then went back to the house and stayed in Como the next day. The following day I started in the direction of my own country.

"I see that Ispolatoff has been arrested, but he is entirely innocent, as he had nothing to do with it. I am guilty. I have no defence, and I want none.

(Signed) "Porter Charlton."

A Society Wedding Did Not Come Off

London, June 23.—The mystery surrounding the cancellation of the marriage ceremony which was to have united Miss Dorothy Deacon, of Boston, and Prince Albert Radziwill of Poland, grew deeper today. Among the many rumors current why the ceremony was abandoned with such suddenness after the guests were allowed to gather in St. Mary's church, is the one that the Deacon family did not provide a marriage portion that was satisfactory to the prince's family. But this was not generally considered. There were also rumors that the Princess Radziwill, the mother of the prince, made her opposition to the match so effective that the Russian authorities at St. Petersburg did not send the necessary papers so that the church authorities could comply with the law and allow the marriage to take place.

The Boxer Uprising is a Grave Menace

Washington, June 23. — Foreign legations in China are in immediate danger, and the rumored boxer uprising is a menace to every white person in the empire, according to Mrs. Barnett, wife of Col. George Barnett, U. S. M. C., stationed at Pekin.

Mrs. Barnett reached Washington today on her way to Virginia, after two years' stay in China. She declared emphatically that the boxer trouble has only commenced, and that, if they should attack the legations no foreigner would survive.

"No one knows what would happen," said Mrs. Barnett. "The European and American ministers to China know nothing. The Imperial Government is non-committal. But one thing is certain, the trouble has just begun.

"Every foreign woman in China is living in constant suspence. The men even, are apprehensive. They know that if the uprising comes, the legations would have little chance. It would be wholesale slaughter."

OVER-WORKED KIDNEYS.

Cause, Rush of Blood, Poisons, Disease.

J. T. Chetland, the well-known railway engineer of Hamilton, found the strain always resting upon men of his occupation vastly intensified by a tendency of the blood to rush to his head and often at times when clearness of vision and great steadiness were demanded. Finding some difficulty in bending—a stiffness with pain having settled in his back, it occurred to him that his kidneys might be at fault. "This was a happy idea, for by it I not only got rid of the pain but many other troubles as well. I took a full dose of Dr. Hamilton's Pills and was glad to note that some obstruction of the kidneys which I had lately noticed was at once relieved. The flushed appearance of my face gave way to a more rational color and there was a perceptible improvement in my appetite. Dr. Hamilton's Pills certainly act splendidly upon the blood, removing heat and fulness and that sort of dizziness that makes a man at the throttle wish when it seizes him that he was elsewhere."

No medicine gives such unquestionably good results for stomach, liver and blood troubles as Dr. Hamilton's Pills, they are mild, certain and always curative. Refuse any substitute.

All dealers sell Dr. Hamilton's Pills, 25c. per box, or The Catarrhozone Co., Kingston, Ont.

TO QUIT TRIBAL CUSTOMS

Muscogee, Okla., June 24.—During the ten days beginning with today this city and vicinity is to be the scene of probably the most notable gathering of Indians ever held. It will be the final conference of representatives of every Indian tribe in abandonment of tribal customs and the United States, and will mark the laws and the entry of the red men into full privileges and rights as American citizens. The arrangements for the great gathering have been completed under the direction of Chief Quanah Parker, the famous headman of the Comanches.

SECRETS OF SUCCESS.

Col. Roosevelt speaks words of logic and sound sense when giving advice on how to succeed. He says:

"It has always seemed to me that in life there are two ways of achieving success, or, for the matter of that, of achieving what is commonly called greatness. One is to do that which can only be done by the man of exceptional and extraordinary abilities. Of course, this means that only this one man can do it, and it is a very rare kind of success or of called greatness. One is to do that which many men could do, but which as a matter of fact, none of them actually does. This is the ordinary kind of success or kind of greatness."

Nobody but a genius can do some of the great things that have made history, but most of us can do the ordinary things which, however, most of us do not do. The world often marvels at the success of men and wonders how they climb to such eminence. The secret is largely in doing something just a little bit better than the other fellow.

FRENCH-CANADIAN CELEBRATION.

Worcester, Mass., June 24.—Representatives of the French-Canadian societies throughout New England and eastern Canada will rally here in force to-day for their annual reunion and celebration of St. John's Day. The guest of honor is Govern or Aram J. Pothier, the first Canadian born governor of Rhode Island.

In Memory of Champlain.

St. John, N. B., June 24.—With impressive ceremonies and in the presence of a large crowd of spectators, a magnificent bronze statue of Samuel de Champlain will be unveiled to-day in Queen Square. The day was appropriately as being the 306th anniversary of the discovery of the St. John River by the great French explorer and colonizer. Premier Hazen, of New Brunswick, and prominent French-Canadian leaders of Quebec and other Provinces were among the speakers at the unveiling exercises.

Entertainment for Yankee Middies.

London, June 23.—Great preparations have been made for the entertainment of the 500 Annapolis midshipmen who are due to arrive at Plymouth today on the battleships, Iowa, Indiana and Massachusetts. As the midshipmen are to be given shore leave during their week's stay at Plymouth, it is expected they will run up to London, where several features of entertainment are to be provided for them. On June 30 they will sail from Plymouth for Marseilles and Gibraltar.

One good thing about the Johnson-Jeffries matter is that there are some people in this country who will not be at all concerned, no matter what the outcome may be.

THE WEATHER

Fine and decidedly warm.

Henderson Attones for His Crime Early Yesterday Morning

Hangman Ellis Did His Gruesome Job Coolly, the Condemned Man Dying Instantly—Only a Few Witnessed the Execution.

HENDERSON CHEERED BY THE HANGMAN.

Hangman Ellis Proved a Diplomat When Boy Commenced to Tremble and Collapse Threatened—Hanged for a Brutal Murder—No Doubt of Guilt.

At two minutes after seven yesterday morning as Rev. Canon Davidson reached the words of the Lord's Prayer, "Deliver us from evil," the official hangman, Ellis, pulled the lever releasing the two doors of the platform on which Robert Henderson, the young man, stood. The drop was seven feet and as Henderson shot through the open space he fell that length and then the body slightly rebounded. The young man evidently suffered no pain as the body never twitched nor turned. The sad ceremony was witnessed by very few, only the sheriff, the jail physician, Dr. Caldwell, and representatives of the local press and Toronto News and Telegram, Rev. Canon Davidson and Rev. Dr. Langfeldt of St. Luke's church and the jail officials being present. At the one minute after seven the sad procession came from Henderson's cell to the jail yard in which the gallows were erected. Henderson walked without assistance and with but a slight twitching of the lips. The condemned man made no statement on the gallows, simply saying "Lord receive my spirit," as the rope was attached.

At 6.30 Coroner Dr. Greer, as demanded by law, swore in a jury in the County Council chamber to enquire, as a formality, into the cause of Henderson's death. The jury elected Mr. Geo. A. Elliott as foreman. The jury, after being sworn in, and instructed, went out to the jail yard and viewed the body which was in a coffin. Hangman Ellis seemed to be proud of his job. He grasped the head of the deceased and twisting it about, remarked, "You see, gentlemen, it was a perfect job, the neck was completely broken." The jury then returned to the Council Chamber where Mr. Henderson Nesbitt and Dr. Caldwell gave evidence as to identifying the body as that of Robert Henderson and telling of the execution.

The jury brought in a verdict that Henderson came to his death by hanging by the public hangman in discharge of his duty.

Rev. Canon Davidson had written to the Ontario Department of Justice and obtained permission for the body to be interred in Little Lake cemetery instead of in the jail yard. At about 9 o'clock Comstock's undertaking wagon conveyed the coffin to Little Lake cemetery. Sheriff Hall was notified by the morning mail to allow the body to be taken to the cemetery for interment, as requested by Rev. Mr. Davidson, this notice coming from the attorney general in Toronto.

During the afternoon the new grave of the criminal was literally covered out of sight by boquets and other floral emblems. As a sample of morbid regard it might be mentioned that cards bearing the names of those leaving the flowers were attached to the boquets.

Railway and Trainmen Hope to Avert Strike--Are In Session

Montreal, June 23.—The trainmen here have been in session all morning discussing the ways and means to bring the railway companies to terms. When they broke up at noon every man was as mum as an oyster and absolutely no hint of the proceedings could be obtained.

It is stated, however, that the refusal of the men to accept the terms does not necessarily mean a strike, and that further arbitration will probably take place.

COMPANIES NOT WORRYING.

The companies, on the other hand, say they are not worrying at the attitude the men have taken, and fully intend to reject the findings of the board themselves. It is likely that the men will press for the adoption of Mr. O'Donoghue's minority report. If this is not acceded to, then strike talk will begin.

Ottawa, June 23.—The Minister of Labor is out of the city, but he is being kept advised in regard to developments in the difficulty between the railway trainmen and the companies.

So far as official action is concerned the Labor Department's work in the matter is completed.

THE MIGHTY HAAG SHOWS.

The Mighty Haag Railroad Shows have the only orchestrainia in America to-day. The orchestrainia was originally brought to this country by the German Government to place in the German exhibit at the Jamestown Exposition, and as the Exposition did not prove successful, the orchestrainia was never used, and after several attempts Mr. Haag was fortunate enough to secure it, and thus only to lease it for this season, and it returns to Wurtemburg, Germany, after the close of the present season with the Mighty Haag Shows.

For lovers of good music, there is a great treat in store when they hear the orchestrainia with the Mighty Haag Shows, which exhibit at Peterborough on June 28th.

Mr. Haag, owner of the Mighty Haag Railroad Shows, which exhibit at Peterborough on June 28th, has decided this year all children attending the afternoon performance of the Mighty Haag Railroad Shows will be treated "free" to a ride on the ponies after the performance, careful attendants attending the ponies.

When most of the town is still slumbering The Mighty Haag Railroad Shows will arrive here on their own special trains of cars, and by the time the town is awake there will be a tented city complete in itself, having sprung up in one night.

This tented city is as complete as any city of modern size, as a visit to the show will prove. Peterborough June 28th.

The Mighty Haag Railroad Shows have the most unique trained animal act ever produced, composed of bears, pooies and blue-faced monkeys. Prof Chas Duncan, who has created this act, says without doubt there is not another act in the world to equal it. The blue faced monkeys which are used in this act are a great specimen of animal intelligence, being as near the missing link as can be found. Words will not express the many remarkable qualities of human intelligence that are shown in these blue-faced monkeys. The Mighty Haag Railroad Shows will exhibit at Peterborough on June 28th.

THE MORNING TIMES

FRIDAY, JUNE 24, 1910.

EMIGRATION TO CANADA.

Lord Strathcona, the High Commissioner for Canada, has authorized the publication of the following official statement with regard to the regulations regarding immigration which were imposed nearly a year ago by the Canadian Government, and have recently come under discussion.

The Canadian authorities are greatly desirious of strengthening the British element in Canada. There is not any wish on their part to restrict immigration—on the contrary all are encouraged to go who are capable and willing to work. It is obvious, however, that proper care must be taken to ensure as far as possible that no people who are unfit shall go out and be stranded. There is employment for all in Canada who are fit and will ing to work and who can comply with the prevailing regulations.

That the action of the Canadian Government is conceived and carried out in a liberal spirit is manifest from the fact that in the course of one month this season no less than 40,000 immigrants were admitted

I am afraid that the Canadian regulations have not been understood in this country. For instance, it has been stated that "if a female domestic servant is assisted to emigrate she is not allowed to go into the service of anyone except a farmer." There is no warrant for this statement. Domestic servants, if otherwise suitable, are in the same class, and in an equally favorable position, as farmers and farm laborers, who are exempt from the money qualification when proceeding to assured work, which applies to all this class of emigration.

It has also been stated that "when an employer has advanced the money for a man's wife and family to join him, that the Canadian Emigration officer on this side is prohibited from giving his consent for them to go to Canada"—there is no foundation for this statement. The wife and family would go out with a prepaid ticket, unassisted by a charitable organization, and would be admitted without landing money, and even without the consent of the officer on this side, if the person were otherwise desirable.

In administering its immigration policy the Canadian Government has many difficulties to face, and the development of a policy which shall be in all respects uniform is not easy of attainment. There are many considerations which cannot be comprised in an ordinary letter to the press but the purpose of the authorities may tersely be stated to be to encourage as many desirable emigrants as possible, and to discourage those who are unlikely to succeed.

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and the tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but a inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

A RARE OPPORTUNITY.

Secure Asbestos Mining Stock at Ground Floor Prices.

Every business man knows the great and constantly increasing demand for asbestos. This demand comes from the enormous development of electrical knowledge and consequent manufacture of electrical apparatus. In electrical machinery alone is a vast demand for this mineral. Asbestos must be had as it, like gutta percha, cannot be replaced by any substitute. At the present time the greater part of the world's supply of asbestos comes from the Province of Quebec, whilst a very large percentage of the Canadian output is sold to our neighbors in the United States. Thousands of dollars has been spent by prospectors in that country searching for bodies of asbestos containing the minerals in paying quantities and of good quality.

The Rochester and Wyoming Asbestos Co., has succeeded in purchasing 226 acres of rich asbestos bearing land near Glenrock, in Converse County, Wyoming. The Burlington Transcontinental Railroad is adjacent to the property, thus ensuring cheap transportation, whilst low price fuel is provided by nearby coal mines. Mr. Edwin Hall, State geologist, State inspector of mines, has examined the company's asbestos property and has made a favorable property and has made a most favorable report.

The company is offering a limited number of shares at $1 each; each share gives nonassessable. For full articulars address the Rochester and Wyoming Asbestos Co., Rochester, N.Y.

$400 YEARLY FROM A $40 INVESTMENT

rders on the Incredible, It is a Fact, However.

I have under control 10,000 acres of the richest bottom land in the State of Georgia. This land costs the Syndicate $12.50 per acre, with the timber on it. The timber can be sold for $7.50 per acre. I want to put 1,000 acres of this land into Cotton cultivation which will net with cotton at 10 cents a pound, $64,000 from the first crop. Cotton is now selling at 15 cents per pound. At this price the land would produce $105,000. It will take $40,000 to put this first 1,000 acres under cultivation. I want 200 people, more or less, to take one or more shares of a Syndicate at $40 per share, $10 down and $10 in three monthly payments. About 100 shares have been taken up in the last ten days.

The balance of the land—9,000 acres—can be put into cultivation from the receipts from the cotton crop grown on the first 1,000 acres, and besides doing this it will earn a dividend of not less than ten to twenty per cent. each year.

At the end of the fourth year the entire tract will be earning not less than $400,000 net annually. The 1,000 Syndicate shares will absolutely own the whole 10,000 acres.

SOLID COMMERCIAL FACTS ABOUT COTTON

Seven States in the Union produce 85 per cent. of the world's supply of cotton. The crop of 1909 brought $600,000,000 to planters.

If the United States were to stop the exportation of cotton for two seasons it would pauperize Europe.

There is no substitute for cotton, and cotton fabrics are the most essential commodities in the world's markets.

Food and clothing constitute the absolute necessities of life. There are a thousand food bearing plants that will grow anywhere, but 60 per cent. of the world's clothing is cotton that will grow ONLY IN SEVEN STATES.

The cotton land is the safest investment in the world to-day, and Georgia Bottoms is the safest of all, for it has 300 to 400 per cent. potential value.

A warehouse receipt for a bale of cotton is worth its face value in any bank in the South.

Any cotton investment is bound to be good. The Georgia Bottom Lands is the soundest and most attractive ever presented.

Why? Because this bottom land will produce THREE BALES AT THE COST OF ONE.

If the world's industrial progress is as great in the next fifteen years as it has been in the last fifteen, Cotton must either be double in VOLUME OR QUADRUPLE IN PRICE.

COTTON--FEBRUARY TO OCTOBER.

Here is just one more big significant world interest stories of the work of the twentieth century farmer who is getting results by brain power in new ways, rather than by plodding blind-luck-old-ways and old methods. You know it if you have been watching agricultural progress.

A FINAL WORD

Those who join this Syndicate WILL OWN ABSOLUTELY THE WHOLE ENTERPRISE. The balance of the land can be handled from the profits or stock enough sold to take it up. I believe sincerely from my investigation that at the end of five years every $40.00 invested by a syndicate member will yield $400.00 annually. This looks like an impossibility, but the facts more than justify the belief. The first payment on the syndicate shares will be $10.00 cash with the subscription, and the balance in three equal payments, 30, 60 and 90 days.

There will be no other syndicate and this will be closed on or before June 30.

In the above I have presented facts only—it is an enterprise of unusual merit. It is a big and sound money earner from its inception. If the Syndicate is oversubscribed, I reserve the right to allot pro rata.

Should you desire further information, address me frankly and openly. The ONLY WAY TO CREATE CONFIDENCE IS TO BE WORTHY OF IT.

I have the highest testimonials as to character, business and executive ability. Write for full report, free.

MIGRATION WITHIN EMPIRE.

A Problem Bound Up With All Other Problems.

Possibly there is at the present moment no Imperial question more momentous than that of migration within the Empire. It is a problem, which is bound up with all the other problems, the solution of which is so vital to us, since it embraces Empire unity, trade and defence. Details are now to hand of the first British Emigration Conference, which was convened during the last two days of May under the auspices of the Royal Colonial Institute. The meeting dwelt chiefly on the necessity for diverting the stream of emmigration to the Overseas Dominion, it being pointed out that last year more than 110,000 British emigrants had gone to the United States as compared with eighty-six thousand to Canada and some fifty thousand to Australasia and the Cape conjointly. The most practical results of this conference are the appointment of a standing committee of the Royal Colonial Institute to deal with the interests of such migration and the decision of the Conference to urge upon the Imperial Government the desirability of convening a Subsidiary C onference as in the case of last year's Imperial Conference for the sake of carrying on the work. There seems no reason why the British Government should not have a Ministerial Department of Migration any less than a Ministerial Department of Agriculture. Such a department might do much by co-operating with the Dominions and studying their needs. The various societies are doing good work, but it is only of a partial and unofficial nature, and the dominions, possibly because of their dislike for any taint of pauperism, are somewhat harsh towards the charitably-assisted emmerant. More encouragement might be given perhaps in the case of Poor Law children, and others, who are young enough to be adaptable

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to tational remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and the tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflammed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

THE NEW GOLDEN BUCKET

A few years ago, the recovery of Gold from auriferous grounds and subaqueous beds, was considered impossible. The "pan" and "grizzly:", operated by hand, appeared to be the sole method of recovering values. It was during this period that Dr. Linderman, Director of the United States Mint expressed the opinion that he who, could devise a machine, without adding proportionately to the cost of production, capable of saving 50 per cent. of all the placer gold, would not only enrich himself, but within the lives of men still living, would double the world's available gold bullion. The Director of the United States Mint further said.—"WE CAN HARDLY HOPE FOR THIS, THOUGH NO MAN DARE SAY IT IS IMPOSSIBLE."

The perfected modern Dredge, is to-day a substantial reality. Allowing for delays in shifting, for necessary repairs, etc., the Gold Dredge runs on an average about 18 hours out of twenty-four, thus making up in length of working day, loss of operation during winter months. These Dredges are operated in ready made mining areas, recovering millions of dollars annually, at the lowest possible cost.

The Director of the Mint of the United States in his report for 1909 says:

"The Gold Dredge makes money where a coolie would starve."

Outing Magazine: "When you think that bold inventive talent, has been able to devise machinery that makes it profitable to extract ten cents worth of gold from a ton of earth, the enterprise becomes one of the romances of American industry."

"A chain of powerful buckets bite into the earth, each bringing up a tremendous quantity of earth and gravel. These are subjected to screen treatment and the gold recovered."

California in 45 years, within radius of less than ten miles of placer ground, produced $200,000,000 in gold. To-day the vast number of Modern Dredges working over old ground are recovering millions annually.

WHO TAKES A SORT OF SADIG credit and perverse joy in boasting of the discomfort it occasions. But Mr. Long claims to be a student of the science of right living, and to be holding his own, both in studies and in athletics. All the same we should feel more comfortable if he would put his mind to the task of increasing his income rather than to that of keeping down his expenses. A strain of boastfulness is to be detected in his ingenuities and may invite an ultimate punishment. He should keep in mind the experience of the horse that died close on the heels of a demonstration that one straw a day was enough. The verdict on a scheme of meager dietetics lies with the future.

IMPROVED POSTAL SERVICE.

Mr. Lemieux, the Dominion Postmaster-General, can be assured of public approval of his efforts to improve the mail service between Canada and the United Kingdom. The arrangement for three mails weekly would be a considerable improvement on the present service if the sailings could be arranged so as to have the despatch of the mails fall on different days. If this could be arranged there would be a mail every other week-day, and the delay caused at present by there being no departure for several days would be avoided. Such an arrangement would in practice frequently save five or six days in the time occupied in the despatch of a letter from Canada to the United Kingdom and the receipt here of the reply. This would be a great advantage to merchants and others, and would tend to an increase in the business between Canada and Great Britain. With the Canadian Pacific and the Allan line carrying the mails jointly by their vessels and the White Star-Dominion and Canadian Northern steamers, the facilities for the improvement of the Canadian mail service across the Atlantic are much better than they have ever been in the past. Mr. Lemieux has undoubtedly done a good deal to improve the services which his department can render to the country, and it is a branch of the administration that comes more into touch with the public than any other in the Federal Government.

OIL FUEL FOR BATTLESHIPS.

San Francisco, Cal., June 13.—The advantages of oil fuel have been the subject of exhaustive inquiry and experiment by British and American experts.

An extensive oil fuel establishment was fitted up near Portsmouth, England, and experiments carried out with various boilers, systems of firing and mechanical stokers, while further trials were made in both battleships and destroyers. According to the New York Herald's naval correspondent, the great objection caused by the dense volumes of smoke which poured from the funnels of vessels at previous trials, has been eliminated. "At present," he writes, "it may be said that within the consumption of liquid fuel alone, there is almost complete freedom from flame and smoke at the funnel, even when the boilers are pressed."

The importance of these experiments is obvious. If oil can be used without revealing the presence of vessels by smoke, the only objection to its use by battleships has been removed. The comparative economy of oil over coal is unquestioned. It is proven sixteen tons of oil is the equivalent of twenty-five tons of coal, that it will convert an equal amount of water into steam, at a saving of several dollars per ton, ten for ten. The stokers' work would be lightened, the heat in the stokehold reduced, and an avoidance of the dirt and discomfort when furnaces had to be fed. Moreover the laborious work of coaling ship would be supplanted by the far speedier and easier use of the hose and pump. The ease with which liquid fuel can be transferred from one vessel to another is essentially in favor of oil.

GRAIN BURNING UP.

Portage La Prairie, Man., June 21.—The district around Portage was visited by a heavy wind storm last evening, doing considerable damage, blowing tops of barns, etc. The thermometer registered 100 in the shade yesterday, and is as warm today. No rain fell last evening, but it is badly needed, as the grain is just being totally burned out.

The closing exercises of the Grove Preparatory School, Lakefield, took place yesterday evening. Several Peterborough Ladies and gentlemen attended.

Get Well First

Don't risk even a penny—until health first returns.

And I mean just exactly that. I am the same proposition who says to the sick and ailing: Get well first—then pay me. If you will but let Dr. Shoop's Restorative bring back to you the health and strength you crave, then why pay for sickness? Why pay the doctor, the druggist, and for other unnecessary and useless things? Then pay Dr. Shoop's Restorative. When the Restorative has, at the front of your nerves fail, when the vital organs have begun to break down, then Dr. Shoop's Restorative will help them back to health again. But best of all, they prohibit by far more money-rich unbelievers. They know that when Dr. Shoop's Restorative relieves, Dr. Shoop will gladly wait for pay. Such a full 30 day treatment is freely sent but write me first for an order. This will save delay and disappointment.

All druggists sell Dr. Shoop's Restorative and Dr. Shoop's Rheumatic Remedy, but all are not supplied to give the 30 day test. My drug men have agreed that I've appointed one honest druggist in every community to supply this test to the readers of this paper. Please mention which one you prefer. Address Dr. Shoop, Box 5, Racine, Wis. Then write me your troubles and I will tell you frankly what I think. Please write me today. Don't wait.

94th Field Battery for Petawawa.

About 5.30 yesterday, Peterborough's main thoroughfare, George street reminded one of the streets of cities in a country involved in war. The 25th Field Battery, about 90 strong, on horses and jaxissons, marched from the armories to the C.P.R. depot, where they entrained for the annual camp at Petawawa. The battery boys marched well and looked well. They were, in every particular seasoned veterans. Major (Dr.) Young has good cause to be proud of the 24th Field Battery. The guns and other paraphrenalia were loaded on the cars in as quick and military style as any regulars could have accomplished. At the rear of the parade was a waggon loaded with cases of the battery's belongings and a soldier with a big lapful of straw hats. The battery, however did not finally leave until about 9 o'clock.

DOCTORS CONDEMN OILY LINIMENTS.

The Public are Warned to Be Careful of Those Strong-Smelling Oily Liniments, Containing Harmful Acids, Ammonia, Etc.

Many people have clung to the old-fashioned idea that a thick, greasy liniment is the best kind. Doctors say not—and they know.

Recently a number of these white, oily liniments were analyzed, and they were found to contain an enormously high percentage of harmful acids, and such irritating chemicals as ammonia, etc. For the moment they may cause a warm sensation when first applied, but their continued use never cures rheumatism, and only deteriorates the skin, sets up inflammation and causes endless trouble.

When a doctor warns you to quit using a white, oily liniment—do so. He knows that a thick liniment can not penetrate, cannot sink through the pores and reach the seat of the pain.

When asked his opinion a few days ago, Dr. Roberts stated that he considered a strong, penetrating, pain-subduing liniment, such as Nerviline, to be superior to any of the white ammonia liniments. In his twenty-five years of practice he had witnessed cases of rheumatism, sciatica and lumbago that simply would not respond to ordinary treatment— but Nerviline cured them. The same physician also spoke of the great advantages of keeping a preparation like Nerviline in the house always, because of cramps, diarrhoea, stomach disorders, earache, toothache, headache and such minor ailments. Nerviline is a first-class cure. There is scarcely an ache or a pain, internal or external, that Nerviline won't cure. In thousands of homes no other pain-relieving medicine is used. Fifty years' continued success and the endorsement of the profession are proof that Nerviline is the liniment for the home.

Any good druggist or dealer can supply the large 25c. bottles of Nerviline.

A Call From Oregon
Opportunities in the Far West
The greatest industrial activity in this country is now centered in Oregon. Two of the biggest railroad systems in the U. S., with intense rivalry, are pushing branch lines into the remote portions of this State, and an exodus from the East is on in the occupation of this the LAST FRONTIER ON THE CONTINENT. Fortunes will be made here THIS YEAR—NEXT YEAR and EVERY YEAR for the next decade.
Our valleys are the most fertile in the world and irrigation projects are converting the bordering hillsides into gardens. Orchards lands are leaping upward in price and the advance has only started. Water from mountain streams is the purest, timber the finest and climate the most perfect in Uncle Sam's domain. Power plants are springing up along the channels of silvery torrents to develop electrical energy for mines and mills and interurban railways. Fish abound in the rivers, game in the forests and health and joy in the atmosphere. There are no cyclones here or pestiferous insects to endanger life, or make it a burden.
I want Eastern connections and help, financial and otherwise, to seize opportunities that surround this picturesque city of Baker. The returns will be out of all proportion to the help extended. The opportunities are along the lines of vegetable fruit, hay, grain, stock, timber, and mineral lands. There are fortunes in all these. Scarcely a mine in this vicinity but has found outposts in gold, running into the millions. Yet the surface, overlying the mineral deposits of Baker County, has hardly been scratched.
On a lode of free gold bearing quartz two miles in length I made a test of 100 tons of ore taken at a depth of only a hundred feet and got over $3000.00 out of it. The mint returns passed through the Citizen's National Bank here.
Among other things, I need money, right now, to begin the MANUFACTURE OF GOLD out of this immense ore body. The shares of the Baker Canyon Mines Company, which OWNS this property, and of which I am secretary have an intrinsic value of at least 50 cents a share and on a conservative valuation of the property and the amount of stock issued.
I will deliver on order, with draft attached, up to 50,000 shares of this stock at 25 cents a share, NET. The full amount of the purchase price will go back in dividends inside of 18 months. Take a block of this as a starter, and get in step with this Eldorado of the West. If there is anything else out here that I can do for you, or you can do for me,—WRITE ME.
Yours for business, and MONEY for both of us,

"A Passage on the Gold Ship."

The following quotation from the Booklover's Magazine, is worthy of attention, in view of the operations announced by the Saskatchewan Mining and Developing Company.

"The Gold Ships are owned by close corporations, and it is a significant thing that absolutely no stock is for sale. The first year's cruise will pay for the Monster itself, will pay the cost of the land, even at five thousand dollars an acre; will meet all expenses including repairs and depreciation of machinery and still net the owner over One Hundred Thousand Dollars. These are figures of actual operations and regarding land carrying low proportion of gold. Many of the owners are reaping a profit of more than SIX HUNDRED PER CENT ON THEIR INVESTMENT. The industry is of course, legitimate in every sense, but it has all get-rich-quick schemes absolutely eclipsed."

The stock of the company is offered at a reasonable price, commensurate with the necessary expenditure, and we are informed is meeting with ready demand. Those who take advantage of the present market value, cannot make a mistake, if inclined to invest in a great national enterprise.

A passage on the Gold Ship of the Saskatchewan will not cost much—and the benefits to be derived therefrom should certainly prompt immediate embarkation on a voyage full of marvellous possibilities.

VOL. XXXI NO. 145 PETERBOROUGH, ONTARIO SATURDAY JUNE 25 1910 PRICE TWO CENTS

Melba May Sing in Peterborough

The Times is pleased to state that Mme. Melba, the greatest living vocalist may sing in Peterborough on the evening of September 17. Mr. J. J. Turner, with his usual enterprise, took the matter up with Mr. Shipway, the manager of the Melba Concert Party, the result being that Mr. Shipway came to Peterborough yesterday, and gave Mr. Turner an option for the above date. Mr. Turner will have to put up a guarantee of $2500 to secure this greatest of attractions, and must wire his answer this evening.

It is not necessary to say a word regarding the great singer regarding this great singer. Her name is known the world over, as the greatest singer on earth. She has been feted by kings, adored by the public, and her art has thrilled the world.

We would ask all who desire to hear this famous lady to phone to Mr. Turner today, and in this way show that he will be taking no risk in subscribing to the guarantee.

Melba, in her American tour gives but 42 concerts, and we would feel highly honored to have Peterborough as one of them. This is the only date open out of her 42 nights. Kingston opera house sold every seat in a few days. Peterborough can do the same, and it is up to our citizens to give Mr. Turner the support which his enterprise merits.

CAPTAIN COADY FATALLY HURT

BRITISH ARMY EXPERT FELL ONE HUNDRED FEET WITH AEROPLANE.

Accident at Aldershot—He Once Attempted to Fly From Liverpool to Manchester.

Aldershot, England, June 23.—Capt. S. F. Cody, the American aeronaut, who has been experimenting with an aeroplane for the British War Office is believed to be in a dying condition as a result of an accident on Laffan's Plain today, when his machine dashed to the earth from a height of 100 feet. Cody was rendered unconscious and his aeroplane smashed to bits.

Cody is a naturalized Englishman. He began his actual experiments for the War Office, but after spending $6,000 of the government's money without visible results, more money was refused, and he spent his private fortune on his work. He taught aeronautics to the army officers. The machine in which he was injured is a cumbersome affair of his own invention, weighing two thousand pounds and having 780 feet of wing surface. It was driven by an 80 h.p. motor.

Cody's most successful flight was made September 25th, 1909, when he made a cross-country flight around Aldershot, remaining in the air one hour and three minutes, flying forty-seven miles, a world's record at that time. On Dec. 29, 1909, he attempted to fly from Liverpool to Manchester, a distance of thirty-nine miles, but after flying fourteen miles got tangled up in telegraph wires and was thrown to the ground, sustaining serious injuries thereby.

Band Concert at Victoria Park.

Many hundreds of our citizens took in and thoroughly enjoyed the splendid program presented by the 57th Regiment Band last night at Victoria Park. Whilst the weather was hot, the public of Peterborough, who swear by the 57th Regiment Band turned out in large numbers and made a peaceful and enjoyable invasion of this central breathing spot.

THE CAVALRY HOME.

Third Dragoons Return Looking Like Seasoned Veterans.

Yesterday the 3rd Dragoons returned after their ten days' outing at Petewawa. The soldier boys, with their tanned faces and sun-burnt hands looked like veterans who had been through a severe campaign. The cavalry men report that their outing at Petewawa, was productive of great good to the regiment. All those, with whom The Times had the privilege to talk had only the highest words of commendation for the Department of Militia. Mr. M. C. Tooley, who was in charge of that most important branch of the regiment's existence, viz., catering to the department of the interior, did his work well. The local troops did not have mushrooms on toast at every meal, but still they lived like the proverbia, "fighting cock." Capt. B. R. Poole, V.S., under whose charge and responsibility, came the horses of the regiment, did splendid work and saw that the horses were kept in first-class condition. Peterborough has reason to be proud of the record established at Petewawa, by the 3rd Dragoons. As the cavalry men, on their return, cantered up and down the principal streets of the city during the morning they attracted much and considerable approval.

Notice to Fat Women.

Presumably you know, ladies, that the proper caper nowadays is lines. Curves are passe. You have got to take off your fat. This must be done in one of three ways. By dieting, by exercises, or by means of Marmola Prescription Tablets. The two former will keep you busy for months and punish you pretty severely, the latter will cost you 75 cents at the druggists. The tablets will not make any alteration in your diet necessary and yet in all probability, before you have used up one case, you will be losing from 12 to 16 ounces of fat a day. Which method do you like the best?

If you fancy this pleasant method of getting off the fat, see your druggist instantly, or else write the Marmola Co., 1192 Farmer Building, Detroit, Mich., to send you a case by mail. These cases contain so generous a quantity of tablets that the treatment is very economical. It is, also, quite harmless, for the tablets are made exactly in accordance with the famous Marmola Prescription.

Strawberry Festival.

A strawberry festival will be held in the Orange Hall, Downer's Corners on Wednesday evening, June 29th, under the auspices of Col. Sanderson's L.O.L. No. 321. Strawberries, ice cream and other refreshments will be served from 7.30 p.m. until everybody is satisfied, after which a program of addresses recitations and dialogues will be rendered. Everybody welcomed. Admission, adults 25 cents, children half price. God Save the King.

Local Firm's Good Work.

One of the most interesting sights in this city is the way the Novel-ti Co. at 369 Water street, turns pieces of high grade silk into neck ties. Many citizens are not aware of the importance of this firm. The buying public, however, knows. It would astonish the average man or woman to see thousands of yards of silk and satin turned daily into neckwear.

Great Ball Game This Afternoon.

Lots of fun at Riverside Park this afternoon when the regular weekly City League double header will be put on, the first game between the Stratncona and Park street, being called at two o'clock sharp. Bill Shaw is being carried as the injured list, but Manager Motheral will hand out a surprise party. At four o'clock the big attraction will be put on. The West Ends will stack up against the Abstainers. It will be the second meeting, and something is going to happen.

MAYOR'S DAUGHTER MARRIES A BROKER

THE GIRL IS NINETEEN AND SHE ELOPED TO WED A MAN OF FORTY YEARS.

Miss Gaynor Family—Son Did Likewise Some Time Ago—Friend of Miss Gaynor Paved the Way for the N.Y. Escapade.

New York, June 24.—While Mayor Wm. J. Gaynor was walking across Brooklyn bridge to his office today a newly-married couple were eating their first honeymoon breakfast at the Plaza Hotel. This was not extraordinary in itself, but the fact that the bride at breakfast was the eloping daughter of the mayor made the coincidence one of more than ordinary interest. The bride and bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Harry Kermit Vingut.

Mrs. Vingut, the second daughter of Mr. Gaynor, is only 19 years old, while the bridegroom is 40. The difference in the couple's age is understood to have been the cause of Mr. Gaynor's objection to the marriage, which took place at Wilmington, Del., late yesterday afternoon.

Neither would discuss the elopement today.

Mayor Gaynor is believed to have first learned of the elopement when dining in Manhattan. He spent the night at his Brooklyn residence.

Miss Gaynor has been receiving devoted attentions from Mr. Vingut for the past two months. Mrs. Halstead Swan, who was Miss Florence Berry, a life-long friend of the mayor's daughter, made it possible for the pair to meet often at her house, and was their chaperon on many little outings.

The new son-in-law of Mayor Gaynor is of English-French descent, and was born in New York, March 12th, 1870. Vingut was graduated from Harvard with the class of '91. He is manager of the Forty-third street branch of the brokerage firm of Thos. L. Manson & Co.

THE SECOND ELOPEMENT.

Miss Edith Gaynor is the second of the mayor's family to elope. The eldest son, Rufus W. Gaynor, eloped with Maria Gingda, the daughter of a barber of New London, Conn., and they were married in Chicago. He subsequently learned she had a husband living.

ROOSEVELT IN TOWERING RAGE

PRESS REPORT OF DAUGHTER'S ENGAGEMENT TERMED "INFAMOUS SCANDAL."

Will Speak in Chicago—Teddy Some Years Ago Used the Phrase "Strenuous Life" and has Not Employed It Since.

New York, June 24.—Theodore Roosevelt came into town from Oyster Bay in a towering rage. He has seldom, if ever been seen to show the anger he did, when a newspaper reporter showed him a story in a morning paper to the effect that his daughter, Ethel was to marry James Thompson Williams, jr., an ex-newspaper man, whom President Taft made civil service commissioner.

Mr. Roosevelt was in his automobile at Oyster Bay, and it looked as if he would get out and begin to swing his fists at anybody and every body, so furious did he become, when he saw the article.

"That is an infamous scandal, and it is foolish to answer it! It is the scandalous infany of a scoundrel. There is not a word of truth to it. That's all."

Kermit and Ethel, with L. A. Ford, a friend of the family, were in the automobile at the time. They took the 6.05 train to New York, while Mr. Roosevelt with Mr. and Mrs. Bucklin Bishop remained in the motor, and made the trip to the city over the country roads.

Shortly after his editorial conference at the Outlook office opened, Mr. Roosevelt met a delegation of 25 members of the Hamilton Club of Chicago. H. M. Hobson, secretary of the club, invited the colonel to visit the windy city.

THE STRENUOUS LIFE.

Mr. Roosevelt made a short speech to the members of the club, saying that he would be glad to address the club about September 10, on his way back from Kansas City. "Before I was elected governor of New York," he said, "your club invited me to address the members and I did so. In that speech I used the phrase 'strenuous life.' Since then it has become such a by-word that I never used it again. On that occasion you gave me an ink stand, which I am still using, and which I still prize."

Over a Million Lost in Big Forest Fires

Fort William, June 24.—Millions of dollars worth of damage has been caused by forest fires in the Atikokan district. Two and a half miles west of Atikokan, a million and a half dollars damage was done through the burning of timber berth No. 61, forty-one miles square in extent, the property of the F. Weyerhauser Company, of St. Paul.

The Rat Portage Lumber Company at Eye River, fourteen miles west of Atikokan, lost all their dams, and this rendered them unable to run drives. This morning this firm also lost its camps and a large amount of standing timber.

Want Doctor's Report Before the Wedding

Guelph, June 24.—The convention of Charities and Correction yesterday adopted this striking resolution:

"That the system adopted in some of the States in the American Union namely, that those about to enter marriage, before the proclamation of the banns, or the issuing of a marriage license, should be required to present a certificate, from a medical commission, to the effect that physically and intellectually they are fit to discharge duties of married life, be introduced among us."

The following were also adopted:

"That parents be held civilly responsible for crimes committed by their children under 12 years of age, and afterwards if connivance or encouragement be proved."

"That no girls under 16, or boys under 14, be allowed on the streets after nine o'clock p.m., except in company of their parents or some responsible person."

"That we have heard with the greatest satisfaction that the dollar and cents or thirty days' system of dealing with inebriates is about to be abolished.

In sickness, if a certain hidden nerve goes wrong, then the organ that this nerve controls will also surely fail. It may be a Stomach nerve, or it may have given strength and support to the Heart or Kidneys. It was Dr. Shoop that first pointed to this vital truth. Dr. Shoop's Restorative was not made to dose the stomach nor to temporarily stimulate the heart of Kidneys. That old-fashioned method is all wrong. Dr. Shoop's Restorative goes directly to these failing inside nerves. The remarkable success of this prescription demonstrates the wisdom of treating the actual cause of these failing organs. And it is indeed easy to prove. A simple five or ten days' test will surely tell. Try it once, and see. Sold by all dealers.

Until U. S. Reduces Her Tariff Canada Should Not Act

Montreal, June 24.—At the annual meeting of the Montreal branch of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association yesterday, Mr. William Cauldwell, the retiring chairman, cautioned Canadians against any precipitation in the matter of seeking a reciprocity treaty with the United States. Mr. Cauldwell said the United States tariff was now about 25 per cent. higher against us, than ours gainst them, and this discrepancy should be removed before any question of reciprocity was taken up.

THE MIGHTY HAAG SHOWS.

The Mighty Haag Railroad Shows which exhibit at Peterborough on June 28 are the only shows backed by southern capital owned by a southern gentleman and managed by southern brains.

Mr. Ernest Haag, owner of the show, lives in Shreveport, La., where the winter quarters of the show are, and the pass-word in Shreveport is "Let us go out to the Haag Show's winter headquarters."

Remember when attending the Mighty Haag Shows you are patronizing the only southern show. Remember the day and date.

Without doubt Gulfort has never seen such a crowd of people as were here to see the Mighty Haag Railroad Shows. Both in the afternoon and evening the tents were crowded with people, and in the afternoon hundreds could not secure tickets as the ticket wagon was closed long before two o'clock. Every train during the day brought people to see the show, and long before time for the parade to make its appearance on the streets they were crowded with people anxiously awaiting it, and not one was disappointed, as Mr. Haag has spent plenty of time and money on his parade, making it second to none.

C.P.R. Company Accepts the Conciliation Award

But Company Says It Imposes an Excessive Burden--The Men are Not Agreeable

Ottawa, Ont., June 24.—The Labor Department is in receipt of a letter from J. W. Leonard, manager of the eastern lines of the Canadian Pacific accepting the award of the Board of Investigation which enquired into the disputes between the company and their train and yard employes. Mr. Leonard says:

"On behalf of the Canadian Pacific Railway, (eastern lines) I desire to advise the department that although the rates named when taken into consideration with the rules granted are excessive, and impose an unnecessarily heavy burden on the company's revenues, we will under the circumstances, accept the findings of the Board of Conciliation and investigation as a basis of settlement of the difficulties between the Canadian Pacific Co. (eastern lines) and its employee in the train and yard service.

MEN NOT AGREEABLE.

The attitude of the men continues one of antagonism. How far that will carry them it is impossible to say. The Labor Department having invoked the Lemieux Act is now in a position where it must await the decision of the parties to the dispute.

Street Paving to be Started at Earliest Possible Moment

The City Board of Works met last night. There were present: Mayor Morrow, Chairman Ald. Hicks, Aldermen Duncan, Graham, Metheral, Phelan and Gillespie.

Ald. Graham moved, seconded by Ald. Metheral,—That in connection with the application of Grafton & Co., for permission to place a sign extending over the sidewalk on George street, no action be taken as it would be a contravention of the bylaw.—Carried.

Ald. Duncan moved, seconded by Ald. Metheral,—That an approach be put in at Mr. Snowden's garage on Simcoe street, and one on Dalhousie street, at the factory of H. F. Ackerman, Son & Co.—Carried.

A letter was read from Solicitor R. H. D. Hall, endorsing a report from Wm. Langford, giving $500 as the value of part of the reserve along the river, near Charlotte street, and in rear of Edward Green's property.

Ald. Duncan moved, seconded by Ald. Graham,—That this matter be referred to the chairman and city solicitor to report, and that they also be instructed to take such action as they deem advisable in the interests of the city with regard to the objection filed by Hall, Medd & Davidson to the conformation of the plan of the reserve made by A. J. Cameron.—Carried.

A letter was read from the city solicitor regarding the spur line from the C.P.R. to the Quaker Oats mills., and enclosing letters from the Quaker Oats Company and the secretary of the Board of Railway Commissioners.

A letter was read from the city engineer regarding an approach asked for by Robert Nicholls on Park street.

Ald. Duncan moved, seconded by the mayor.—That the request be granted.—Carried.

Ald. Graham moved, seconded by Ald. Duncan,—That R. Smith be paid $14.50 for work on the Lock Works sewer connection, in accordance with the certificate of the city engineer.—Carried.

On motion of Ald. Duncan, seconded by Ald. Metheral, the petition for a sidewalk on the south side of Wolfe street, from Stewart street to Park street, as a local improvement, be granted.

Ald. Metheral moved, seconded by Ald. Graham—That the bridge on London street over the raceway be repaired.—Carried.

LONDON STREET BRIDGE.

The committee decided to make temporary repairs to the old London street bridge, at a cost of $50, for pedestrian purposes; also to consult Mr. Larmonth with a view to erecting a permanent walk over the Hydraulic Power Co.'s dam, at an estimated expenditure of $725.

TO OIL THE STREETS.

On the initiative of Chariman Hicks, the committee decided to oil a couple of blocks on Aylmer street, in place of watering them, as an experiment.

It is claimed that oiling streets is a more satisfactory process than watering and enchances the life of such highways.

SEPTIC TANK.

Regarding the septic tank asked for by Mr. Shook to accommodate property east of Harvey street, and north of London street, the board suggested to Mr. Shook that the work be done providing the Dickson Co. pay 50 per cent. of the cost and the city 50 per cent.

Mr. Shook said he would give this proposition his consideration and the matter was left in the hands of the mayor, Ald. Phelan and Graham with power to act.

The Y.W.C.A.'s application for a new sign was left in the engineer's hands with power to act.

Ald. Phelan moved, seconded by Ald. Gillespie.—That the surplus material on King Edward street accruing from grading the roadway, be used for filling in the cellar on Mr. Dumble's property.—Carried.

The tenders for sewers will be dealt with on Monday night.

The mayor and A.d. Phelan were instructed to take the proper proceedings to secure crossing planking between the G.T.R. rails from Bethune to Park streets.

STREET PAVING.

Mr. Rangnas, representing the Ontario Asphalt Block Pavement Co., addressed the committee on the matter of street paving, and offered valuable information for the board's guidance.

On the initiative of Ald. Hicks, the mayor moved, seconded by Ald. Duncan, that the streets from the C.P.R. station to McDonnel street, and and from the G.T.R. station to from the G.T.R. station to George, on Charlotte street, be paved at

On Monday night the committee will decide the basis upon which this work will be charged. It will probably be 60 per cent. frontage and 40 per cent. general tax.

"It cured me," or "It saved the life of my child," are the expressions you hear every day about Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. This is true the world over where this valuable remedy has been introduced. No other medicine in use for diarrhoea or bowel complaints has received such general approval. The secret of the success of Chamberlain's Colic Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy is that it cures. Sold by all dealers.

Distinguished Bowmanville Citizens.

Mr. John Lyle, the genial Town Clerk of Bowmanville, spent a few hours in town yesterday, the guest of his nephew, Mr. Morley W. Lyle. He is an enthusiastic bowler, and gave Mr. Barney Laster and a few of our local lovers of the game a few pointers on Thursday evening at the bowling green. He was accompanied by Mr. John S. Moorcraft, Town Treasurer, of Bowmanville. Mr. Lyle gave the Times a friendly call.

Three Months in Jail for Theft.

At yesterday's session of the police court, a young man was handed out a three months' sentence for stealing a pair of boots, worth $2.50.

The prisoner's story was that he met a stranger from Tweed; and a bottle of whiskey was purchased early in the morning, after having had a meal in the Dominion Chinese Cafe, prisoner said "that on arriving home he had the boots." To the best of his knowledge, he bought them at Jay's second-hand store for 85 cents. The witness heard, however, had a different story to tell worship found him guilty.

The Latest Song.

The Review quartette, composed of Messrs. Jamieson, Brown, Little and Dobbin met in the cellar of the Review last evening for a final rehearsal for the Great Printers' Picnic, which will be run this afternoon to Cobourg. Some of the music that this talented quartette will get off will be entirely new to a Peterborough audience, some of the songs being the following successes: "Why don't you marry the girl," "Mister Conductor stop the car," "Pork and Beans," "Never fool with a Turk," and also the famous "Put on your old gray bonnet," which starts off something like this: "Put on your old grey bonnet with the blue ribbon on it, while I hitch old Dobbin to the sleigh."

"SCIENCE" ON NATIONAL AND RACE SUICIDE.

Once more a decrease in the French birth rate is recorded, and Dr. Bertillon, the statistician, psychologist and criminologist, is sounding his recurrent warning refrain. This time he predicts something worse than defeat for France in a war with Germany; depopulation and national suicide, he foresees, will leave beautiful France a wilderness, which the advancing Teuton will simply annex without a shot. And as the Germans add 1,000,000 a year to their population it is clear that they will need plenty of space and resources, and of course France is preferable to Brazil or Africa.

We are not sure that the complacent French intellectuals, the thrifty bourgeois and peasantry will be stirred even by the picture of their country as a desert open to Teutonic occupation. They will insist on thinking that a stationary population with a high degree of comfort, prosperity and culture is preferable to an increasing population with growing poverty, emigration, unemployment and discontent. They argue that even in war mass is only one factor, and a factor of declining importance. Money, skill, education count more and more, and so do alliances, understandings, the good will of other nations. The French make heavy sacrifices for defense, but they do not admit that they must live, move and have their being in an atmosphere of war talk and war worry, instead of in an atmosphere of peace, industry, art, individual happiness. As for a depopulated France, they haven't the imagination of a Bertillon and will never "visualize" it. It will, at the worst, take a good many centuries to "depopulate" France.

Bertillon's solemn warning reminds one of the equally earnest prediction of a Boston savant that in exactly 265 years the United States will be nothing but a chain of lunatic asylums. Streptococcity, alcoholism, flats, congestion and lots of other evils, it seems, are driving us mad, and our days are literally numbered. But the alarmed doctor forgets a number of ifs and buts. He forgets that life is change, that things never go on "at this" or that rate, and that evils have a way of reforming themselves. He forgets the forces that make for sanity, health, vigor, progress.

If we can't be induced to mend in this or that particular by appeals to our present interest, our common sense, our conscience, savants may depend on it that pictures of "ultimate" desolation, extinction and death will utterly fail to strike terror.

THE LIME JUICE CLUB

A Long Way After the Lime Kiln Club.

"What was I going to remark," said the President, as the lodge opened, "was to the effect that Kingwilliam Smith, commonly known as the "Demosthenes of the East;" is now in the antie-room waiting for an invitation to deliver his oration on "The Great Men of the East." He has come from Ottawa for this special purpose, paying his own fare part of the way and walking the rest on the railroad ties, and if there are no objections we'll bring him in."

"Did I understand the chair to say it there were no "dejections?" asked Bro. Bombshell Coons, as he suddenly popped up.

"You did, sir."

"Dejections—ah. Didn't the chair mean to say of there was no——"

"Bro. Coons," interrupted the President "when this chair says dejection he don't mean inflections, directions or deflections. The last time you interrupted the proceedings of this meeting you were told that the next display of confidences on your part would result in a fine. Painful as it is to me, and as much as I feel for you, I shall impose a fine of $400 and costs. The costs, as near as I can figure, will be about $900. You will consider yourself suspended from membership until the fine is paid."

Bombshell sat down on the chair. His eyes rolled, his breathing was labored, and he suddenly fainted away and dragged Bro. Frank Fairen with him to the ground.

During the excitement none or ten persons received the contents of the water pail, and Bro. Croft was woke out of his first nap. Bro. Coons finally revived and bound a wet towel around his head.

Bro. Givedam Slabs arose to make a statement. He was intimately acquainted with the pecuniary resources of Brother Coons. His earnings for past year were exactly $383.29. His expenditures were exactly $383.25. The balance was only four cents. This year the balance would be closer still, and even in the best year to come there was no hope of a great increase. Giving four cents as the average yearly balance, and it would take Bro. Coons 250,000 years to pay this fine and secure his restoration to membership. The speaker hoped that mercy would prevail and the fine be withdrawn.

After a brief consultation with Barnes Ross and Sir Isaac Walpole, the President arose and announced that he would remit the fine and costs, and that the member's narrow escape from being killed stone dead would be a great moral warning to him throughout the rest of his days.

$400 YEARLY FROM A $40 INVESTMENT

Orders on the Incredible, It is a Fact, However.

I have under control 10,000 acres of the richest bottom land in the State of Georgia. This land costs the Syndicate $12.50 per acre, with the timber on it. The timber can be sold for $7.50 per acre. I want to put 1,000 acres of this land into Cotton cultivation which will not with cotton at 10 cents a pound, $64,000 from the first crop. Cotton is now selling at 15 cents per pound. At this price the land would produce $105,000. It will take $40,000 to put this first 1,000 acres under cultivation. I want 200 people, more or less, to take one or more shares of a Syndicate at $40 per share, $10 down and $10 in three monthly payments. About 100 shares have been taken up in the last ten days.

The balance of the land—9,000 acres—can be put into cultivation from the receipts from the cotton crop grown on the first 1,000 acres, and besides doing this it will earn a dividend of not less than ten to twenty per cent. each year.

At the end of the fourth year the entire tract will be earning not less than $400,000 net annually. The 1,000 Syndicate shares will absolutely own the whole 10,000 acres.

SOLID COMMERCIAL FACTS ABOUT COTTON

Seven States in the Union produce 85 per cent. of the world's supply of cotton. The crop of 1909 brought $800,000,000 to planters.

If the United States were to stop the exportation of cotton for two seasons it would pauperize Europe.

There is no substitute for cotton, and cotton fabrics are the most essential commodities in the world's markets.

Food and clothing constitute the absolute necessities of life. There are a thousand food bearing plants that will grow anywhere, but 60 per cent. of the world's clothing is cotton that will grow ONLY IN SEVEN STATES.

The cotton land is the safest investment in the world to-day, and Georgia Bottoms is the safest of all, for it has 300 to 400 per cent. potential value.

A warehouse receipt for a bale of cotton is worth its face value in any bank in the South.

Any cotton investment is bound to be good. The Georgia Bottom Lands is the soundest and most attractive ever presented.

Why? Because this bottom land will produce THREE BALES AT THE COST OF ONE.

If the world's industrial progress is as great in the next fifteen years as it has been in the last fifteen, Cotton must either be double in VOLUME OR QUADRUPLE IN PRICE.

COTTON--FEBRUARY TO OCTOBER.

Here is just one more big significant world interest stories of the work of the twentieth century farmer who is getting results by brain power in new ways, rather than by plodding blind-back-old-ways and old methods. You know it if you have been watching agricultural progress.

A FINAL WORD

Those who join this Syndicate WILL OWN ABSOLUTELY THE WHOLE ENTERPRISE. The balance of the land can be handled from the profits or stock enough sold to take it up. I believe sincerely from my investigation that at the end of five years every $40.00 invested by a syndicate member will yield $400.00 annually. This looks like an impossibility, but the facts more than justify the belief. The first payment on the syndicate shares will be $10.00 cash with the subscription, and the balance in three equal payments, 30, 60 and 90 days.

There will be no other syndicate and this will be closed on or before June 30.

In the above I have presented facts only—it is an enterprise of unusual merit. It is a big and sound money earner from its inception. If the Syndicate is oversubscribed, I reserve the right to allot pro rata.

Should you desire further information, address me frankly and openly. The ONLY WAY TO CREATE CONFIDENCE IS TO BE WORTHY OF IT.

I have the highest testimonials as to character, business and executive ability. Write for full report, free.

A Call From Oregon

Opportunities in the Far West

The greatest industrial activity in this country is now centered in Oregon. Two of the biggest railroad systems in the U. S., with intense rivalry, are pushing branch lines into the remote portions of this State, and an exodus from the East is on in the occupation of this the LAST FRONTIER ON THE CONTINENT. Fortunes will be made here THIS YEAR—NEXT YEAR and EVERY YEAR for the next decade.

Our valleys are the most fertile in the world and irrigation projects are converting the bordering hillsides into gardens. Orchards lands are leaping upward in price and the advance has only started. Water from mountain streams is the purest, timber the finest and climate the most perfect in Uncle Sam's domain. Power plants are springing up along the channels of silvery torrents to develop electrical energy for mines and mills and interurban railways. Fish abound in the rivers, game in the forests and health and joy in the atmosphere. There are no cyclones here or pestiferous insects to endangerlife, or make it a burden.

I want Eastern connections and help, financial and otherwise, to seize opportunities that surround this picturesque city of Baker. The returns will be out of all proportion to the help extended. The opportunities are along the lines of vegetable fruit, hay, grain, stock, timber, and mineral lands. There are fortunes in all these. Some mines in this vicinity have record outputs in gold, running into the millions. Yet the country, overlying the mineral deposits of Baker County, has hardly been scratched.

On a ledge of free gold bearing quartz two miles in length I made a test of 600 tons of ore taken at a depth of only a hundred feet and got over $2000.00 out of it. The mint returns passed through the Ottinger National Bank here.

Among other things, I need money, right now, to begin the MANUFACTURE OF GOLD out of this immense ore body. The shares of the Timber Canyon Mines Company, which OWNS this property, and of which I am secretary have an intrinsic value of at least 50 cents a share based on a conservative valuation of the property and the amount of stock issued.

I will deliver on order, with draft attached, up to 50,000 shares of this stock at 25 cents a share, NET. The full amount of the purchase price will go back in dividends inside of 12 months. Take a block of this as a starter, and get in step with this Eldorado of the West. If there is anything else out here that I can do for you, or you can do for me,—WRITE ME.

Yours for business, and MONEY for both of us.

THE NEW GOLDEN BUCKET

A few years ago, the recovery of Gold from auriferous grounds and subaqueous beds, was considered impossible. The "Pan" and "grizzly:", operated by hand, appeared to be the sole method of recovering values. It was during this period that Dr. Linderman, Director of the United States Mint expressed the opinion that he who, could devise a machine, without adding proportionately to the cost of production, capable of saving 50 per cent. of all the placer gold, would not only enrich himself, but within the lives of men still living, would double the world's available gold bullion. The Director of the United States Mint further said.—"WE CAN HARDLY HOPE FOR THIS, THOUGH NO MAN DARE SAY IT IS IMPOSSIBLE."

The perfected modern Dredge, is to-day a substantial reality. Allowing for delays in shifting, for necessary repairs, etc., the Gold Dredge runs on an average about 16 hours out of twenty-four, thus making up in length of working day, loss of operation during winter months. These Dredges are operated in ready made mining areas, recovering millions of dollars annually, at the lowest possible cost.

The Director of the Mint of the United States in his report for 1909 says:

"The Gold Dredge makes money where a coolie would starve."

Outing Magazine: "When you think that bold inventive talent, has been able to devise machinery that makes it profitable to extract ten cents worth of gold from a ton of earth, the enterprise becomes one of the romances of American industry."

"A chain of powerful buckets bite into the earth, each bringing up a tremendous quantity of earth and gravel. These are subjected to screen treatment and the gold recovered."

California in 45 years, within radius of less than ten miles of placer ground, produced $200,000,000 in gold. To-day the vast number of Modern Dredges working over old ground are recovering millions annually.

from Bro. Pencil Shover Craig.) But he is passed away. (A quiet sob from Boneyard Smith. The blight and the mildew struck him and he faded, and only now and then, as you see a game of poker, do you hear his name referred to. (Prolonged cheers.)

"But I did not come here to take up the time of this meeting. (Applause.) I simply desired to present you with a few gems from my oratorial album, and to say to you that hereafter I can be found at George Graham's commodious hotel, where I shall be ready at all times to cure bunyons, cracked heels, and sore toes, and deliver my full lecture at the low price of 25 cents a head—children free."

For fully two minutes there was a dead silence, then Bro. Tiedup Garley gave a cheer that cracked seven lamp chimneys, and released 43 chunks of plaster from the ceiling.

During a discussion in the Club some time since on the question of preserving fall vegetables, Bro. Jim Davidson, a former member from Smith, announced that pumpkins, after being treated to two coats of varnish, could be kept for several years. Bro. Anvil McCann, of Douro, chairman of the Committee on Agriculture, was instructed to treat several pumpkins in this manner and report progress to the club. At this meeting he announced his readiness to report and said:

"The next time this Club wants to waste varnish it had better pour it down a rat hole. It took just a quart to a pumpkin. The first week there was no great change in the pumpkins, but during the second week two of them showed signs of the measels—one turned wrong side out, and the other two kind of turn-

THE CLOSE.

The hour for closing having arrived, the president rolled up his eyes and said:

"If Bro. Josephus will kindly wake up Bro. Croft, we will close the meeting. You will all remember, gentlemen, that the greatest voice don't sink the deepest into the heart. big words may shut the other man up, but it won't convince him. One kind word is worth more than a pleasant day, while a pound of crackers and about half a pound of cheese will put more heart into a poor man than all the promises ever made, on the eve of an election. We will now press out into the cold and cruel world and seek our respective homes."

Tell Some Sick One

It Is Free If It Fails.

Will you do me one of kindness?

Will you tell some sick friend of ours, or neighbor to call?

Tell him or her, that you have learned of a medicine or remedy that for many days, yea for months, has consistently and unconditionally won in Minard's Liniment and its popularity.

For 30 years it has been the standard remedy for Stomach, Kidney and Heart ailments everywhere in America.

When the "inside" or controlling nerves of some vital organs begin to fail, it is Dr. Shoop's Restorative that has quickly vitalized, and thereafter, used through these nerves and organs built up health.

I do not know the Stomach, nor ailments the Heart or Kidneys—for that is all wrong.

Dr. Shoop's Restorative goes direct to the cause of these ailments—the failing, inherited, feeble or controlling nerves. And herein lies the secret to my success.

When these nerves are again made well and strong, then that is the sensible end of all such ailments.

To me it is a great satisfaction, when I see the sufferer take a step on the road to health, to know my remedies are for him to depend on. If it fails to help you, the druggist explains it without word or question.

Then only should the sick make any changes on any other conditions, unless another always sent back it just as I do my this remarkable offer!

I also have a Restorative Remedy—and that especially for women—which I prepare in my own laboratory from my own prescriptions.

Should you want more than to consult me free of all, send for my free book on the sick. In this book I show you the reasons for my confidence in my remedies.

Perhaps a trial of my Restorative will show you what it will do. If you think it worth while, I will send you a sample bottle free. Or if you think it worth your while to write for my book, do so.

Do not you owe it to yourself to at once. Take the first step to-day. Write me a postal now.

I will have no business unless I first help you to whom you can conscientiously go for the help they need.

You have only to ask for the order, for all that also we send to all parts of the world. Do not neglect your health. Address Dr. Shoop, Box 5, Racine, Wis.

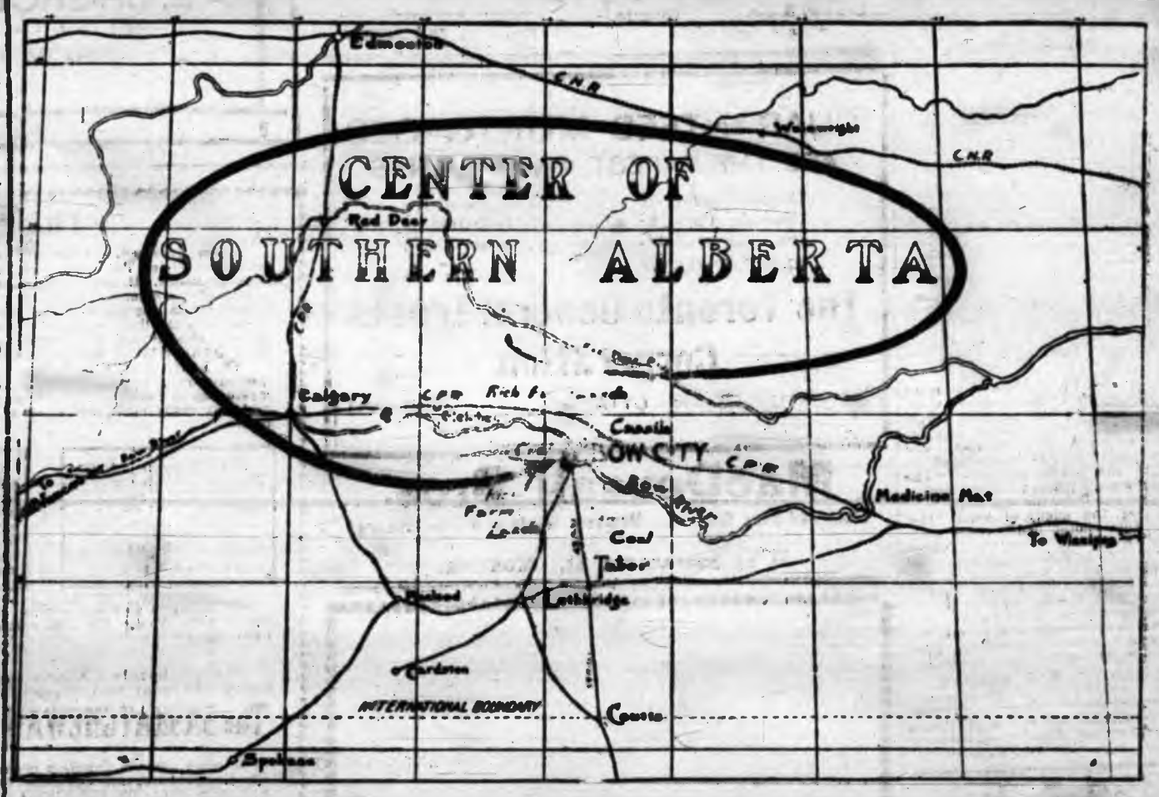
Bow City

The Metropolis of Southern Alberta

Situated in the centre of Southern Alberta, and on the famous Bow River, at the intersection of two projected railways, is Bow City—the logical location for a great commercial and industrial city.

Bow City is surrounded by thousands of acres of broad, open, fertile prairie land, while the city itself is immediately above one of the richest beds of bituminods coal ever unearthed in the Western Provinces.

The Bow Centre Collieries, Limited, are now developing their coal lands at Bow City. This gigantic corporation will, through the operation of their coal lands, eventually give employment to some 1,500 miners the whole year round—these miners will form the basis for a most prosperous town, while the thousands of prosperous farmers in the immediate vicinity of Bow City, will naturally establish a market and purchasing depot, equally as prominent and as important as Winnipeg, Calgary or Edmonton.



Bow City has a future; it is the point in the Western prairies endowed by nature with all the natural resources which go towards laying the foundation for a great city.

The map reproduced herewith is taken from the Government survey, and gives you the true location of Bow City.

You will see that it is twelve miles from the main line of the C. P. R.

Bow City is to be the headquarters of the Bow River Railway Company's lines of railway operating south of the C. P. R. main line and to the United States boundary, tapping, as they will, the richest farming lands in the Province of Alberta.

The farmers in the vicinity of Bow City have no fear of drought, since the great C. P. R. irrigation system completely envelopes the whole district, thereby supplying water in dry seasons, insuring the maximum growth of crops at all times.

There is only one Bow City—there will never be another in our Western heritage. It will be too late for you to apply for ground-floor prices in lots in Bow City a few days hence. This great coal mining and farming townsite will be sold of the market in the immediate future.

If you act promptly, you can buy lots in Bow City at prices which prevailed in Calgary, Edmonton, Regina, Brandon and other great points in the Western prairies five years ago.

A 50-dollar lot in Bow City, judging from the experience in other cities, should be worth and sell for $250 to $300 in four years' time. This means that those who take advantage of this advertising announcement, and make application at once for a $50 lot, remitting by the same mail ten per cent.—$5, will be allotted a $50 lot close in.

Remember, the terms of Bow City are:—Ten per cent. cash, balance ten per cent. per month; or, one quarter cash and balance one-quarter each three months. Where all is remitted, a discount of ten per cent. will be allowed.

Plans of the Bow City townsite, price list and full particulars may be had on application to the Sub-Agents or General Agents of the Bow City Townsite.

HIS AND HERS.

Isn't it surprising what a lot of good bargains are offered to a man when he's broke.

The Review remarks that one half the world does not know how the other half lives. But this q. l. might bother that the feminine half makes a strenuous effort to find out.

The Examiner always argues as if there were only two sides to every question it advocates. Its own side and the wrong side.

That hollow sound you hear emanates from the city treasurer's money vaults.

While not madly optimistic, this great family journal is still hanging the hope that some alderman may be struck with the idea that the time has arrived when the boosting of taxes must cease.

The university exams have recently been announced, and many young ladies have secured the coveted B.A. There is just one other degree which some of them aspire to and that is Ma.

Very Sudden Death of Mr. P. Downham

Dropped Dead at the Office of His Creamery on Saturday Afternoon

A terribly sudden and sad death occurred on Saturday evening when Mr. Peter Downham of 417 Stewart street, passed away. It seems that Mr. Downham, owner of the Peterborough Creamery on Aylmer Stf. at noon had complained of feeling ill. During the afternoon he was out for a drive in his automobile. At about six o'clock Mr. Downham returned to his office on Aylmer street and just after conducting a conversation over the telephone dropped over dying in a few minutes. The cause of death is given by the doctor as heart disease.

The late Mr. Downham was well and favorably known throughout the whole Province, especially among those interested in the dairy and creamery business. He was born in England 54 years ago, and has been engaged in the creamery business a. St. Thomas, Ont. Mr. Downham was a respected member of the congregation of Murray street Baptist church. The remains will be taken by the early C.P.R. train to London Ont., for interment.

Besides his widow, Mr. Downham leaves to mourn his loss one son, Walter and a daughter, Mrs. Alice Powell, both of London, Ont.

Proclaims His Defiance of the U. S.

San Just Del Sur., Nicaragua, June 25.—President Madrix today proclaimed his defiance of the United States by handing to the American consul at Managua the following note for transmission to Secretary Knox at Washington: "According to international law no neutral government may impede or disturb in time of war the legitimate military operations of belligerents. Foreigners equally with natives, are subject to the contingencies of the operation and consequently I cannot consider legal the act of American marines in stopping the operations of our army against Bluefields.

"Regarding the departure of the Venus from New Orleans, I am convinced this has been no violation of the United States laws, furthermore the papers handed to her at the said port only obliged the ship to observe neutrality during the voyage up to the conclusion of the voyage for which the papers were given and the entrance of the vessel into a foreign port, where the flag was changed, according to the Nicaraguan laws.

"The United States authorities have nothing to do with the ultimate question of a ship which was possessed and still possesses the right to execute all warlike operations, including a blockade.

"I omit for the present reference to the other points in Mr. Knox's note but desire to make it known that were it not for the intervention of the American naval authorities as detailed in my cable to President Taft, Bluefields would have been taken, the revolution defeated and Nicaragua pacified."

DROVE GIRL AROUND COUNTRY.

How the Young Man is Charged With Abduction.

St. Catharines, June 24.— After two weeks spent in peregrinating about Welland county with a horse and buggy taken from the girl's father, Eli Minchiner and Miss Emma Kramer, who eloped from their homes at Gas Line, have turned up in Welland. Yesterday Michiner was charged at Welland with abduction. The case is still in progress.

The pair had become so browned and ragged when they entered Welland that linemen took them for gypsies.

Woman Won Race.

London, June 24.—Mrs. Assheton Harbored today won the title of champion balloonist of England by travelling 115 miles in a race that started from Hurlingham. Mrs. Harbored covered thirty miles more than any of her opponents in the race, descending at Beccles. At times she rose to a height of 7,000 feet, and when the balloon descended she was on the verge of collapse from cold, having to be assisted from the car.

Election Day in Mexico.

City of Mexico, June 25.—In every part of the republic extraordinary precautions have been taken by the government to prevent riots or other disorderly demonstrations in today's presidential primary elections. In the pre-election campaign anti-administration riots have been frequent in many parts of the country. The action of President Diaz in practically forcing the nomination of Ramon Corral to the vice presidency and the treatment accorded Francesco I. Madero, the anti-Diaz candidate, have increased the fury of the opposition and an attempt at open rebellion would not be surprising.

PAID OVER $6,000 FINE.

Hudson Bay Company's Second Heavy Penalty—Long Search By Disguised Officers.

Toronto, June 24.—Disguised as prospectors, a member of the Provincial police and a fire ranger, after a search of several weeks in the wilds of the north shore of Lake Superior, discovered and seized a large cargo of valuable furs which the Hudson Bay Co., was shipping to James' Bay by a circuitous route to avoid the railway transportation. The company was summoned before W. O'Brien, police magistrate at Port Arthur, on the charge of having these illegally in its possession, and a fine of $6,000 was imposed. The costs of the long trail amounted to $367.56, bringing the total amount to $6,067.56. The furs consisted of 78 otter, 195 beaver and 1,980 musk rat, and were valued at $6,000. This was the report received by the superintendent of the police, Mr. J. T. Rogers, this morning.

The central office had an inkling that there was a lot of furs cached on the C.P.R. line, which the Hudson Bay Co., intended to ship by the water route by the English river to James' Bay, instead of sending by rail. Constable Symons was detailed along with a local fire ranger, to follow the clue. The English River was full of ice at the time, and it was decided to work nearer the station of the company at Mpatizmabert. The two men set out disguised as prospectors, and searched a small island where they heard the furs were cached. They were not there, and, to divert suspicion, they shipped back their canoe to Port Arthur and took the train for forty miles. Returning by a freight, they secured another canoe, and paddled across a lake to a small river along which the furs must be taken in their long trip to Hudson Bay. The atmosphere was so clear, however, that it was impossible to light a camp fire. However, they subsisted as best they could, and on the third day a canoe came in sight paddled by two Indians. The cargo of furs was confiscated, and on one of the Indians a search discovered a letter written by R. C. Wilson, the factor at Montizambert, to the manager of the company at the English River post. In this he stated that the furs were not properly packed, as they had to be sent out in a hurry, being afraid of seizure.

As a result of this evidence the charge was laid. The company was fined over $6,000 a few months ago on a similar charge, and will appeal the case.

Big Military Display.

Chicago, June 25.—A military carnival which is expected to eclipse all previous affairs of its kind in the United States will open in Chicago, Tuesday. An entire division of the United States army will be encamped in Grand Park and military manoeuvers and spectacles will continue daily until July 14.

GERMANY VS. FRANCE.

There has descended upon France something as serious as a plague. During the past year the births in that country have decreased by 22,000. The increase of the whole population is only three millions, while that of Germany is thirty-three millions. Looked at from a Canadian point of view, it is not to be wondered at that we have the Germans coming into our country by the hundred at a time, while French immigrants cannot be counted even by the dozen.

DARING DEEDS OF DESPERATE BANDITS--SIX MEN WERE KILLED

FOUGHT A RUNNING BATTLE THROUGH THE STREETS.

Were Pursued by Police and Citizens in Automobiles and Wagons — Four Killed and One Wounded.

Lynn, Mass., June 25.—Four men were killed and one wounded here today as the result of the most daring hold-up ever committed in New England. Three bandits killed two victims in the heart of the city, and fled with a valise containing between $4,000 and $5,000. Two of the three fugitives were shot to death in a bloody trail through the streets. The third was wounded and captured.

The dead are:

Thos. Landragen, shoe manufacturer, who carried the satchel, shot by highwaymen, and almost instantly killed.

Policeman Thomas Carroll, who accompanied Landragen, shot by highwaymen: died in hospital.

Abe Abeson of New York, bandit, shot and instantly killed by policemen who pursued him.

Unidentified bandit, who was either shot by the pursuing policemen or committed suicide. Several bullet holes are in the body.

The third bandit, Bill Katanski of Boston, is under arrest, shot through the hand. All the money was recovered.

After the dash through the heart of the crowded city, with a dozen or more revolvers crashing, in a running battle that outrivaled the wild west days of the far west, one of the fleeing men was seen to falter and then drop to the ground, while a second latter another of his companions dropped.

Both were fatally shot and lived but a short time. When the third man was wounded, he surrendered.

CARRIED THE PAY ROLL.

Mr. Landragen and Policeman Carroll were on their way from the Lynn National Bank to the shoe factory of Walsh & Landragen, with the money. It was obtained for the weekly payroll. It is believed that the men saw them get it and dogged their steps.

Suddenly there appeared in the street in front of them a man with a revolver, which he began firing at once. He was accompanied by one or two others; but it was that one man did all the shooting.

Both men fell to the street. The men grabbed the satchel containing the money and fled.

DIED INSTANTLY.

Landragen died almost immediately. He was 46 years old, married, junior partner of the firm, and one of the best-known men in Lynn. It was found that Carroll was still alive. He was hurried to the hospital. The doctors found that he had been badly shot and that he would probably die.

As the crowd followed the bandits toward Essex, they turned in the direction of Salem. The men with the money were seen to take the bills from the bag and drop the satchel with the silver in it.

PURSUED IN AUTOMOBILES.

As the men fled toward Salem the police took up the pursuit in automobiles. They were joined by volunteers on bicycles, in wagons and in other automobiles.

When they had whizzed out to Ford street they caught sight of two of the fugitives about a mile distance from where the robbery happened.

The policemen opened fire on the two men. The bandits returned it. Capt. Rower cried out to the men:

"Surrender or you will be shot dead."

One of the men held up both of his hands. He was immediately grabbed and lifted into one of the automobiles. It was found that his right hand had been wounded. He gave his name as Katanski.

A short distance from the spot where Katanski was captured the body of one of his companions was found with four or five bullet holes. One of the wounds was in his head, and it led the police to the belief that seeing capture was inevitable, he turned his weapon upon himself.

Policemen Thompson and Grady got into the chase by impressing a two-horse wagon into service. They had reached the wooded section in the vicinity of Ford street, when they were startled by a shot fired from the bushes. The bullet whizzed through the wagon, narrowly escaping hitting one of the policemen.

FIRED FROM BUSHES.

Thompson and Grady trained their revolvers upon the bushes, firing shot after shot until they saw that the bandits had dropped and had ceased to return their fire. They ran forward, gathered the wounded man into the wagon and took him to the Lynn hospital. He gave the names of Abeson and Abstein.

One of the bandits, in making his escape, stole a horse saddled in front of the residence of Chas. A. Baker. The bandit leaped into the saddle and galloped away, while the other two men fired a volley of shot at the crowd that was chasing them.

Insanity is Plea for Murderer McLachlan

Toronto, June 25.—Is Archibald McLachlan, wife murderer, insane.

With this query as the chief basis of his appeal, A. W. Henderson of the legal firm of Robinette, Godfrey, Phalen & Henderson, who conducted McLachlan's defence, made application to the department of justice at Ottawa on Saturday to have McLachlan examined by physicians to determine his sanity. Mr. Henderson says that since his conviction, peculiar features have been noticed, which lead him to believe that his client is not and was not at the time the crime was committed mentally responsible.

In a lengthy letter despatched to the minister of justice, there are further facts set out in a plea to stay or commute the death sentence. Among these is set out the submission that the evidence in the case was purely circumstantial.

Thirty-Seven Killed in Mexican Wreck

Mexico City, June 24.—Thirty-seven persons were killed and as many more injured yesterday in the wreck of a troop train on the Manzanille line of the National Railway in the State of Colima.

Four cars of the train broke away from the locomotive and dashed down a steep grade, jumping the track at a terrific speed.

There were about 150 men in the four cars. Many jumped before the cars gained headway, and thus saved their lives.

The dead include a number of soldiers, five officers and members of their families.

Engineer Watson, an American, and Conductor Martinez, a Mexican, were arrested by the authorities, are now in jail at Zapitico pending investigation.

Two Bodies Found At Niagara Falls

Niagara Falls, Ont., June 24. — About seven o'clock this morning two bodies of men were taken from the Niagara River at the Canadian Maid of the Mist landing by John Thomas and William Burns. They were removed to Morse's morgue and Coroner Thompson was placed in charge.

The body of one man was without clothing of small stature, about 5 feet seven inches, grey hair, and with a bald spot on the back of the head.

The other man was of heavy build, about 5 feet 8 inches, dressed in fleece-lined underwear, and soft shirt, on which was the laundry mark, "O.N." He wore low black shoes, no socks. There were no other marks of identification.

The bodies had not been in the water very long.

CANADA'S CASE WELL HANDLED AT FISHERIES ARBITRATION

SOME OF THE FEATURES OF THE OPENING SESSION.

The North Atlantic Fisheries Arbitration is Now at Work in Real Earnest—Is of Much Importance to Canada.

The Hague, June 13.—The North Atlantic fisheries arbitration is now at work in real earnest and, as the result is of so much importance to Canada, a few words descriptive of the great court and its method of work may be interesting to the people at home.

When the great Austrian, Heinrich Lammasch, delivered his opening address to the assembly of lawyers, statesmen and diplomats of the two leading nations of the world, it was an occasion long to be remembered.

Hundreds of millions of dollars are involved, and, to quote Baron Michiels van Verduynen, secretary-general of the court, it exceeds in importance any case ever submitted for peaceful arbitration.

Instead of admirals and generals, supported by lines of battleships and soldiers representing the two countries, settling the dispute by war, another method was adopted, and there appeared before the great peace court two rows of selfeted men to battle for the rights of their countries, in another way, a more modern way; and though there was absolute silence, no word being uttered except the president's opening address on the first day, one could easily see the two sides were serious and were soon to engage on a legal battle, where brains, equal to that of admirals and generals, would fight to win.

Two of England's greatest lawyers Sir William Robertson and Sir Robert Finlay, each of whom has held office as attorney-general of England, are the leaders of the English section, supported by a large array of English counsel. Our own Canadian, Hon. A. B. Aylesworth minister of justice, as agent for Great Britain, Canada and Newfoundland, has charge of the whole case, and sits right beside Sir Robert Finlay. Mr. Shepley, K.C., Mr. Ewart, K.C., and Mr. Tilley sit directly in front of the bench, in the Canadian section, and give the court a Canadian section.

The counsel are arrayed in sections, Great Britain in strong numbers, then the Canadian section and the Newfoundland section.

The opening address had been carefully prepared and printed. No word appears to be uttered without consideration, lest some incautious remark might imperil the friendly spirit which seems to animate all concerned.

SIR ROBERT FINLAY.

Proceedings adjourned on June 1 until the following Monday, when Sir Robert Finlay was invited to open for Great Britain. He has been speaking now for six days and has not finished. His address so far has been historical of the fishery conditions prevailing since long prior to the war of independence. The feature of his address is his wonderful command of language, which excites admiration. His address, without editing, is a regular blue book, and it will be a surprise to some Canadian counsel to know that even in so great a case as this he avoids every attempt at flowery eloquence, and simply never repeats what he has said. Instead of attempting to drive home by repetition the most material points, he says what he has to say quietly and forcibly, and says it only once. This actually adds to the strength of his argument. He proceeds at an even pace each hour yielding the same number of pages. In quoting extracts he never hurries, and hour by hour he proceeds with the same clock work precision.

If Canada loses, it will not be for the want of the case being carefully prepared. Counsel on the British side outnumber the Americans two to one, and are the best the British Empire can produce for this particular issue.

To show how well the case has been mastered one needs but to watch Sir Eric Richards, K.C., who held an important post in India, but who was recalled to act in this case, and who, as the case proceeds, is able to anticipate apparently every sentence of Sir Robert's speech, and hands him the book or document just at the moment needed.

If you are not satisfied after using according to directions two-thirds of a bottle of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets, you can have your money back. Helen Keller 30 Years Old.

Boston, June 27.—Miss Helen Keller, whose intellectual achievements have made her name familiar through the English-speaking world, is receiving many congratulations and good wishes on her thirtieth birthday. Though unable to speak, to see or to hear, Miss Keller completed a four years' course at Radcliffe college and is remarkably well versed in all the higher branches of learning.

Mr. Harold Hill is a patient at St. Joseph's Hospital, for a minor operation.

Great Funeral Dinner in Memory of King

Calcutta, June 25.—The Hindu demonstration in memory of King Edward closed on last Sunday with a peculiarly Hindu ceremony. Nearly 20,000 poor were fed, seated in two rows on each side of the public streets for over a mile.

The menu consisted of a delicious and sumptuous Bengalee dinner. The Maharajah of Darbhanga acted as president, and the dinner concluded with the gift of a piece of cloth to every person. The ceremony passed off without a hitch.

The chief justice and other prominent English residents visited the scene and the streets were crowded with tens of thousands of spectators. The poor dispersed shouting: "Glory to the British Raj."

Manitoba Grain Men are Optimistic---The Rain Helps Crop

Winnipeg, June 25.—Hot Weather which has been the feature of the past fortnight promises to continue over the week end.

Plentiful thunder showers, accompanied in some instances by damaging storms have, however, visited most of those districts reporting lack of moisture and around the grain exchange the general view of the Manitoba crop is distinctly optimistic.

Encouraging reports are also received from the western provinces.

It is not denied, however, that later grains on light lands has suffered by extreme heat.

NEARS BREAK WITH VATICAN.

Spain on Verge of Rupture of Relations With Rome.

Madrid, June 27.—It is believed that a rupture is imminent in the negotiations between the government and the Vatican on the subject of the church and non Catholic religious societies. Premier Canalejas has received a summary of the Vatican reply to his proposals, and has had a conference with the king to discuss future action. It is understood the reply is unsatisfactory.

A scientific note recently issued intimated that if the vatican insisted on coupling its protest against the royal decree of June 11 with the negotiations to revise the Concordat, the government would be obliged to break off all negotiations. Prior to the issuance of this note, the premier declared in the chamber of deputies that the government was resolved to live up to the constitution and settle the religious question from the standpoint of reform.

At a meeting of the Catholic Defense Society it was announced that before the policies outlined in the speech from the throne were permitted to become a law Spain would have to undergo a perilous crisis, as Catholics preferred civil war to the laic school system.

FARMER TELLS INTERESTING STORY.

Whether Sick or Well, in Good Weather or in Stormy, He is Obliged to Work Always.

Market people complain about prices they have to pay for farm produce. They forget that rain or shine, warm or cold, the farmer must keep at it or else the narrow profit, his bare living, will be lost to him.

A well-known Haldimand farmer, Mr. J. P. Pelletier, writes; "For nearly three years I was in poor health. A drenching storm caught me in the fields, and wet me to the skin. I got home only to find I was threatened with inflammation of the bowels. I never got over it and felt weak and heavy and my system never worked right. But a farmer has to work—and I found myself going down hill with stomach, liver and kidney troubles. Failure seemed to follow everything. I remained wretched and sick until advised to use Dr. Hamilton's Pills. It is not easy to describe the sort of feeling a sick man gets when he strikes a medicine that he can see is doing him a lot of good. I was overjoyed— Hamilton's Pills put new life into me and everything worked right. Since cured with Dr. Hamilton's Pills I haven't had a single symptom or stomach, liver or kidney trouble. I am free from headaches, languor and weakness, as strong, robust as a man could be." No better medicine for general family use than Dr. Hamilton's Pills. They are mild, healthful and certain to cure. Sold in yellow 25c boxes, all dealers, or The Catarrhozone Co., Kingston, Ont.

Chimes for 57th Batt. Band.

Regiment for the 57th Regiment Next Friday's open air concert at Victoria Park will be particularly interesting as the chimes for the 57th Band, which have arrived, will be used there for the first time in public. The chimes which are similar to those used by the leading military bands in England have a sweet tone and deep volume. They will be played by Mr. Patterson, bandsman of long experience in the old country. With this recent addition to their regular instruments the 57th Band will now furnish even better music than that which has so often delighted our citizens.

Yesterday was Flower Sunday in the George street Methodist church. At the evening service Rev. F. A. Pearson preached his farewell sermon, previous to leaving for his new charge in Hamilton.

If you would have a safe yet certain Cough Remedy in the home, try Dr. Shoop's—at least once. It is thoroughly unlike any other Cough preparation. Its taste will be entirely new to you—unless it is already your favorite Cough Remedy. No opium, chloroform, or any other stupefying ingredients are used. The tender leaves of a harmless, lung-healing mountainous shrub, give to Dr. Shoop's Cough Remedy its wonderful curative properties. It is truly a most certain and trustworthy prescription. Sold by all dealers.

PRINTERS' PICNIC.

A Splendid Outing at Cobourg on Saturday.

The members of the craft of the local newspaper offices and their friends to the number of about 300, journeyed to Cobourg on Saturday afternoon and spent a most pleasant few hours in that pretty lakeside town. Although the crowd was not quite as large as anticipated it was one of the merriest and most respectable that ever left Peterborough. There was nothing to mar the pleasure of the picnicers, every person being bent on having a good time. The local printers were complimented by many of the Cobourg citizens on the way the excursionists conducted themselves. The "Prints" and their friends left a good impression upon the Cobourg citizens who impressed upon the committee in charge that ere long they would be pleased to have them visit their town again.

The train left Peterborough about 1.35 p.m., and reached Cobourg about 3, and the merrymakers journey to Victoria Park and started in to make things lively. A number of former Peterborough citizens now residing in Rochester, came over the lake on the big ferry and spent a pleasant hour. The Cobourg citizens joined in with the excursionists and entered into the programme of sports carrying off a number of the prizes. The excursionists returned about 11.30.

An Important Business Change

An important business change has been made in the ownership of the Peterborough Street Railway Company. As is generally known an important syndicate has been formed to operate the power produced at Healey Falls. This syndicate has purchased the interests of the Peterborough Light & Power Company in connection with the electric lighting and gas manufacture.

They have also purchased the Auburn dam and power privilege and will very shortly begin improvement and extensive operations in the form of a new concrete dam at Auburn. It is reported that a power house will be erected near the Grand Trunk Railway bridge and that a raceway connecting with the dam will be constructed on the west side of the river.

The same syndicate has also purchased the Burleigh Falls Power and the Peterborough Street Railway.

It is said to be the intention of this syndicate to erect an electrical transmission line from Healey Falls to Peterborough, and also that several miles of new railway will be built in Peterborough and immediate vicinity this year.

Teachers' Convention.

Boston, June 27.—Towards the end of the week Boston will be invaded by a great army of teachers who will assemble from every part of the country for the annual convention of the National Educational Association. Preparations for the entertainment of the visitors are being made on an unusually elaborate scale and it is expected the convention will be the largest and most notable in the history of the association.

VALUE OF SWIMMING.

A swimming class for boys, which at St. Mary's is conducted by the Y. M. C. A., is one other institution in an undertaking in which parents and boys alike should give ready assent. Outside of the pleasure of the sport, it has an important value in physical development—more than is generally recognized.

In several of the older countries, and particularly in England, swimming has for years been taught in many of the schools and colleges, it has become a national pastime, and aquatic sport that has received the attention and patronage of royalty. The Royal Life Saving Society of Great Britain was established as an outgrowth of swimming throughout the British Isles, and so enthusiastic are the people over the training that largely attended carnivals are held each year, when expert feats are performed and medals awarded. In Australia, also, swimming has won a first place in the mind of the Commonwealth.

When the number of deaths that occur annually in Canadian waters is considered, we begin to realize what an important part of education swimming should be.

The statement unfortunately is often made that persons are drowned even though they are good swimmers. In the majority of cases this is an absurdity. There are few persons in inland places who can swim well. To be able to paddle a few rods in the water is only the primary start in the art. A good swimmer is as safe in water as he is on land, even though he takes cramps, for he knows enough to float or to swim with his arms if his legs become useless. The danger comes in the boys fancying they are expert swimmers before they know little more than the first principles. It takes years to become an adept in water, but that adept need not fear in ninety-nine cases out of a hundred.

If it is possible, therefore, to acquire such knowledge of swimming as to be able to save your own life and that of others—the latter is easy likewise to anyone being acquainted with life-saving methods—why should not our boys give more attention to the training?

Nor should the boys alone learn. It is quite as easy, quite as necessary and quite as valuable for girls to swim. The time will, no doubt come when both will be taught in city schools.

A MISLEADING ANALOGY.

Gerard Fiennes, described as one of England's foremost naval experts, writes in the Graphic that "Japan will, in the last analysis, fight the United States very much for the reason that prompted Bismark to fight France."

Historical analogies are unsafe things to handle. Germany attacked France with the almost absolute assurance of a speedy victory. Not only so, but Bismark knew that after the war that France would be so crippled and Germany so strengthened that Revenge would be practically out of the question. Even the underestimated the financial resources of France, but events showed that he was warranted in believing that the union of Germany, the enlargement of its territory by conquest and its remarkable industrial development would give his country an overwhelming and increasing advantage.

While all must admire the courage and recuperative power of France, and the splendid thrift shown in the development of its limited resources, it is absurd to compare such a country as to its power of resistance, with the United States. The United States are now practically upon a peace footing. An attack by Japan would turn into the raising of fleets and armies the tremendous energy now devoted to commerce and industry. Japan, owing to superior military organization, may probably gain some victories at the outset, and might even capture the Philippine Islands; but in the long run the vastly superior resources of the United States would give an overwhelming advantage. A temporary victory would be dearly bought at the cost of incurring the deadly enmity of a nation which could easily build three ships for Japan's one, and turn out all the munitions of war at a rate which would speedily bankrupt the smaller power.

THE POLITICAL MEMORY.

One of the first aids to political success is the faculty of remembering, or appearing to remember, names and faces, an accomplishment of Sir John A. Macdonald's which won him friends wherever he went. It is said that his feats of memory were sometimes due to judicious prompting, but in the main they were undoubtedly the result of a special and highly cultivated faculty which only one person in thousands possesses. Theodore Roosevelt is said to be one of these fortunate men, but his memory failed him in at least one instance during the reception tendered him at New York. Says a report of the proceedings:

Capt. Cosby of the Rought Riders was an eager, if not always an accurate announcer. Among the first in line was Clement A. Driscoll, recently appointed by Mayor Gaynor to the bureau of weights and measures. "Mr. Driscoll of Washington," announced Capt. Cosby.

"Ah, old fellow, delighted to see you again!" exclaimed the colonel, pumping his arm vigorously.

"Say," said Clement a few minutes after, what do you think of that for a bunk? He never saw me before."

But Colonel Roosevelt probably knows that it is better to err on the side of remembering a man whom he has never met, than to forget one whom he has.

Throughout the English speaking world many memorials of different kinds will be erected in the next few years in honor of the memory of the late King Edward. None will be more symbolical of sovereign worship than those memorials which combine usefulness with effect in design and architecture.

The British residents of Pittsburg are almost radical in what they are research laboratory which will be endowed. It is indeed a distant departure from the conventional type of statues, columns, chapels, marble arches and public buildings, but it will putting up—namely, a tuberculosis meet a better purpose in as much as amelioration of the great ill consumption. If there were there memorials of this kind erected they would serve better modern ideas of human progress.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured.

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and the tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

$400 YEARLY FROM A $40 INVESTMENT

Order son the Incredible, It is a Fact, However.

I have under control 10,000 acres of the richest bottom land in the State of Georgia. This land costs the Syndicate $12.50 per acre, with the timber on it. The timber can be sold for $7.50 per acre. I want to put 1,000 acres of this land into Cotton cultivation which will not with cotton at 10 cents a pound, $64,000 from the first crop. Cotton is now selling at 15 cents per pound. At this price the land would produce $105,000. It will take $40,000 to put this first 1,000 acres under cultivation. I want 200 people, more or less, to take one or more shares of a Syndicate at $40 per share, $10 down and $10 in three monthly payments. About 100 shares have been taken up in the last ten days.

The balance of the land—9,000 acres—can be put into cultivation from the receipts from the cotton crop grown on the first 1,000 acres, and besides doing this it will earn a dividend of not less than ten to twenty per cent. each year.

At the end of the fourth year the entire tract will be earning not less than $400,000 net annually. The 1,000 Syndicate shares will absolutely own the whole 10,000 acres.

SOLID COMMERCIAL FACTS ABOUT COTTON

Seven States in the Union produce 85 per cent. of the world's supply of cotton. The crop of 1909 brought $800,000,000 to planters.

If the United States were to stop the exportation of cotton for two seasons it would perplex Europe.

There is no substitute for cotton, and cotton fabrics are the most essential commodities in the world's markets.

Food and clothing constitute the absolute necessities of life. There are a thousand food bearing plants that will grow anywhere, but 60 per cent. of the world's clothing is cotton that will grow ONLY IN SEVEN STATES.

The cotton land is the safest investment in the world to-day, and Georgia Bottoms is the safest of all, for it has 300 to 400 per cent. potential value.

A warehouse receipt for a bale of cotton is worth its face value in any bank in the South.

Any cotton investment is bound to be good. The Georgia Bottom Lands is the soundest and most attractive ever presented.

Why? Because this bottom land will produce THREE BALES AT THE COST OF ONE.

If the world's industrial progress is as great in the next fifteen years as it has been in the last fifteen, Cotton must either be double in VOLUME OR QUADRUPLE IN PRICE.

A FINAL WORD

Those who join this Syndicate WILL OWN ABSOLUTELY THE WHOLE ENTERPRISE. The balance of the land can be handled from the profits or stock enough sold to take it up. I believe sincerely from my investigation that at the end of five years every $40.00 invested by a syndicate member will yield $400.00 annually. This looks like an impossibility, but the facts more than justify the belief. The first payment on the syndicate shares will be $10.00 cash with the subscription, and the balance in three equal payments, 30, 60 and 90 days.

There will be no other syndicate and this will be closed on or before June 30.

In the above I have presented facts only—it is an enterprise of unusual merit. It is a big and sound money earner from its inception. If the Syndicate is oversubscribed, I reserve the right to allot pro rata.

Should you desire further information, address me frankly and openly. The ONLY WAY TO CREATE CONFIDENCE IS TO BE WORTHY OF IT.

I have the highest testimonials as to character, business and executive ability. Write for full report, free.

A Call From Oregon
Opportunities in the Far West

The greatest industrial activity in this country is now centered in Oregon. Two of the biggest railroad systems in the U. S., with intense rivalry, are pushing branch lines into the remote portions of this State, and an exodus from the East is on in the occupation of this the LAST FRONTIER ON THE CONTINENT. Fortunes will be made here THIS YEAR—NEXT YEAR and EVERY YEAR for the next decade.

Our valleys are the most fertile in the world and irrigation projects are converting the bordering hillsides into gardens. Orchards lands are leaping upward in price and the advance has only started. Water from mountain streams is the purest, timber the finest and climate the most perfect in Uncle Sam's domain. Power plants are springing up along the channels of silvery torrents to develop electrical energy for mines and mills and interburban railways. Fish abound in the rivers, game in the forests and health and joy in the atmosphere. There are no cyclones here or pestiferous insects to endanger life, or make it a burden.

I want Eastern connections and help, financial and otherwise, to seize opportunities that surround this picturesque city of Baker. The returns will be out of all proportion to the help extended. The opportunities are along the lines of vegetable fruit, hay, grain, stock, timber, and mineral lands. There are fortunes in all these. Some mines in this vicinity have record outputs in gold, running into the millions. Yet the surface, overlying the mineral deposits of Baker County, has hardly been scratched.

On a ledge of free gold bearing quartz two miles in length I made a test of 900 tons of ore taken at a depth of only a hundred feet and got over $2000.00 out of it. The mint returns passed through the Citizen's National Bank here.

Among other things, I need money, right now, to begin the MANUFASTURE OF GOLD, out of this immense ore body. The shares of the Timber Canyon Mines Company, which OWNS this property, and of which I am secretary have an intrinsic value of at least 50 cents a share based on a conservative valuation of the property and the amount of stock issued.

I will deliver on order, with draft attached, up to 50,000 shares of this stock at 25 cents a share, NET. The full amount of the purchase price will go back in dividends inside of 10 months. Take a block of this as a starter, and get in step with this Eldorado of the West. If there is anything else out here that I can do for you, or you can do for me,—WRITE ME.

Yours for business, and MONEY for both of us,

THE NEW GOLDEN BUCKET

A few years ago, the recovery of Gold from auriferous grounds and subaqueous beds, was considered impossible. The "pan" and "grizzly:", operated by hand, appeared to be the sole method of recovering values. It was during this period that Dr. Linderman, Director of the United States Mint expressed the opinion that he who, could devise a machine, without adding proportionately to the cost of production, capable of saving 50 per cent. of all the placer gold, would not only enrich himself, but within the lives of men still living, would double the world's available gold bullion. The Director of the United States Mint further said:—"WE CAN HARDLY HOPE FOR THIS, THOUGH NO MAN DARE SAY IT IS IMPOSSIBLE."

The perfected modern Dredge, is to-day a substantial reality. Allowing for delays in shifting, for necessary repairs, etc., the Gold Dredge runs on an average about 16 hours out of twenty-four, thus making up in length of working day, loss of operation during winter months. These Dredges are operated in ready made mining areas, recovering millions of dollars annually, at the lowest possible cost.

The Director of the Mint of the United States in his report for 1909 says:

"The Gold Dredge makes money where a coolie would starve."

Outing Magazine: "When you think that bold inventive talent, has been able to devise machinery that makes it profitable to extract ten cents worth of gold from a ton of earth, the enterprise becomes one of the romances of American industry."

"A chain of powerful buckets bite into the earth, each bringing up a tremendous quantity of earth and gravel. These are subjected to screen treatment and the gold recovered."

California in 45 years, within radius of less than ten miles of placer ground, produced $200,000,000 in gold. To-day the vast number of Modern Dredges working over old ground are recovering millions annually.

ENGLAND AND HEAT.

England's Unpreparedness for the Sweltering Heat.

There are still King Canutes in England. Nowadays, however, they defy not sea-waves but heat-waves. When London swelters in hot weather, its inhabitants look the heat indignantly in the eye and bid it begone. They do not yield to it one inch. If the heat insists upon staying, it does so without their consent, and they decline to recognize its presence by a change of food and clothing. Such, at any rate, is the conclusion which might be drawn from the remarks of an editorial writer of the London Mail, who proceeds to demonstrate England's unpreparedness for hot weather as follows:

"Were I to rake out a delightfully cool suit of pongee from my trunks, and to walk down the Strand with it as I should do in similar heat in Shanghai or Colombo, I would be followed by a group of gaping, laughing youngsters. Even on the hottest day the city man is expected to wear his dark-colored clothes and his silk "topper." Our food is not prepared with a view to heat. The middle-class household that has a refrigerator is decidedly the exception, and iced drinks are so rare outside of restaurants as to be practically unknown. Ice cream, which the American girl for example, eats by the pint and dreams of by the gallon, is here served up at an exorbitant price in minute portions. Stay-at-home folk have yet to learn that to endure great heat comfortably one must leave off spirits, eat plenty of fruit, cut down one's meat, and go moderately on all food.

That is the case in a nutshell, "leave off spirits, eat plenty of fruit, cut down one's meat, and go moderately on all food." And the wee folk shoumld be dressed as lightly as the grown ups, and fed as lightly in proportion. Dr. MacMurchy's recent port on infant mortality emphasizes the danger of clothing the little tots too heavily. There is, on the other hand a danger in the iced drink which an exchange so ardently commends. Moderately cold water is quite as satisfying and more healthful.

STATUS OF THE CAT.

The Poor Dog is Feared and Denounced by Many People.

While the dog is feared, and denounced, muzzled and taxed, the cats withers are unwrung, also the cat's neck and other portions of its anatomy. Along among domesticated animals the cat lives a life of luxury and too often of crime.

The cat is deeply indebted to Shakespeare, who three centuries ago gave it a certificate of character as harmless and necessary. Following the lead of the immortal bard, a great body of literature has described the cat as engaged in the useful occupation of destroying rats and mice. Were this literature impartially examined, we believe it would be found to be largely mythical—dream and imagination, thought and experience, being fused as in the childhood of men and races.

The praise of harmlessness is probably due to the fact that the cat does no assail mankind, except with horrid nocturnal noises. It is a most persistent enemy of the bird life which so many are trying to preserve, for humane and practical reasons. Out near Jackson park the housekeeping of a pair of birds was being watched with eager interest. The nest, containing first the eggs and then the callow youngsters, was cunningly concealed, but not cunningly enough for a cat, which one night devoured both mother and family. A bird which was being carefully taught to fly by its proud parents suffered a similar fate. There can be no doubt that an immense number of insectivorous birds, as well as squirrels are destroyed in this way. Mark Twain, who loved both cats and birds, used to tie bells around the necks of his cats, and it would seem only fair to lovers of wild life, as well as to the wild things of the woods and the air that this example should be followed.

In sickness, if a certain hidden nerve goes wrong, then the organ that this nerve controls will also surely fail. It may be a Stomach nerve, or it may have given strength and support to the Heart or Kidneys. It was Dr. Shoop that first pointed to this vital truth. Dr. Shoop's Restorative was not made to dose the stomach nor to temporarily stimulate the heart of Kidneys. That old-fashioned method is all wrong. Dr. Shoop's Restorative goes directly to those failing inside nerves. The remarkable success of this prescription demonstrates the wisdom of treating the actual cause of these failing organs. And it is indeed easy to prove. A simple five or ten days' test will surely tell. Try it once, and see. Sold by all dealers.

Patriotic Service at Knox Church.

Yesterday afternoon a very interesting service was held in Knox church. Instead of the regular session of the Sunday School, a special patriotic service was held for the children. The pastor gave a patriotic address taking as his subject "Strangers within our gates." Appropriate music was furnished by the children's choir.

Mr. Ernest Haag, owner of the show, lives in Shreveport, La., where the winter quarters of the show are, and the pass-word in Shreveport is "Let us go out to the Haag Show's winter headquarters."

Remember when attending the Mighty Haag Shows you are patronizing the only southern show. Remember the day and date.

Without doubt Gulfort has never seen such a crowd of people as were here to see the Mighty Haag Railroad Shows. Both in the afternoon and evening the tents were crowded with people, and in the afternoon hundreds could not secure tickets as the ticket wagon was closed long before two o'clock. Every train during the day brought people to see the show, and long before time for the parade to make its appearance on the streets they were crowded with people anxiously awaiting it, and not one was disappointed, as Mr. Haag has spent plenty of time and money on his parade, making it second to none.

A PRESENTATION.

Handsome Gold-Headed Umbrella Given by Golden Link Lodge.

At the last session of Golden Link Rebekah Lodge, the captain of the degree team, Bro. Fred Reason, was presented with a handsome gold headed umbrella, as a slight token of the regard in which he is held by the members. Mrs. Sills made the presentation, and Mrs. Mardell, noble grand, read the following address:

Dear Bro. Reason,—The members of Golden Link Rebekah Lodge, would like to take the opportunity of expressing their appreciation of your faithful services as captain of the degree team.

The able manner in which you have by always filled this office requires no small amount of patience and sacrifice, and we feel that both these have been manifested by you on more than one occasion.

As a very slight token of our gratitude and appreciation, we would ask you to accept this umbrella.

Sciatica

EXPECTED DEATH ANY DAY.

Another Case Where Life Was Saved and Health Restored By Nerviline.

We have all read and heard of the agonies of Sciatica, but only those who have been tortured by this dread malady can fully appreciate what it must mean to be cured after years of suffering.

It is because he feels it his solemn duty to tell to the world his faith in Nerviline that Victor P. Hires makes the following declaration: "For three years I was in the Royal Mail service and in all kinds of weather had to meet the night trains. Dampness, cold and exposure brought on sciatica that affected my left side. Sometimes an attack would come on that made me powerless to work. I was so nearly a cripple that I had to give up my job. I was in despair, completely cast down because the money I spent on trying to get well was completely wasted. I was speaking to my chemist one day, and he recommended Nerviline. I had this good liniment rubbed on several times a day and got relief. In order to build up my general CURED health and improve my blood I used Ferrozone, SIX one tablet with each meal I continued this treat- YEARS. ment four months and was cured. I have used all kinds of liniments, and can truthfully say that Nerviline is far stronger, more penetrating, and infinitely better than anything else for relieving pain. I urge everyone with lumbago, neuralgia, rheumatism or sciatica to use Nerviline. I know it will, cure you."

There isn't a more highly esteemed man in Westchester than Mr. Hires. What he says can be relied upon. For six years since being cured he hasn't had a single relapse. Don't accept anything from your dealer but "Nerviline." 25 cents per bottle or five for $1. Sold everywhere or the Catarrhozone Co., Kingston.

Cholera Scourge Sweeps Over Russia Dying by Thousand

Southern Russia Stands Aghast at the Plague Now Raging---6,000 Persons Stricken--Physicians in Panic

Odessa, June 27.—With between 5000 and 6000 persons already stricken, forty per cent. of the cases proving fatal, and the scourge sweeping over the land like wildfire, southern Russia is today confronted by a cholera plague that rivals in horror the frightful visitations that periodically decimated Europe centuries ago.

DOCTORS WORKED TO DEATH.

Physicians themselves are in a panic. Overwhelmed with the call on them, hundreds have succumbed to overwork, and the disease itself in the cities in the southern district. Frost alone can save the country from semi-depopulation as the result of deaths and exodus from fright, declare the health authorities, and frost, under normal conditions, is months away.

1,000 CASES IN A WEEK.

General demoralization makes accurate statistics as to the spread of the disease impossible. About 1,000 fresh cases were reported last week, and these, the authorities declare, can be but a fraction of the real total.

Rival Clans in China-town in Fierce Battle

New York, June 27.—The latest out break of rival clans in Chinatown claimed its second victim early today when Chu Foo, a member of the Four Brothers Society died in the Hudson street hospital from bullet wounds in the head and back suffered yesterday when his faction and On Long's renewed their conflict.

Soo Jin, a fruit merchant, died in yesterday's battle. Chu Pan is suffering from a severe wound but will live to be tried for murder. Seven other Chinamen are under arrest while the district occupied by the Chinese is like an armed camp today. Fifty additional policemen are on guard and only occasionally does a Chinaman appear on the street. When compelled by business to go out they dodge under cover as quickly as possible.

CLERKS NEED REST.

Correspondent Writes Against the Practice of Late Saturday Buying.

(To the Editor of The Times.)

Sir,—In the Examiner of last night appeared a strictly business-like presentation of local business affairs of Saturday nights. The writ'r, who used the non de plume of "Humanity," chose his title well. Mr. Editor, surely the citizens of this small city understand business conditions well enough to know that, whilst a merchant is always out for the coin that he must get to live on, the hours spent by clerks and employes of local stores are longer than those put in by clerks in the stores of larger cities. A clerk in a Peterborough store may have a wife and family dependent on his weekly wage Those who patronized the stores here have just so much money to spend every week for family requirements. Why cannot such purchasers turn out on Saturday evenings an hour or two earlier. Every purchaser buying at say, 9 p.m., instead of 11.30 p.m., is directly impelling merchants to not keep clerks until after midnight. The store clerk who has put in his full hours' work from Monday morning until say 9 p.m. on Saturday has not only done a good fair week's work, earned his pay, but he has further earned the right to get the extra hours' rest Saturday that will encourage and enable him to turn out for divine service on the Sabbath morning. If the ladies of Peterborough would look at this matter through philanthropic and common sense lenses they would not assist in compelling hard worked clerks to work Saturday nights so late that groceries have to be put up and delivered in the early hours of Sunday morning.

A LOCAL BUYER.

OLD PLAYER HERE.

Mike Tierney Returns to His Old Home and the Scene of Past Lacrosse Successes.

One of Peterborough's "old timers" on the local lacrosse team, Mr. M. J. Tierney, has arrived with Mrs Tierney from Rochester, N.Y. Mr. and Mrs. Tierney are guests of Mrs. J. Clancy, 281 Rubidge street. Mr. Tierney now holds a responsible position with the American Tobacco Co. Our older citizens will remember that when the Peterborough Lacrosse Club was possibly better known throughout Canada than at present, when Messrs. J. J. Howden, R. H. Fortye, Ald. Phelan, W. Rudkins were on the team that the local organization went to Montreal to cross sticks with the Shamrocks of that city. Those were the days when Mr. Harry LeBrun was captain, and used to be at every available spot on the field calling out orders to his players. Peterborough's present visitor, who was formerly a member of the grocery firm of Elliott & Tierney, used to be one of the star local players. One gentleman of the city yesterday talking with The Times remarked "Do you remember that day on the Shamrock's ground in Montreal when that big Shamrock player tried to foul "Mike' (Tierney), and 'Mike' when dodging him, threw him on his back and carried him half way across the field?"

Improvements at T.A.S. Park.

A table, one hundred and twenty feet in length was built by the several men under the supervision of Mr. P. Kane on Saturday at T. A. S. Park. In a day or two a yacht load of men will go to the park to put the finishing touches on the booth for the picnic.

DOUBLE WEDDING ROMANCE.

One of the Prettiest Events of the Matrimonial Season.

Trenton, N. J., June 28.—When the Rev. Charles H. Elder, the marrying parson of Trenton, united William C. Wooley and Miss Lilhan May Wright and S. T. A. Wright and Miss Miretta Wooley in marriage at the Wooley home to-day, the culmination was reached in one of the prettiest romances of the season.

Mr. Wright is a traveling salesman and was travelling in India when his sister wrote of her approaching marriage. She told him of her bridesmaid-to be, Miss Wooley, and the brother sent a congratulatory note to the sister and at the same time said he would be glad of an introduction to Miss Wooley. Letters passed between the two, and although neither had seen the other an engagement was entered into and Mr. Wright came home from India to do like his sister, get married.

POISONED MEAT.

Detroit Couple Got Dose Intended for Cats.

Detroit, Mich., June 27.—George H. Harrington, a Detroit accident insurance solicitor, came home early on Friday to poison a cat. Stopping at a market and a drug store, he purchased a supply of meat and arsenic. Mrs. Harrington was not home when he arrived and he decided, under such advantageous circumstances to exterminate all the cats in the neighborhood. Mixing the meat and arsenic, he placed them on the kitchen table and went in quest of felines.

While he was absent Mrs. Harrington arrived and hurriedly prepared dinner. She used the poisoned meat. Doctors hold out slight hope of the recovery of either Harrington or his wife.

WILL NOT LEND TO BUY AUTOS.

Kansas City Bankers Think Southwest Crazy Over Motor Cars.

Kansas City, June 28th.—The bankers of Kansas City and of the Southwest dependent on Kansas City have agreed to lend no money to anyone who intends to use the cash for the purchase of a motor car. This boycott is brought about, the bankers say, by the extravagance of the country in the purchase of automobiles. Thirty-two million dollars were invested in motor cars in the last year in Kansas. One million may be added to this to keep these motor cars in repair for the same twelve months.

"We'll have no more of it," say the cash holders. "If this thing keeps up there's no telling what condition the finances of the country will be in a year from now."

One Kansas City banker stated today that his safe contained fifty-two real-estate mortgages, the money for which he knew went for the purchase of automobiles.

War Secretary to Tour World.

San Francisco, June 28.—The steamship Siberia, sailing to-day for the Philippines via Honolulu and Japan, carries among her passengers Secretary of War Dickson, his wife and son, and several prominent army officers. Among the latter is Gen. Clarence R. Edwards, chief of the bureau of insular affairs of the War Department.

Secretary Dickinson will make a circuit of the globe before returning to his post in Washington. He will spend five weeks in the Philippines, investigating the railroads, financial affairs, and the disposition of public lands and taxes in the islands. In Hawaii he will inspect Pearl Harbor and the fortifications of Honolulu.

WORK BY DAY LABOR.

The tenders of the city engineer and Mr. Bogue were the lowest and totalled as follows:

James Bogue $16,428.92
City engineer 9,734.40

Saving by day labor ... $694.52

Tenders for this work were invited on that provision that should City Engineer Hay's figures be lower than any tender received the board should reserve the privilege of having this work done by day labor. And the difference between Mr. Bogue's tender and that of the engineer amounting to nearly $700, the committee felt justified in authorizing City Engineer Hay to proceed with the construction of the above 13 sections of sewer service at an early date by day labor.

Ald. Phelan moved, seconded by Ald. Gillespie,—That the city engineer be authorizexd to appoint a foreman for sewer construction, said appointment to be made with the approval of Chairman Ald. Hicks.—Carried.

STREET PAVING.

The committee were unanimous in deciding to make every possible effort to have a section of street paving—from G.T.R. to George and C.P.R. to McDonnell street—laid this year.

As to the method of paying for this work, 60 per cent. by frontage tax and 40 per cent. by general rate appeared to be the fairest proposition in sight. Ald. Duncan's opinion however, that this question should be left in abeyance until the return of the committee appointed to inspect street paving in other cities was adopted. It was concluded that this committee should, while on their tour of inspection enquire into the different methods of paying for such work in other municipalities.

TO INSPECT PAVEMENTS.

Ald. Duncan moved, seconded by Ald. Phelan, That a committee to visit other cities and see the pavements laid there, and gather data thereon, be named by the mayor and chairman of the Board of Works—Carried.

PRELIMINARY PREPARATIONS.

The engineer was instructed to notify those who have not sewer, water and gas connections on Charlotte street from G.T.R. station to George street, and on George street, from the C.P.R. station to McDonnell street, to have same put in at once. Also to request the Peterborough Radial Railway Company to double track the above named streets, and to substitute iron poles for the present wooden ones. The Peterborough Light and Power Company and the Bell Telephone Company, will likewise be advised to put their wires under ground on George and Charlotte streets at their earliest convenience.

The street paving movement is a popular one, and our energetic Board of Works have taken up the matter with commendable vigor.

THE BOY AND THE COW.

There is no reason why every Ontario farmer should not possess a thoroughly profitable herd of milch cows. Mr. C. F. Whitley, of the Dominion Department of Agriculture, has prepared a simple herd record book, copies of which may be had free on application. With its assistance an accurate account may be kept of each animal's individual performance in the consumption of food and in the production of butter-fat in its milk. Since commencing to keep such records many farmers have doubled the outputs of their dairies. Any cow may vary considerably in the quantity and quality of its milk. What the intelligent dairyman seeks is an animal that maintains a general high average. The new scientific treatment of the herd tends to interest farmers' sons and to keep them on the land. This interest has sometimes been increased by inaugurating milk producing contests between different sections of the herd in the hands of different members of the family. Intelligent developments of this character are well calculated to increase the agricultural production throughout the Province, and thus, eventually to check or moderate the long rise in the cost of living to urban residents.

This Is the Day.

The Mighty Haag Circus will arrive in the city early this morning, and in a few hours later will parade ade the streets with their vast aggregation of georgous caravans, band wagons, strange animals gathered from the cold climes of Siberia to the heat of equitorial Africa. The parade, which is free to all, is worth one's trip for many miles to see. At one o'clock in the afternoon the tent doors will be open to admit the thousands who will attend. After those attending, have seen the stupendous collection of birds, beasts and curiosities, gathered at enormous expense from all parts of the world, they can enter the main tent and comfortably seated witn one of the grandest displays of equestrian, acrobatic and theatrical talent ever presented to the Canadian public. At the evening performance a similarly exciting and nerve testing exhibition will be given.

OLD RESIDENT GONE.

Mr. John McGee Passes Away at an Advanced Age.

The death occurred early yesterday morning of John McGee, at the age of 76 years. The deceased has lived in this city for a great many years, coming here from Monaghan County, Ireland. He leaves to mourn his loss, a wife, four daughters, Mrs. Frederick Spratt, Toronto, Mrs. John Carveth, Mrs. H. L. Gamsey, Rochester, and Mrs. Frank Conroy, Toronto, and four sons, Thomas, John, William and Frederick, all of this city.

The funeral will take place tomorrow morning at nine o'clock from his late residence, Crescent street, to the Sacred Heart church, and thence to St. Peter's cemetery for burial.

Historic Castle for Sale.

London, June 28.—Madryn Castle, one of the most ancient and historically interesting in Great Britain, was offered at public sale to-day by a firm of London auctioneers. The castle which was erected about the year 1490, in the reign of Henry VII., is of special interest to Americans, since for many years it has been, by inheritance through the female side, in possession of members of the Yale family, direct descendants of Elihu Yale, the founder of Yale College.

A GOOD REPORT.

Dr. Bruce Smith Says Peterborough Jail is in First-class Condition.

Following is the report of Dr. R. W. Bruce Smith, inspector of prisons and asylums, of his official inspection of the Peterborough jail:

An official visit of inspection was made to the Peterborough Jail on June 17th, 1910, when there were thirteen males, one female, a total of fourteen in custody. The number of committments to this jail during the past year was 236.

On inspection the general condition of the building, as regards cleanliness, the beds and bedding, corridors, cells, yards, closets, drainage, ventilation, and water supply were found satisfactory.

The health of the prisoners is good They were properly clothed and are bathed weekly.

Several of the prisoners are idle. No regular system of work is provided for them at this jail.

Among the prisoners are several old people who should be provided for by the city in a house of refuge. The old woman prisoner, aged 66, should be cared for in a refuge or committed at once to the care of her friends. There is no hope of any benefit being derived by committing this old woman to a hospital for the insane, and certainly the jail is not the proper place for her.

The food supplied is in accordance with regulations. The cost of rations for the past quarter was 09 cents per day.

There were thirty suits of clothing on hand in good condition of repair.

Since last inspection the work of installing a steam plant for the purpose of heating the jail and court house has commenced. Unfortunately the work has been started in a manner that cannot be approved of on account of failure to excavate and place the steam pipes below the floor The work that would have been necessary in excavation, and so forth could have been done by the prisoners. The attention of the sheriff has been called to the fact that the work as proposed to be done cannot be approved of.

My visit of inspection impressed me favorably in regard to the discipline and management of the jail.

R. W. BRUCE SMITH.
Inspector.

Farewell to Popular Pastor.

The members of the Ministerial Association met in Coleman's for luncheon at noon yesterday to say good-bye to the Rev. E. A. Pearson, B.A., president of the association. Mr. Pearson expressed the appreciation of the opportunity afforded him of saying how much he had prized the fellowship with the ministers in the work in this city.

A DOCTOR'S EXPERIENCE.

Medicine Not Needed in This Case.

It is hard to convince some people that coffees does them an injury! They lay their bad feelings to almost every cause but the true and unsuspected one.

But the doctor knows. His wide experience has proven to him that to some systems, coffee is an insidious poison that undermines the health.

Ask the doctor if coffee is the cause of constipation, stomach and nervous troubles.

"I have been a coffee drinker all my life. I am now 42 years old and when taken sick two years ago with nervous prostration, the doctor said that my nervous system was broken down and that I would have to give up coffee.

"I got so weak and shaky I could not work, and reading your advertisement of Postum, I asked my grocer if he had any of it. He said, 'Yes,' and that he used it in his family and it was all it claimed to be.

"So I quit coffee and commence to use Postum steadily and found in about two weeks' time I could sleep soundly at night and get up in the morning feeling fresh. In about two months I began to gain flesh. I weighed only 146 pounds when I commenced on Postum and now I weigh 165 and feel better than I did at 20 years of age.

"I am working every day and sleep well at night. My two children were great coffee drinkers, but they gave not drank any since Postum came into the house, and are far more healthy than they were before."

Porter Charlton Succeeds in Appearing a Nervous Wreck

New York, June 27.—Porter Charlton, accused of wife murder, broke down in his cell yesterday. This was followed by a night of sleeplessness with frequent spells when the youth seemed to lose control of himself and to break into sobs and moans.

His condition today was considered worse than last night when Warden Sullivan sent in a hurry call for physicians to come to the hall fearing that Charlton would become violent.

Already Charlton has been examined by the group of celebrated alienists engaged by his father, Judge Paul Charlton, to determine his son's mental state, and Dr. W. J. Arlitz, who saw the prisoner when he was in his state of collapse, declared himself confirmed in the opinion he had previously expressed that Charlton was suffering from a form of dementia.

The other alienists had indicated that they would take their time in examining Charlton and rendering their opinion, but his collapse and the advices from Italy regarding the extradition application are thought likely to influence a hastened completion o the examination, and a speedier decision.

DID HE STEAL?

Ross McCall Charged With Taking Money From His Employer.

At yesterday morning's session of the police court Ross McCall appeared before Magistrate Dumble, and pleaded not guilty to a charge of having stolen twenty dollars from Mr. Robert Beech. It seems that McCall was employed with Mr. Beech as driver during the month of May, when the stealing is alleged to have taken place. McCall collected accounts from customers and gave receipts for the money received. Every evening he was supposed to turn in the money collected during the day, but McCall is alleged to have turned in a certain amount and kept the rest himself. Mr. Beech after enquiring claims to have found that the boy had kept part of the money.

His worship stated that more evidence was necessary and remanded McCall until tomorrow. In the mean while he will remain in jail unless sufficient bail is given by some of his friends.

Peterborough Creamery Open Yesterday.

The Peterborough Creamery owned and operated by the late Mr. P. Downham, whose sad and sudden death was noted in yesterday's issue of The Times, was yesterday open for business. It was intimated yesterday afternoon to a Times representative that two gentlemen were in the city with an object of purchasing this prosperous local concern. It might be added that the body of the late Mr. Downham was yesterday morning taken to London, Ont., by the early morning C.P.R. express for interment in that city where his son and daughter reside.

Louisville, Ky., June 28:—A wide variety of problems relating to the government and welfare of the cities of Kentucky will be discussed at the initial convention of the Municipal League of Kentucky, which meets in this city to-day for a two days' session. Nearly all of the leading cities of the States are represented by their mayors or other officials.

In sickness, if a certain hidden nerve goes wrong, then the organ that this nerve controls will also surely fail. It may be a Stomach nerve, or it may have given strength and support to the Heart or Kidneys. It was Dr. Shoop that first pointed to this vital truth. Dr. Shoop's Restorative was not made to dose the stomach nor to temporarily stimulate the heart or Kidneys. That old-fashioned method is all wrong. Dr. Shoop's Restorative goes directly to these failing inside nerves. The remarkable success of this prescription demonstrates the wisdom of treating the actual cause of these failing organs. And it is indeed easy to prove. A simple five or ten days' test will surely tell. Try it once, and see. Sold by all dealers.

Fifty years ago Nerviline was used from coast to coast and in thousands of homes this trusty liniment served the entire family, cured all their minor ills and kept the doctor's bill small. Today Nerviline still holds first rank in Canada among pain-relieving remedies — scarcely a home you can find that doesn't use it.

TESTIMONIAL NO. 4398

From Port Hope, Ont., Mr. W. T. Greenway, of the Guide newspaper staff, writes: "For twenty years we have used Nerviline in our home, and not for the world would we be without it. As a remedy for all pain, earache, toothache, cramps, headache and disordered stomach, I know of no preparation so useful and quick to relieve as Nerviline."

Let every mother give Nerviline a trial; it's good for children, good for old folks—you can rub it on as a liniment or take it internally.

Wherever ther is pain, Nerviline will cure it. Refuse anything but Nerviline, 25c. per bottle, five for $1.00, all dealers, or The Catarrhozone Co., Kingston, Ont.

ANCIENT PROFLIGACY.

According to historians, Caligula, second emperor of Rome, was the greatest spendthrift the world has ever known. It is nearly 2000 years since Caligula lived, and the story may have expanded in the telling of time, but, at any rate, it looks as if the dotmost emperor had most of our modern prodigates "faded."

It is alleged of the deceased that he squandered four hundred million dollars in a single year. He had wonderful perfumed baths, in which every drop of perfume was "worth a gem;" he loved to have precious pearls dissolved in his wines, and gulped down a precious pearl every meal. He also, so the historians say, served costly pearls in his sauces. The excited historians relate that mounted couriers brought oysters from Great Britain for Caligula's table, that ships sailed to distant lands and brought tropical birds, so that Caligula might eat the birds' tongues. They say the waters of the Black Sea were dragged that he might eat strange fish never before seen in Rome.

One historian got up a story that was hard to equal. He said that once Caligula served a dinner in many courses. No one ate a bite; the vianda were modelled in solid gold, and as course after course was taken from the table Caligula commanded that they be thrown away. Caligula had a temple built in his honor and a statute of himself in solid gold placed in the temple. He had a marble house built for his horse. The horse's manager was of rare carved ivory. The house was expensively furnished throughout, and the emperor gave elegant dinner parties there with his horse as guest of honor.

The historians say Caligula had boats on which were gardens, orchards, fountains and brooks, and that the prows of the boats were encrusted with precious gems.

A wonderful floating bridge was built. An infinite number of ships were fastened together across an arm of the sea three miles and a half in breadth. The ships were placed in two tiers and secured by means of anchors and cables. Over these immense quantities of timber were laid, and upon these timbers earth was placed, so that the whole resembled a street in Rome. Magnificent houses were built on each side for the entertainment of Caligula. The first storm demolished the folly, and not a vestige remained.

The historians conclude Caligul'a life dramatically. They have him murdered while going to take a perfumery bath, and tell their biggest story by saying that in one year he exhausted the resources of the might best empire the world has ever seen.

MAKING WORK FOR THE STORK.

A number of measures intended to stimulate the birth rate in France have just been introduced in parliament as a result of the publication of vital statistics showing that there were 23,000 fewer births in the French republic during 1909 than in the preceding year. It is proposed to impose additional military service on bachelors over 30 years of age and to make obligatory the marriage of state employes who have reached the age of 65 years. Also it is provided that government employes are to have pension allowances and increases of salaries when they are blessed with more than three children.

The outlook in France certainly is brightening, especially for those who happen to hold government jobs. The only trouble is that every man will probably want to become a public office-holder and the head of a large family if the proposed measures are enacted into laws. This may make it a little awkward for the government.

As for the bachelors who are to be compelled to undergo additional military service for the privilege of remaining unmarried, much will depend on the kind of service to be rendered. It is possible to imagine military service that would not be half as attractive as matrimony. Let the gold braid and brass buttons be taken from the fiddlestaff bachelors; give them overalls instead of natty uniforms, and compel each soldier to till an acre or two of ground during the tilling season, and there will be danger of having the army overcrowded.

If the proposed measures are adopted and our suggestions enforced the stork may prepare to put a large corps of assistants on duty in France.

A Call From Oregon

Opportunities in the Far West

The greatest industrial activity in this country is now centered in Oregon. Two of the biggest railroad systems in the U. S., with intense rivalry, are pushing branch lines into the remote portions of this State, and an exodus from the East is on in the occupation of this the LAST FRONTIER ON THE CONTINENT. Fortunes will be made here THIS YEAR—NEXT YEAR and EVERY YEAR for the next decade.

Our valleys are the most fertile in the world and irrigation projects are converting the bordering hillsides into gardens. Orchards lands are leaping upward in price and the advance has only started. Water from mountain streams is the purest, timber the finest and climate the most perfect in Uncle Sam's domain. Power plants are springing up along the channels of silvery torrents to develop electrical energy for mines and mills and interurban railways. Fish abound in the rivers, game in the forests and health and joy fill the atmosphere. There are no epidemics here or pestiferous insects to exterminate, or make life a burden.

I want Eastern connections and help, financial and otherwise, to seize opportunities that surround this picturesque city of Baker. The returns will be out of all proportion to the help extended. The opportunities are along the lines of vegetable fruit, hay, grain, stock, timber, and mineral lands. There are fortunes in all these. Some mines in this vicinity have record outputs in gold, running into the millions. Yet the entire, overlying the mineral deposits of Baker County, has hardly been scratched.

On a ledge of free gold bearing quartz two miles in length I made a test of 900 tons of ore taken at a depth of only a hundred feet and got over $2000.00 out of it. The mint returns passed through the Ottawa's National Bank here.

Among other things, I need money, right now, to begin the MANUFACTURE OF GOLD out of this immense ore body. The shares of the Timber Canyon Mines Company, which OWNS this property, and of which I am secretary have an intrinsic value to at least $5 each a share based on a conservative appraisement of the property and the amount of gold found.

I will deliver on order, with draft attached, up to 50,000 shares of this stock at 25 cents a share, NET. The full amount of the purchase price will go back in dividends inside of 12 months. Take a thousand as a starter, and get in step with this Klondyke of the West. If there is anything else out here that I can do for you, or you can do for me,—WRITE ME.

Yours for business, and MONEY for both of us,

THE NEW GOLDEN BUCKET

A few years ago, the recovery of Gold from auriferous grounds and subaqueous beds, was considered impossible. The "pan" and "grizzly," operated by hand, appeared to be the sole method of recovering values. It was during this period that Dr. Linderman, Director of the United States Mint expressed the opinion that he who, could devise a machine, without adding proportionately to the cost of production, capable of saving 50 per cent. of all the placer gold, would not only enrich himself, but within the lives of men still living, would double the world's available gold bullion. The Director of the United States Mint further said,—"WE CAN HARDLY HOPE FOR THIS, THOUGH NO MAN DARE SAY IT IS IMPOSSIBLE."

The perfected modern Dredge, is to-day a substantial reality. Allowing for delays in shifting, for necessary repairs, etc., the Gold Dredge runs on an average about 16 hours out of twenty-four, thus making up in length of working day, loss of operation during winter months. These Dredges are operated in ready made mining areas, recovering millions of dollars annually, at the lowest possible cost.

The Director of the Mint of the United States in his report for 1909 says:

"The Gold Dredge makes money where a coolie would starve."

Outing Magazine: "When you think that bold inventive talent has been able to devise machinery that makes it profitable to extract ten cents worth of gold from a ton of earth, the enterprise becomes one of the romances of American industry."

"A chain of powerful buckets bite into the earth, each bringing up a tremendous quantity of earth and gravel. These are subjected to screen treatment and the gold recovered."

California in 45 years, within radius of less than ten miles of placer ground, produced $200,000,000 in gold. To-day the vast number of Modern Dredges working over old ground are recovering millions annually.

ONTARIO'S GAME.

All Game is Divided Into Two Parts in the Province.

All game is divided into two parts natural and political. The natural game inhabits the woods and the streams and the fields. The political game inhabits the platform and the platform and the polling booth. Conservation of game—the political kind—has apparently been the first thought of the Ontario Government. Mr. Kelly Evans, at any rate, in his interim report as commissioner investigating the protection of creatures of the wild in this province, declares that "qualifications have been brushed aside in favor of a party rosette", when game wardens have been appointed. His instance of official inefficiency are rather startling. He says:

That a subordinate officer entrusted with the enforcement of the game and fishery regulations over a district comprising many miles of lake and woodland, should be 90 years of age; that an officer of the outside service, occupying a position of some importance, should generally have the reputation among persons in his district of being unused to the handling of a boat, and timid of venturing his person upon water; that another fishery officer should be very intimate with the agent of a foreign company, trading as a Shylock among the simple fisherfolk of his district; that a game warden should have no woodcraft, and be afraid to venture alone into the woods, that another should attach himself to a shooting party and indulge withthem in the illegal destruction of game during the closed season—these are, to say the least of it, absurdities, and yet they are but a few of the instances brought to the attention of your commissioner and are the inevitable and direct outcome of a system in which the most obvious and indispensable qualifications have been brushed aside in favor of a party rosette.

It is quite possible that some of these officials were appointed by a previous government, but the responsibility for their retention for five long years and for the choosing of others not notably efficient must rest with the present regime. The government should not hesitate to dismiss those of whatever political stripe, who are, by reason of years or physical unfitness, unable to fulfil their duties. To those who have been using their office to cloak defiance of the game laws on their own part and that of others, punishment as well as dismissal should be meted out.

The preservation of the Province's game—and the reference is not to to the political sort—is a matter of vital importance. Ontario as the Mecca of tourists is perhaps a trifle shod as long as Ontario's scenery lasts. But in order to reap the full harvests of visitors, the Province must provide good shooting and good fishing. To do this year by year for decades to come, it must conserve its fish and game with the utmost care, restricting not only the catches and bags of the tourists, but of the other settlers and other Canadians.

The tourists are generally people of means and will not object to higher licenses. They shoot and fish for sport and the majority of them will see the reasonableness of limiting the number of trophies they may secure. The political game, on the other hand, is a question not of Province but of party. Any conservation to which it is subject should not be at the expense of the natural game of Ontario.

THE FLIGHT OF THE DEUTSCHLAND.

With the flight of the Zeppelin airship from Friedrichshafen to Duesseldorf the new science of aeronautics seems to make its transition from the precarious region of theory to the more definite field of practicality. The Deutschland did what it started out to do, and did it handily, safely, and comfortably, over a predetermined route and on schedule time.

The trip, one of 300 miles via Stuttgart, Mannheim and Cologne, was accomplished in nine hours, at an average of thirty-three miles an hour and with a best hour at 43½ miles—good railroad time. The height above ground was 200 to 300 feet.

Twenty passengers occupied the luxuriously furnished cabin. A restaurant supplied a buffet service like that on a Pullman train.

Count Zeppelin was himself at the helm, at once to engineer and to enjoy his great triumph. The results to follow on such a trip, whether for peace or for war, are well-nigh incalculable. The North Sea becomes a lawn, the Rhein but a negligible a lawn, the Rhein but a negligible tie Congress cannot assemble too soon.

"WAS FADING AWAY."

A Young Woman—Scarcely Thirty—Seemed to Be Dying on Her Feet. Dr. Hamilton's Pills Cured.

"I think it should be the duty of the schools to teach the children how to keep well," writes Miss Nannie E. Naydon, a well known and highly esteemed resident of Bristol. "Ignorance of the laws of health and the use of improper remedies destroyed my vigor and led me to the verge of invalidism. I was as a girl ruddy and strong. Nothing seemed to affect me until I was about thirty. Then gas began to form in the stomach. I suffered with bloating and a general failure in strength set in. If I went upstairs my breath hurt. My system was very irregular and until I grew pretty bad I didn't pay much heed to my condition. Then I got blue, worried all the time, wakened in the night and couldn't get to sleep again. None of the medicine I took helped me. One day I was read ingof a very interesting case like mine cured by Dr. Hamilton's Pills. I took the same treatment. It was just right—didn't physic me to death, but took hold of the weak, sick parts of my system and set things right. It seems as if Dr. Hamilton's Pills have made me young again, and all my color, spirits, vigor and health of former days have returned to stay."

Every girl and woman should use Dr. Hamilton's Pills regularly. They help a woman in many ways. Beware of the dealer who asks you to take an inferior pill on which gis profit is larger than on Dr. Hamilton's. Sold in yellow boxes, 25c per box, all dealers, or The Catarrhozone Co., Kingston, Ont.

VOL. XXXI NO. 148 PETERBOROUGH, ONTARIO WEDNESDAY JUNE 29 1910 PRICE TWO CENTS

Organized Campaign to Excite Racial Feeling

Johannesburg, June 28.—A statement has been circulated all over South Africa to the effect that Gen Botha has refused, to accept the late Cecil Rhode's house at Capetown, Groote Schuur, as his residence at first premier minister of United South Africa under the terms of Mr. Rhode's will.

This statement appears to be part of an organized campaign to excite racial feelings against the Union Ministry. General Botha says there is absolutely no truth in the assertion, but that, on the contrary, he will be pleased to occupy Groote Schuur when at the Cape, and greatly appreciates the patriotic provision made by Mr. Rhodes.

The agitation against General Botha for opposing Sir Percy Fitzpatrick in Pretoria East, is also mainly political. As a matter of hard fact only a very small number of Sir Percy Fitzpatrick's former supporters are included in Pretoria East, and the idea that the constituency is rightly his is absurd.

Unfortunately there is already grave danger that the elections will be fought on the racial issue, and this attack upon General Botha is fostering the racial spirit.

SHERWOOD GOES TO NEW YORK

CHIEF OF DOMINION POLICE IS LOOKING FOR GOULDTHRITE.

May Also Residence—Police Said to Be Shadowing a Toronto Man — Other Names Secret.

Ottawa, June 28.—A. P. Sherwood chief of the Dominion Police, left yesterday for New York, and it is surmised that he has some clew as to the whereabouts of Frank Gouldthrite, the missing superintendent of the stationery department of the Government Printing Bureau. Mrs. Gouldthrite left here Saturday and it is understood was shadowed to New York.

It is said that the Dominion Government will seize by attachment proceedings, the handsome suburban home owned by Mr. Gouldthrite.

According to report the missing official carried away with him some $40,000 in currency.

The police are said to have a Toronto man under surveillance who is concerned as middleman in some of the rake-offs.

Gouldthrite was appointed to the staff of the Printing Bureau seventeen years ago. His salary was $2,-300 per year.

Hon. Mr. Murphy, assisted by the King's printer, Mr. Charles Parmelee, is continuing the investigation into affairs at the bureau, and until it is completed no details as to the other members of the staff against whom irregularities are proven will be made public. The minister has determined on a thorough reorganization of the whole bureau, with a view to making any further rake-offs or frauds of any kind impossible.

So far as can be learned at present all the instances of collusion between employes at the bureau and sellers of stationery have been in connection with United States firms.

FARMER TELLS INTERESTING STORY.

Whether Sick or Well, in Good Weather or in Stormy, He is Obliged to Work Always.

Market people complain about prices they have to pay for farm produce. They forget that rain or shine, warm or cold, the farmer must keep at it or else the narrow profit, his bare living, will be lost to him.

A well-known Haldimand farmer, Mr. J. P. Pelletier, writes: "For nearly three years I was in poor health. A drenching storm caught me in the fields, and wet me to the skin. I got home only to find I was threatened with inflammation of the bowels. I never got over it and felt weak and heavy and my system never worked right. But a farmer has to work—and I found myself going down hill with stomach, liver and kidney troubles. Failure seemed to follow everything. I remained wretched and sick until advised to use Dr. Hamilton's Pills. It is not easy to describe the sort of feeling a sick man gets when he strikes a medicine that he can see is doing him a lot of good. I was overjoyed— Hamilton's Pills put new life into me and everything worked right. Since cured with Dr. Hamilton's Pills I haven't had a single symptom or stomach, liver or kidney trouble. I am free from headaches, languor and weakness, as strong, robust as a man could be." No better medicine for general family use than Dr. Hamilton's Pills. They are mild, healthful and certain to cure. Sold in yellow 25c boxes, all dealers, or The Catarrh Remedy Co., Kingston, Ont.

Mr. and Mrs. Stevens of 283 Purdy street, Buffalo, N.Y., have returned home after spending a holiday with Mr. and Mrs. Naish, 201 Murray street, Peterborough.

CITY WILL FIGHT.

City Solicitor Ordered to Defend Suit Against Edwards Brothers.

The Legal Committee of the City Council met yesterday morning when the city solicitor was instructed to defend a suit for damages taken against the city by Edwards Bros. The amount of damages asked for is $50, and the action is brought about through the claim that a sewer connection on London street, refused to work as it should.

A SAD LOSS.

Mr. E. J. Coughlin Passes Away at an Early Age.

A sad death occurred yesterday in the city at an early hour in the morning, when Eugene Joseph Coughlin, the youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. John Coughlin of 99 Aylmer street, passed away at the family residence.

The deceased, who was born in Belleville twenty-two years ago came to this city with his parents some fifteen years past, and received his education in the Separate school and Collegiate Institute. Later he joined the staff of the Bank of Ottawa, and was identified with it for five years. One year ago he was transferred to the branch at Lanark to hold the position of teller-accountant. Last Easter he was compelled to give up his duties through illness, and his ailment, which was heart trouble, despite all medical skill, terminated in his demise.

The late Mr. Coughlin was a young man who was popular among a large circle of friends. He had been prominent in sports, and was a member of the local Rough Rider team. He had also been a member of the Junior Argonaut Club of Toronto.

Besides his parents, he leaves one brother Godfrey, and two sisters, Misses Norah and Eileen, all of this city.

The funeral will take place from the family residence on Thursday morning at nine o'clock, to the Sacred Heart church and thence to St. Peter's cemetery.

Asquith Gives Text of New King's Oath

Sovereign Required to Swear as to Being a Faithful Member of the Protestant Church

London, June 28.—In the Commons today Premier Asquith said he hoped the Declaration Bill would be regarded as uncontroversial matter. The present declaration could not fail to be offensive, not only to Roman Catholics, but also to the Sovereign. They were proposing to substitute a declaration which, instead of singling out for repudiation the cherished doctrine of the Roman Catholic Church, affirmed that the Sovereign was a faithful member of the Protestant Reformed Church. The dangers against which the declaration proposed to guard did not now exist.

The Premier said the declaration proposed for the King to make was:

"I do solemnly, sincerely, in the presence of God, profess, testify, and declare that I am a faithful member of the Protestant Reformed Church by law established in England and will, according to the true intent of enactments to secure the Protestant succession of the throne of my realm, uphold and maintain said enactments to the best of my power and according to law."

The first reading passed by a vote of 363 to 42.

Bandits Got Away with $5,000 in Money and Jewels

Ogden Utah., June 27.—Passenger train No. 1 on the Oregon short line was held up this morning and every passenger searched. The express car was searched, but it is believed that the robbers got no money there. They got about $5,000 from the passengers in money and jewels and then fled to the hills with the sheriff and a posse in pursuit.

BEAT THOSE WHO RESISTED.

The robbery occurred at Five Points at 1.30 this morning. The three robbers boarded the train at Ogden and began action as soon as the train had left the city limits. The rear brakeman was shot at twice, but was not wounded, a woman and a man, the latter a foreigner, among the passengers, were badly beaten when they tried to conceal valuables. The robbers went through the cars and beat everyone who offered the slightest resistance. The passengers in the Pullman were routed out of their berths and compelled to line up in the car.

REVOLVER AT HIS HEAD.

When the express car was searched the messenger stood in a corner, guarded by one of the robbers, who held a revolver to his head and who had compelled him to give up the keys.

One of the robbers said in the hearing of the messenger that he knew that there was no money in the car but they'd search anyway. A heavy sum of money, said the robber had gone out of Ogden on the first section of the train, but they hadn't been able to get on the first section.

In sickness, if a certain hidden nerve goes wrong, then the organ that this nerve controls will also surely fail. It may be a Stomach nerve, or it may have given strength and support to the Heart or Kidneys. It was Dr. Shoop's first pointed to this vital truth. Dr. Shoop's Restorative was not made to dose the stomach nor to temporarily stimulate the heart of Kidneys. That old-fashioned method is all wrong. Dr. Shoop's Restorative goes directly to those failing inside nerves. The remarkable success of this prescription demonstrates the wisdom of treating the actual cause of these failing organs. And it is indeed easy to prove. A simple five or ten days' test will surely tell. Try it once, and see. Sold by all dealers.

FEARS ANNEXATION.

Admiral Douglas Afraid American Settlers Will Favor It.

Montreal, June 27.—Some sharp strictures were passed upon Canadas immigration laws yesterday by Admiral Sir Douglas, who passed through here on his way home. Admiral Douglas considered that the restrictions upon immigrants were all in favor of the people of the United States, and against those from the Old Country. This he did not approve of, as he considered that settlers from the United States would never become British subjects in the real sense of the term. He thought that the crux of the whole matter was that while annexation to the States was never openly spoken of, it was thought of by many, including some holding responsible office under the Crown. Just as long as this feeling prevailed, he remarked, the American would be welcomed here to the detriment of the settler from Great Britain, and the delay of imperial unity.

A PASTOR APPRECIATED.

Pair of Bowls Presented to Rev. E. A. Pearson.

That the members of the flock and the general public greatly regret the loss of Rev. E. A. Pearson, by his leaving for Hamilton, has been intimated in these columns. The members of the Bowling Association have shown by tangible appreciation of this pastor who leaves the city. His fellow churchmen on the bowling green have presented him with a splendid pair of bowls.

Mr. Edwin Pratt read the following address, and Mr. D. Bellegrhem made the presentation. The address read: To Rev. E. A. Pearson, City.

Dear Sir, — As members of your church, who have been associated with you on the bowling green, we would not let you go without expressing to you our deep regret at your departure from our midst to take up your work elsewhere, as we will surely miss you in our games.

We ask you to accept this pair of bowls as a small token of our feelings towards you, and trust that they may be a reminder to you of the many pleasant games we have had on the green together.

With best wishes for yourself and family.

(Sgd.) T. EDWIN PRATT,
R. J. SODEN,
D. BELLEGHEM,
G. E. MARSHALL,
G. A. CARRUTHERS.

Mr. Pearson made a reply, assuring the donors that he would always remember them with pleasure, and carry with him kind memories of the Peterborough Bowling Club.

LOCAL MAN WEDS.

Mr. R. J. Kidd Married in Paris, Ont., to Miss Lena A. Kent.

At 54 Banfield street, Paris, Ont., the home of the bride's mother, on Thursday, June 23, the marriage took place of Lena A., daughter of the late L. D. Kent and Mrs. Kent to R. J. Kidd of Peterborough, Ont. The ceremony was conducted by the Rev. Dr. Griffin of Toronto, cousin of the bride. The huge drawing room was a bower of beauty, with ferns, palms and orange blossoms. To the strains of the wedding march the bride entered the room leaning on the arm of her brother, Mr. S. Way Kent. The bride was gowned in a rich dress of duchess satin, with a handsomely embroidered bodice, and front panel, carrying a shower bouquet of orchirds and lily of the valley and a pearl necklace the gift of the groom. The matron of honor was Mrs. J. Albert Howell of Oakville, sister of the bride. The best man was Mr. McPherson of Brantford. Following the ceremony a reception was held. On their return Mr. and Mrs Kidd will reside at 462 Hunter street, Peterborough, Ont.—Mail and Empire.

ANOTHER VICTIM.

Capt. W. Hamilton Drowned on Monday at Stony Lake.

The second drowning accident of the season and the second within a week occurred Monday evening when Capt. Wm. Hamilton of the Str. Ajax, met his death. In company with George Keith, cook of the Cavendish Lumber Company drive, Hamilton went over to Mount Julian in a canoe on business. On their return whilst about half way across between Mr. Cole's island and Mr. McBain's, the canoe upset. Both men clung to the overturned craft and called lustily for assistance. In fact they held to the canoe for over an hour.

Mr. Cole hearing their cries, immediately went to the aid of the endangered men. Owing to the darkness Mr. Cole had great difficulty in locating the scene of the upset. Before his arrival Hamilton had sunk beneath the water and Keith was almost exhausted.

Mr. J. E. A. Fitzgerald, owner of the Ajax, on learning of the sad affair, went to Stony Lake yesterday morning and a party was organized to search for the body, which was recovered about two o'clock in the afternoon, near Otter Island.

The deceased was thirty years of age and a resident of Bobcaygeon, where he leaves a wife and four small children to mourn his loss.

Gave a Recital

The pupils of Miss Choate and Mr. Gliddon gave a piano and violin recital last night at which a large number of the parents and friends were present. PRESSMEN WERE SWEPT AWAY

ZEPPELIN'S HUGE DIRIGIBLE BALLOON CARRIED OFF WITH 20 NEWSPAPER MEN.

Motor Broke Down, Ship Sport of Wind—Two Attempts to Make a Landing Have Already Failed.

Dusseldorf, Germany, June 28. — The Zeppelin dirigible balloon Deutschland, with a crew and twenty newspaper men abroad, is drifting helpless before a strong gale. One of the motors is broken, and the great air liner has found it impossible to land. Grave fears are entertained for her safety.

When last seen the Deutschland was being driven before the wind above Osnabrueck.

The air liner ascended at an early hour this morning with a score of newspaper men as guests, the intention being to make a voyage over the country and return in two hours. Already the Deitschland has been aloft ten hours.

When the heavy wind arose, the pilot tried to turn the Deutschland back to her anchorage in this city but he found it impossible to manoeuver the ship successfully, owing to her broken motor. He then tried in turn to land at Dortmund and Muenster, Both attempts, however, proved to be too dangerous, and were abandoned.

Messages have been sent to all portions of the country over which the Deutschland will be likely to pass, and troops have been ordered to hold themselves in readiness to aid the vessel in case she comes near the earth.

Berlin, Germany, June 28.—Word was received here this afternoon that the Zeppelin air liner Dfutschland, was wrecked near Iburg, West Germany.

The big vessel had been driving helplessly before the wind for many hours. Her engine was broken, and it was impossible to make any head way against the storm.

THE CIRCUS COME AND GONE.

Well, the Great Haag Circus has come and gone. This circus, whilst not as large in menagerie or ring as the Barnum & Bailey Circus, is one of the cleanest and best that Peterborough has seen. At the afternoon performance, some 2,500 people paid admission. For the evening performance, a smaller number contributed their half dollars. The Haag Circus arrived early in the morning at the Grand Trunk station, and, shortly afterwards, a long procession of wagons winded their way to the circus grounds.

At one o'clock citizens of both county and city came to the grounds by street car, automobile, livery rig or the more humble means of conveyance, commonly known as "Shank's mare." The procession through our leading thoroughfares was possibly a disappointment to some people. This circus is a show not a menagerie. The circus part is not only good but excellent.

A $500.00 Challenge.

An interesting controversy is being indulged in on the Upper Lakes in connection with the relative speed of the S. S. "Hamonie" of the Northern Navigation Co. and the S. S. "Keewatin" of the C. P. Ry. has been demonstrated she could speed faster than the S. S. "Hamonie" and the Sarnia "Canadian" has challenged two of their contempories that the steamer "Hamonie" the first time she comes across either the "Keewatin" or the "Assiniboia" of the C. P. R. Line will pass these vessels, and in good faith have dfposited a certified cheque for $500.00.

SHOULD HOLD AS SACRED THE BEAUTIES OF ALGONQUIN

"Owing to the tremendous value to Ontario as a future asset to attract tourists every human and legal effort should be made to preserve Algonquin Park inviolate. Expropriation proceedings should be intimated and an injunction taken out as rapidly as possible to prevent further devastation until the question is settled one way or the other."

Dr. Murray McFarlane, Toronto, thus expressed himself to The News reporter this morning in urging stringent measures to stay the axe of the woodman who is rapidly defacing the beauty of that great preserve. He has just returned from the park and reports that the lumbermen are beginning to cut the hardwood on Cache Lake, at the rangers head quarters, where the hotel is situated, threatening to transform, what he considers one of the greatest beauty spots on the continent, into a scene of desolation. Dr. McFarlane says Mr. Cochrane, the Minister of Mines, Lands and Forests, is personally desirous of saving the Park, but finds himself confronted by old licenses held by the lumbermen.

A NATIONAL PARK.

"Some yeras ago," continued the doctor, "the late Hon. Mr. Hardy, when Premier, having in view the interests of posterity, set aside as a national park for the people of Ontario, a big area north of Muskoka, practically 30 miles square, covered by almost virgin forests, and containing over 1,500 lakes embodying some of the most magnificent scenery in America, the intention being to preserve some of the head waters of the rivers which take their rise in that region, such as the Madawaska and where all wild animals of a harmless nature might find sanctuary. As others, and make a game preserve a proof of the success of the latter venture Dr. McFarlane has frequently seen as many as 20 deer in a day. The beaver have multiplied so rapidly it has been necessary to kill a certain number of them to prevent too great an increase. Fishing is permitted by taking out a license costing $1.00. The lakes teem with gray and speckled trout, and the black bass placed by the Government in Cache Lake some years since have multiplied so rapidly that the lake promises to rival in fishing privileges the great Kawartha waters.

A NATIONAL PARADISE.

"It is a strange feature showing the apathy of our Ontario people that twenty Americans enter the park for every Canadian and go into rapture over its beauty. Situated immediately behind Muskoka where Toronto

A DETERMINED WOMAN.

Finally Found a Food that Cured Her.

"When I first read of the remarkable effects of Grape-Nuts food, I determined to secure some," says a woman of Salisbury, Mo. "At that time there was none kept in this town, but my husband ordered some from a Chicago traveler.

"I had been greatly afflicted with sudden attacks of cramps, nausea, and vomiting. Tried all sorts of remedies and physicians, but obtained only temporary relief. As soon as I began to use the new food the cramps disappeared and have never returned.

"My old attacks of sick stomach were a little slower to yield, but by continuing the food, that trouble has disappeared entirely. I am today perfectly well, can eat anything and everything I wish, without paying the penalty that I used to. We would not keep house without Grape Nuts.

"My husband was so delighted with the benefits that I received that he had been recommending Grape-Nuts to his customers and has built up a very large trade on the food. He sells them by the case to many of the leading physicians of the country, who recommend Grape-Nuts very generally. There is some satisfaction in using a really scientifically prepared food."

Read the little book, "The Road to Wellville," in pkgs. "There's a Reason."

Ever read the above letter? A new one appears from time to time. They are genuine, true, and full of human interest.

CONVENTION OF CHARITIES.

The convention of charities and correction would make the securing of a medical certificate obligatory upon candidates for marriage. In theory such a proposition is excellent; in practice, it is to be feared that it would not work out. The unfit would still marry, if not at home then abroad. Education of the young to a realization of the immutability of nature's laws and the importance of their relation to the future generations must precede any real improvement along the lines in question. The prevention of unfitness is more feasible than regulation of its propagation. There is a class of mentally diseased men and women whose imbecility would demand government guardianship were the asylums not already filled with those who are dangerous as well as weak-minded. Legal restraint in such cases would be practicable; it has been urged upon the Province many times. But that great section of the public who are mentally able to take care of themselves, but physically undesirable candidates for matrimony, are susceptible to no such control. They are, on the other hand, susceptible to prevention. The inculcation of high ideals in the young, better standards of living, education as to the importance of cleanliness and fresh air, are the lines along which most good may be done. At present there is a curious tendency to allow the liquor question to have the monopoly of the words temperance and intemperance. The rising generations must be taught that these are quite as applicable in the discussion of excesses of other kinds; that "overdoing it" along any line is apt to be hurtful, and that the evenly balanced and sanely directed life has far more sides to it than are compassed by the walls of either a barroom or a W.C.T.U. convention hall.

Such resolutions as have been passed by the conferences of charities and correction are useful because they denote an awakening of the public conscience to the desirability of improved health standards and nobler life standards. However impracticable they may be, they serve to draw attention to what is a vital national problem, the conservation of the country's womanhood and manhood. The convention may not succeed in securing a law which would prevent the presence on the streets at night of girls under sixteen and boys under twelve. All over Ontario are towns with curfew laws which have proven incapable of enforcement. But the agitation for such a law will draw to the attention of parents the necessity for supervising the night street habit among their offspring. There is no better way to do it than to encourage the young folks to invite their friends indoors. Like many other problems this yields to the positive more readily than to the negative. If the home is made more attractive than the street, and if the children of the house are encouraged to bring their companions in with them, the battle will be half won.

STATUS OF THE CAT.

The Poor Dog is Feared and Denounced by Many People.

While the dog is feared, and denounced, muzzled and taxed, the cats withers are unwrung, also the cat's bark and other portions of its anatomy. Along amongst domesticated animals the cat lives a life of luxury and too often of crime.

The cat is deeply indebted to Shakespeare, who three centuries ago gave it a certificate of character as harmless and necessary. Following the lead of the immortal bard, a great body of literature has described the cat as engaged in the useful occupation of destroying rats and mice. Were this literature impartially examined, we believe it would be found to be largely mythical—dream and imagination, thought and experience, being fused as in the childhood of men and races.

The praise of harmlessness is probably due to the fact that the cat does no assail mankind, except with horrid nocturnal noises. It is a most persistent enemy of the bird life which so many are trying to preserve, for humane and practical reasons. Out near Jackson park the housekeeping of a pair of birds was being watched with eager interest. The nest, containing first the eggs and then the callow youngsters, was cunningly concealed, but not cunningly enough for a cat, which one night devoured both mother and family. A bird which was being carefully taught to fly by its proud parents suffered a similar fate. There can be no doubt that an immense number of insectivorous birds, as well as squirrels are destroyed in this way. Mark Twain, who loved both cats and birds, used to tie bells around the necks of his cats, and it would seem only fair to lovers of wild life, as well as to the wild things of the woods and the air that this example should be followed.

Atlanta, Ga., June 27.— Acting on orders from Governor Brown, two companies of State militia started early today for the western part of Ocilla county, where W. H. Bostwick barricaded in his home with his six children, yesterday shot and killed Chief Davis of Ocilla, and Deputy Sheriff Sheffield of Irwin county. The companies were ordered from Fitzgerald and Albany as soon as an appeal from the county authorities reached the governor last night. Bostwick wanted for a misdemeanor had killed the two officers and wounded three others before help was asked. He still held the fort this morning.

A Call From Oregon
Opportunities in the Far West

The greatest industrial activity in this country is now centered in Oregon. Two of the biggest railroad systems in the U. S., with intense rivalry, are pushing branch lines into the remote portions of this State, and an exodus from the East is on in the occupation of this the LAST FRONTIER ON THE CONTINENT. Fortunes will be made here THIS YEAR—NEXT YEAR and EVERY YEAR for the next decade.

Our valleys are the most fertile in the world and irrigation projects are converting the bordering hillsides into gardens. Orchards lands are leaping upward in price and the ad-vance has only started. Water from mountain streams is the purest, timber the finest and climate the most perfect in Uncle Sam's domain. Power plants are springing up along the channels of silvery torrents to develop electrical energy for mines and mills and interberban railways. Fish abound in the rivers, game in the forests and health and joy in the atmosphere. There are no poisonous here or pestiferous insects to endanger life, or make it a burden.

I want Eastern connections and help, financial and otherwise, to seize opportunities that surround this picturesque city of Baker. The returns will be out of all proportion to the help extended. The opportunities are along the lines of vegetable fruit, hay, grain, stock, timber, and mineral lands. There are fortunes in all these. Some mines in this district have record outputs in gold, running into the millions. The [illegible], overlying the mineral deposits of Baker County, has hardly been scratched.

On a ledge of free gold bearing quartz two miles in length I made a test of 900 tons of ore taken at a depth of only a hundred feet and got over $2000.00 out of it. The mint returns passed through the Citizen's National Bank here.

Among other things, I need money, right now, to begin the MANUFASTURE OF GOLD out of this immense ore body. The shares of the Timber Canyon Mines Company, which OWNS this property, and of which I am secretary have an intrinsic value of at least 25 cents a share based on a conservative valuation of the property and the amount of stock issued.

I will deliver on order, with draft attached, up to 50,000 shares of this stock at 25 cents a share, NET. The full amount of the purchase price will go back in dividends inside of 10 months. Take a block of this as a starter, and get in step with this Eldorado of the West. If there is anything else out here that I can do for you, or you can do for me.—WRITE ME.

Yours for business, and MONEY for both of us,

THE NEW GOLDEN BUCKET

A few years ago, the recovery of Gold from auriferous grounds and subaqueous beds, was considered impossible. The "pan" and "grizzly," operated by hand, appeared to be the sole method of recovering values. It was during this period that Dr. Linderman, Director of the United States Mint expressed the opinion that he who, could devise a machine, without adding proportionately to the cost of production, capable of saving 50 per cent. of all the placer gold, would not only enrich himself, but within the lives of men still living, would double the world's available gold bullion. The Director of the United States Mint further said,—"WE CAN HARDLY HOPE FOR THIS, THOUGH NO MAN DARE SAY IT IS IMPOSSIBLE."

The perfected modern Dredge, is to-day a substantial reality. Allowing for delays in shifting, for necessary repairs, etc., the Gold Dredge runs on an average about 18 hours out of twenty-four, thus making up in length of working day, loss of operation during winter months. These Dredges are operated in ready made mining areas, recovering millions of dollars annually, at the lowest possible cost.

The Director of the Mint of the United States in his report for 1909 says:

"The Gold Dredge makes money where a cradle would starve."

Outing Magazine: "When you think that bold inventive talent, has been able to devise machinery that makes it profitable to extract ten cents worth of gold from a ton of earth, the enterprise becomes one of the romances of American industry."

"A' chain of powerful buckets bite into the earth, each bringing up a tremendous quantity of earth and gravel. These are subjected to screen treatment and the gold recovered."

California in 45 years, within radius of less than ten miles of placer ground, produced $200,000,000 in gold. To-day the vast number of Modern Dredges working over old ground are recovering millions annually.

Departmental examinations were commenced at the Collegiate Institute yesterday.

verting the stream of emmigration to the Overseas Dominion, it being pointed out that last year more than 110,000 British emigrants had gone to the United States as compared with eighty-six thousand to Canada and some fifty thousand to Australasia and the Cape conjointly. The most practical results of this conference are the appointment of a standing committee of the Royal Colonial Institute to deal with the interests of such migration and the decision of the Conference to urge upon the Imperial Government the desirability of convening a Subsidiary C onference as in the case of last year's Imperial Conference for the sake of carrying on the work. There seems no reason why the British Government should not have a Ministerial Department of Migration any less than a Ministerial Department of Agriculture. Such a department might do much by co-operating with the Dominions and studying their needs. The various societies are doing good work, but it is only of a partial and unofficial nature, and the dominions, possibly because of their dislike for any taint of pauperism, are somewhat harsh towards the charitably-assisted emmgrant. More encouragement might be given perhaps in the case of Poor Law children, and others, who are young enough to be adaptable.

Beauties of Algonquin

and other people go in thousands, and puf up with all sorts of inferior accommodation. Algonquin Park remains practically unvisited except by Americans. This state of affairs is, however, being rapidly changed by the efforts of the Grand Trunk Railway in erecting a splendid hotel at Cache Lake, where guides and outfits can be had, making it possible for tourists to take trips varying from one day upwards in this glorious scene of sylvan beauty. The services of such a lover of nature as Government was fortunate in having Mr. Bartlett, superintendent of the Park, a clever, capable Englishman, absolutely devoted to the Park, and utterly unbiased by political affiliations. Often with staff undermanned and incapable he performed prodigies of work with insufficient backing from the various governments. Liberal and Conservative. Under Mr. Cochrane's regime, however, things have been assuming a more promising look, but with the lumbermen cutting the timber, in view of the hotel and railway station where first impressions would deter any passing tourist, it seems that if the good work of years would be nullified unless very urgent steps are taken to put a stop to this most gross vandalism."

A VIEW UNSURPASSED...

Dr. McFarlane, who has seen most of the great forests of the world, considers that the view from Skymount on Cache Lake is unsurpassed When Mr. Hardy set apart this land, he permitted the cutting of pine according to lumbermans's contract, but withdrew the hardwood. After his death the lumbermen commenced to cut birch, but were promptly stopped by Superintendent Bartlett. Later on the lumbermen waited upon the Ross Government in its last moments, and succeeded in having all the hardwood thrown back into their hands with twenty to thirty years in which to cut it, thus leaving the bear rocks and water for the people to enjoy as a park. The owner of one of the large limits has lately sold out to an Orilla company that is doing the present cutting.

"Mr. Cochrane has, I believe", said Dr. McFarlane, "been conducting negotiations, but finds that they are asking prohibitive prices for conciliation of their lease, or demanding a quid pro quo in the shape of pine elsewhere in Ontario to the value of about $600,000, which is very much more than the Government feels would be a proper recompense."

A LESSON FROM MAINE.

Dr. McFarlane believes that Ontario must take a lesson from Maine, which now receives annually millions of dollars from tourists who spend $150 per capita while visiting the woods and rivers of that State in pursuit of game and fish. In 1867 a commission appointed by the State reported no moose, few deer and practically no fish in the rivers and lakes. The settlers were appealed to from the standpoint of self-interest ther slaughter of the denizens of the to do everything to prevent any further wild, with the result that Maine is to-day one of the best hunting and fishing countries in North America. The people of Ontario did not realize for a minute the glory and beauty of Algonquin Park, and no man could ever say that he had seen Ontario unless he visited the park before its beauty is destroyed.

"I think every public spirited citizen of Ontario," he added, "should appeal at once to the member of the Legislature for his district, to use his influence in having the beauty of Algonquin Park preserved unimpaired to posterity."

Concluding, Dr. McFarlane believed the Government could make the park self-supporting by cutting paths in different directions, and by the removal of over-ripe timber. This would make an excellent school for experiments in practical forestry.

IRREPARABLE HARM DONE SAY SOME

CONDITION OF THE CROP IN THE WEST IS VERY HARD TO ESTIMATE.

Manitoba is Sweltering, But Further West it Rains—Some Exaggerate the Damage.

Winnipeg, June 29.—It is somewhat cooler in Saskatchewan and Alberta, and considerable rain has fallen in Moose Jaw district, relieving the situation there, but so far as Manitoba is concerned, weather conditions have not changed in the past twenty-four hours.

The heavy thunder showers promised have not materialized so far, and temperatures of over the hundred mark were recorded at several points yesterday, and will be again today. High parching winds continue.

Apparently there is great discrepancy regarding estimates of the present crop condition, some experts holding that with cooler weather and good rains, in July, wheat will pick up again, while others think the damage already done is irreparable.

There is a suspicion that many farmers are exaggerating conditions to boost prices.

HUGHES' PARK.

Is Much Improved by Attention. But the Fence is Thinking of Moving.

The Property Committee of the City Council, of which Ald. George Duncan is the capable chairman, has done a commendable action in appointing a caretaker to keep in order "Hughes'" Park, at the corner of Downie and Charlotte streets. It has now donned twentieth century attire, and this is much appreciated by contingent residents. But something should be done regarding the wire fence around this pretty little spot. In many places the supporting posts are all but prostrated—perhaps with the heat—and as the little folk apparently cannot be kept from swinging on the already slackened wire work, the fence will soon have lost usefulness. The neighboring ratepayers are of the opinion that were this rural fence removed and a concrete curb laid around the park, a good work begun by the Property Committee would be consummated in a manner adopted by all progressive Canadian cities, where may be found many similar little breathing spots open to weary pedestrians.

BIGGEST STEAMSHIP YET.

Kaiser Views Plans of Hamburg-American's New Ocean Liner.

Hamburg, June 29.—Emperor William arrived here yesterday and viewed the plans of the Hamburg-American Steamship's Line new new steamer, which the company has decided to build immediately. The new ocean liner will be the largest steamship in the world, having a length between perpendiculars of 876 feet and a breadth of 85½ feet. From keel to upper deck will measure 64 feet. She will have a speed of twenty-two knots, and will be twice the tonnage of the Kaiserin Augusta Victoria.

POLICE COURT.

The boy, Ross McCall, was on trial at the police court yesterday morning, charged with keeping back money collected for his employer, Mr. Robert Beach, of Parker's Dye Works on Charlotte street. The amount alleged to have been stolen was placed at $99. Mr. Gordon of O'Connell & Gordon, appeared in the prisoner's behalf, and asked that on account of the youth's age he be given a chance to do better, with the understanding that the amount stolen be returned.

County Crown Attorney Wood was favorable to this being done and his worship allowed the prisoner to go.

A PRETTY WEDDING.

Clarissa Clementi and Gilbert St. J. Bayly Joined in Marriage.

A quiet wedding was solemnized at 7.30 yesterday morning at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Clementi, 451 Water street, when their eldest daughter, Clarissa Emma, was joined in the holy bonds of matrimony, to Gilbert St. John G. Bayly of Stauffer, Alberta. Rev. Canon Davidson, rector of St. Johns church, officiated. The ceremony was performed in the presence of only some twenty relatives of the family in the drawing room, which was decorated with garlands of daisies and syringa. After the nuptial knot had been tied, those present adjourned to the dining room where an informal breakfast was served.

The young couple left by the 6.30 G.T.R. train for a ten days' trip. They will return, on the expiration of the honeymoon for a short visit to Peterborough and then leave for Stauffer, Alta., to reside there on a ranch owned by Mr. Bayly.

TOWN WASHED AWAY.

Enormous Damage Done by Floods and Storms in Spain.

Madrid, June 29.—Floods and storms have again devasted many districts in Spain entailing enormous loss to farmers and manufacturers.

Torrential rains and storms have prevailed for a month, while the temperature in many places has been the lowest ever recorded at this season of the year. Dozen of villages have been inundated in the province of Aragon. The town of Azon was washed away.

Messages have been received from Barcelonia, Huesca, Valladolid, Cartagena, Castellon and Ferro, describing the damage wrought during the last few days. Crops have been destroyed.

A number of fishing boats have been wrecked off the Mediterranean coast, and their crews drowned. The usual May fetes have everywhere been postponed, and the annual battle of flowers in Madrid, which was to have taken place today, has been cancelled.

30,000 Signatures Against the Change

Monster Petition was Mailed to London and it will be Followed Soon by 50,000 More Names

Toronto, June 29.—Bearing thirty thousand signatures, a monster petition was mailed to London today by Mr. H. C. Hocken, editor of the Orange Sentinel, protesting against a change in the accessional oath. The petition was prepared at the instance of the leaders of the Orange Association, and has been circulating for some weeks.

Petitions are now out which will be circulated on July 12th, and it is expected 50,000 more names will be sent on to the British capital.

Dr. Sproule, M.P., grand master of the Orange Order in Canada, has also mailed a letter expressing the protest of the association.

Miss M. Burnett won City Tennis Tournament

Out of an entry of eighteen ladies in the city tennis tournament, Miss M.Burnett won out in the final series played on the golf ground last evening, with Mr. R. J. Devey as referee. On motion, an additional light will be furnished the band stand in Victoria Park.

KAISER READS AND LOVES THE BIBLE.

Says It is the Source From Which He Draws Strength and Light.

Berlin, June 29.—The German Emperor has made some interesting statements to Pastor Stolte of Shirmuntz, regarding his belief in the Bible. During a recent conservation with the clergyman, he said:

"I often study the Bible, and I love to read it every night. The Bible lies on a table beside my bed. I find the most beautiful thoughts expressed in it.

"I cannot understand how it is that so many persons pay so little attention to Holy Script. Can anyone read the Gospels and other parts of the Bible without feeling convinced that they contain simple truth, well authenticated and established on unquestionable facts?

"Whenever I have to come to my decision I ask myself what the Bible would teach me to do in that particular case. The Bible is to me the fountain from which I draw light and strength in the hours of sorrow and depression. I seek consolation from the Bible, and I am convinced that many who have neglected religion will regain definite religious belief and will feel the need of communion with the Almighty if they study it.

"Periods of dangerous doubt have always produced in their wake periods of enthusiastic religious feeling. I cannot understand how life can be lived without real communion with the Almighty. We must all go through Gethsemane.

"There are hours and hours in which our pride is humiliated. It is difficult for us to be meek, for each of us desires to be his own master."

In the course of farther conversation the Kaiser remarked that he was fond of giving Bibles to Catholics. Speaking of the difference between Protestants and Catholics, his majesty said the essential difference was that Protestants had only one Mediator between God and them, while Catholics had many Mediators.

DO NOT THINK HE DROWNED

GOULDTHRITE'S LETTER IS REGARDED AT DETROIT AND OTTAWA AS A RUSE.

One Report Declares Wife Went to Chicago, But Ottawa Expects Mrs. Gouldthrite to Be Home Tomorrow.

Ogdensburg, N.Y., June 29.—Mrs. Gouldthrite left here Sunday morning for Chicago.

Ottawa, June 29.—Down on Waverly street, in this city, there is a five-year-old boy playing all by himself. He is alone with people who are almost strangers to him but they are friends of his father and mother, and so they are looking after him for friendship's sake. The little fellow does not know where his father is nor where his mother is. His name is Master Gouldthrite, aged five years.

HAS LOTS OF FRIENDS.

Ottawa is full of Gouldthrite's friends. For instance the photographer who took a picture of Gouldthrite some time ago is his friend, and refuses steadfastly to give out pictures of the alleged fugitive. It is even said that he destroyed the negative. Then again it is said that a certain ticket clerk in Ottawa is a friend of Gouldthrite and did not hurry to tell the police what he knew.

A BROTHER IN ST. PAUL.

Gouldthrite has a brother in St. Paul, in the hardware business. It is said he may have intended going there. Just how he would come to be in Detroit, cannot, of course, be accounted for.

Meanwhile the suicide theory is scouted by some and accepted by others. One woman, a friend of Mrs. Gouldthrite, said that the day before the husband went away he was seen pacing up and down on the bridge just below the Chaudiere Falls. According to her story he appeared to be very nervous, and looked down with strange preoccupation into the cauldron below the bridge.

Ottawa, June 28.—A private message was received in Ottawa this morning from Detroit, in which it is said that a man supposed to have been Frank Gouldthrite, the missing superintendent of Government stationery, had committed suicide by jumping from a ferryboat into the river while on the way from Windsor to Detroit.

The Secretary of State resumed his examination this morning. No official word has been received by the department concerning the alleged suicide at Detroit.

ON BUFFALO BOAT.

Detroit, Mich., June 29.—The finding on the main deck of the steamer Eastern States, from Buffalo, of a straw hat, with what is supposed to be a death message written on the inside, leads the officials of the D. and C. to believe that F. Gouldthrite, aged about 40, of Rockcliffe Park, Ottawa, Canada, ended his life in the Detroit River this morning.

The discovery of the hat was not made until after the boat had docked at eight o'clock, and the passengers had disembarked, so it was not known whether the man jumped overboard or left the message for a friend, and walked off the boat with the rest of the crowd.

Look for my body in the River Detroit," the message written in the inside of the hat with lead pencil said. "Letters in overcoat. Send letters to my wife."

Gouldthrite occupied the lower berth in stateroom No. 28, and in this room the overcoat be mentioned and a suit case were found. One of the two letters in the overcoat was addressed to Mrs. Avelesne Gouldthrite, Ottawa, Rockcliffe Park Can., while the other bore only "the name "Avelesne Gouldthrite."

GOT THE BODY.

Former Local Bank Clerk Does Good Work in the Northwest.

The Toronto Globe contained the following:

"Grenfell, Sask., June 27.— Willie Hyde, the 11-year-old son of George Hyde, of Grenfell, was drowned on Saturday night at seven o'clock at the dam. Mr. G. R. Strickland of the Dominion Bank staff, recovered the body at 8.30.

The Mr. Strickland referred to is well known in the city, being a son of Mr. R. C. Strickland of Lakefield.

The French Slaughter A Thousand Natives

Tangier, June 29.—Thirteen hundred natives are reported today to have been killed in an engagement with the French troops on June 26 in the Tadla district. The soldiers were on their way to the Shawia region to suppress an unprecedented reign of outlawry, and were intercepted in the Tadla country. The French losses were light.

OUR NEW CHIEF.

Mr. Thompson Has to Put in Full Time at Woodstock.

Woodstock Sentinel-Review:—

Thursday, June 30th, will be the last day in which Chief Thompson will occupy his official position in Woodstock, and on that night he leaves for Peterborough. No new chief has been appointed or advertised for as yet, but it is understood that arrangements have been made for carrying on the work. An action taken by the police commissioners at their last meeting is illustrative of the kind of economy which is being practiced; Chief Thompson having worked six months of the year, asked that he might be allowed the last week of June free of duty, so that he might get ready for departure and have a few days holidays, as he did not expect any in Peterborough this year. The chief is entitled to two weeks' holidays in the year, with full pay, so he was, apparently, only asking what was his due. The reply to this request was that he might have the holiday, but his pay for the week would be subtracted from his salary so he decided to work and take his full pay. This seems very small to the ordinary mind, and by no means a fitting recompense for Chief Thompson's good work in the department.

Wife Beaters in Hamilton Cet the Lash

Hamilton, June 29.—John Daniels, a laborer, found guilty yesterday of brutally beating his wife on Saturday, was sentenced to a week in jail and ten lashed by Magistrate Jelfs.

"I don't think I got a fair trial," remarked the prisoner.

"I don't think you got enough lashes," said his worship, who declared that wife-beating was becoming too common, and that the lash had to be resorted to.

Russia and Japan Peacefully Agree

St. Petersburg, June 29.—A Russo Japanese convention dealing principally with the railroad situation in Manchuria will be signed at the end of the present week in St. Petersburg by M. Iswolsky, minister of foreign affairs, and Dr. Mostono, the Japanese ambassador. The contents of the documents will be communicated before the signing of the convention to Great Britain and France.

Negotiations between Russia and Japan were begun shortly after Secretary of State Knox's neutralization proposals. They were conducted in St. Petersburg between M. Iswolsky and Dr. Mostono, but were interrupted for a month during the foreign minister's absence abroad, being resumed shortly after his return and concluded recently.

The convention will consist, first of a brief general statement with reference to the determination of the two governments to maintain jointly the status quo in Manchuria, both territorial and administrative, and to coordinate the railroad interests there: second, a detailed technical agreement between the East Chinese Railway Corporation and the South Manchurian Railroad Corporation, regulating the direction and division of the cradle between Vladivostock and Dalny and establishing advantageous through rates on the railroads. Russian and Japan, to adjust several pending questions.

FIRE, WATER AND LIGHT COMMITTEE IN FIVE MINUTES' SESSION

The above committee met at 8.15 last night, Chairman Ald. Morgan presiding. There were also present, Aldermen Duncan, Metheral, Graham and Batten.

The chairman said the Peterborough Light & Power Company's account for street lighting had been received, and asked for instructions as to making a reduction therefrom for a number of lights reported as not burning during contract hours. According to pre-arrangement the company are to be exempt from responsibility for such lights as are not burning through conditions beyond their control.

This matter was left in Chairman Morgan's hands.

MR. POTTER PRAISED.

Montreal Press Has Kind Words for Popular Local Pastor.

The Montreal Daily Witness says: The Rev. James G. Potter, B.A., of St. Andrew's church, Peterborough, who has been unanimously called to McVicar Memorial Presbyterian church, is the son of Mr. James S. Potter, superintendent of the Sailors' Mission, under the auspices of the Upper Canada Tract Society. He began his education in Halifax schools in the Halifax Academy, of which the late Archdeacon Gilpin was principal, in Dalhousie College, and completed his arts and theological courses in Queen's University, Kingston, winning the Hebrew scholarship in his second year. His early years were spent in St. Matthew's church, Halifax, where the late Principal Grant was pastor, and for some time he enjoyed the ministry of the late Rev. Dr. R. F. Burns, in Fort Massey, Halifax.

The lives and labors of these two eminently Christian patriots made a lasting impression on his mind and heart, and has had a great influence on his ministry. While pastor in Toronto and Peterborough, Mr. Potter's special forte has been among the boys and young men and he is in consequently deeply interested in Sunday school, Christian Endeavor, Brotherhood, and Y.M.C.A. work. The moral and social reform work has held claim to a large share of his time and efforts throughout the city and county of Peterborough.

Mr. Michael O'Brien is home from St. Michael's College, Toronto, for the holidays.

"PILLS LIKE A FYLE."
So Harsh and Drastic are Many Pills as to Seriously Injure Health.
In a letter written from his home in Valencia, Mr. Marah Selwyn does service to thousands by drawing attention to the injuries inflicted upon delicate people by drastic purgative pills.
"For a long time I suffered from constipation. This condition compelled the use of pills. Like many another, I made the unwise choice of using pills that were like lightning in their activity. I began to be filled with intestinal disturbances, constant rumblings, gas in the bowels, and diarrhoea. I grew pale and emaciated. Then the doctor told me drastic irritating pills had caused catarrh of the bowels, an almost incurable disease. Explaining my situation to a friend, he advised me a trial of Dr. Hamilton's Pills. I speedily experienced the healing and curative effect they exercise on the stomach, liver, and bowels. The intestines free from irritating drugs, rapidly regained natural tone, the bowels acted as if nature and not Dr. Hamilton's Pills were at work. I know it will be of value to thousands to know that a pill so mild and curative as Dr. Hamilton's is available to the sufferer.
For bowel disorders, sick headache, constipation, liver and stomach derangement, there is no pill so invariably sure to cure as Dr. Hamilton's Pills. Refuse a substitute. Sold in 25c. boxes, all dealers, or The Catarrhozone Co., Kingston, Ont.

It is understood that Mr. R. H. Strickland, said his well known property at Lakefield, "The Strickland," to Mr. Shackleton, Toronto, who will make it his permanent residence.

CURED CONSTIPATION QUICKLY.

Tells of a Remedy That is Safe for Young and Old, for All Stomach and Bowel Troubles.

Writing from his home in Barcelona, Mr. Frederick G. Mayer states: "I think no one ever suffered as severely from constipation as I did for nearly six months. So many serious symptoms were developing as a consequence of this evil condition of the system, that I realized I must find a remedy. The strong pills of various kinds I tried seemed after their first effects were over to make me far worse and I did not know which way to turn for relief. I saw Dr. Hamilton's Pills advertised, and the first box used satisfied me I found a true remedy. Instead of griping by undue activity, Dr. Hamilton's Pills acted as naturally as if physic had not been taken. I never had to increase the dose, and, indeed, within a month I reduced it and when the system finally acted of its own accord as a result of Dr. Hamilton's Pills, I took a dose twice a week only, just to make sure the old condition would not come back.

No other remedy cures constipation and biliousness so easily or safe by as Dr. Hamilton's Pills; they are an ideal family remedy for all diseases of the stomach, liver and bowels. Sold in 25c. boxes, all dealers, or The Catarrhozone Co., Kingston, Ont.

OUR GREATEST ASSET.

Apropos of the recently published remarks of Mr. Flavelle, it seems that Canada's reputation as an agricultural Dominion is likely to rest solely upon her wheat producing capacity. Whether any system of crop rotation will come into force within a reasonable period or not is a moot problem, but it would not be amiss if the Commission of Conservation were to take measures to prevent an excess of that kind of farming, which takes all out of the soil and then departs elsewither leaving nothing—a thing which has in some measure, characterized the development of the grain belt in the past. The seriousness of the outlook has been realized by the Scottish Agricultural Commission, which visited Canada last year, and these figures are in their report. They declare that: "If it were not for the vast virgin area which awaits development, the Canadian farmer might be censured for his improvidence. In the great wheat belt the commissioners found farming which surprised them by its short-sightedness. In the older and more settled districts on the prairie there is a method of mixed farming, in which wheat is succeeded by oats or barley seeded down with grass. But in the newer lands of the Far West the syste is more exhaustive to the soil. It is to crop wheat for two or three years in succession, then to leave the land fallow for a year, and back to the wheat again."

The improvidence of this practice is, the commissioners say, perfectly understood by some of the intelligent wheat farmers of Canada. One of them, a German, said to the commissioners' "You need not tell me about these things. I know perfectly well that continuous wheat farming exhausts the soil; but I know, too, that stock raising—at any rate, dairy farming—means continuous and hard work; and I know, too, that wheat growing requires less capital and less labor, and give better returns.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured.

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to to cure deafness. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

STRAIT UNDER A CROWN.

When the lord of peace and war in Europe arrives at his capital from the summer palace with his right hand bandaged and his right leg on a cushion, it may be questioned if some of his humblest subjects might want to swap fortunes with him. For when a king like William of Germany submits to be bandaged and mollycoddled in public he must be a very uncomfortable if not a very sick man. It is not only the head that rests uneasy under a crown, and the sleepless eyes that are weary but find no rest for the ailments that will break through all the barriers wholesome living and careful medical treatment may put up challenge the primacy of monarchs in painful and humiliating fashion. The blood of the royal families (or family) of Europe, for all are kin, is none of the soundest and the Kaiser's earache is a warning at times even more distressing than the double crippling he is undergoing now.

THE BILLION DOLLAR MARK.

As far as our Canadian trade is concerned the figures just issued for May show another record advance. A despatch from Ottawa says that the total trade for the month was $50,187,972, an increase of $14,276,236, or over thirty per cent. as compared with May of last year. At the present rate of increase Canada's total monthly trade will within two years reach the billion dollar mark. For the current year indications point to a total trade of over $600,000,000.

THE POLITICAL MEMORY.

One of the first aids to political success is the faculty of remembering, or appearing to remember, names and faces, an accomplishment of Sir John A. Macdonald's which won him friends wherever he went. It is said that his feats of memory were sometimes due to judicious prompting, but in the main they were undoubtedly the result of a special and highly cultivated faculty which only one person in thousands possesses. Theodore Roosevelt is said to be one of these fortunate men, but his memory failed him in at least one instance during the reception tendered him at New York. Says a report of the proceedings:

Capt. Cosby of the Rought Riders was an eager, if not always an accurate announcer. Among the first in line was Clement A. Driscoll, recently appointed by Mayor Gaynor to the bureau of weights and measures. "Mr. Driscoll of Washington," announced Capt. Cosby.

"Ah, old fellow, delighted to see you again!" exclaimed the colonel, pumping his arm vigorously.

"Say," said Clement a few minutes after, what do you think of that for a bunk? He never saw me before."

But Colonel Roosevelt probably knows that it is better to err on the side of remembering a man whom he has never met, than to forget one whom he has.

Throughout the English speaking world many memorials of different kinds will be erected in the next few years in honor of the memory of the late King Edward. None will be more symbolical of sovereign worship than those memorials which combine usefulness with effect in design and architecture.

The British residents of Pittsburg are almost radical in what they are research laboratory which will be endowed. It is indeed a distant departure from the conventional type of statues, columns, chapels, marble arches and public buildings, but it will putting up—namely, a tuberculosis meet a better purpose in as much as amelioration of the great ill consumption. If there were more memorials of this kind erected they would serve better modern ideas of human progress.

If you would have a safe yet certain Cough Remedy in the home, try Dr. Shoop's—at least once. It is thoroughly unlike any other Cough preparation! Its taste will be entirely new to you—unless it is already your favorite Cough Remedy. No opium, chloroform, or any other stupefying ingredients are used. The tender leaves of a harmless, hugbearing mountainous shrub, give to Dr. Shoop's Cough Remedy its wonderful curative properties. It is truly a most certain and trustworthy prescription. Sold by all dealers.

A Call From Oregon
Opportunitiesin the Far West

The greatest industrial activity in this country is now centered in Oregon. Two of the biggest railroad systems in the U. S., with intense rivalry, are pushing branch lines into the remote portions of this State, and an exodus from the East is on in the occupation of this the LAST FRONTIER ON THE CONTINENT. Fortunes will be made here THIS YEAR—NEXT YEAR and EVERY YEAR for the next decade.

Our valleys are the most fertile in the world and irrigation projects are converting the bordering hillsides into gardens. Orchards lands are leaping upward in price and the advance has only started. Water from mountain streams in the purest, timber the finest and climate the most perfect in Uncle Sam's domain. Power plants are springing up along the channels of silvery torrents to develop electrical energy for mines and mills and interurban railways. Fish abound in the rivers, game in the forests and health and joy in the atmosphere. There are no cyclones here or pestiferous insects to endanger life or make it a burden.

I want Eastern connections and help, financial and otherwise, to seize opportunities that surround this picturesque city of Baker. The returns will be out of all proportion to the help extended. The opportunities are along the lines of vegetable fruit, hay, grain, stock, timber, and mineral lands. There are fortunes in all these. Famine prices in this vicinity have record outputs in gold, running into the millions. Yet the entire, overlying the mineral deposited Baker County, has hardly been scratched.

On a ledge of free gold bearing quartz two miles in length I made a test of 400 tons of ore taken at a depth of only a hundred feet and got over $[illegible] out of it. The mint returns passed through the Citizen's National Bank here.

Among other things, I need money, right now, to begin the MANUFACTURE OF GOLD out of this immense ore body. The shares of the Timber Canyon Mines Company, which OWNS this property, and of which I am secretary have an intrinsic value of at least 50 cents a share based on a conservative valuation o... the amount of stock issued.

I will deliver on order, with draft attached, up to 50,000 shares of this stock at 20 cents a share, PAR. The full amount of the purchase price will go back in dividends inside of 12 months. Take a thousand this as a starter, and get in step with this Klondike of the West. If there is anything else out here that I can do for you, or you can do for me,—WRITE ME.

Yours for business, and MONEY for both of us, and of course France is preferable to Brazil or Africa.

We are not sure that the complacent French intellectuals, the thrifty bourgeois and peasantry will be stirred even by the picture of their country as a desert open to Teutonic occupation. They will insist on thinking that a stationary population with a high degree of comfort, prosperity and culture is preferable to an increasing population with growing poverty, emigration, unemployment and discontent. They argue that even in war mass is only one factor, and a factor of declining importance Money, skill, education count more and more, and so do alliances, understandings, the good will of other nations. The French make heavy sacrifices for defense, but they do not admit that they must live, move and have their being in an atmosphere of war talk and war worry, instead of in an atmosphere of peace, industry, art, individual happiness. As for a depopulated France, they haven't the imagination of a Bertillon and will never "visualize" it. It will, at the worst, take a good many centuries to "depopulate" France.

Bertillon's solemn warning reminds one of the equally earnest prediction of a Boston savant that in exactly 265 years the United States will be nothing but a chain of lunatic asylums. Stressosity, alcoholism, flats, congestion and lots of other evils, it seems, are driving us mad, and our days are literally numbered. But the alarmed doctor forgets a number of ifs and buts. He forgets that life is change, that things never go on "at this" or that rate, and that evils have a way of reforming themselves. He forgets the forces that make for sanity, health, vigor, progress.

If we can't be induced to mend in this or that particular by appeals to our present interest, our common sense, our conscience, savants may depend on it that pictures of "ultimate" desolation, extinction and death will utterly fail to strike terror.

THE NEW GOLDEN BUCKET

A few years ago, the recovery of Gold from auriferous grounds and subaqueous beds, was considered impossible. The "pan" and "grizzly", operated by hand, appeared to be the sole method of recovering values. It was during this period that Dr. Linderman, Director of the United States Mint expressed the opinion that he who, could devise a machine, without adding proportionately to the cost of production, capable of saving 50 per cent. of all the placer gold, would not only enrich himself, but within the lives of men still living, would double the world's available gold bullion. The Director of the United States Mint further said,—"WE CAN HARDLY HOPE FOR THIS, THOUGH NO MAN DARE SAY IT IS IMPOSSIBLE."

The perfected modern Dredge, is to-day a substantial reality. Allowing for delays in shifting, for necessary repairs, etc., the Gold Dredge runs on an average about 16 hours out of twenty-four, thus making up in length of working day, loss of operation during winter months. These Dredges are operated in ready made mining areas, recovering millions of dollars annually, at the lowest possible cost.

The Director of the Mint of the United States in his report for 1909 says:

"The Gold Dredge makes money where a coolie would starve."

Outing Magazine: "When you think that bold inventive talent, has been able to devise machinery that makes it profitable to extract ten cents worth of gold from a ton of earth, the enterprise becomes one of the romances of American industry."

"A chain of powerful buckets bite into the earth, each bringing up a tremendous quantity of earth and gravel. These are subjected to screen treatment and the gold recovered."

California in 45 years, within radius of less than ten miles of placer ground, produced $200,000,000 in gold. To-day the vast number of Modern Dredges working over old ground are recovering millions annually.

"SCIENCE" ON NATIONAL AND RACE SUICIDE.

Once more a decrease in the French birth rate is recorded, and Dr. Bertillon, the statistician, psychologist and criminologist, is sounding his recurrent warning refrain. This time he predicts something worse than defeat for France in a war with Germany; depopulation and national suicide, he foresees, will leave beautiful France a wilderness, which the advancing Teuton will simply annex without a shot. And as the Germans add 1,000,000 a year to their population it is clear that they will need plenty of space and resources.

ENGLAND AND HEAT.

England's Unpreparedness for the Sweltering Heat.

There are still King Canutes in England. Nowadays, however, they defy not sea-waves but heat-waves. When London swelters in hot weather, its inhabitants look the heat indignantly in the eye and bid it begone. They do not yield to it one inch. If the heat insists upon staying, it does so without their consent, and they decline to recognize its presence by a change of food and clothing. Such, at any rate, is the conclusion which might be drawn from the remarks of an editorial writer of the London Mail, who proceeds to demonstrate England's unpreparedness for hot weather as follows:

"Were I to rake out a delightfully cool suit of pongee from my trunks, and to walk down the Strand with it as I should do in similar heat in Shanghai or Colombo, I would be followed by a group of gaping, laughing youngsters. Even on the hottest day the city man is expected to wear his dark-colored clothes and his silk "topper." Our food is not prepared with a view to heat. The middle-class household that has a refrigerator is decidedly the exception, and iced drinks are so rare outside of restaurants as to be practically unknown. Ice cream, which the American girl for example, eats by the pint and dreams of by the gallon, is here served up at an exorbitant price in minute portions. Stay-at-home folk have yet to learn that to endure great heat comfortably one must leave off spirits, eat plenty of fruit, cut down one's meat, and go moderately on all food.

That is the case in a nutshell, "leave off spirits, eat plenty of fruit, eat down one's meat, and go moderately on all food." And the wee folk should be dressed as lightly as the grown ups, and fed as lightly in proportion. Dr. MacMurchy's recent port on infant mortality emphasizes the danger of clothing the little tots too heavily. There is, on the other hand a danger in the iced drink which an exchange so ardently commends. Moderately cold water is quite as satisfying and more healthful.

Interest in Alberta Elections.

Edmonton, Alta., June 20.—The electors in Vermilion, Medicine Hat and Lethbridge districts are today expressing their political preference at the by-elections and on their verdict depends the fate of the Provincial Government, which under the leadership of Premier Sifton, came into power recently on the fall of the Rutherford Cabinet.

It is expected that Premier Sifton will be elected from Vermilion without serious opposition. The election of Hon. A. J. McLean, Provincial secretary, who is running in Lethbridge district, is also regarded as certain. Hon. C. R. Mitchell, the new minister of education and attorney-general, has opposition in Medicine Hat, his brother-in-law having been nominated by the Conservatives.

Misses Minnie and Lillie Porter, of Toronto, are guests at the home of Mr. C. Curtis, Ashburnham.

The Rochester & Wyoming Asbestos Co.

Owning 280 acres of Rich Asbestos property in the central part of the State of Wyoming.

Capital Stock $500,000, divided into 500,000 shares with a par value of One Dollar each, full paid and non-assessable.

Offering only 50,000 shares, Treasury Stock at One Dollar per share.

The main features of this Company are: Its low capitalization ($500,000) and the fact that six of the seven of the Board of Directors are business men of the City of Rochester; no bonus or free stock; every share of stock issued except as property purchase price has been paid for in cash. The Company is being, and will continue to be, conducted on economical basis. The Company has also the advantage of having the services of Mr. Edwin Hall, State Geologist of Wyoming, and an Official Inspector of Mines as Consulting Engineer. DOMINION BREVITIES.

Advices received at the Grand Trunk General Offices from British Columbia announce a very promising outlook for the fruit crop in that Province this year, which, it is stated, will be phenomenal, and altogether there is a very bright outlook for the Western Provinces.

President Creelman of the Ontario College of Agriculture, who went into New Ontario with the Canadian Party, had written an official of the Grand Trunk in enthusiastic praise of the land along the G. T. R., between Cochrane and the end of the steel. He fears, however, that the burning of the timber and brush as it has scattered over the ground, the usual method will burn through and destroy the black vegetable matter in the surface soil, which is valuable as a fertilizer. If the small timber and brush can be piled and burned, the fires some distance apart, the rich surface soil would thus be conserved. This is a point worth mentioning to intending settlers. Professor Creelman suggests a crop of potatoes planted between stumps before breaking up the land, thus giving the settler some revenue the first year.

At least Ontario is waking to a realization of the fact that their beautiful Algonquin Park is threatened with destruction. Right at the railway station "Highland Inn" at Cache Lake lumbermen are cutting the hardwood, which will leave the Park a bleak and barren wilderness. And just at the dawn of the day of Conservation.

Mr. A. E. McMaster, Agent of the Grand Trunk Public at Prince Rupert, reports the election of the first Mayor of Prince Rupert, Mr. F. Stirk, and the following council men: F. Mobley, A. A. McIntyre, T. D. Patullo, W. F. Lynch, A. R. Barrow, V. W. Smith, J. H. Hilditch, G. R. Maden.

Manifestly the people who plant for the cooling breezes of the Highlands of Ontario expect summer to come along as usual this year, if we may judge by the bookings at the various hotels and outing places reached by the Grand Trunk Railway System.

The Dominion of Canada will undertake to administer the great Territory lying along the western slopes of the Rockies, from the boundary to Yellowhead Pass and beyond. This vast territory is to be reserved from settlement or occupation, and it is to be administered with a view to the proper utilization and reproduction of the forests, the protection of the water supply of the Prairie Provinces—in short, for the benefit of prosperity.

$400 YEARLY FROM A $40 INVESTMENT

Ordreen the Incredible, It is a Fact, However.

I have under control 20,000 acres of the richest bottom land in the State of Georgia. This land costs the Syndicate $12.50 per acre, with the timber on it. The timber can be sold for $7.50 per acre. I want to put 1,000 acres of this land into Cotton cultivation which will net with cotton up 10 cents a pound, $80,000 from the first crop.—Cotton is now selling at 15 cents per pound. At this price the land would produce $165,000. It will take $40,000 to put this first 1,000 acres under cultivation. I want 500 people, more or less, to take one or more shares of a Syndicate at $80 per share, $10 down and $10 in three monthly payments. About 150 shares have been taken up in the last ten days.

The balance of the land—9,000 acres—can be put into cultivation from the receipts from the cotton crop grown on the first 1,000 acres, and besides doing this it will earn a dividend of not less than ten to twenty per cent. each year.

At the end of the fourth year the entire tract will be earning not less than $600,000 net annually. The 1,000 Syndicate shares will absolutely own the whole 10,000 acres.

SOLID COMMERCIAL FACTS ABOUT COTTON

Seven States in the Union produce 95 per cent. of the world's supply of cotton. The crop of 1909 brought $800,000,000 to planters.

If the United States were to stop the exportation of cotton for two seasons it would pauperize Europe.

There is no substitute for cotton, and cotton fabrics are the most essential commodities in the world's markets.

Food and clothing constitute the absolute necessities of life. There are a thousand food bearing plants that will grow anywhere, but 90 per cent. of the world's clothing is cotton that will grow ONLY IN SEVEN STATES.

The cotton land is the safest investment in the world to-day, and Georgia Bottoms is the safest of all, for it has 300 to 400 per cent. potential value.

A warehouse receipt for a bale of cotton is worth its face value in any bank in the South.

Any cotton investment is bound to be good. The Georgia Bottom Lands is the soundest and most attractive ever presented.

Why? Because this bottom land will produce THREE BALES AT THE COST OF ONE.

If the world's industrial progress is as great in the next fifteen years as it has been in the last fifteen, Cotton must either be double in VOLUME OR QUADRUPLE IN PRICE.

COTTON—FEBRUARY TO OCTOBER.

Here is just one more big significant world interest stories of the work of the twentieth century farmer who is getting results by brain power in new ways, rather than by plodding blind-lock-old-ways and old methods. You know it if you have been watching agricultural progress.

A FINAL WORD

Those who join this Syndicate WILL OWN ABSOLUTELY THE WHOLE ENTERPRISE. The balance of the land can be handled from the profits or stock enough sold to take it up. I believe sincerely from my investigation that at the end of five years every $40.00 invested by a syndicate member will yield $600.00 annually. This looks like an impossibility, but the facts more than justify the belief. The first payment on the syndicate shares will be $10.00 cash with the subscription, and the balance in three equal payments, 30, 60 and 90 days.

There will be no other syndicate and this will be closed on or before June 30.

In the above I have presented facts only—it is an enterprise of unusual merit. It is a big and sound money earner from its inception. If the Syndicate is oversubscribed, I reserve the right to allot pro rata.

Should you desire further information, address me frankly and openly. The ONLY WAY TO CREATE CONFIDENCE IS TO BE WORTHY OF IT.

I have the highest testimonials as to character, business and executive ability. Write for full report, free.

Newspapers and Libel

It has been asserted that the law of libel has never saved an innocent man from slander, but has often saved a clever scoundrel from exposure. While this is far too sweeping a condemnation, it must be remembered that the unusual reflex action of law is exceptionally potent in regard to libel. Many undoubted slanders that would not be considered or entertained if there was no libel law meet with an undeserved measure of success on account of the assumption that the existence of the law give all published words standing. It is assumed that the slanderer must have some warrant or he would not dare publish or disseminate.

The peculiar hardships suffered by newspapers through the libel law have been brought to the attention of the British Parliament by Lord Hervey, who gave many instances of newspapers involved in heavy cost by men without standing or property who promoted libel actions without cause. We have a supposed protection against such fictitious actions by the provision requiring security for costs from the plaintiff. When action for libel is taken against a newspaper or any individual or company by a man of straw the court may order the plaintiff to furnish security for costs in case he loses. If he is unable to do this his action is at an end, but often in the proceedings attaching to this part of the case a newspaper incurs a heavy bill of costs. It is generally wise from a financial standpoint to make terms with this class of blackmailer and effect a settlement.

If our courts were what they should be and the law reform promised had been any more than a failure there would be no possibility of these using the threat of such law suits to extort money. But we still have the unwieldy legal machinery which may be used through the law of libel. One of the worst results of the combination of unquestionable law and unwieldy and costly legal machinery is the many wrongs that are in consequence kept concealed from the public. In such a matter as Governmental administration men apparently honestly, and with seemingly straightforward stories of wrong cannot reach the public ear. To meet the libel stories and prove them charged would involve heavy expense, often in bringing witnesses from other countries. No newspapers under existing conditions could be expected to make such outlays. The courts stand in the way, preventing an appeal to the broader court of popular judgment. The need is not so much improvements in the law as changes in the judicial machinery that makes it a sanctuary for

VOL. XXXI NO. 150 PETERBOROUGH, ONTARIO FRIDAY JULY 1 1910 PRICE TWO CENTS

The Coronation Oath and The Bishops' Oath

HOT STUFF FOR HERETICS AS WELL AS FOR THE CATHOLIC HIERARCHY.

Extracts Copied From a Great English Journal of the Coronation Oath and the Papal Declaration.

To the Editor of The Times,

Sir,—There have been a good many charges and counter charges regarding the accession and ecclesiastical oaths of late, and I enclose something that may be of interest to your readers on these points now so generally prominent in the press of the English-speaking and German-speaking world

Old Countryman.

The Coronation Oath.

On page 646 of the London, (Eng.) Graphic of June 11, 1910, appear the following:

"The Coronation Oath as signed by King Edward VII. (photograph copy):—

"I solemnly promise and swear to govern the people of this United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland and the Dominions thereto belonging according to the statutes in Parliament agreed on and the respective laws and customs of the same. I will to my power cause law and justice, in mercy, to be executed in all my judgments. I will to the utmost of my power maintain the laws of God, the true Profession of the Gospel and the Protestant Reformed Religion, established by Law, and I will maintain and preserve inviolably the Settlement of the Church of England and the Doctrine Worship, Discipline and Government thereof, as by Law established in England. And I will preserve unto the Bishops and Clergy of England and to the Church therein committed to their charge all such Rights and Privileges as do or shall appertain to them or any of them.

The things which I have here before promised I will perform and keep, so help me God.

August 9, 1902.

(Sgd) Edward R. & I."

The Protestant Declaration.

Following this in the Graphic is "The Protestant Declaration" (which is as follows:—

"I, George, do solemnly and sincerely in the presence of God profess, testify and declare that I do believe that in the Sacrament of the Lord's Supper there is not any Transubstantiation of the Elements of Bread and Wine into the Body and Blood of Christ at or after the consecration thereof by any person whatsoever; and that the Invocation or Adoration of the Virgin Mary or any other Saint and the Sacrifice of the Mass as they are now used in the Church of Rome are superstitious and idolatrous, and I do solemnly, in the presence of God, profess, testify and declare that I do make the Declaration and every part thereof in the plain and ordinary sense of the words read unto me as they are commonly understood by English Protestants."

This it is proposed to cut out.

The Catholic Declaration.

Alongside the preceding declaration and in the same special form of type is the following:—"The Catholic Declaration:—

"We excommunicate and curse on the part of God Almighty, Father, Son and Holy Ghost; by the authority also of the Blessed Apostles, Peter and Paul; and by our own all Hussites, Wicklephists, Lutherans, Zwinglians, Colonists, Huguenots, Anabaptists, Trinitarians, and apostates whatsoever from the Christian Faith (i.e., the Roman Faith) and all and singular other heretics under whatsoever name they may be classed and of whatsoever sect they may be; and those who believe receive or favour them and all those who defend them in general also Schismatics and those who pertinaciously withdraw themselves or recede from their obedience to us and to the Roman Pontiff for the time being."

That is the Papal Declaration.

SCORES OF LIVES ARE IN PERIL

TOWN OF LAVALLE, ONT., DESTROYED BY FIRE AND RESIDENTS CUT OFF.

C.N.R. Rescue Train Rolls—Was Forced Both and People Left Helpless—Long Strip Fire-Swept.

Winnipeg, June 30.—Forest fires in Ontario, along the Canadian Northern Railway line, from Winnipeg to Fort Frances, 230 miles, have reached most serious proportions. The town of Lavalle, 160 miles east of Winnipeg, was destroyed and the people are fighting for their lives.

A relief train was hurried to the scene by the Canadian Northern Railway, but burning timbers covered the track and the train was forced to abandon the distressed people and return without rendering aid. The situation threatens to become a serious calamity at any moment.

CITY LIGHTED IN THE DAY.

Fort William, June 30.—Forest fires are threatening the towns in this vicinity, and Fort William is clouded with smoke, it being necessary to turn on the big street lights this morning.

The fires are getting worse at Silver Mountain, 20 miles out. Scores of men, women and children fought the flames all last night, and could not put them out. The fire is near Mackie and Taylor's camps and making great headway towards Silver Mountain, which is inhabited by 200 people.

Mackie and Taylor intend making a raft to load the horses and camping outfit if they cannot extinguish the fire. People are getting nervous. There has been no rain for four weeks and everything is as dry as tinder.

A FINE RECORD.

Home Bank Deposits Increase Over Million and a Half.

The annual report of the Home Bank of Canada, which appears in today's issue, will prove interesting reading to many. It shows extraordinary evidence of the wonderful expansion of the country, and the prosperity which the people enjoy.

The report shows that the bank is making rapid progress and enjoys the fullest confidence of the public. During the past year deposits have increased by $1,500,000, or twenty-five per cent. above the deposits of the previous year. The most gratifying feature of this increase is that $2,000,000 of it represents the savings of the people. The assets show an equally satisfactory increase and now total $9,784,636.48. The paid-up capital is $1,123,000, divided among 1,346 shareholders, of whom 700 are farmers in the North-West.

The profits for the year totalled $95,682.24, after deducting the costs of management, accrued interest and making ample provision for bad and doubtful debts. Four quarterly dividends at the rate of six per cent. per annum have been paid, $41,347.60 transferred to the rest account, $60,000 transferred to the contingent account, and a balance of $93,203.54 carried forward. Three new branches have been opened in the North-West during the year, each of which is doing good business.

Funeral of Late E. J. Coughlin.

Yesterday morning the late Eugene Jos. Coughlin was laid away at St. Peter's cemetery amidst many expressions of sorrow and regret at the closing of so bright and promising a young life. Requiem high mass was said by Rev. Dr. O'Brien at the Sacred Heart church, where the remains were taken from the family residence. Many beautiful floral offerings were received, including tributes from the deceased's friends and from those who had been associated with him in the Ottawa Bank. The pallbearers were Messrs. Vincent Scott Sullivan, W. Cahill, L. Giroux, M. O'Brien, Vincent Corkery and F. Hickey.

S.A. Band Ahead of Time.

On Wednesday night the Salvation Army Band anticipated the date of the Cavanville strawberry festival a week in advance of the scheduled evening, and on their arrival at the happy eating grounds were told that the sweet strains that went with the strawberries would not be required for seven days hence.

Ventricine Paid the Penalty Yesterday

Toronto, June 30.—Before he was led to the gallows this morning, Ventriecini made a written statement which he left with Michael Russo, the official interpreter to be handed over to the Provincial Attorney General's Department.

Part of it reads as follows:

"I am not morally guilty of murder for the killing of poor Raffaele Fabbio, and I don't deserve to be hanged for the killing of him any more than poor Fabbio deserved to be killed by me. Fabbio and I are but the victims of a bad woman's tongue, and she alone will have to account for the misfortune brought on me and poor Fabbio.

"Who could believe that I would have killed Fabbio had I known then that he was there to protect me from being hurt by the people who had already assaulted me."

"I have no fear of meeting my Maker with the full hope of being forgiven for what I have done. If my friends and relations had backed after my case as they should have done, the verdict would have been different, but they left nothing else but talk of money and left my witnesses out of court.

"Let this be a warning to Italians and others who are addicted to drink, for only for the cursed liquor I would not be in the position which I am today."

The rest of the statement recalls the events that took place the evening of the murder, practically the same as came out in evidence at the trial.

Kidnapped Boy Has Been Murdered

New York, June 30.—Dr. Marinno Scimeca received a telephone message at his home today informing him that his three-year-old Michael, who was kidnapped two weeks ago, and held for a ransom of $6,000 had been murdered.

Dr. Scimeca said he was satisfied that the man at the other end of the telephone was one of the kidnappers. He also declared it as his belief that the man was telling the truth. When his wife learnt of the message she fainted. She is now at the point of death as the result of worrying over the kidnapping.

THREATENS VENGEANCE.

"I am compelled to believe that those fiends have harmed my poor little boy," said Dr. Scimeca. "If it is true I shall devote the rest of my life to reuning them to earth. And when I find them I shall not have to appeal to your laws. And I will find them. Mark my words, I will find them by pursuing their own tactics.

After Dr. Scimeca had received the message today he communicated with detective headquarters and the telephone talks traced to the ferry house at St. Morg. Staten Island. The telephone which was used there has a slot machine and is in a booth It was impossible to get any further trace of the man who called up the Scimeca home. The man who called him up, the physician said, spoke in pure Sicilian.

Another Mikado Song.

The continuing success of the revival of the opera "Mikado" at the Casino Theater, Broadway, New York, has led the New York World to publish another Mikado song. This time it will be "The Moon and I," one of the prettiest songs in the opera which has lived for over twenty years. The words and music of this song, arranged for popular use, will be given free with next Sunday's New York World.

Town Surrounded by the Flames

La Vallee, Ont., June 30.—Bush fires which have been burning in this vicinity for several days were today fanned by a high wind until they swept through the country carrying terror and destruction.

At Devlin, a prosperous town in the Rainy River District, fire swept down from the south into the large timber yard of the Saskatchewan Government, burning up several thousand telephone poles. The fire jumped the tracks of the Canadian Northern, burning up four cars of lumber loaded for Saskatchewan, and then cleaned up the whole of the timber stored in the Canadian Northern Railway yards, consisting in part of many thousands of posts and ties belonging to Mackenzie, Mann and Company, and a large quantity of square cedar and telegraph poles.

The flames swept onward towards the town, cleaning up the lumber output of the Sharra Lumber Company's saw mill on its way.

BEG FOR RESCUE TRAIN.

The people of the town by this time had given up all hope of saving their dwellings, and were clamoring for the railway to send a train to rescue them. This was done, but by the time the wind had dropped considerably and the male portion of the population decided to stay to do all possible towards saving the town. At the time of writing this despatch Devlin is completely encircled with fire.

THE GREAT WEST CRIES FOR RAIN

IN SOUTHERN MANITOBA THERE WILL ONLY BE HALF A CROP.

Another Week Without Rain Will Practically Mean No Crops at All—Better Reports From Other Districts.

Winnipeg, June 30.—In an interview yesterday regarding the effect of the hot weather on the crops in Manitoba and the Northwest, Premier Roblin stated that even under the most favorable conditions from now on, Manitoba cannot possibly harvest more than half a crop in 1910, and he added that another week of heat without rain will mean practically no crop at all. The same story was told by one of the biggest wheat operators of Chicago and Minneapolis, who spent a week in the Province satisfying himself at first hand as to the prospects.

There are no reports of rain as yet, and those best informed no longer attempt to minimize the utter seriousness of the situation. Yesterday the G.T.P. issued a crop report showing that for 120 miles west of Winnipeg the wheat is in bad shape, in some places being almost burnt red. West of Biggar conditions are more favorable throughout northern and central Saskatchewan, where local showers have been more or less frequent, and the heat is not so great. Southern Manitoba is so far the greatest sufferer, and in many districts the farmers have practically given up hope of saving anything.

A Local Bankers' Charity.

Yesterday afternoon an example of how the good nature and charity of prominent citizens are tested was shown in a local bank. A young man fairly well dressed and carrying a glorious "load" applied to this particular manager. He told his little story of happy married life, and confessed his alcoholic slip of the day. He asked for transportation to a nearby town. The manager enquired how much a ticket would cost. On ascertaining this, the financier remarked, "Now you look a decent fellow and I do not want to see you stranded here. Now here is a chenque for $2.25; this will take you home to your wife. I depend on you, and you look a pretty decent sort of chap, to go home and not spend the money on beer. The young man left loud in his praise. He made straight for the depot and bought a ticket for home.

MARRIAGE.

HAYLY—GILBERT.—On June 29th, 1910, at 461 Water street, Peterborough, Ont., by Rev. Canon Davidson, rector of St. John's church, Chatsea E., daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Chenetti, to Gilbert St. John G. Hayly of Stauffer, Alberta.

WEALTHY BIRRIE AND BRIDE.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert T. J. O'Connor Spending a Few Days in the City on Their Honeymoon.

From the leading papers of Rochester, N.Y., the Democrat and Chronicle, we take the following marriage notice of great local interest:

"A pretty wedding was solemnized on June 21st, at 9 o'clock mass at St. Mary's church, when Miss Mary Elizabeth Towns, daughter of Mr. George Towns of Douro, Ont., Can., was united in marriage to Mr. Albert Thomas J. O'Connor of Emilsmore, Ont., Can. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Father Gleason, P.P., in the presence of the immediate friends of the contracting parties. The bridesmaids and groomsmen were Miss Teresa Towns, sister of the bride, and Walter O'Connor, brother of the groom, and Miss Kitty Conole, and Mr. Joseph Towns, brother of the bride. The bride was handsomely attired in a gown of embroidery and wore a large picture hat and carried a bouquet of "Kingsreans." The sister of the bride wore a cream voile dress with hat to match, and Miss Conole wore a suit of white batiste, and a black picture hat, and carried bouquets of sweet peas. A light repast was served at Mrs. Olley Cairns, and the bridal party drove around the beautiful parks of the city for two hours, and had dinner served in a private dining room in the Hotel Seneca. The groom and his bride sat at the head of the table, to their right sat Father Gleason. Among the guests present were Mr. Walter O'Connor, Miss Teresa Towns, Mr. C. Towns, Miss K. Conole, Mr. and Mrs. C. Cain and Mr. L. Callaghan, first cousins of the groom, and Mr. Frannomine of the groom, and Mr. Frank Hunt and Miss Lillian McIntosh.

"The happy couple left Rochester on the Empire State Express for Buffalo where for a few days they will be guests at Hotel Statler. From Buffalo they go to Toronto and will be guests of Mr. John Hartnett, the groom's uncle. From Toronto they will proceed to Peterborough to visit some of their respective friends, and also friends in Lindsay. The young couple will reside in the handsome new residence erected at Haileybury, Ont., by the groom. Mr. O'Connor has been for some years interested in the Cobalt mining field, where he and his brother are joint owners in the celebrated O'Connor Silver Mine.

"The groom's gift to the bride was a handsome gold watch and fob, and a diamond necklace, purchased in Boston. To the bridesmaid he gave a solid gold brooch set with pearls, and to the groomsmen a pair of solid gold links. The popularity of the young couple was attested to by the many and costly bridal gifts."

The young couple arrived in the city yesterday and received the congratulations of their many friends. During the afternoon the bridal party had their photographs taken at Boy's.

The United States Did Not Advise Captains

Washington, D.C., June 30.—If American owners of vessels fishing or trading in Hudson Bay refuse to recognize Canada's jurisdiction over that body of water, they must do so at their own risk. The United States Government has not advised them to refuse to pay the licenses and dues which have always been demanded.

Assistant Secretary of State Wilson was surprised today when the Ottawa report was brought to his attention. He caused to be made a most thorough search of the State Department records for any papers bearing on the case, but none can be found. He regards the whole story as a fake.

Hiawatha Pastor's Death.

The many friends in this city will learn with deep regret of the death of Rev. Robt. Dunkley at Hiawatha on Tuesday evening. Mr. Dunkley's death came quite unexpectedly. He was in his seventy-ninth year and had resided among the Indians at Hiawatha for a number of years. His work among these people is deserving of the highest praise. The body was interred at Picton.

THE WEATHER.

Not much change in temperature.

Nothing in the way of a Cough is quite so annoying as a tickling, teasing, wheezing, bronchial Cough. The excitement roiled comes perhaps from a prescription known to Druggists everywhere as Dr. Wilson's Cough Remedy. And besides it is so thoroughly harmless that mothers give it with perfect safety even to the youngest babies. The genius saved of a simple mountain shrub, gives to Dr. Wilson's Cough Remedy its remarkably curative effect. It is truly a sweet certain and trustworthy prescription. Sold by all dealers.

SOME OF THE FEATURES OF THE OPENING SESSION.

The North Atlantic Fisheries Arbitration is Now at Work in Real Earnest—Is of Much Importance to Canada.

The Hague, June 13.—The North Atlantic fisheries arbitration is now at work in real earnest and, as the result is of so much importance to Canada, a few words descriptive of the great court and its method of work may be interesting to the people at home.

When the great Austrian, Heinrich Lammasch, delivered his opening address to the assembly of lawyers, statesmen and diplomats of the two leading nations of the world, it was an occasion long to be remembered.

Hundreds of millions of dollars are involved, and, to quote Baron Michiels van Verduynen, secretary-general of the court, it exceeds in importance any case ever submitted for peaceful arbitration.

Instead of admirals and generals, supported by lines of battleships and soldiers representing the two countries, settling the dispute by war, another method was adopted, and there appeared before the great peace court two rows of selected men to battle for the rights of their countries, in another way, a more modern way, and though there was absolute silence, no word being uttered except the president's opening address on the first day, one could easily see the two sides were serious and were soon to engage on a legal battle, where brains, equal to that of admirals and generals, would fight to win.

Two of England's greatest lawyers Sir William Robertson and Sir Robert Finlay, each of whom has held office as attorney-general of England, are the leaders of the English section, supported by a large array of English counsel. Our own Canadian, Hon. A. B. Aylesworth minister of justice, as agent for Great Britain, Canada and Newfoundland, has charge of the whole case, and sits right beside Sir Robert Finlay. Mr. Shepley, K.C., Mr. Ewart, K.C., and Mr. Tilley sit directly in front of the bench, in the Canadian section, and give the court a Canadian section.

The counsel are arrayed in sections, Great Britain in strong numbers, then the Canadian section and the Newfoundland section.

The opening address had been carefully prepared and printed. No word appears to be uttered without consideration, lest some incautious remark might imperil the friendly spirit which seems to animate all concerned.

SIR ROBERT FINLAY.

Proceedings adjourned on June 1 until the following Monday, when Sir Robert Finlay was invited to open for Great Britain. He has been speaking now for six days and has not finished. His address so far has been historical of the fishery conditions prevailing since long prior to the war of independence. The feature of his address is his wonderful command of language, which excites admiration. His address, without editing, is a regular blue book, and it will be a surprise to some Canadian counsel to know that even in so great a case as this he avoids every attempt at flowery eloquence, and simply never repeats what he has said. Instead of attempting to drive home by repetition the most material points, he says what he has to say quietly and forcibly, and says it only once. This actually adds to the strength of his argument. He proceeds at an even pace each hour yielding the same number of pages. In quoting extracts he never hurries, and hour by hour he proceeds with the same robust work precision.

If Canada loses, it will not be for the want of the case being carefully prepared. Counsel on the British side outnumber the Americans two to one, and are the best the British Empire can produce for this particular issue.

To show how well the case has been mastered one needs but to watch Sir Eric Richards, K.C., who held an important post in India, but who was recalled to act in this case, and who, as the case proceeds, is able to anticipate apparently every sentence of Sir Robert's speech, and hands him the book or does just at the moment needed.

Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets gently stimulate the liver and bowels to expel poisonous matter, cleanse the system, cure constipation and sick headache. Sold by all dealers.

Sciatica

EXPECTED DEATH ANY DAY.

Another Case Where Life Was Saved and Health Restored By Nerviline.

We have all read and heard of the agonies of Sciatica, but only those who have been tortured by this dread malady can fully appreciate what it must mean to be cured after years of suffering.

It is because he feels it his solemn duty to tell to the world his faith in Nerviline that Victor P. Hires makes the following declaration: "For three years I was in the Royal Mail service and in all kinds of weather had to meet the night trains. Dampness, cold and exposure brought on sciatica that affected my left side. Sometimes an attack would come on that made me powerless to work. I was so nearly a cripple that I had to give up my job. I was in despair, completely cast down because the money I spent on trying to get well was completely wasted. I was speaking to my chemist one day, and he recommended Nerviline. I had this good liniment rubbed on several times a day and got relief. In order to build up my general health and improve my blood I used Ferrozone, one tablet with each meal. I continued this treatment four months and was cured. I have used all kinds of liniments, and can truthfully say that Nerviline is far stronger, more penetrating, and infinitely better than anything else for relieving pain. I urge everyone with lumbago, neuralgia, rheumatism or sciatica to use Nerviline. I know it will cure 'em."

CURED SIX YEARS.

There isn't a more highly esteemed citizen in Westchester than Mr. Hires. What he says can be relied upon. For six years since being cured he hasn't had a single relapse. Don't accept anything from your dealer but "Nerviline." 25 cents per bottle or five for $1. Sold everywhere or the Catarrhozone Co., Kingston.

ONE KIND OF SPORT.

Ideas vary as to what is sport and what is not sport very greatly. In France they think it fine sport to "hunt" larks. In England they chase the fox. In Africa, the impression has been, they bag somewhat dangerous game, and risk their lives in the getting of it.

Such an impression, however, is somewhat dispelled by reading Mr. Roosevelt's account of his African adventures in the July Scribner, particularly that part of it which refers to his experiences with a hen ostrich. The bird is dangerous enough. Its kick has proved fatal to hunters before now. But Mr. Roosevelt took care that it should not get within kicking distance. He says:

The next day we returned and dismounted, before we reached the near neighborhood of the nest. Then I advanced cautiously, my rifle at the ready. It seemed impossible that so huge a bird could lie hidden in such scanty cover, but not a sign did we see until, when we were sixty yards off, the hen, which this time was on the nest, rose, and I killed her at sixty yards. Even this did not make the cock desert the nest; and on a subsequent day I returned, and after missing him badly, I killed him at eighty-five yards; and glad I was to see the huge black and white bird tumble in the dust.

It pleased Mr. Roosevelt, but some people will still insist upon believing that shooting birds upon the nest is not good sport.

There is more catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.

A GREAT SERVANT OF THE EMPIRE.

The British Empire has been favored in obtaining the service of such men as Sir William Butler, who died this week. He was a brave man and accomplished soldier. The most outstanding features of his character were his tenderness of heart and his chivalrous sense of justice. Canada has reason to be grateful to him, because in the days of confederation forty years and more ago, he upheld her cause both with voice and pen.

His "Great Lone Land," describing the Canadian West as it was forty years ago, is today full of fresh human interest. It is a sign of good taste and sound judgment that the copy in one of our great public libraries has been literally read to pieces, while in another the copy has disappeared, probably from the same cause. The motive of the book was a mission connected with the Red River Rebellion. While Sir Garnet Wosley's force was moving from Lake Superior to Fort Garry, Butler was to reach the same point through the Western States, discover whether there was any danger of a Fenian attack from that quarter, visit Fort Garry, and meet the expeditionary force with all the information he could obtain.

It was a task requiring coolness and courage, and these qualities he possessed in abundance. But the greatness of the man is shown in the fact that in reading the book you think little of his dangers and difficulties. He relegates his own personality to the background with a fine soldierly modesty. He is a lover of wild life. He beholds with sorrowful sympathy the inevitable retreat of the Indian before the forces of civilization. After shooting a buffalo he is seized with disgust at the sport, and admiration for the brave, helpless creature. "Never since that hour, though often but a two-days' ride from buffalo, have I sought to take the life of one of these noble animals." His statement of the case for the insurgent metis is conspicuously fair, and he is highly praised by Winsor in his History of America."

Soon after his mission had been fulfilled he heard of the defeat of the French at Sedan. His chivalrous love for the weaker party at once suggested this thought: "Why not offer to France in the moment of her bitter, bitter adversity the reward and service of even one sympathising friend?" But just then he received from Governor Archibald of Manitoba an offer to undertake another mission, to investigate the spread of smallpox among the Indians of the West, and to carry a supply of medicines and instructions for stamping out the disease. The carrying out of these duties occupied 119 winter days, and the distance covered was 2,700 miles. It was a fine piece of work, and again in the narrative the soldier's modesty and simplicity are displayed, and he has given us a classic description of a country that is but little known.

After leaving Canada Butler had a distinguished military career. It was he who warned the British government of the strength of the Boers and the necessity for a large force to meet them. But the British government at that time had a marvelous capacity for rejecting good advice, and the soundness of Butler's opinion was discovered only by bitter experience.

OUR GREATEST ASSET.

Apropos of the recently published remarks of Mr. Flavelle, it seems that Canada's reputation as an agricultural Dominion is likely to rest solely upon her wheat producing capacity. Whether any system of crop rotation will come into force within a reasonable period or not is a moot problem, but it would not be amiss if the Commission of Conservation then were to take measures to prevent an excess of that kind of farming, which takes all out of the soil and then departs elsewhither leaving nothing—a thing which has in some measure, characterized the development of the grain belt in the past. The corroborative of the outlook has been realized by the Scottish Agricultural Commission, which visited Canada last year, and these figures are in their report. They declare that: "If it were not for the vast virgin area which awaits development, the Canadian farmer might be censured for his improvidence. In the great wheat belt the commissioners found farming which carpeted them by its short-sightedness. In the older and more settled districts on the prairie, there is a method of mixed farming, in which wheat is succeeded by oats or barley seeded down with grass. But in the newer lands of the Far West the system is more exhaustive to the soil. It is to crop wheat for two or three years in succession, then to leave the land fallow for a year, and back to the wheat again."

The improvidence of this practice is, the commissioners say, perfectly understood by some of the intelligent wheat farmers of Canada. One of them, a German, said to the commissioners' "You need not tell me about these things. I know perfectly well that continuous wheat farming exhausts the soil; but I know, too, that stock raising—at any rate, dairy farming—means continuous and hard work; and I know, too, that wheat growing requires less capital and less labor, and give better returns."

UNEASY UNDER A CROWN.

When the lord of peace and war in Europe arrives at his capital from his summer palace with his right hand bandaged and his right leg on a cushion, it may be questioned if some of his humblest subjects might want to swap fortunes with him. For when a king like William of Germany submits to be bandaged and mollycoddled in public he must be a very uncomfortable if not a very sick man. It is not only the head that wears uneasy under a crown, and the sleepless eyes that are weary but find no rest for the ailments that will break through all the barriers wholesome living and careful medical treatment may put up challenge to the primacy of disorder is painful and humiliating business. The blood of the royal families (or family) of Europe, for all are kin, is none of the soundest and the Kaiser's carbuncle is a warning at times even more distressing than the double

THE BILLION DOLLAR MARK.

As far as our Canadian trade is concerned the figures just issued for May show another record advance. A despatch from Ottawa says that the total trade for the month was $69,187,972, an increase of $14,276,236, or over thirty per cent. as compared with May of last year. At the present rate of increase Canada's total monthly trade will within two years reach the billion dollar mark. For the current year indications point to a total trade of over $800,000,000.

GOLD EXTRACTION ON THE SASKATCHEWAN RIVER

Days of "Grizzly" and "Rocker" Now Over—Succeeded by Modern Steam Dredge.

The evolution of gold extraction from the river bed and bars of the Saskatchewan would form a volume of interesting details. On the hilly shore of the North Saskatchewan, drive from Dake Lake, the famous battle ground of 1885, on the south to Prince Albert tourists may view an old, curiously constructed, ramshackle, abandoned steamboat, which somewhat resembles a sternwheel passenger craft, and is yet rigged with an apparatus evidently intended for dredging. This is a disused gold dredge, which represents some $10,000 or $12,000 invested, mostly by Englishmen, in enabling an English engineer to develop his ideas as to what a gold dredger should be. Perhaps, if he had been furnished with wheels, pulleys, chains, stanchions and other mechanical parts of good steel; it might have worked to this day. But the parts were made in England, possibly by some one used to contracting for the war office. They gave out at all critical junctures with wondrous rapidity, and the dredger practically went to pieces, as has been said, almost after the manner of Dr. Holmes' "one-hoss shay." Yet it produced in the open season of the year, gold that sold at the mint for $62[illegible], from 16,000 cubic yards of gravel dredged from the bars of the North Saskatchewan; this means 45 cents of gold per cubic yard. The tailings are said to have contained enough to be worth reworking.

Now, extensive gold-dredging operations are carried on along the Feather River of California, in gravel or sand, which yields less than 20 per cents per cubic yard. Boston men and money are engaged on Feather River. Many have since turned their attention to the Saskatchewan.

At present the North Saskatchewan was at many points along the mountain is being exploited by miners (during for 500 miles below Edmonton, is being exploited by miners to-

"I THANK DR. HARTMAN FOR PE-RU-NA."

MRS. MOSS PORTERIAL.

"I hardly know how to thank you for the good Peruna has done me.

"I suffered five years with pain in the stomach. About a year ago it became so bad I could hardly bear it. I coughed day and night and grew weaker and weaker. The pain extended through my body and I also had difficulty in breathing, which made me cough. Everyone thought I had consumption.

"My husband heard of Peruna and bought five bottles. This treatment virtually cured me and now I recommend Peruna to every one who is suffering.

"I thank Dr. Hartman for this excellent remedy."

Ste. Julie de Vercheres, P. Q., Canada. —Mrs. Moss Porteriau.

A NEGLECTED cold is generally the first cause of catarrh.

Women are especially liable to colds. These colds cause more frequently during the wet, sloppy weather of winter and spring than any other time of the year. Often they are not considered serious and are allowed to run on, or they are treated in such a way as to only palliate the symptoms, while the cold becomes more deep-seated and the patient finally awakens to the fact that she has a well-developed case of catarrh.

WOMEN SHOULD BEWARE OF CATCHING COLD.

PE-RU-NA THE REMEDY FOR CATARRH OF THE LUNGS.

By reason of their delicate structure, the lungs are frequently the seat of a cold, especially if there is the slightest weakness of these organs. The treatment of catarrh of the lungs is also more difficult and discouraging than catarrh of any other organ of the body.

It would be wise therefore, to guard against it by every precaution possible. Peruna has been found the most reliable of all remedies for coughs, colds and catarrh, by reason of the fact that it goes at once to the very seat of the trouble.

It searches out every crevice, every duct of the body. It quickens and equalizes the circulation of the blood, thus relieving the congested mucous membranes. It exercises a healing and soothing effect upon the mucous membranes, no matter whether they are the more exposed membranes of the head and throat, or whether they line the remotest cells of the lungs.

Mrs. Jacobsh, 1021 Hicks St., Toledo, Ohio, writes:

"When I wrote to you for advice, I had been sick for three years. I had trouble with my throat. Often I could not breathe through my nose. I also had pains in my chest and a cough. I took Peruna according to directions and it has cured me."

ing a very crude apparatus locally called the "grizzly," which term is more properly applied to one part of the collection of chief contrivances.

The grizzly, whence the evolution of the gold dredge is a very simple device. Any ordinary man could construct one, at a cost of $5 or $10, according to his ability. Men earned and now earn from $3 to $4 per day along the Saskatchewan by this process. On some bars they run as high as $8 and $10. During the open season scores may be seen recovering fine gold; the work is sometimes live and attractive, but now that modern invention has produced a dredge and bankets operated by water power and electricity, doing the work of 1000 or 2000 men each day, the days of the "grizzly" and "rocker" appear to be numbered—so far as being considered distinctive machines for gold recovery.

A steam dredger is essentially a "grizzly" apparatus on a great scale. The machinery lifts gravel from the river bed or bar, dumps it aboard the boat, washes it over successive screens, and ultimately leaves the gold adhering to blanket cloth, from which work it is washed in receptacles containing mercury, so that amalgam is formed. A contributing to the formation of a steam "grizzly" and all other plant first-class modern gold-dredging apparatus, cost from $60,000 to $120,000—or more, according to capacity

MAKING WORK FOR THE STORK.

A number of measures intended to stimulate the birth rate in France have just been introduced in parliament as a result of the publication of vital statistics showing that there were 22,000 fewer births in the French republic during 1909 than in the preceding year. It is proposed to impose additional military service on bachelors over 30 years of age and to make obligatory the marriage of state employes who have reached the age of 35 years. Also it is provided that government employes are to have pension allowances paid in crease of salaries when they are blessed with more than three children.

The outlook in France certainly is brightening, especially for those who happen to hold government jobs. The only trouble is that every man will probably want to become a public office-holder and the head of a large family if the proposed measures enacted into laws. This may make it a little awkward for the government.

As for the bachelors who are compelled to undergo additional military service for the privilege of remaining unmarried, much will depend on the kind of service to be required. It is possible to imagine military service that would not be as attractive as matrimony, with the gold braid and brass buttons taken from the insistent bachelor to give them overalls instead of natty uniforms, and compel each soldier to till an acre or two of ground during the tilling season.

NEARS BREAK WITH VATICAN.

Madrid, June 27.—It is believed that a rupture is imminent in the negotiations between the government and the Vatican on the subject of the church and non-Catholic religious societies. Premier Canalejas has received a summary of the Vatican reply to the proposals, and has had a conference with the king to discuss future action. It is understood the reply is unsatisfactory.

A scientific note recently issued intimated that if the Vatican insisted on opposing the greatest against the royal decree of June 11 with the negotiations to revise the Concordat, the government would be obliged to break off all negotiations. Prior to the issuance of this note, the premier declared in the chamber of deputies that the government was resolved to live up to the constitution and settle the religious question from the standpoint of reform.

THE NEW GOLDEN BUCKET

A few years ago, the recovery of Gold from auriferous grounds and subaqueous beds, was considered impossible. The "pan" and "grizzly:", operated by hand, appeared to be the sole method of recovering values. It was during this period that Dr. Linderman, Director of the United States Mint expressed the opinion that he who could devise a machine, without adding proportionately to the cost of production, capable of saving 50 per cent. of all the placer gold, would not only enrich himself, but within the lives of men still living, would double the world's available gold bullion. The Director of the United States Mint further said,—"WE CAN HARDLY HOPE FOR THIS, THOUGH NO MAN DARE SAY IT IS IMPOSSIBLE."

The perfected modern Dredge, is to-day a substantial reality. Allowing for delays in shifting, for necessary repairs, etc., the Gold Dredge runs on an average about 18 hours out of twenty-four, thus making up in length of working day, loss of operation during winter months. These Dredges are operated in ready made mining areas, recovering millions of dollars annually, at the lowest possible cost.

The Director of the Mint of the United States in his report for 1909 says:

"The Gold Dredge makes money where a coolie would starve."

Outing Magazine: "When you think that bold inventive talent, has been able to devise machinery that makes it profitable to extract ten cents worth of gold from a ton of earth, the enterprise becomes one of the romances of American industry."

"A chain of powerful buckets bite into the earth, each bringing up a tremendous quantity of earth and gravel. These are subjected to screen treatment and the gold recovered."

California in 45 years, within radius of less than ten miles of placer ground, produced $200,000,000 in gold. To day the vast number of Modern Dredges working over old ground are recovering millions annually.

"SCIENCE" ON NATIONAL RACE SUICIDE.

Once more a decrease in the French birth rate is recorded, and Dr. Bertillon, the statistician, psychologist and criminologist, is sounding his recurrent warning refrain. This time he predicts something worse than defeat for France in a war with Germany; depopulation and national suicide, he foresees, will leave beautiful France a wilderness, which the advancing Teuton will simply annex without a shot. And as the Germans add 1,000,000 a year to their population it is clear that they will need plenty of space and resources, and of course, France is preferable to Brazil or Africa.

We are not sure that the complacent French intellectuals, the thrifty bourgeois and peasantry will be stirred even by the picture of their country as a desert open to Teutonic occupation. They will insist on thinking that a stationary population with a high degree of comfort, prosperity and culture is preferable to an increasing population with growing poverty, emigration, unemployment and discontent. They argue that even in war mass is only one factor, and a factor of declining importance. Money, skill, education count more and more, and so do alliances, understandings, the good will of other nations. The French make heavy sacrifices for defense, but they do not admit that they must live, move and have their being in an atmosphere of war talk and war worry, instead of in an atmosphere of peace, industry, art, individual happiness. As for a depopulated France, they haven't the imagination of a Bertillon and will never "visualize" it. It will, at the worst, take a good many centuries to "depopulate" France.

Bertillon's solemn warning reminds one of the equally earnest prediction of a Boston savant that in exactly 265 years the United States will be nothing but a chain of lunatic asylums. Strenuosity, alcoholism, flats, congestion and lots of other evils, it seems, are driving us mad, and our days are literally numbered. But the alarmed doctor forgets a number of ifs and buts. He forgets that life is change, that things never go on "at this" or that rate, and that evils have a way of reforming themselves. He forgets the forces that make for sanity, health, vigor, progress.

If we can't be induced to mend in this or that particular by appeals to our present interest, our common sense, our conscience, savants may depend on it that pictures of "ultimate" desolation, extinction and death will utterly fail to strike terror.

ENGLAND AND HEAT.

England's Unpreparedness for the Sweltering Heat.

There are still King Canutes in England. Nowadays, however, they defy not sea-waves but heat-waves. When London swelters in hot weather, its inhabitants look the heat indignantly in the eye and bid it begone. They do not yield to it one inch. If the heat insists upon staying, it does so without their consent, and they decline to recognize its presence by a change of food and clothing. Such, at any rate, is the conclusion which might be drawn from the remarks of an editorial writer of the London Mail, who proceeds to demonstrate England's unpreparedness for hot weather as follows:

"Were I to rake out a delightfully cool suit of pongee from my trunks, and to walk down the Strand with it as I should do in similar heat in Shanghai or Colombo, I would be followed by a group of gaping laughing youngsters. Even on the hottest day the city man is expected to wear his dark-colored clothes and his silk "topper." Our food is not prepared with a view to heat. The middle-class household that has a refrigerator is decidedly the exception, and iced drinks are so rare outside of restaurants as to be practically unknown. Ice cream, which the American girl for example, eats by the pint and dreams of by the gallon, is here served up at an exorbitant price in minute portions. Stay-at-home folk have yet to learn that to endure great heat comfortably one must leave off spirits, eat plenty of fruit, cut down one's meat, and go moderately on all food.

That is the case in a nutshell, "leave off spirits, eat plenty of fruit, cut down one's meat, and go moderately on all food." And the wee folk should be dressed as lightly as the grown ups, and fed as lightly in proportion. Dr. MacMurchy's recent port on infant mortality emphasizes the danger of clothing the little tots too heavily. There is, on the other hand a danger in the iced drink which an exchange so ardently commends. Moderately cold water is quite as satisfying and more healthful.

Interest in Alberta Elections.

Edmonton, Alta., June 29.—The electors in Vermilion, Medicine Hat and Lethbridge districts are today expressing their political preference at the by-elections and on their verdict depends the fate of the Provincial Government, which under the leadership of Premier Sifton, came into power recently on the fall of the Rutherford Cabinet.

It is expected that Premier Sifton will be elected from Vermilion without serious opposition. The election of Hon. A. J. McLean, Provincial secretary, who is running in Lethbridge district, is also regarded as certain. Hon. C. R. Mitchell, the new minister of education and attorney-general, has opposition in Medicine Hat, his brother-in-law having been nominated by the Conservatives.

Misses Minnie and Lillie Porter, of Toronto, are guests at the home of Mr. C. Curtis, Ashburnham.

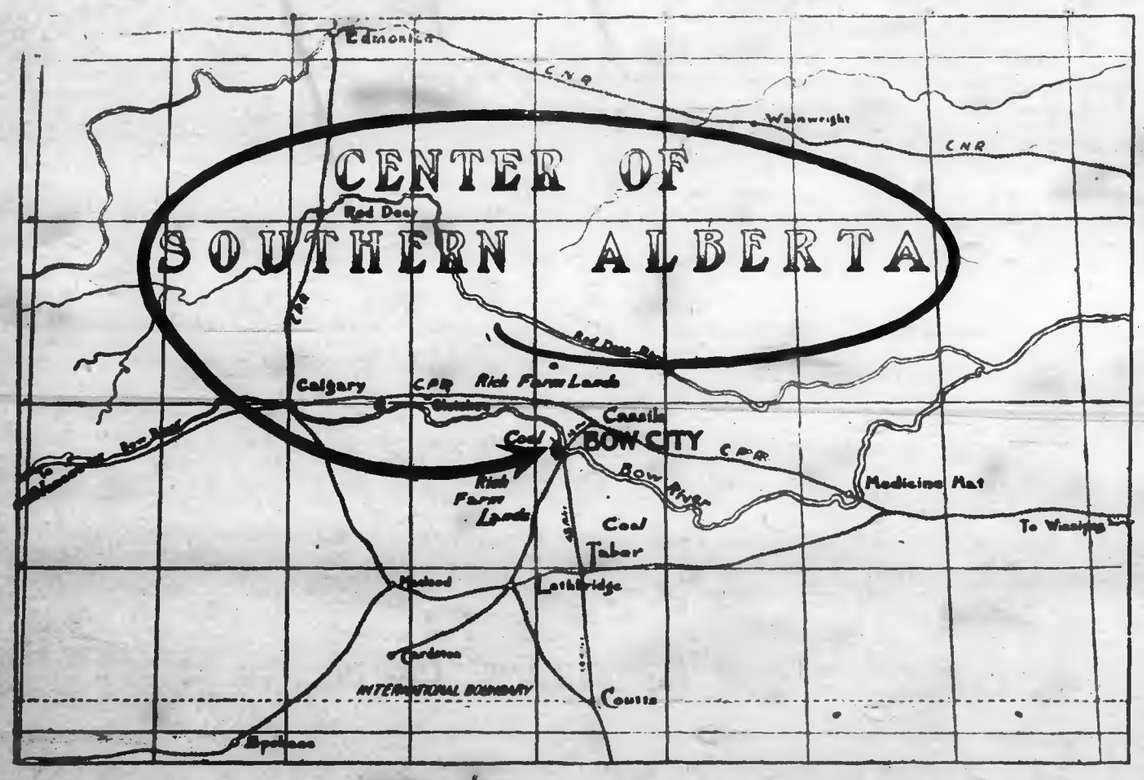
Bow City

The Metropolis of Southern Alberta

Situated in the centre of Southern Alberta, and on the famous Bow River, at the intersection of two projected rail ways, is Bow City—the logical location for a great commercial and industrial city.

Bow City is surrounded by thousands of acres of broad, open, fertile prairie land, while the city itself is immediately above one of the richest beds of bituminods coal ever unearthed in the Western Provinces.

The Bow Centre Collieries, Limited, are now developing their coal lands at Bow City. This gigantic corporation will, through the operation of their coal lands, eventually give employment to some 1,500 miners the whole year round—these miners will form the basis for a most prosperous town, while the thousands of prosperous farmers in the immediate vicinity of Bow City, will naturally establish a market and purchasing depot, equally as prominent and as important as Winnipeg, Calgary or Edmonton.



Bow City has a future; it is the point in the Western prairies endowed by nature with all the natural resources which go towards laying the foundation for a great city.

The map reproduced herewith is taken from the Government survey, and gives you the true location of Bow City.

You will see that it is twelve miles from the main line of the C. P. R.

Bow City is to be the headquarters of the Bow River Railway Company's lines of railway operating south of the C. P. R. main line and to the United States boundary, tapping, as they will, the richest farming lands in the Province of Alberta.

The farmers in the vicinity of Bow City have no fear of drought, since the great C. P. R. irrigation system completely envelopes the whole district, thereby supplying water in dry seasons, insuring the maximum growth of crops at all times.

There is only one Bow City—there will never be another in our Western heritage. It will be too late for you to apply for ground-floor prices in lots in Bow City a few days hence. This great coal mining and farming townsite will be sold of the market in the immediate future.

If you act promptly, you can buy lots in Bow City at prices which prevailed in Calgary, Edmonton, Regina, Brandon and other great points in the Western prairies five years ago.

A 50-dollar lot in Bow City, judging from the experience in other cities, should be worth and sell for $250 to $300 in four years' time. This means that those who take advantage of this advertising announcement, and make application at once for a $50 lot, remitting by the same mail ten per cent.—$5, will be allotted a $50 lot close in.

Remember, the terms of Bow City are:—Ten per cent. cash, balance ten per cent. per month; or, one quarter cash and balance one-quarter each three months. Where all is remitted, a discount of ten per cent. will be allowed.

Plans of the Bow City townsite, price list and full particulars may be had on application to the Sub-Agents or General Agents of the Bow City Townsite.

THE EAGLE'S EYE.

A Screen That Protects It Against a Too Brilliant Light.

The eagle that stares proudly at the sun has now been found to be no figment of tradition.

M. de Chardonnet, in a paper communicated to the French Physical society, has shown that the eagle's eye has a special apparatus adapted to this feat, though it seems probable that he is not the only bird with this useful possession.

The apparatus is not, however, the "nictitating membrane" which all of us have perceived in looking even at the barnyard fowl. That is a mechanism designed merely to wipe the eye and to keep it clear of dust.

M. de Chardonnet's discovery was made while he was studying the transparency of the central part of the eyes of animals. He had already noticed that the eyes of night birds, such as owls, were more transparent than any other for ultra violet rays, and he had tried to push the experiments further by ascertaining whether they would be affected by ultra violet rays alone.

These experiments failed because of the absence of responsiveness on the part of the birds, which did not appear to manifest any sensation in passing from darkness to light, whether this flat was visible to human eyes or not. M. de Chardonnet's failure led him to inquire whether there was any organ of which he was ignorant in the bird's eye, such as would intervene in such circumstances.

While dissecting a bird's eye he was struck to find an organ to which French naturalists have given provisionally the name of the peigne or comb. A better idea of its function could be obtained by calling it a parasol.

This organ is formed of a very thin membrane, black-opaque and situated in the eye where the optic nerve penetrates it. The structure of this membrane is such that the retina is completely masked when the "parasol" is open. It is reasonable to suppose that the parasol is therefore a screen to protect the eye against a too brilliant light, whether the light is visible in the ordinary sense or whether it consists of ultra violet rays.

Coffee Drinking in Switzerland.

The average annual consumption of coffee in Switzerland during the last three years has been about $2,500,000. Coffee drinking is general among all classes of people. This is especially true of the working classes, who drink coffee for breakfast, again at 10 o'clock in the morning, for dinner as an afternoon refreshment, and many of them [illegible] which makes the consumption very large in proportion to the population. The retail price of coffee ranges from 16 to 36 cents a pound, but the greater part of the coffee sold in the country is below the average grade, as the majority of the consumers are of the laboring class. The majority of the people do not drink tea. While chocolate is consumed in large quantities in Switzerland, it is not much used as a beverage, the most of it being used as food.

The Harvest of Polar Research.

One of the results of this tremendous accomplishment (the discovery of the north pole) is the relief to many minds in the reflection that hereafter the explorations in that region of the earth will be conducted with less strain upon human endurance and in the quieter paths of scientific research. Perhaps now, for instance, the somewhat neglected magnetic pole will receive the attention it deserves. And yet the restless and costly quest of the boreal unknown is not to be counted waste of money, effort or life. The cultivation of an indomitable spirit and a herculean endurance has uses not less valuable to humanity than any result of the patient inquiries of science.—Century.

Chair to Prevent Seasickness.

Hoping to lessen seasickness, Mr. F. Andruck has invented an air cushioned chair and had four of them set up on the aft promenade deck of the Blucher of the Hamburg-American line. Mr. Andruck was a passenger and gathered some testimonials from his fellow travelers who had used the chairs during the rather rough voyage. The new device resembles a barber's chair and, according to its inventor, neutralizes the rolling of the ship so much that seasickness becomes practically unknown. He hopes that his invention will be so successful that it will be fitted in future to sofas and beds on vessels.—New York Herald.

Birthday Greetings.

The date of one's birth is not a matter of common knowledge, but few secrets of this sort are hidden from the solicitors for the life insurance companies. One of the more enterprising has been sending out, timed to arrive on the correct date, a neat card with the following inscription: "Mr Richard Roe—On this your birthday I wish you many happy returns of the day and all joy, happiness and success for the years to come. Very sincerely yours, John Doe." One has to look closely to discover the fact that the sender is an insurance agent, and at that the good wishes are not entirely unwelcome.—New York Sun.

A Call From Oregon

Opportunitiesin the Far West

The greatest industrial activity in this country is now centered in Oregon. Two of the biggest railroad systems in the U. S., with intense rivalry, are pushing branch lines into the remote portions of this State, and an exodus from the East is on in the occupation of this the LAST FRONTIER ON THE CONTINENT. Fortunes will be made here THIS YEAR—NEXT YEAR and EVERY YEAR for the next decade.

Our valleys are the most fertile in the world and irrigation projects are converting the bordering hillsides into gardens. Orchards lands are leaping upward in price and the advance has only started. Water from mountain streams is the purest, timber the finest and climate the most perfect in Uncle Sam's domain. Power plants are springing up along the channels of silvery torrents to develop electrical energy for mines and mills and interburban railways. Fish abound in the rivers, game in the forests and health and joy in the atmosphere. There are no cyclones here or pestilerous insects to endanger life, or make it a burden.

I want Eastern connections and help, financial and otherwise, to seize opportunities that surround this picturesque city of Baker. The returns will be out of all proportion to the help extended. The opportunities are along the lines of vegetable fruit, hay, grain, stock, timber, and mineral lands. There are fortunes in all these. Some mines in this vicinity have record outputs in gold, running into the millions. Yet the surface, overlying the mineral deposits of Baker County, has hardly been scratched.

On a ledge of free gold bearing quartz two miles in length I made a test of 000 tons of ore taken at a depth of only a hundred feet and got over $3000.00 out of it. The mint returns passed through the Citizen's National Bank here.

Among other things, I need money, right now, to begin the MANUFASTURE OF GOLD out of this immense ore body. The shares of the Timber Canyon Mines Company, which OWNS this property, and of which I am secretary have an intrinsic value of at least 50 cents a share based on a conservative valuation of [illegible] the amount of stock issued.

I will deliver on order, with draft attached, up to 50,000 shares of this stock at 25 cents a share, NET. The full amount of the purchase price will go back in dividends inside of 10 months. Take a block of this as a starter, and get in step with this Eldorado of the West. If there is anything else out here that I can do for you, or you can do for me,—WRITE ME.

Yours for business, and MONEY for both of us,

A HUMILIATING ANALOGY.

Gerard Fiennes, described as one of England's foremost naval experts, writes in the Graphic that "Japan will, in the last analysis, fight the United States very much for the reason that prompted Bismarck to fight France."

Historical analogies are unsafe things to handle, Germany attacked France with the almost absolute assurance of a speedy victory. Not only so, but Bismarck knew that after the war that France would be so crippled and Germany so strengthened that Revenge would be practically out of the question. Even the underestimated the financial resources of France, but events showed that he was warranted in believing that the union of Germany, the enlargement of its territory by conquest and its remarkable industrial development would give his country an overwhelming and increasing advantage.

While all must admire the courage and recuperative power of France, and the splendid thrift shown in the development of its limited resources, it is absurd to compare such a country as to its power of resistance, with the United States. The United States are now practically upon a peace footing. An attack by Japan would turn into the raising of fleets and armies the tremendous energy now devoted to commerce and industry. Japan, owing to superior military organization, would probably gain some victories at the outset, and might even capture the Philippine Islands, but in the long run the vastly superior resources of the United States would give an overwhelming advantage. A temporary victory would be dearly bought at the cost of incurring the deadly enmity of a nation which could easily build three ships for Japan's one, and turn out all the munitions of war at a rate which would speedily bankrupt the smaller power.

SECURITY AND EARNING POWER

The bonds of the Company are secured by a deed of trust in favor of the Montreal Trust Co., which is an absolute First Mortgage upon the Hydraulic development and transmission lines upon all street railway extensions, present and future and upon all new rolling stock of the Company, and which is a mortgage on the rights, powers, franchises and existing lines, subject only to the outstanding $100,000 Sherbrooke Street Railway Bonds.

Messrs. Ross & Holgate, Consulting Engineers, of Montreal, who have examined and reported upon the position of the Company, estimate that its earnings when in full operation, should be as follows :

Street Railway—

Gross Revenue	$92,200
Operating Costs	40,000
Net Revenue	$57,200
Power Department—
Gross Revenue	$22,000
Operating Costs	13,000
Net Revenue	$30,000
Rentals	3,000
Total	$60,200
Bond Interest	35,000
Surplus	$4,200

RAILWAY EARNINGS.—As the gross earnings of the old system for 1909 amounted to $91,228, with the largely increased mileage, reaching the residential portions of the city, the above estimate should be conservative.

POWER EARNINGS.—As applications have already been received for the greater part of the available power there is every reason to believe that on the completion of the development in November the whole will be contracted for.

BUSINESS FOR TRACTION SYSTEM AND MARKET FOR POWER

The city of Sherbrooke and surrounding country offer a very attractive field for both the Traction and Power Departments of the Company.

The growth of the population of Sherbrooke has been of a very steady and permanent character. In 1871 it had a population of 4,332, which has increased to about 17,000 at the present time. It is estimated that including the town of Lennoxville, where Bishop's College is situated, that the Street Railway serves a population of 20,000.

Although the population of the city has increased over fifty per cent. in the fifteen years since it commenced operations, the present street railway system has never been extended. It is now proposed to more than double the existing mileage.

Sherbrooke is the commercial centre of the Eastern Townships, which results in it having at nearly all times of the year a fairly large transient population.

It is also an important Railway and Industrial centre. It is a divisional point of the Canadian Pacific Railway; the Canadian terminus of the Boston and Maine System, the headquarters of the Quebec Central Railway Co., and is on the main line of the Grand Trunk Railway.

Its importance as an Industrial centre may be judged from the fact that it is the headquarters of such well-known concerns as the Jenckes Machine Company and Rand Drill Company, which supply large part of the mining machinery used in Canada, the Paton Manufacturing Company, the largest woollen company in the Dominion, the Fairbank's Scale Company (Canadian Branch), the Webster Cigar Company the Silver Springs Breweries, the Sherbrooke Iron and Foundry Company, and the Paper Machinery Manufacturing Company.

In addition to the above, several important interests are considering at the present time locating in Sherbrooke, the conditions pertaining to labor, transportation and cheap power being favorable for the operation of industrial plants. The surrounding district, besides being rich in timber and minerals, comprises the greatest asbestos deposits in the world.

STRONG FRANCHISE POSITION

The Sherbrooke Railway and Power Co. is right from its inception a going concern.

As a Street Railway concern the new company has a 40-y ear franchise from the city of Sherbrooke which gives the exclusive right to build and operate a street railway within the limits of the city during this period, with exemption from all taxation for the first twenty years. At the end of twenty years the municipality has the right to purchase the Street Railway as a going concern.

For its power department the company has purchased certain water powers on the Magog River within the precincts of the City of Sherbrooke. These will be developed at one site, and will have sufficient capacity not only to provide for the increased requirements of the extended Street Railway, but also to leave 2,000 H. P. available for sale outside to the numerous industries in and about Sherbrooke.

These figures are based upon the minimum flow of the Magog River. Under its charter the Company has the right to sell Hydro-Electric Power not only in the City of Sherbrooke, but as well throughout the District of St. Francis. This District takes in the counties of Sherbrooke, Stanstead, Wolfe, Compton, Richmond and Megantic and comprises a total population of about 150,000 people.

Outlook for city :—

Sherbrooke, by its situation as an industrial centre, is destined to keep pace with the tremendous development that is taking place in Montreal, and in the future an increasing number of industries will find it advantageous from a point of view of labor and power to locate within its limits.

As the centre of one of the richest farming districts in Eastern Canada, it will gain additional importance as a retail and distributing centre.

The Sherbrooke Railw ay and Power Company will share in both its departments in the growth and development of the City and its surrounding districts.

REPORT OF THE DIRECTORS.

After submitting the annual statement the general manager of the Home Bank of Canada, Colonel James Mason, read the following report from the Directors:

"The Directors have pleasure in submitting to the shareholders the fifth annual report, giving the result of the bank's business for the year ended May 31, 1910, together with the balance sheet of the Bank at that date.

"Four quarterly dividends at the rate of six per cent. per annum have been paid and provided for; $41,346 has been added to the rest, being a sum sufficient to keep that account equal to one-third of the paid up capital, $50,000 has been placed to the credit of contingent account, and the balance $28,283.54 carried forward at the credit of profit and loss account.

"Branches were opened during the year at the following points:—Welwyn, Sask., Neepawa, Grandview and Goodlands, Man., the latter a sub-branch.

"The three hundred and thirty-five farmer shareholders in the northwest Provinces at the end of last year have increased to seven hundred and nine. Their holdings are but for a few shares in most cases, but their numbers should have a favorable influence on the Bank's business throughout that part of Canada. The total number of shareholders has increased from 880 to 1,346.

The usual examination by the Directors of the treasury and securities was made, and the branches inspected.

"The Directors regret to have to report the loss by death of one of their colleagues, the late Lieut.-Col. John I. Davidson, who died in April last. Colonel Davidson was a director of the Bank from its organization and his business knowledge and influence were of much benefit to it. The vacancy thus caused was filled by the appointment of Mr. Thomas A. Crerar, President of the Grain-growers' Grain Company of Winnipeg."

THE PRESIDENT'S ADDRESS.

Mr. Eugene O'Keefe then submitted his address as President of the Home Bank of Canada:—

"We have much pleasure in again meeting you at this, the fifth annual meeting of the shareholders of the Bank.

"The year just passed has not been a particularly eventful one. The good promise of an abundant harvest throughout the country was fairly well realized, and the prospects for a still better one were in evidence. A circular issued in June 7th by the Northwest Grain Dealers' Association, shows the estimated acreage of the three Provinces to be in excess of that of last year in wheat alone of 1,350,000 acres, and states that reports indicate an excellent condition of the growing crops, and that most favorable conditions exist for a big yield. More recent reports, however, are not so encouraging. The want of rain, and the excessive heat of the past few days have apparently done more or less injury.

"Manufacturers generally report a successful season, and look forward for a continuation of it.

"Our paid-up capital is now $1,-123,000, with an additional $100,000 subscribed for, and the list of shareholders shows the satisfactory increase in number of 457, with a total of 1,346, of whom over 700 are farmers of the northwest. Our deposits have increased about $1,-500,000, of which $1,000,000 are savings account. Our circulation also shows a satisfactory increase. We have added to the rest some $41,000, being the amount required to keep up its proportion to the paid-up capital, viz.—one-third; $50,000 has has been placed to the credit of a contingent account, and the balance $28,283.54, carried to profit and loss account, but little has been done in the way of branching out, offices having been opened only at three points, all in the northwest, with one sub-agency. The total assets of the bank have reached the sum of $9,700,000, an increase of $1,000,000 for the year.

A resolution was proposed and adopted extending the thanks of the shareholders to the president, vice-president and directors for their careful attention to the affairs of the Bank, and a resolution was also passed extending the thanks of the shareholders to the general manager and the other officers of the bank for the efficient manner in which they had discharged their duties during the past year.

ELECTION OF OFFICERS.

After the adoption of the annual report of the reception of the directors' and president's addresses, the election of the officers was held, and the scrutineers reported the following board:—

Eugene O'Keefe, E. G. Gooderham, W. Parkyn, Murray, J. Kennedy, Thomas Flynn, John Person, Thomas A. Crerar, Colonel James Mason.

The new name on the board is that of Mr. Thomas Crerar, President of the Grain Growers' Company of Winnipeg, who takes the place of the late Lieut.-Col. John I. Davidson.

At a meeting of the Board of Directors, held immediately after the general meeting, Mr. Eugene O'Keefe was re-elected President and Mr. Thomas Flynn, Vice-President.

A falling tear serves no larger than the tenth silken thread—taken from the heart its impulse, its power, its regularity. The stomach also has its hidden, or inside nerve. It was Dr. Shoop who first told us it was wrong to drug a weak or failing Stomach, Heart or Kidneys. His great prescription, Dr. Shoop's Restorative—to correct results for the cause of these ailments—a weak and faltering inside nerve. This new doctrine clearly explains why the Restorative has of late grown so rapidly in popularity. Druggists say that those who test the Restorative even for a few days soon become fully convinced of its wonderful merit. Anyway, don't drug the organ. Treating the cause of sickness is the only sensible and successful way. Sold by all dealers.

$400 YEARLY FROM A $40 INVESTMENT

Ordreon the Incredible, It is a Fact, However.

I have under control 10,000 acres of the richest bottom land in the State of Georgia. This land costs the Syndicate $12.50 per acre, with the timber on it. The timber can be sold for $5.00 per acre. I want to put 1,000 acres of this land into Cotton cultivation which will net with cotton to 10 cents a pound, $50,000 from the first crop. Cotton is now selling at 16 cents per pound. At this price the land would produce $100,000. It will take $40,000 to put this first 1,000 acres under cultivation. I want 1000 people, more or less, to take one or more shares of a Syndicate at $40 per share, $10 down and $10 in three monthly payments. About 100 shares have been taken up in the last ten days.

The balance of the 10,000 acres can be put into cultivation from the receipts from the cotton crop grown on the first 1,000 acres, and besides doing this it will earn a dividend of not less than ten to twenty per cent. each year.

At the end of the fourth year the entire tract will be earning not less than $400,000 net annually. The 1,000 Syndicate shares will absolutely own the whole 10,000 acres.

SOLID COMMERCIAL FACTS ABOUT COTTON

Seven States in the Union produce 85 per cent. of the world's supply of cotton. The crop of 1909 brought $600,000,000 to planters.

If the United States were to stop the exportation of cotton for two seasons it would pauperize Europe.

There is no substitute for cotton, and cotton fabrics are the most essential commodities in the world's markets.

Food and clothing constitute the absolute necessities of life. There are a thousand food bearing plants that will grow anywhere, but 80 per cent. of the world's clothing is cotton that will grow ONLY IN SEVEN STATES.

The cotton land is the safest investment in the world to-day, and Georgia Bottoms is the safest of all, for it has 300 to 400 per cent. potential value.

A warehouse receipt for a bale of cotton is worth its face value in any bank in the South.

Any cotton investment is bound to be good. The Georgia Bottom Lands is the soundest and most attractive ever presented.

Why? Because this bottom land will produce THREE BALES AT THE COST OF ONE.

If the world's industrial progress is as great in the next fifteen years as it has been in the last fifteen, Cotton must either be double in VOLUME OR QUADRUPLE IN PRICE.

It takes to produce:—Raisins, 20 years; Prunes, 15 years; Apples, 8 years; Pears, 6 years; Peaches, Plums and Small fruit, from 3 to 5 years.

COTTON--FEBRUARY TO OCTOBER.

Here is just one more big significant world interest stories of the work of the twentieth century farmer who is getting results by brain power in new ways, rather than by plodding blind-back-old-ways and old methods. You know it if you have been watching agricultural progress.

A FINAL WORD

Those who join this Syndicate WILL OWN ABSOLUTELY THE WHOLE ENTERPRISE. The balance of the land can be handled from the profits or stock enough sold to take it up. I believe sincerely from my investigation that at the end of five years every $40.00 invested by a syndicate member will yield $400.00 annually. This looks like an impossibility, but the facts more than justify the belief. The first payment on the syndicate shares will be $10.00 each with the subscription, and the balance in three equal payments, 30, 60 and 90 days.

There will be no other syndicate and this will be closed on or before June 30.

In the above I have presented facts only—it is an enterprise of unusual merit. It is a big and sound money earner from its inception. If the Syndicate is oversubscribed, I reserve the right to allot pro rata.

Should you desire further information, address me frankly and openly. The ONLY WAY TO CREATE CONFIDENCE IS TO BE WORTHY OF IT.

I have the highest testimonials as to character, business and executive ability. Write for full report, free.

DOMINION BREVITIES.

Advices received at the Grand Trunk General Offices from British Columbia announce a very promising outlook for the fruit crop in that Province this year, which, it is stated, will be phenomenal, and altogether there is a very bright outlook for the Western Provinces.

President Creelman of the Ontario College of Agriculture, who went into New Ontario with the Canadian Party, had written an official of the Grand Trunk in enthusiastic praise of the land along the G. T. R., between Cochrane and the end of the steel. He fears, however, that the burning of the timber and brush as it lies scattered over the ground, the usual method will burn through and destroy the black vegetable matter in the surface soil, which is valuable as a fertilizer. If the small timber and brush can be piled and burned, the fires some distance apart, the rich surface soil would then be conserved. This is a point worth mentioning to intending settlers. Professor Creelman suggests a crop of potatoes planted between stumps before breaking up the land, thus giving the settler some revenue the first year.

At least Ontario is waking to a realization of the fact that their beautiful Algonquin Park is threatened with destruction. Right at the railway station and all about the "Highland Inn" at Cache Lake lumbermen are cutting the hardwood, which will leave the Park a bleak and barren wilderness. And just at the dawn of the day of Conservation.

Mr. A. E. McMaster, Agent of the Grand Trunk Pacific at Prince Rupert, reports the election of the first Mayor of Prince Rupert, Mr. F. Stork, and the following council men: F. Mobley, A. A. McIntyre, T. D. Patulle, W. P. Lynch, A. R. Barrow, V. W. Smith, J. H. Hilditch, G. R. Maden.

Manifestly the people who plant for the cooling breezes of the Highlands of Ontario expect summer to come along as usual this year, if we may judge by the bookings at the various hotels and outing places reached by the Grand Trunk Railway System.

The Dominion of Canada will undertake to administer the great Territory lying along the western slopes of the Rockies, from the boundary to Yellowhead Pass and beyond. This vast territory is to be reserved from settlement or occupation, and it is to be administered, with a view to the proper utilization and reproduction of the forests, the protection of the water supply of the Prairie Provinces—in short, for the benefit of prosperity.

"The Coronation Oath as signed by King Edward VII. (photograph copy):—

"I solemnly promise and swear to govern the people of this United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland and the Dominions thereto belonging according to the statutes in Parliament agreed on and the respective laws and customs of the same. I will to my power cause law and justice, in mercy, to be executed in all my judgments. I will to the utmost of my power maintain the laws of God, the true Profession of the Gospel and the Protestant Reformed Religion, established by Law, and I will maintain and preserve unviolably the Settlement of the Church of England and the Doctrine Worship, Discipline and Government thereof, as by Law established in England. And I will preserve unto the Bishops and Clergy of England and to the Church therein committed to their charge all such Rights and Privileges as do or shall appertain to them or any of them.

The things which I have here before promised I will perform and keep, so help me God.

August 9, 1902.

(Sgd) Edward R. & I."

The Protestant Declaration.

Following this in the Graphic is "The Protestant Declaration" (which is as follows:—

"I, George, do solemnly and sincerely in the presence of God profess, testify and declare that I do believe that in the Sacrament of the Lord's Supper there is not any Transubstantiation of the Elements of Bread and Wine into the Body and Blood of Christ at or after the consecration thereof by any person whatsoever: and that the Invocation or Adoration of the Virgin Mary or any other Saint and the Sacrifice of the Mass as they are now used in the Church of Rome are superstitious and idolatrous, and I do solemnly, in the presence of God, profess, testify and declare that I do make the Declaration and every part thereof in the plain and ordinary sense of the words read unto me as they are commonly understood by English Protestants."

This it is proposed to cut out.

The Catholic Declaration.

Alongside the preceding declaration and in the same special form of type is the following:—"The Catholic Declaration:—

"We excommunicate and curse on the part of God Almighty, Father, Son and Holy Ghost; by the authority also of the Blessed Apostles, Peter and Paul; and by our own all Hussites, Wicklephists, Lutherans, Zwinghans, Colonists, Huguenots, Anabaptists, Trinitarians, and apostates whatsoever from the Christian Faith (i.e. the Roman Faith) and all and singular other heretics under whatsoever name they may be classed and of whatsoever sect they may be; and those who believe receive or favour them and all those who defend them in general also Schismatics and those who pertinaciously withdraw themselves or recede from their obedience to us and to the Roman Pontiff for the time being."

That is the Papal Declaration.

SCORES OF LIVES ARE IN PERIL

TOWN OF LAVALLE, ONT., DESTROYED BY FIRE AND RESIDENTS CUT OFF.

C.N.R. Rescue Train Fails—Was Forced Back and People Left Helpless—Long Strip Fire-Swept.

Winnipeg, June 30.—Forest fires in Ontario, along the Canadian Northern Railway line, from Winnipeg to Fort Frances, 220 miles, have reached most serious proportions. The town of Lavalle, 160 miles east of Winnipeg, was destroyed and the people are fighting for their lives.

A relief train was hurried to the scene by the Canadian Northern Railway, but burning timbers covered the track and the train was forced to abandon the distressed people and return without rendering aid. The situation threatens to become a serious calamity at any moment.

CITY LIGHTED IN THE DAY.

Fort William, June 30.—Forest fires are threatening the towns in this vicinity, and Fort William is clouded with smoke, it being necessary to turn on the big street lights this morning.

The fires are getting worse at Silver Mountain, 20 miles out. Scores of men, women and children fought the flames all last night, and could not put them out. The fire is near Mackie and Taylor's camps and making great headway towards Silver Mountain, which is inhabited by 200 people.

Mackie and Taylor intend making a raft to load the horses and camping outfit if they cannot extinguish the fire. People are getting nervous. There has been no rain for four weeks and everything is as dry as tinder.

A FINE RECORD.

Home Bank Deposits Increase Over Million and a Half.

The annual report of the Home Bank of Canada, which appears in today's issue, will prove interesting reading to many. It shows extraordinary evidence of the wonderful expansion of the country, and the prosperity which the people enjoy.

The report shows that the bank is making rapid progress and enjoys the fullest confidence of the public. During the past year deposits have increased by $1,500,000, or twenty-five per cent. above the deposits of the previous year. The most gratifying feature of this increase is that $1,000,000 of it represents the savings of the people. The assets show an equally satisfactory increase and now total $9,764,636.46. The paid-up capital is $1,123,000, divided among 1,346 shareholders, of whom 700 are farmers in the North-West.

The profits for the year totalled $95,852.24, after deducting the costs of management, accrued interest and making ample provision for bad and doubtful debts. Four quarterly dividends at the rate of six per cent. per annum have been paid, $41,340.00 transferred to the rest account, $50,000 transferred to the contingent account, and a balance of $28,203.54 carried forward. Three new branches have been opened in the North-West during the year, each of which is doing good business.

Funeral of Late E. J. Coughlin.

Yesterday morning the late Eugene Jos. Coughlin was laid away at St. Peter's cemetery amidst many expressions of sorrow and regret at the closing of so bright and promising a young life. Requiem high mass was said by Rev. Dr. O'Brien at the Sacred Heart church, where the remains were taken from the family residence. Many beautiful floral offerings were received, including tributes from the deceased's friends and from those who had been associated with him in the Ottawa Bank. The pallbearers were Messrs. Vincent O'Sullivan, W. Cahill, L. Giroux, M. O'Brien, Vincent Corkery and F. Hickey.

S.A. Band Ahead of Time.

On Wednesday night the Salvation Army Band anticipated the date of the Cavanville strawberry festival a week in advance of the scheduled evening, and on their arrival at the happy eating grounds were told that the sweet strains that went with the strawberries would not be required for seven days hence.

Ventricine Paid the Penalty Yesterday

Toronto, June 30.—Before he was led to the gallows this morning, Ventricini made a written statement which he left with Michael Russo, the official interpreter to be handed over to the Provincial Attorney General's Department.

Part of it reads as follows:

"I am not morally guilty of murder for the killing of poor Raffaele Fabbio, and I don't deserve to be hanged for the killing of him any more than poor Fabbio deserved to be killed by me. Fabbio and I are but the victims of a bad woman's tongue, and she alone will have to account for the misfortune brought on me and poor Fabbio.

"Who could believe that I would have killed Fabbio had I known then that he was there to protect me from being hurt by the people who had already assaulted me."

"I have no fear of meeting my Maker with the full hope of being forgiven for what I have done. If my friends and relations had looked after my case as they should have done, the verdict would have been different, but they hid nothing else but talk of money and left my witnesses out of court.

"Let this be a warning to Italians and others who are addicted to drink, for only for the cursed liquor I would not be in the position which I am today."

The rest of the statement recalls the events that took place the evening of the murder, practically the same as came out in evidence at the trial.

"MARVELOUS RECOVERY."

Montreal Man So Ill With Dyspepsia Thought He Would Die. Cured By Dr. Hamilton's Pills.

THE GREAT WEST CRIES FOR RAIN

IN SOUTHERN MANITOBA THERE WILL ONLY BE HALF A CROP.

Another Week Without Rain Will Practically Mean No Crops at All—Better Reports From Other Districts.

Winnipeg, June 30.—In an interview yesterday regarding the effect of the hot weather on the crops in Manitoba and the Northwest, Premier Roblin stated that even under the most favorable conditions from now on, Manitoba cannot possibly harvest more than half a crop in 1910, and he added that another week of heat without rain will mean practically no crop at all. The same story was told by one of the biggest wheat operators of Chicago and Minneapolis, who spent a week in the Province satisfying himself at first hand as to the prospects.

There are no reports of rain as yet, and those best informed no longer attempt to minimize the utter seriousness of the situation. Yesterday the G.T.P. issued a crop report showing that for 120 miles west of Winnipeg the wheat is in bad shape, in some places being almost burnt red. West of Bigstar conditions are more favorable throughout northern and central Saskatchewan, where local showers have been more or less frequent, and the heat is not so great. Southern Manitoba is so far the greatest sufferer, and in many districts the farmers have practically given up hope of saving anything.

A Local Bankers' Charity.

Yesterday afternoon an example of how the good nature and charity of prominent citizens are tested was shown in a local bank. A young man fairly well dressed and carrying a glorious "load" applied to this particular manager. He told his little story of happy married life, and confessed his alcoholic slip of the day. He asked for transportation to a nearby town. The manager enquired how much a ticket would cost. On ascertaining this, the financier remarked, "Now you look a decent fellow and I do not want to see you stranded here. Now here is a cheque for $2.25; this will take you home to your wife. I depend on you, and you look a pretty decent sort of chap, to go home and not spend the money on beer. The young man left loud in his praise. He made straight for the depot and bought a ticket for home.

MARRIAGE.

BAYLY—CLEMENTI.—On June 29th, 1910, at 451 Water street, Peterborough, Ont., by Rev. Canon Davidson, rector of St. John's church, Clarissa E., daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Clementi, to Gilbert St. John G. Bayly of Stauffer, Alberta.

WEALTHY MIXER AND BRIDE.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert T. J. O'Connor Spending a Few Days in the City on Their Honeymoon.

From the leading papers of Rochester, N.Y., the Democrat and Chronicle, we take the following marriage notice of great local interest:

"A pretty wedding was solemnized on June 21st, at 9 o'clock mass at St. Mary's church, when Miss Mary Elizabeth Towns, daughter of Mr. George Towns of Douro, Ont., Can., was united in marriage to Mr. Albert Thomas J. O'Connor of Emiemore, Ont., Can. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Father Gleason, P.P., in the presence of the immediate friends of the contracting parties. The bridesmaids and groomsmen were Miss Teresa Towns, sister of the bride, and Walter O'Connor, brother of the groom, and Miss Kitty Conole, and Mr. Joseph Towns, brother of the bride. The bride was becomingly attired in a gown of embroidery and wore a large picture hat and carried a bouquet of "kissreams." The sister of the bride wore a cream voile dress with hat to match, and Miss Conole wore a suit of white batiste, and a black picture hat, and carried boquets of sweet peas. A light repast was served at Mrs. Olley Cairns, and the bridal party drove around the beautiful parks of the city for two hours, and had dinner served in a private dining room in the Hotel Seneca. The groom and his bride sat at the head of the table, to their right sat Father Gleason. Among the guests present were Mr. Walter O'Connor, Miss Teresa Towns, Mr. C. Towns, Miss K. Canole, Mr. and Mrs. C. Cain and Mr. L. Callaghan, first cousins of the groom, and Mr. Fran cousins of the groom, and Mr. Frank Hunt and Miss Lillian McIntosh.

"The happy couple left Rochester on the Empire State Express for Buffalo where for a few days they will be guests at Hotel Statler. From Buffalo they go to Toronto and will be guests of Mr. John Hartnett, the groom's uncle. From Toronto they will proceed to Peterborough to visit some of their respective friends, and also friends in Lindsay. The young couple will reside in the handsome new residence erected at Haileybury, Ont., by the groom. Mr. O'Connor has been for some years interested in the Cobalt mining field, where he and his brother are chief owners in the celebrated O'Connor Silver Mine.

"The groom's gift to the bride was a handsome gold watch and fob, and a diamond necklace, purchased in Boston. To the bridesmaid he gave a solid gold brooch set with pearls, and to the groomsmen a pair of solid gold links. The popularity of the young couple was attested to by the many and costly bridal gifts."

The young couple arrived in the city yesterday and received the congratulations of their many friends. During the afternoon the bridal party had their photographs taken at Roy's.

The United States Did Not Advise Captains

Washington, D.C., June 30.—If American owners of vessels fishing or trading in Hudson Bay refuse to recognize Canada's jurisdiction over that body of water, they must do so at their own risk. The United States Government has not advised them to refuse to pay the licenses and dues which have always been demanded.

Assistant Secretary of State Wilson was surprised today when the Ottawa report was brought to his attention. He caused to be made a most thorough search of the State Department records for any papers bearing on the case, but none can be found. He regards the whole story as a fake.

The quickest relief comes perhaps from a prescription known to Druggists everywhere as Dr. Shoop's Cough Remedy. The tender leaves of a simple mountain shrub, give to Dr. Shoop's Cough Remedy its remarkable curative effect. It is truly a most certain and trustworthy prescription. Sold by all dealers.

Hiawatha Pastor's Death.

The many friends in this city will learn with deep regret of the death of Rev. Robt. Dunkley at Hiawatha on Tuesday evening. Mr. Dunkley's death came quite unexpectedly. He was in his seventy-ninth year and had resided among the Indians at Hiawatha for a number of years. His work among these people is deserving of the highest praise. The body was interred at Picton.

THE WEATHER.

Hot much change in temperature.

Kidnapped Boy Has Been Murdered

New York, June 30.—Dr. Mariano Scimeca received a telephone message at his home today informing him that his three-year-old Michael, who was kidnapped two weeks ago, and held for a ransom of $8,000 had been murdered.

Dr. Scimeca said he was satisfied that the men at the other end of the telephone was one of the kidnappers. He also declared it as his belief that the man was telling the truth. When his wife learnt of the message she fainted. She is now at the point of death as the result of worrying over the kidnapping.

THREATENS VENGEANCE.

"I am compelled to believe that those fiends have harmed my poor little boy," said Dr. Scimeca. "If it is true I shall devote the rest of my life to running them to earth. And when I find them I shall not have to appeal to your laws. And I will find them, Mark my words. I will find them by pursuing their own tactics."

After Dr. Scimeca had received the message today he communicated with detective headquarters and the telephone talks traced to the ferry house at St. Morg. Staten Island. The telephone which was used there has a slot machine and is in a booth. It was impossible to get any further trace of the man who called up the Scimeca home. The man who called him up, the physician said, spoke in pure Sicilian.

Another Mikado Song.

The continuing success of the revival of the opera "Mikado" at the Casino Theater, Broadway, New York, has led the New York World to publish another Mikado song. This time it will be "The Moon and I," one of the prettiest songs in the opera which has lived for over twenty years. The words and music of this song, arranged for popular use, will be given free with next Sunday's New York World.

Town Surrounded by the Flames

La Vallee, Ont., June 30.—Bush fires which have been burning in this vicinity for several days were today fanned by a high wind until they swept through the country carrying terror and destruction.

At Devlin, a prosperous town in the Rainy River District, fire swept down from the south into the large timber yard of the Saskatchewan Government, burning up several thousand telephone poles. The fire jumped the tracks of the Canadian Northern, burning up four cars of lumber loaded for Saskatchewan, and then cleaned up the whole of the timber stored in the Canadian Northern Railway yards, consisting in part of many thousands of posts and ties belonging to Mackenzie, Mann and Company, and a large quantity of square cedar and telegraph poles.

The flames swept onward towards the town, cleaning up the lumber output of the Burns Lumber Company's saw mill on its way.

BEG FOR RESCUE TRAIN.

The people of the town by this time had given up all hope of saving their dwellings, and were clamoring for the railway to send a train to rescue them. This was done, but by the time the wind had dropped considerably and the male portion of the population decided to stay to do all possible towards saving the town. At the time of writing this despatch Devlin is completely encircled with fire.

SOME OF THE FEATURES OF THE OPENING SESSION.

The North Atlantic Fisheries Arbitration is Now at Work in Real Earnest—Is of Much Importance to Canada.

The Hague, June 13.—The North Atlantic fisheries arbitration is now at work in real earnest and, as the result is of so much importance to Canada, a few words descriptive of the great court and its method of work may be interesting to the people at home.

When the great Austrian, Heinrich Lammasch, delivered his opening address to the assembly of lawyers, statesmen and diplomats of the two leading nations of the world, it was an occasion long to be remembered.

Hundreds of millions of dollars are involved, and, to quote Baron Michiels van Verduynen, secretary-general of the court, it exceeds in importance any case ever submitted for peaceful arbitration.

Instead of admirals and generals, supported by lines of battleships and soldiers representing the two countries, settling the dispute by war, another method was adopted, and there appeared before the great peace court two rows of selected men to battle for the rights of their countries, in another way, a more modern way; and though there was absolute silence, no word being uttered except the president's opening address on the first day, one could easily see the two sides were serious and were soon to engage on a legal battle, where brains, equal to that of admirals and generals, would fight to win.

Two of England's greatest lawyers Sir William Robertson and Sir Robert Finlay, each of whom has held office as attorney-general of England, are the leaders of the English section; supported by a large array of English counsel. Our own Canadian, Hon. A. B. Aylesworth minister of justice, as agent for Great Britain, Canada and Newfoundland, has charge of the whole case, and sits right beside Sir Robert Finlay. Mr. Shepley, K.C., Mr. Ewart, K.C., and Mr. Tilley sit directly in front of the bench, in the Canadian section, and give the court a Canadian section.

The counsel are arrayed in sections, Great Britain in strong numbers, then the Canadian section and the Newfoundland section.

The opening address had been carefully prepared and printed. No word appears to be uttered without consideration, lest some incautious remark might imperil the friendly spirit which seems to animate all concerned.

SIR ROBERT FINLAY.

Proceedings adjourned on June 1 until the following Monday, when Sir Robert Finlay was invited to open for Great Britain. He has been speaking now for six days and has not finished. His address so far has been historical of the fishery conditions prevailing many long prior to the war of independence. The feature of his address is his wonderful command of language, which excites admiration. His address, without editing, is a regular blue book, and it will be a surprise to some Canadian counsel to know that even in so great a case as this he avoids every attempt at flowery eloquence, and simply never repeats what he has said. Instead of attempting to drive home by repetition the most material points, he says what he has to say quietly and forcibly, and says it only once. This actually adds to the strength of his argument. He proceeds at an even pace each hour yielding the same number of pages. In quoting extracts he never hurries, and hour by hour he proceeds with the same clock work precision.

If Canada loses, it will not be for the want of the case being carefully prepared. Counsel on the British side outnumber the Americans two to one, and are the best the British Empire can produce for this particular issue.

To show how well the case has been mastered one needs but to watch Sir Erie Richards, K.C., who held an important post in India, but who was recalled to act in this case, and who, as the case proceeds, is able to anticipate apparently every sentence of Sir Robert's speech, and hands him the book or document just at the moment needed.

Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets gently stimulate the liver and bowels to expel poisonous matter, cleanse the system, cure constipation and sick headache. Sold by all dealers.

The Johnston-Ketchell fight will be shown in moving pictures at the Princess Theater during the whole Princess Theater during the whole day and evening. The price of admission is 25 cents. Those fond of the pugilistic game have a chance here to see a fight that hundreds of men paid more dollars to witness than the Peterborough audience will pay cents.

Sciatica

EXPECTED DEATH ANY DAY.

Another Case Where Life Was Saved and Health Restored By Nerviline.

We have all read and heard of the agonies of Sciatica, but only those who have been tortured by this dread malady can fully appreciate what it must mean to be cured after years of suffering.

It is because he feels it his solemn duty to tell to the world his faith in Nerviline that Victor P. Hires makes the following declaration: "For three years I was in the Royal Mail service and in all kinds of weather had to meet the night trains. Dampness, cold and exposure brought on sciatica that affected my left side. Sometimes an attack would come on that made me powerless to work. I was so nearly a cripple that I had to give up my job. I was in despair, completely cast down because the money I spent on trying to get well was completely wasted. I was speaking to my chemist one day, and he recommended Nerviline. I had this good liniment rubbed on several times a day and got relief. In order to build up my general CURED health and improve my blood I used Ferrozone, SIX one tablet with each meal YEARS. I continued this treatment four months and was cured. I have used all kinds of liniments, and can truthfully say that Nerviline is far stronger, more penetrating, and infinitely better than anything else for relieving pain. I urge everyone with lumbago, neuralgia, rheumatism or sciatica to use Nerviline. I know it will, cure them."

There isn't a more highly esteemed citizen in Westchester than Mr. Hires. What he says can be relied upon. For six years since being cured he hasn't had a single relapse. Don't accept anything from your dealer but "Nerviline." 25 cents per bottle or five for $1. Sold everywhere or the Catarrhozone Co., Kingston.

ONE KIND OF SPORT.

Ideas vary as to what is sport and what is not sport vary greatly. In France they think it fine sport to "hunt" larks. In England they chase the fox. In Africa, the impression has been, they bag somewhat dangerous game, and risk their lives in the getting of it.

Such an impression, however, is somewhat dispelled by reading Mr. Roosevelt's account of his African adventures in the July Scribner, particularly that part of it which refers to his experiences with a ben ostrich. The bird is dangerous enough. Its kick has proved fatal to hunters before now. But Mr. Roosevelt took care that it should not get within kicking distance. He says:

The next day we returned and dismounted, before we reached the near neighborhood of the nest. Then I advanced cautiously, my rifle at the ready. It seemed impossible that so huge a bird could lie hidden in such scanty cover, but not a sign did we see until, when we were sixty yards off, the hen, which this time was on the nest, rose, and I killed her at sixty yards. Even this did not make the cock desert the nest; and on a subsequent day I returned, and after missing him badly, I killed him at eighty-five yards; and glad I was to see the huge black and white bird tumble in the dust.

It pleased Mr. Roosevelt, but some people will still insist upon believing that shooting birds upon the nest is not good sport.

There is more catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.

Sold by druggists, 75c.

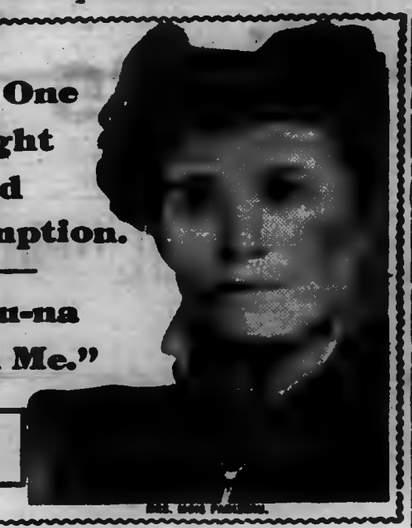
A GREAT SERVANT OF THE EMPIRE.

The British Empire has been favored in obtaining the service of such men as Sir William Butler, who died this week. He was a brave man and a distinguished soldier. The most outstanding features of his character were his tenderness of heart and his chivalrous sense of justice. Canada has reason to be grateful to him, because in the days of weakness forty years and more ago, he upheld her cause both with sword and pen.

His "Great Lone Land," describing the Canadian West as it was forty years ago, is today full of fresh interest. It is a sign of



"Every One Thought I Had Consumption. Pe-ru-na Saved Me."

"I THANK DR. HARTMAN FOR PE-RU-NA."

Mrs. Eliza Pachman.

"I hardly know how to thank you for the good Peruna has done me.

"I suffered five years with pain in the stomach. About a year ago it became so bad I could hardly bear it. I coughed day and night and grew weaker and weaker. The pain extended through my body and I also had difficulty in breathing, which made me cough. Everyone thought I had consumption.

"My husband heard of Peruna and bought five bottles. This treatment virtually cured me and now I recommend Peruna to every one who is suffering.

"I thank Dr. Hartman for this excellent remedy."

Ste. Julie de Vercheres, P. Q., Canada. —Mrs. Mois Parizeau.

A NEGLECTED cold is generally the first cause of catarrh.

Women are especially liable to colds. These colds occur more frequently during the wet, sloppy weather of winter and spring than any other time of the year. Often they are not considered serious and are allowed to run on, or they are treated in such a way as to only palliate the symptoms, while the cold becomes more deep-seated and the patient finally awakens to the fact that she has a well-developed case of catarrh.

WOMEN SHOULD BEWARE OF CATCHING COLD.

PE-RU-NA THE REMEDY FOR CATARRH OF THE LUNGS.

By reason of their delicate structure, the lungs are frequently the seat of a cold, especially if there is the slightest weakness of these organs. The treatment of catarrh of the lungs is also more difficult and discouraging than catarrh of any other organ of the body.

It would be wise therefore, to guard against it by every precaution possible. Peruna has been found the most reliable of all remedies for coughs, colds and catarrh, by reason of the fact that it goes at once to the very seat of the trouble.

It searches out every crevice, every duct of the body. It quickens and equalizes the circulation of the blood, thus relieving the congested mucous membranes. It exercises a healing and soothing effect upon the mucous membranes, no matter whether they are the more exposed membranes of the head and throat, or whether they line the remotest cells of the lungs.

Mrs. Jacobob, 1681 Hicks St., Toledo, Ohio, writes:

"When I wrote to you for advice, I had been sick for three years. I had trouble with my throat. Often I could not breathe through my nose. I also had pains in my chest and a cough. I took Peruna according to directions and it has cured me."

good taste and sound judgment that the copy in one of our great public libraries has been literally read to pieces, while in another the copy has disappeared, probably from the same cause. The motive of the book was a mission connected with the Red River Rebellion. While Sir Garnet Wooley's force was moving from Lake Superior to Fort Garry, Butler was to reach the same point through the Western States, discover whether there was any danger of a Fenian attack from that quarter, visit Fort Garry, and meet the expeditionary force with all the information he could obtain.

It was a task requiring coolness and courage, and these qualities he possessed in abundance. But the greatness of the man is shown in the fact that in reading the book you think little of his dangers and difficulties. He relegates his own personality to the background with a fine soldierly modesty. He is a lover of wild life. He beholds with sorrowful sympathy the inevitable retreat of the Indian before the forces of civilization. After shooting a buffalo he is seized with disgust at the sport, and admiration for the brave, helpless creature. "Never since that hour, though often but a two-days' ride from buffalo, have I sought to take the life of one of these noble animals." His statement of the case for the insurgent metis is conspicuously fair, and he is highly praised by Windsor in his History of America."

Soon after his mission had been fulfilled he heard of the defeat of the French at Sedan. His chivalrous love for the weaker party at once suggested this thought: "Why not offer to France in the moment of her bitter, bitter adversity the sword and service of even one sympathising friend?" But just then he received from Governor Archibald of Manitoba an offer to undertake another mission, to investigate the spread of smallpox among the Indians of the West, and to carry a supply of medicines and instructions for stamping out the disease. The carrying out of these duties occupied 119 winter days, and the distance covered was 2,700 miles. It was a fine piece of work, and again in the narrative the soldier's modesty and simplicity are displayed, and he has given us a classic description of a country that is but little known.

After leaving Canada Butler had a distinguished military career. It was he who warned the British government of the strength of the Boers and the necessity for a large force to meet them. But the British government at that time had a marvelous capacity for rejecting good advice, and the soundness of Butler's opinion was discovered only by bitter experience.

OUR GREATEST ASSET.

Apropos of the recently published remarks of Mr. Flavelle, it seems that Canada's reputation as an agricultural Dominion is likely to rest solely upon her wheat producing capacity. Whether any sytem of crop rotation will come into force within a reasonable period or not is a moot problem, but it would not be amiss if the Commission of Conservation were to take measures to prevent an excess of that kind of farming, which takes all out of the soil and then departs elsewither leaving nothing—a thing which has in some measure, characterized the development of the grain belt in the past. The seriousness of the outlook has been realised by the Scottish Agricultural Commission, which visited Canada last year, and these figures are in their report. They declare that: "If it were not for the vast virgin area which awaits development, the Canadian farmer might be censured for his improvidence. In the great wheat belt the commissioners found farming which surprised them by its short-sightedness. In the older and more settled districts on the prairie there is a method of mixed farming, in which wheat is succeeded by oats or barley seeded down with grass. But in the newer lands of the Far West the system is more exhaustive to the soil. It is to crop wheat for two or three years in succession, then to leave the land fallow for a year, and back to the wheat again."

The improvidence of this practice is, the commissioners say, perfectly understood by some of the intelligent wheat farmers of Canada. One of them, a German, said to the commissioners' "You need not tell me about these things. I know perfectly well that continuous wheat farming exhausts the soil; but I know, too, that stock raising—at any rate, dairy farming—means continuous and hard work; and I know, too, that wheat growing requires less capital and less labor, and give better returns.

UNEASY UNDER A CROWN.

When the lord of peace and war in Europe arrives at his capital from his summer palace with his right hand bandaged and his right leg on a cushion, it may be questioned if some of his humblest subjects might want to swap fortunes with him. For when a king like William of Germany submits to be bandaged and mollycoddled in public he must be a very uncomfortable if not a very sick man. It is not only the head that rests uneasy under a crown, and the sleepless eyes that are weary but find no rest for the ailments that will break through all the barriers wholesome living and careful medical treatment may put up challenge the primacy of monarchs in painful and humiliating fashion. The blood of the royal families (or family) of Europe, for all are kin, is none of the soundest and the Kaiser's carache is a warning at times even more distressing than the double

THE BILLION DOLLAR MARK.

As far as our Canadian trade is concerned the figures just issued for May show another record advance. A despatch from Ottawa says that the total trade for the month was $60,186,972, an increase of $14,276,236, or over thirty per cent. as compared with May of last year. At the present rate of increase Canada's total monthly trade will within two years reach the billion dollar mark. For the current year indications point to a total trade of over $600,000,000.

GOLD EXTRACTION ON THE SASKATCHEWAN RIVER

Days of "Grizzly" and "Rocker" Now Over—Succeeded by Modern Steam Dredge.

The evolution of gold extraction from the river bed and bars of the Saskatchewan would form a volume of interesting details. On the hilly shore of the North Saskatchewan, drive from Duke Lake, the famous battle ground of 1885, on the south to Prince Albert tourists may view an old, curiously constructed, ramshackle, abandoned steamboat, which somewhat resembles a sternwheel passenger craft, and is yet rigged with an apparatus evidently intended for dredging. This is a disused gold dredge, which represents some $10,000 or $12,000 invested, mostly by Englishmen, in enabling an English engineer to develop his ideas as to what a gold dredger should be. Perhaps, if he had been furnished with wheels, pulleys, chains, stanchions and other mechanical parts of good steel; it might have worked to this day. But the parts were made in England, possibly by some one used to constructing for the war office. They gave out at all critical junctures with wondrous rapidity, and the dredger practically went to bits, as has been said, almost after the manner of Dr. Holmes'. "one-hoss shay." Yet it produced in the open season of the year, gold that sold at the mint for $2160, from 16,000 cubic yards of gravel dredged from the bars of the North Saskatchewan; this means 45 cents of gold per cubic yard. The tailings are said to have contained enough to be worth reworking.

Now, extensive gold-dredging operations are carried on along the the Feather River of California, in gravel or sand, which yields less than 20 per cents per cubic yard. Boston men and money are engaged on Feather River. Many have since turned their attention to the Saskatchewan.

At present the North Saskatchewan at many points along the mountain is being exploited by miners; during for 300 miles below Edmonton, is being exploited by miners using a very crude apparatus locally called the "grizzly," which term is more properly applied to one part of the collection of chief contrivances.

The grizzly, whence the evolution of the gold dredge is a very simple device. Any ordinary man could construct one, at a cost of $5 or $10, according to his ability. Men earned and now earn from $2 to $4 per day along the Saskatchewan by this process. On some bars they run as high as $6 and $10. During the open season scores may be seen recovering fine gold; the work is remunerative and attractive, but now that modern invention has produced a dredge and buckets operated by water power and electricity, doing the work of 1500 or 2000 men each day, the days of the "grizzly" and "rocker" appear to be numbered—so far as being considered distinctive machines for gold recovery.

A steam dredger is essentially a "grizzly" apparatus on a great scale. The machinery lifts gravel from the river bed or bar, dumps it aboard the boat, washes it over successive screens, and ultimately leaves the gold adhering to blanket cloth, from which work it is washed in receptacles containing mercury, so that amalgram is formed. A contributing to the formation of a steam "grizzly" and all other plant first-class modern gold-dredging apparatus, cost from $30,000 to $125,000—or more, according to capacity

MAKING WORK FOR THE STORK.

A number of measures intended to stimulate the birth rate in France have just been introduced in parliament as a result of the publication of vital statistics showing that there were 22,000 fewer births in the French republic during 1909 than in the preceding year. It is proposed to impose additional military service on bachelors over 30 years of age and to make obligatory the marriage of state employes who have reached the age of 25 years. Also it is provided that government employes are to have pension allowances and increases of salaries when they are blessed with more than three children.

The outlook in France certainly is brightening, especially for those who happen to hold government jobs. The only trouble is that every man will probably want to become a public office-holder and the head of a large family if the proposed measures are enacted into laws. This may make it a little awkward for the government.

As for the bachelors who are to be compelled to undergo additional military service for the privilege of remaining unmarried, much will depend on the kind of service to be rendered. It is possible to imagine military service that would not be half as attractive as matrimony. Let the gold braid and brass buttons be taken from the insistent bachelors; give them overalls instead of natty uniforms, and compel each soldier to till an acre or two of ground during the tilling season.

NEARS BREAK WITH VATICAN.

Madrid, June 27.—It is believed that a rupture is imminent in the negotiations between the government and the Vatican on the subject of the church and non-Catholic religious societies. Premier Canalejas has received a summary of the Vatican reply to his proposals, and has had a conference with the king to discuss future action. It is understood the reply is unsatisfactory.

A scientific note recently issued intimated that if the vatican insisted on coupling its protest against the royal decree of June 11 with the negotiations to revise the Concordat, the government would be obliged to break off all negotiations. Prior to the issuance of this note, the premier declared in the chamber of deputies that the government was resolved to live up to the constitution and settle the religious question from the standpoint of reform.

THE NEW GOLDEN BUCKET

A few years ago, the recovery of Gold from auriferous grounds and subaqueous beds, was considered impossible. The "pan" and "grizzly:", operated by hand, appeared to be the sole method of recovering values. It was during this period that Dr. Linderman, Director of the United States Mint expressed the opinion that he who, could devise a machine, without adding proportionately to the cost of production, capable of saving 50 per cent. of all the placer gold, would not only enrich himself, but within the lives of men still living, would double the world's available gold bullion. The Director of the United States Mint further said,—"WE CAN HARDLY HOPE FOR THIS, THOUGH NO MAN DARE SAY IT IS IMPOSSIBLE."

The perfected modern Dredge, is to-day a substantial reality. Allowing for delays in shifting, for necessary repairs, etc., the Gold Dredge runs on an average about 18 hours out of twenty-four, thus making up in length of working day, loss of operation during winter months. These Dredges are operated in ready made mining areas, recovering millions of dollars annually, at the lowest possible cost.

The Director of the Mint of the United States in his report for 1909 says:

"The Gold Dredge makes money where a coolie would starve."

Outing Magazine: "When you think that bold inventive talent, has been able to devise machinery that makes it profitable to extract ten cents worth of gold from a ton of earth, the enterprise becomes one of the romances of American industry."

"A chain of powerful buckets bite into the earth, each bringing up a tremendous quantity of earth and gravel. These are subjected to screen treatment, and the gold recovered."

California in 45 years, within radius of less than ten miles of placer ground, produced $200,000,000 in gold. To-day the vast number of Modern Dredges working over old ground are recovering millions annually.

"SCIENCE" ON NATIONAL AND RACE SUICIDE.

Once more a decrease in the French birth rate is recorded, and Dr. Bertillon, the statistician, psychologist and criminologist, is sounding his recurrent warning refrain. This time he predicts something worse than defeat for France in a war with Germany: depopulation and national suicide, he foresees, will leave beautiful France a wilderness, which the advancing Teuton will simply annex without a shot. And as the Germans add 1,000,000 a year to their population it is clear that they will need plenty of space and resources, and of course France is preferable to Brazil or Africa.

We are not sure that the complacent French intellectuals, the thrifty bourgeois and peasantry will be stirred even by the picture of their country as a desert open to Teutonic occupation. They will insist on thinking that a stationary population with a high degree of comfort, prosperity and culture is preferable to an increasing population with growing poverty, emigration, unemployment and discontent. They argue that even in war many is only one factor, and a factor of declining importance. Money, skill, education count more and more, and so do alliances, understandings, the good will of other nations. The French make heavy sacrifices for defense, but they do not admit that they must live, move and have their being in an atmosphere of war talk and war worry, instead of in an atmosphere of peace, industry, art, individual happiness. As for a depopulated France, they haven't the imagination of a Bertillon and will never "visualize" it. It will, at the worst, take a good many centuries to "depopulate" France.

Bertillon's solemn warning reminds one of the equally earnest prediction of a Boston savant that in exactly 265 years the United States will be nothing but a chain of lunatic asylums. Strenuosity, alcoholism, fats, congestion and lots of other evils, it seems, are driving us mad, and our days are literally numbered. But the alarmed doctor forgets a number of ifs and buts. He forgets that life is change, that things never go on "at this" or that rate, and that evils have a way of reforming themselves. He forgets the forces that make for sanity, health, vigor, progress.

If we can't be induced to mend in this or that particular by appeals to our present interest, our common sense, our conscience, savants may depend on it that pictures of "ultimate" desolation, extinction and death will utterly fail to strike terror.

ENGLAND AND HEAT.

England's Unpreparedness for the Sweltering Heat.

There are still King Canutes in England. Nowadays, however, they defy not sea-waves but heat-waves. When London swelters in hot weather, its inhabitants look the heat indignantly in the eye and bid it begone. They do not yield to it one inch. If the heat insists upon staying, it does so without their consent, and they decline to recognize its presence by a change of food and clothing. Such, at any rate, is the conclusion which might be drawn from the remarks of an editorial writer of the London Mail, who proceeds to demonstrate England's unpreparedness for hot weather as follows:

"Were I to rake out a delightfully cool suit of pongee from my trunks, and to walk down the Strand with it as I should do in similar heat in Shanghai or Colombo, I would be followed by a group of gaping, laughing youngsters. Even on the hottest day the city man is expected to wear his dark-colored clothes and his silk "topper." Our food is not prepared with a view to heat. The middle-class household that has a refrigerator is decidedly the exception.

and iced drinks are so rare outside of restaurants as to be practically unknown. Ice cream, which the American girl for example, eats by the pint and dreams of by the gallon, is here served up at an exorbitant price in minute portions. Stay-at-home folk have yet to learn that to endure great heat comfortably one must leave off spirits, eat plenty of fruit, cut down one's meat, and go moderately on all food.

That is the case in a nutshell, "leave off spirits, eat plenty of fruit, cut down one's meat, and go moderately on all food." And the wee folk should be dressed as lightly as the grown ups, and fed as lightly in proportion. Dr. MacMurchy's recent port on infant mortality emphasizes the danger of clothing the little tots too heavily. There is, on the other hand a danger in the iced drink which an exchange so ardently commends. Moderately cold water is quite as satisfying and more healthful.

Interest in Alberta Elections.

Edmonton, Alta., June 29.—The electors in Vermilion, Medicine Hat and Lethbridge districts are today expressing their political preference at the by-elections and on their verdict depends the fate of the Provincial Government, which under the leadership of Premier Sifton, came into power recently on the fall of the Rutherford Cabinet.

It is expected that Premier Sifton will be elected from Vermilion without serious opposition. The election of Hon. A. J. McLean, Provincial secretary, who is running in Lethbridge district, is also regarded as certain. Hon. C. R. Mitchell, the new minister of education and attorney-general, has opposition in Medicine Hat, his brother-in-law having been nominated by the Conservatives.

Misses Minnie and Lillie Porter, of Toronto, are guests at the home of Mr. C. Curtis, Ashburnham.

If Sick

Don't risk even one single penny!

And I will tell you why I say this

It is because every package of Dr. Shoop's medicine is absolutely free if it fails.

No one on 6 risk even one single penny.

Just think what this means to the suffering sick!

No risk, no expense, nothing whatever to be heard. If Dr. Shoop's Restorative, or Dr. Shoop's Blood Tablets, or Dr. Shoop's Kidney Remedy fails, you can tell either of us by letter or postal—let it cost a penny—and we will cheerfully and promptly refund your money.

Why, then take any chance whatever?

Why purchase any medicine which the maker dare not back it just as I do by this remarkable offer?

And besides, I am so sure of it myself. My Restorative has been made by Dr. Shoop's Restorative for over 20 years. It is known in the land. Druggists everywhere sell it. We take no chance when we make this offer.

For twenty years Dr. Shoop's medicines have become thoroughly standardized all over America. And I have gathered hundreds and thousands of voluntary letters from grateful users every where, telling of cures. These are from druggists, physicians, ministers and the actual rank and file. I have all these letters. I have all the evidence. I take the entire risk alone.

But write me first for an order.

I have an opinion of myself and my remedies—how all druggists in this country have come to stand behind me and my remedies.

So drop in the little coupon below and write me. Tell me which of my remedies you think you need. Tell me your age, your symptoms, and how you have suffered.

Then if you are free to obtain the help you would from a home physician, do so. Spend a good fully—if you desire. My advice and the book below are yours—and without cost. Perhaps a word or two from me will start us some treatment. I have helped thousands in just this way by my private prescriptions or personal advice plan.

Besides, the books will open to you many helpful ideas to you. They tell of my 29 prescriptions at the druggists. Any book of mine will be sent free. All about my Restorative, Nerve Tablets, Blood Tablets, Kidney Remedy, Liver Tablets, Heart Cure, Tonic, Eye Remedy, Ear Oil, Cough Cure, Headache Tablets, Stomach Tablets, Laxative Cold Tablets, Asthma Cure, Rheumatism Cure, Anti-Pain Pills, Hair Balm, Dyspepsia Tablets, Worm Syrup, Hog Cholera Tablets, Colic Cure, Distemper Cure, Lice Killer, Gall Cure, Barb Wire Liniment, Poultry Pan-a-ce-a, Poultry Lice Killer, Roup Cure, Healing Powder, Black Leg Pills, Blister Ointment, Sore Throat Cure, Sore Mouth Wash, Sore Eye Water, Sore Nipple Ointment, Wash for Scratches, Leg Wash, Udder Ointment, Garget Cure, Milk Fever Cure, Scours Cure, Worm Powders, Worm Capsules, Cough Cure, Distemper Cure, Pink Eye Cure, Colic Cure, Heave Powders, Blood Purifier, Kidney Pills, Stock Tonic, Purifying Powders, Purifying Pills, Purifying Wash, Purifying Ointment, Purifying Soap, Purifying Tablets, Purifying Liquid, Purifying Powder, Purifying Cream, Purifying Lotion, Purifying Gel, Purifying Foam, Purifying Spray, Purifying Mist, Purifying Vapor, Purifying Steam, Purifying Heat, Purifying Light, Purifying Sound, Purifying Vibration, Purifying Energy, Purifying Force, Purifying Power, Purifying Strength, Purifying Health, Purifying Life, Purifying Soul, Purifying Spirit, Purifying Mind, Purifying Body, Purifying Everything.

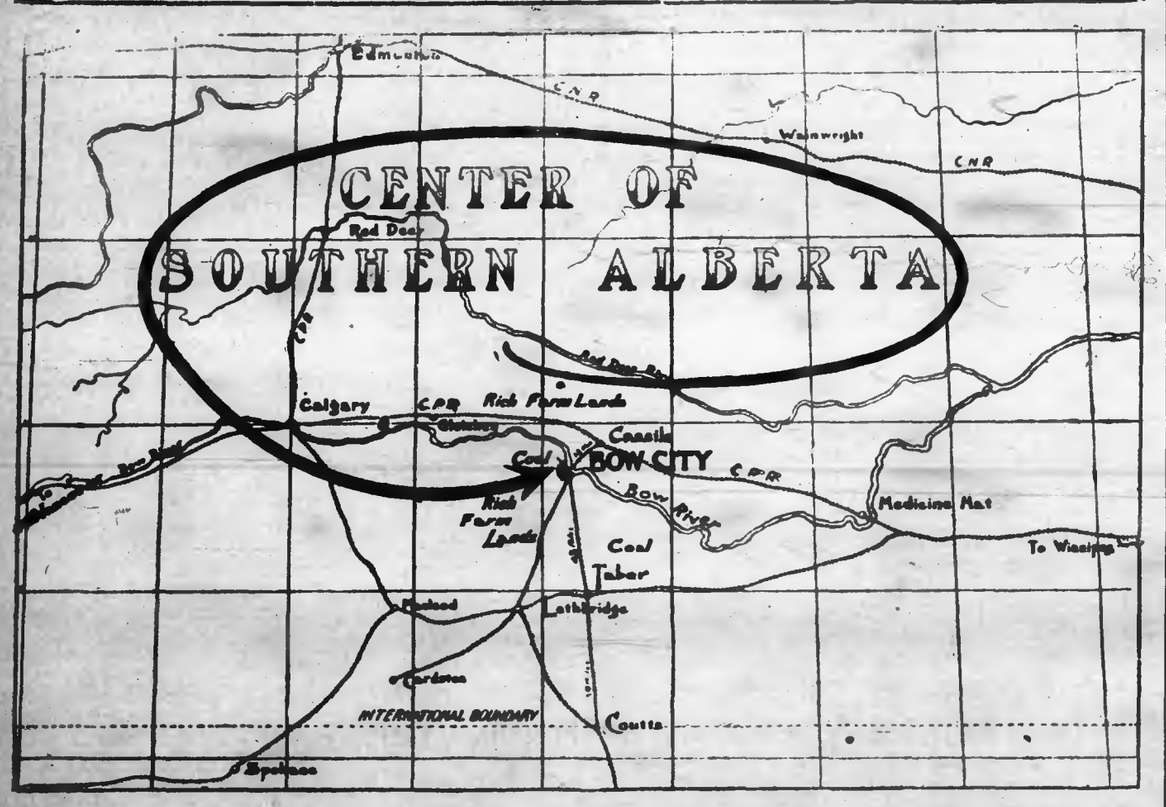
Bow City

The Metropolis of Southern Alberta

Situated in the centre of Southern Alberta, and on the famous Bow River, at the intersection of two projected railways, is Bow City—the logical location for a great commercial and industrial city.

Bow City is surrounded by thousands of acres of broad, open, fertile prairie land, while the city itself is immediately above one of the richest beds of bituminods coal ever unearthed in the Western Provinces.

The Bow Centre Collieries, Limited, are now developing their coal lands at Bow City. This gigantic corporation will, through the operation of their coal lands, eventually give employment to some 1,500 miners the whole year round—these miners will form the basis for a most prosperous town, while the thousands of prosperous farmer s in the immediate vicinity of Bow City, will naturally establish a market and purchasing depot, equally as prominent and as important as Winnipeg, Calgary or Edmonton.



Bow City has a future; it is the point in the Western prairies endowed by nature with all the natural resources which go towards laying the foundation for a great city.

The map reproduced herewith is taken from the Government survey, and gives you the true location of Bow City.

You will see that it is twelve miles from the main line of the C. P. R.

Bow City is to be the headquarters of the Bow River Railway Company's lines of railway operating south of the C. P. R. main line and to the United States boundary, tapping, as they will, the richest farming lands in the Province of Alberta.

The farmers in the vicinity of Bow City have no fear of drought, since the great C. P. R. irrigation system completely envelopes the whole district, thereby supplying water in dry seasons, insuring the maximum growth of crops at all times.

There is only one Bow City—there will never be another in our Western heritage. It will be too late for you to apply for ground-floor prices in lots in Bow City a few days hence. This great coal mining and farming townsite will be sold of the market in the immediate future.

If you act promptly, you can buy lots in Bow City at prices which prevailed in Calgary, Edmonton, Regina, Brandon and other great points in the Western prairies five years ago.

A 50-dollar lot in Bow City, judging from the experience in other cities, should be worth and sell for $250 to $300 in four years' time. This means that those who take advantage of this advertising announcement, and make application at once for a $50 lot, remitting by the same mail ten per cent. - $5, will be allotted a $50 lot close in.

Remember, the terms of Bow City are :—Ten per cent. cash, balance ten per cent. per month; or, one quarter cash and balance one-quarter each three months. Where all is remitted, a discount of ten per cent. will be allowed.

Plans of the Bow City townsite, price list and full particulars may be had on application to the Sub-Agents or General Agents of the Bow City Townsite.

A HIGH-SOUNDING ANALOGY.

Admiral Fisher, described as one of England's foremost naval experts, writes to the Clarion that "Japan will, to the last gasp-ole, fight the United States very much for the reason that prompted Bismark to fight France."

Geographical analogies are usually hard to handle. Germany attacked France with the almost absolute assurance of a speedy victory. Not even the wise Bismarck knew that although for the war that France would be so crippled and Germany so strengthened that Revenge would be practically out of the question. Even the underestimated the financial resources of France, but events showed that he was warranted in believing that the union of Germany, the enlargement of its territory by conquest and its remarkable industrial development would give his country an overwhelming and increasing advantage.

While all must admire the courage and recuperative power of France, and the splendid thrift shown in the development of its limited resources, it is absurd to compare such a country as to its power of resistance, with the United States. The United States are now practically upon a peace footing. An attack by Japan would turn into the raising of fleets and armies the tremendous energy now devoted to commerce and industry. Japan, owing to superior military organization, would probably gain some victories at the outset, and might even captured the Philippine Islands; but in the long run the vastly superior resources of the United States would give an overwhelming advantage. A temporary victory would be dearly bought at the cost of incurring the deadly enmity of a nation which could easily build three ships for Japan's one, and turn out all the munitions of war at a rate which would speedily bankrupt the smaller power.

THE EAGLE'S EYE.

A Screen That Protects It Against a Too Brilliant Light.

The eagle that stares proudly at the sun has now been found to be no figment of tradition.

M. de Chardonnet, in a paper communicated to the French Physical society, has shown that the eagle's eye has a special apparatus adapted to this feat, though it seems probable that he is not the only bird with this useful possession.

The apparatus is not, however, the "nictitating membrane" which all of us have perceived in looking even at the barnyard fowl. That is a mechanism designed merely to wipe the eye and to keep it clear of dust.

M. de Chardonnet's discovery was made while he was studying the transparency of the central part of the eyes of animals. He had already noticed that the eyes of night birds, such as owls, were more transparent than any other for ultra violet rays, and he had tried to push the experiments further by ascertaining whether they would be affected by ultra violet rays alone.

These experiments failed because of the absence of responsiveness on the part of the birds, which did not appear to manifest any sensation in passing from darkness to light, whether this light was visible to human eyes or not. M. de Chardonnet's failure led him to inquire whether there was any organ of which he was ignorant in the bird's eye, such as would intervene in such circumstances.

While dissecting a bird's eye he was struck to find an organ to which French naturalists have given provisionally the name of the pelgine or comb. A better idea of its function could be obtained by calling it a parasol.

This organ is formed of a very thin membrane, black-opaque and situated in the eye where the optic nerve penetrates it. The structure of this membrane is such that the retina is completely masked when the "parasol" is open. It is reasonable to suppose that the parasol is therefore a screen to protect the eye against a too brilliant light, whether the light is visible in the ordinary sense or whether it consists of ultra violet rays.

Coffee Drinking in Switzerland.

The average annual consumption of coffee in Switzerland during the last three years has been about $2,500,000. Coffee drinking is general among all classes of people. This is especially true of the working classes, who drink coffee for breakfast, again at 10 o'clock in the morning, for dinner as an afternoon refreshment, and many of them for supper, which makes the consumption very large in proportion to the population. The retail price of coffee ranges from 16 to 36 cents a pound, but the greater part of the coffee sold in the country is below the average grade, as the majority of the consumers are of the laboring class. The majority of the people do not drink tea. While chocolate is consumed in large quantities in Switzerland, it is not much used as a beverage, the most of it being used as food.

The Harvest of Polar Research.

One of the results of this tremendous accomplishment (the discovery of the north pole) is the relief to many minds in the reflection that hereafter the explorations in that region of the earth will be conducted with less strain upon human endurance and in the quieter paths of scientific research. Perhaps now, for instance, the somewhat neglected magnetic pole will receive the attention it deserves. And yet the restless and costly quest of the barren unknown is not to be counted waste of money, effort or life. The cultivation of an indomitable spirit and a herculean endurance has been not less valuable to humanity than any result of the patient inquiries of science.—Century.

Chair to Prevent Seasickness.

Hoping to lessen seasickness, Mr. F. Andruck has invented an air cushioned chair and had four of them set up on the aft promenade deck of the Blucher of the Hamburg-American line. Mr. Andruck was a passenger and gathered some testimonials from his fellow travelers who had used the chairs during the rather rough voyage. The new device resembles a tobogan's chair and, according to its inventor, neutralizes the rolling of the ship so much that seasickness becomes practically unknown. He hopes that his invention will be so successful that it will be fitted in future to sofas and beds on vessels.—New York Herald.

Birthday Greetings.

The date of one's birth is not a matter of common knowledge, but few secrets of this sort are hidden from the solicitors for the life insurance companies. One of the more enterprising has been sending out, timed to arrive on the correct date, a neat card with the following inscription: "Mr Richard Roe—On this your birthday I wish you many happy returns of the day and all joy, happiness and success for the years to come. Very sincerely yours, John Doe." One has to look closely to discover the fact that the sender is an insurance agent, and at that the good wishes are not entirely unwelcome.—New York Sun.

A Call From Oregon

Opportunitiesin the Far West

The greatest industrial activity in this country is now centered in Oregon. Two of the biggest railroad systems in the U. S., with intense rivalry, are pushing branch lines into the remote portions of this State, and an exodus from the East is on in the occupation of this the LAST FRONTIER ON THE CONTINENT. Fortunes will be made here THIS YEAR—NEXT YEAR and EVERY YEAR for the next decade.

Our valleys are the most fertile in the world and irrigation projects are converting the bordering hillsides into gardens. Orchards lands are leaping upward in price and the advance has only started. Water from mountain streams is the purest, timber the finest and climate the most perfect in Uncle Sam's domain. Power plants are springing up along the channels of silvery torrents to develop electrical energy for mines and mills and interburban railways. Fish abound in the rivers, game in the forests and health and joy in the atmosphere. There are no cyclones here or pestiferous insects to endanger life, or make it a burden.

I want Eastern connections and help, financial and otherwise, to seize opportunities that surround this picturesque city of Baker. The returns will be out of all proportion to the help extended. The opportunities are along the lines of vegetable fruit, hay, grain, stock, timber, and mineral lands. There are fortunes in all these. Some mines in this vicinity have record outputs in gold, running into the millions. Yet the surface, overlying the mineral deposits of Baker County, has hardly been scratched.

On a ledge of free gold bearing quarts two miles in length I made a test of 000 tons of ore taken at a depth of only a hundred feet and got over $2000.00 out of it. The mint returns passed through the Citizen's National Bank here.

Among other things, I need money, right now, to begin the MANUFASTURE OF GOLD out of this immense ore body. The shares of the Timber Canyon Mines Company, which OWNS this property, and of which I am secretary have an intrinsic value of at least 50 cents a share based on a conservative valuation of [illegible] the amount of stock issued.

I will deliver on order, with draft attached, up to 50,000 shares of this stock at 25 cents a share, NET. The full amount of the purchase price will go back in dividends inside of 18 months. Take a block of this as a starter, and get in step with this Eldorado of the West. If there is anything else out here that I can do for you, or you can do for me,—WRITE ME.

Yours for business, and MONEY for both of us,

SECURITY AND EARNING POWER

The bonds of the Company are secured by a deed of trust in favor of the Montreal Trust Co., which is an absolute First Mortgage upon the Hydraulic development and transmission lines upon all street railway extensions, present and future and upon all new rolling stock of the Company, and which is a mortgage on the rights, powers, franchises and existing lines, subject only to the outstanding $100,000 Sherbrooke Street Railway Bonds.

Messrs. Ross & Holgate, Consulting Engineers, of Montreal, who have examined and reported upon the position of the Company, estimate that its earnings when in full operation, should be as follows :

Street Railway—

Gross Revenue	$90,250
Operating Costs	40,250
Net Revenue	$57,000
Power Department—
Gross Revenue	$52,000
Operating Costs	13,000
Net Revenue	$39,000
Rentals	3,000
Total	$60,300
Bond Interest	35,000
Surplus	$24,300

RAILWAY EARNINGS.—As the gross earnings of the old system for 1909 amounted to $31,322, with the largely increased mileage, reaching the residential portions of the city, the above estimate should be conservative.

POWER EARNINGS.—As applications have already been received for the greater part of the available power there is every reason to believe that on the completion of the development in November the whole will be contracted for.

BUSINESS FOR TRACTION SYSTEM AND MARKET FOR POWER

The city of Sherbrooke and surrounding country offer a very attractive field for both the Traction and Power Departments of the Company.

The growth of the population of Sherbrooke has been of a very steady and permanent character. In 1871 it had a population of 4,332, which has increased to about 17,000 at the present time. It is estimated that including the town of Lennoxville, where Bishop's College is situated, that the Street Railway serves a population of 20,000.

Although the population of the city has increased over fifty per cent. in the fifteen years since it commenced operations, the present street railway system has never been extended. It is now proposed to more than double the existing mileage.

Sherbrooke is the commercial centre of the Eastern Townships, which results in it having at nearly all times of the year a fairly large transient population.

It is also an important Railway and Industrial centre. It is a divisional point of the Canadian Pacific Railway; the Canadian terminus of the Boston and Maine System, the headquarters of the Quebec Central Railway Co., and is on the main line of the Grand Trunk Railway.

Its importance as an Industrial centre, may be judged from the fact that it is the headquarters of such well-known concerns as the Jeneaux Machine Company and Rand Drill Company, which supply large part of the mining machinery used in Canada, the Paton Manufacturing Company, the largest woollen company in the Dominion, the Fairbank's Scale Company (Canadian Branch), the Webster Cigar Company the Silver Springs Breweries, the Sherbrooke Iron and Foundry Company, and the Paper Machinery Manufacturing Company.

In addition to the above, several important interests are considering at the present time locating in Sherbrooke, the conditions pertaining to labor, transportation and cheap power being favorable for the operation of industrial plants. The surrounding district, besides being rich in timber and minerals, comprises the greatest asbestos deposits in the world.

STRONG FRANCHISE POSITION

The Sherbrooke Railway and Power Co. is right from its inception a going concern.

As a Street Railway concern the new company has a 40-y ear franchise from the city of Sherbrooke which gives the exclusive right to build and operate a street railway within the limits of the city during this period, with exemption from all taxation for the first twenty years. At the end of twenty years the municipality has the right to purchase the Street Railway as a going concern.

For its power department the company has purchased certain water powers on the Magog River within the precincts of the City of Sherbrooke. These will be developed at one site, and will have sufficient capacity not only to provide for the increased requirements of the extended Street Railway, but also to leave 2,600 H. P. available for sale outside to the numerous industries in and about Sherbrooke.

These figures are based upon the minimum flow of the Magog River. Under its charter the Company has the right to sell Hydro-Electric Power not only in the City of Sherbrooke, but as well throughout the District of St. Francis. This District takes in the counties of Sherbrooke, Stanstead, Wolfe, Compton, Richmond and Megantic and comprises a total population of about 150,000 people.

Outlook for city :—

Sherbrooke, by its situation as an industrial centre, is destined to keep pace with the tremendous development that is taking place in Montreal, and in the future an increasing number of industries will find it advantageous from a point of view of labor and power to locate within its limits

As the centre of one of the richest farming districts in Eastern Canada, it will gain additional importance as a retail and distributing centre.

The Sherbrooke Railway and Power Company will share in both its departments in the growth and development of the City and its surrounding districts.

REPORT OF THE DIRECTORS.

After submitting the annual statement the general manager of the Home Bank of Canada, Colonel James Mason, read the following report from the Directors:

"The Directors have pleasure in submitting to the shareholders the fifth annual report, giving the result of the bank's business for the year ended May 31, 1910, together with the balance sheet of the Bank at that date.

"Four quarterly dividends at the rate of six per cent. per annum have been paid and provided for; $41,-34, has been added to the rest, being a sum sufficient to keep that account equal to one-third of the paid up capital, $50,000 has been placed to the credit of contingent account, and the balance $28,203.54 carried forward at the credit of profit and loss account.

"Branches were opened during the year at the following points:—Welwyn, Sask., Neepawa, Grandview and Goodlands, Man., the latter a sub-branch.

"The three hundred and thirty-five farmer shareholders in the northwest Provinces at the end of last year have increased to seven hundred and nine. Their holdings are but for a few shares in most cases, but their numbers should have a favorable influence on the Bank's business throughout that part of Canada. The total number of shareholders has increased from 989 to 1,346.

The usual examination by the Directors of the treasury and securities was made, and the branches inspected.

"The Directors regret to have to report the loss by death of one of their colleagues, the late Lieut.-Col. John I. Davidson, who died in April last. Colonel Davidson was a director of the Bank from its organization and his business knowledge and influence were of much benefit to it. The vacancy thus caused was filled by the appointment of Mr. Thomas A. Crerar, President of the Grain-growers' Grain Company of Winnipeg."

THE PRESIDENT'S ADDRESS.

Mr. Eugene O'Keefe then submitted his address as President of the Home Bank of Canada:—

"We have much pleasure in again meeting you at this, the fifth annual meeting of the shareholders of the Bank.

"The year just passed has not been a particularly eventful one. The good promise of an abundant harvest throughout the country was fairly well realized, and the prospects for a still better one were in evidence. A circular issued in June 7th by the Northwest Grain Dealers' Association, shows the estimated acreage of the three Provinces to be in excess of that of last year in wheat alone of 1,950,000 acres, and states that reports indicate an excellent condition of the growing crops, and that most favorable conditions exist for a big yield. More recent reports, however, are not so encouraging. The want of rain, and the excessive heat of the past few days have apparently done more or less injury.

"Manufacturers generally report a successful season, and look forward for a continuation of it.

"Our paid-up capital is now $1,-123,000, with an additional $100,000 subscribed for, and the list of shareholders shows the satisfactory increase in number of 457, with a total of 1,346, of whom over 700 are farmers of the northwest. Our deposits have increased about $1,-500,000, of which $1,000,000 are savings account. Our circulation also shows a satisfactory increase. We have added to the rest some $41,000, being the amount required to keep up its proportion to the paid-up capital, viz.—one-third; $50,000 has has been placed to the credit of a contingent account, and the balance $28,203.54, carried to profit and loss account, but little has been done in the way of branching out, offices having been opened only at three points, all in the northwest, with one sub-agency. The total assets of the bank have reached the sum of $9,700,000, an increase of $1,800,000 for the year.

A resolution was proposed and adopted extending the thanks of the shareholders to the president, vice-president and directors for their careful attention to the affairs of the Bank, and a resolution was also passed extending the thanks of the shareholders to the general manager and the other officers of the bank for the efficient manner in which they had discharged their duties during the past year.

ELECTION OF OFFICERS.

After the adoption of the annual report of the reception of the directors' and president's addresses, the election of the officers was held, and the scrutineers reported the following board:—

Eugene O'Keefe, E. G. Gooderham, W. Parkyn Murray, J. Kennedy, Thomas Flynn, John Perrue, Thomas A. Crerar, Colonel James Mason.

The new name on the board is that of Mr. Thomas Crerar, President of the Grain Growers' Company of Winnipeg, who takes the place of the late Lieut.-Col. John I. Davidson.

At a meeting of the Board of Directors, held immediately after the general meeting, Mr. Eugene O'Keefe was re-elected President and Mr. Thomas Flynn, Vice-President.

A falling tiny nerve—so large when the finest silken thread—takes from the heart its impulse, its power, its regularity. The diseased nine has its hidden, or inner nerve. It was Dr. Shoop who first told us it was wrong to drug a weak or failing Stomach, Heart or Kidneys. His prescription—Dr. Shoop's Restorative—is directed straight for the cause of these ailments—these weak and faltering inside nerves. This, no doubt clearly explains why the Restorative has of late grown so rapidly in popularity. Druggists say that those who test the Restorative even for a few days soon become fully convinced of its wonderful merit. Anyway, don't drug the organ. Treating the cause of ailment is the only sensible and successful way. Sold by all dealers.

Ordreon the Incredible, It is a Fact, However.

I have under control 10,000 acres of the richest bottom land in the State of Georgia. This land costs the Syndicate $12.50 per acre, with the timber on it. The timber can be sold for $7.50 per acre. I want to put 1,000 acres of this land into Cotton cultivation which will net with cotton at 10 cents a pound, $64,500 from the first crop. Cotton is now selling at 15 cents per pound. At this price the land would produce $195,000. It will take $40,000 to put this first 1,000 acres under cultivation. I want 200 people, more or less, to take one or more shares of a Syndicate at $40 per share, $10 down and $10 in three monthly payments. About 300 shares have been taken up in the last ten days.

The balance of this land—9,000 acres—can be put into cultivation from the receipts from the cotton crop grown on the first 1,000 acres, and besides doing this it will earn a dividend of not less than ten to twenty per cent. each year.

At the end of the fourth year the entire tract will be earning not less than $400,000 net annually. The 1,000 Syndicate shares will absolutely own the whole 10,000 acres.

SOLID COMMERCIAL FACTS ABOUT COTTON

Seven States in the Union produce 85 per cent. of the world's supply of cotton. The crop of 1909 brought $800,000,000 to planters.

If the United States were to stop the exportation of cotton for two seasons it would pauperize Europe.

There is no substitute for cotton, and cotton fabrics are the most essential commodities in the world's markets.

Food and clothing constitute the absolute necessities of life. There are a thousand food bearing plants that will grow anywhere, but 60 per cent. of the world's clothing is cotton that will grow ONLY IN SEVEN STATES.

The cotton land is the safest investment in the world to-day, and Georgia Bottoms is the safest of all, for it has 300 to 400 per cent. potential value.

A warehouse receipt for a bale of cotton is worth its face value in any bank in the South.

Any cotton investment is bound to be good. The Georgia Bottom Lands is the soundest and most attractive ever presented.

Why? Because this bottom land will produce THREE BALES AT THE COST OF ONE.

If the world's industrial progress is as great in the next fifteen years as it has been in the last fifteen, Cotton must either be double in VOLUME OR QUADRUPLE IN PRICE.

COTTON—FEBRUARY TO OCTOBER.

Here is just one more big significant world interest stories of the work of the twentieth century farmer who is getting results by brain power in new ways, rather than by plodding blind-luck-old-ways and old methods. You know it if you have been watching agricultural progress.

A FINAL WORD

Those who join this Syndicate WILL OWN ABSOLUTELY THE WHOLE ENTERPRISE. The balance of the land can be handled from the profits or stock enough sold to take it up. I believe sincerely from my investigation that at the end of five years every $40.00 invested by a syndicate member will yield $400.00 annually. This looks like an impossibility, but the facts more than justify the belief. The first payment on the syndicate shares will be $10.00 cash with the subscription, and the balance in three equal payments, 30, 60 and 90 days.

There will be no other syndicate and this will be closed on or before June 30.

In the above I have presented facts only—it is an enterprise of unusual merit. It is a big and sound money earner from its inception. If the Syndicate is oversubscribed, I reserve the right to allot pro rata.

Should you desire further information, address me frankly and openly. The ONLY WAY TO CREATE CONFIDENCE IS TO BE WORTHY OF IT.

DOMINION BREVITIES.

Advices received at the Grand Trunk General Offices from British Columbia announce a very promising outlook for the fruit crop in that Province this year, which, it is stated, will be phenomenal, and altogether there is a very bright outlook for the Western Provinces.

President Creelman of the Ontario College of Agriculture, who went into New Ontario with the Canadian Party, had written an official of the Grand Trunk in enthusiastic praise of the [illegible] along the G. T. R., between [illegible] and the end of the steel. He fears, however, that the burning of the timber and brush as it lies scattered over the ground, the usual method will burn through and destroy the black vegetable matter in the surface soil, which is valuable as a fertiliser. If the small timber and brush can be piled and burned, the fires some distance apart, the rich surface soil would thus be conserved. This is a point worth mentioning to intending settlers. Professor Creelman suggests a crop of potatoes planted between stumps before breaking up the land, thus giving the settler some revenue the first year.

At least Ontario is waking to a realization of the fact that their beautiful Algonquin Park is threatened with destruction. Right at the railway station and all about the "Highland Inn" at Cache Lake lumbermen are cutting the hardwood, which will leave the Park a bleak and barren wilderness. And just at the dawn of the day of Conservation.

Mr. A. E. McMaster, Agent of the Grand Trunk Pacific at Prince Rupert, reports the election of the first Mayor of Prince Rupert. Mr. F. Stuart, and the following council men: F. Mobley, A. A. McIntyre, T. D. Patulo, W. P. Lynch, A. R. Harrow, V. W. Smith, J. H. Hilditch, G. R. Maden.

Manifestly the people who plant for the cooling breezes of the Highlands of Ontario expect summer to come along as usual this year, if we may judge by the bookings at the various hotels and outing places reached by the Grand Trunk Railway System.

The Dominion of Canada will undertake to administer the great Territory lying along the western slopes of the Rockies, from the boundary to Yellowhead Pass and beyond. This vast territory is to be reserved from settlement or occupation, and it is to be administered with a view to the proper utilization and reproduction of the forests, the protection of the water supply of the Prairie Provinces—in short, for the benefit of prosperity.

VOL. XXXI NO. 151 PETERBOROUGH, ONTARIO MONDAY JULY 4 1910 PRICE TWO CENTS

Wipe Out Whole Family Youths Confess Crime

Paris, July 2.—A crime of singular horror, and from a criminological standpoint almost unprecedented, came before the Auxerre Assizes the other day.

In the dock were two lads—one a scowling, black-haired youth of seventeen, the other a mere slip of a boy aged fifteen. The prisoners, Jacquiard and Vienny, are Swiss peasants, charged, on their own confession with the murder at Jully on December 10 last year of the whole staff, with the exception of one person, on the lonely farm where they were employed.

Armed with three revolvers and a hatchet, they killed in succession their employer, M. Verriere, and his wife, an old farm-hand and a younger man and a servant named Marie Goguet. They left for dead Imbert, a lad of sixteen, who had the presence of mind to be pretend to be dead. He later went to a neighboring farm and gave the alarm. The murderers were captured after they had been roaming about the country for several days.

The court was densely crowded. Among the witnesses was young Imbert, proudly wearing the medal given him by the minister of justice for his bravery, and the only survivor of the ill-fated Verriere family, little Oliver Verriere, who escaped through Jacquiard's revolver missing fire, and his small sister Andree.

The two lads answered the judges' questions in guttral tones, Jacquiard stated that his object in committing the murder—to which he instigated the younger lad—was to steal the farmer's money and to go to Africa. "Where in Africa?" the judge asked. "To the Congo," was the reply, "to explore unknown lands and write my memoirs."

T.A.S. PICNIC.

Annual Picnic Broke All Previous Records.

Dominion Day was enjoyed to the greatest extent, at T.A.S. park by several thousand people from this city. Every boat, which landed at the park brought several hundred people, besides the tremendous crowds which were conveyed to the park in canoes and launches. The annual excursion of this society is considered the largest outing of the season, and no doubt this statement was upheld yesterday. It may be said that the outing is three in one, because you have a picnic with the usual accompanying amusements, a field day of sports, where some of the best athletes take part, and a regatta which is made up of the finest launch and canoe races, all in one excursion.

The excursion is run with such systematic hands that nothing is left undone, and it proved to be a huge success, this year being better than the previous one. For a very small sum this delightful day, made up of a pleasant trip down the Otonabee and a world of amusement, was enjoyed, and many availed themselves of the opportunity and took in the day of ideal weather. Once landed on T. A. S. park you behold a small village of booths, tents and dinner tables. The different buildings were very prettily decorated with flags and the dinner table which was under the auspices of the Ladies' Sodality of St. Peter's Cathedral and the Sacred Heart church, easily suffered the hungry appetites of the excursionists.

Great enthusiasm was displayed yesterday in the different races. The first race of interest was the one hundred yards, for which there were four entries, V. Corkery, H. Wood, J. Corkery, C. Fyes. It was easily won by V. Corkery by a distance of five yards. In this race H. Wood objected to the results as he claims he was struck as soon as they started. The next race was a hundred yards for T.A.S. members only, but owing to the objection raised by H. Wood it was changed to an open hundred yards. In this race, which was a great deal closer, Corkery defeated Wood by at least eighteen inches.

The aquatic sports aroused great interest and Mr. Goulet's "Bifroy" won by a great distance, leaving the "Talbot" for second place.

There is more catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.

HOLIDAY MAKERS.

How the People of Peterborough Spent Dominion Day.

The holiday traffic Friday was the heaviest in some time and Peterborough was somewhat depopulated The trains into Peterborough on Thursday night carried large crowds, many coming home to spend the holiday with their parents, most of whom either went down the river or up the lakes with friends yesterday. The midnight C.P.R. on Thursday was several hours late, as was the local. Former did not arrive here until after three o'clock. The G.T.R. station was thronged with excursionists yesterday morning and every train that went out from the station was crowded. The day, while not exceedingly bright, was pleasant and not too warm. Stoney Lake was besieged with Peterborough people, the three steamers of the Stony Lake Navigation Company, carrying its full quota of passengers. Fully eight hundred people took the trip around the lakes, the steamer Empress taking the regular trip and the Steamers Stony Lake and Islands carried excursionists, while nearly all the cottages were occupied.

The Otonabee and Rice Lake resorts also had a large number of holiday makers. Over three thousand people took in the T.A.S. pic-nic at T.A.S. Point, and the Steamers Otonabee and Lintonia carried between seven and eight hundred excursionists on the annual outing of the George St. Sunday School. In addition several private parties went down the river in launchest, skiffs and canoes. Many Peterborough citizens took in the celebrations at Havelock and Lakefield.

The street cars carried hundreds of people to the river front for river points and for Jackson Park. The Radial Railway Company stated this morning that they carried seven thousand passengers. The Prudential Insurance Co., managers and agents of the Peterborough district, with their wives, friends and families, spent the holiday at Chemong Park.

MONTENEGRO'S SOVEREIGN HAS AMBITIOUS PROJECT BUT CONTINENT IS NOT DISTURBED.

Eccentric Ruler's Dream—No Objections Will be Raised by the Powers to the Barefooted Prince.

Vienna, July 2.—Europe is to have a new kingdom, Prince Nicholas of Montenegro, the father of the Queen of Italy, today served notice on the powers that on August 13th he would declare his principality a kingdom.

No objection will be raised by the powers who are always inclined to take a tolerant view of the acts of Nicholas, the most eccentric of rulers.

HE WRITES A PLAY.

Last week Nicholas gave to Montenegro its first theater, opening a play house in his capital, Cettinje, under Royal auspices with the play, "The Czarina of the Balkans," written by himself.

Nicholas holds court sitting on a stone wall which he has built across the grounds of his castle. He generally sits in his bare feet. His journeys about his principality are usually made astride of a donkey.

Fine New Local Yacht.

A handsome gasoline yacht, beautifully fitted with brass railings, etc. and hardwood cabin, arrived in the city, per C.P.R. car No. 31503 on Saturday night. The Peterborough Fuel & Cartage Co., at once had a gang of men at work and took this beautiful addition to Peterborough's pleasure fleet to the street car wharf and launched her. The yacht is painted white and is probably 18 tons. The boat is the property of Mr. E. Mr. McIntyre, of Dayton, O., who has a summer residence on one of the islands on Rice Lake.

Melba Again Star Her Return to Opera Stage Pleases Critics

Mme. Melba's reappearance at Covent Garden, London, was a remarkable triumph. All the critics are unanimous in their tributes to her supremacy in song as shown by the following excerpts from the London papers.

The Leader says; "She looked extremely well, and her voice has lost none of its magic charm. The croakers who have been busily warning that Mme. Melba was no longer the Melba of old, and that her hold over the public was gone, must have been rather sorry that they had spoken too soon. In both respects Mme. Melba still stands where she did, and there seems to be no reason why she should not continue to do so for many seasons."

The Standard says: "Of all the eulogistic terms applied in the past to Mme. Melba's voice, magic would seem to be the only one that most truthfully describes it. Pride, astonishment and delight found expression in a scene of singular enthusiasm at the end of the first act, and as the evening advanced excitement grew. Time after time Mme. Melba was summoned before the curtain and gives a welcome the spontaneous heartiness of which was beyond question. Hurricanes of applause marked the final fall of the curtain. It fact, it was a typical Melba night."

Date of Coronation to be Announced Soon

London, July 3.—It is expected Mr. Asquith will make an announcement in parliament before the prorogation as to the date intended for the coronation of their majesties next summer.

The arrangements of men and women in every part of the world will be affected by this event for months beforehand, and it is imperative that the earliest intimation should be made on authority.

The customs returns for this month show an increase over the month in 1909 as follows:

Walter Stevenson for Toronto.

The many friends of Mr. Walter Stevenson, Dalhousie street, whilst regretting his departure from the city, will be pleased to learn that he has been offered, and has accepted a position as the Bank of Nova Scotia staff in Toronto. Mr. Stevenson left yesterday afternoon for that city so as to report for duty this morning.

Improvements to the Princess.

One of the means of enjoyment patronized very generally on the holiday was the Johnston-Ketchell fight at the Princess Theater. The new proprietor, Mr. M. Pappas, with considerable enterprise, acquired this celebrated film which showed all details of the great fistic encounter very clearly. An admission fee of 25 cents was charged, and notwithstanding this the gate receipts amounted to considerably over $100. This week, Mr. Pappas, we understand, intends to close the Princess when he will inaugurate many extensive improvements.

THE WEATHER.

Fine and warm.

Toronto Vocalist Sang Here.

On Saturday afternoon and evening an old popular local favorite, Mr. Heveridge Miller of Toronto, sang at the Crystal Theater. Mr. Miller's grand baritone voice, which is characterized by power, volume, sympathy and artistic training gave great satisfaction to those present. Mr. Miller, whom it will be remembered, sang for three months at the Royal on its opening has retired from public theater singing only appearing here Saturday at the request of a number of Peterborough friends.

A Triangular Scrap.

About two hundred people gathered about 9.30 Saturday evening on Charlotte street, near Parker's Dye Works. The cause was a scrap between two young Easthouses who had not evidently learned the potency of Canadian spirituous liquor, or who had not accurately guaged their capacity for imbibing the same with impunity. The two stood for some time, figuratively daring each other to knock a chip from his shoulder, a third young man, who had apparently not imbibed too wisely but too well got tired of the length of time it took the first two to get down to business, offered to fight both of them if they would take him on one at a time. The quickly gathered crowd attracted P. C. McHarry, who escorted the one starting the trouble to the police station.

Nothing in the way of a Cough is quite so annoying as a tickling, teasing, wheezing, broncnial cough. The quickest relief comes perhaps from a prescription known to Druggists everywhere as Dr. Shoop's Cough Remedy. And besides, it is so thoroughly harmless that mothers give it with perfect safety even to the youngest babes. The tender leaves of a simple mountain shrub, give to Dr. Shoop's Cough Remedy its remarkable curative effect. It is truly a most certain and trustworthy prescription. Sold by all dealers.

The Fourth of July and the Death Roll

Today our American cousins will celebrate the "Glorious Fourth." In six years the United States has suffered in killed and wounded by Fourth of July celebrating 29,236.

At the Battle of Gettsburg, the bloodiest battle of the American Civil War, the loss of federal troops in killed, wounded and missing was 25,186, and of confederate troops, 31,621.

More awful even than war is the carnage of a Fourth of July peace celebration. Look at the toll of death and injury from last year's celebration:

Cases of tetanus	160
Deaths from other forms of powder infection	90
Loss of both eyes	10
Loss of one eye	86
Loss of leg, arm or hand	4
Loss of one or more fingers	176
Total number of non-fatal injuries	566
Of lockjaw cases caused by Fourth of July, the following are the prime factors:	per cent. of cases.

Canada Second in The Empire Match

A SAD DEATH.

Mr. James Matchett, a well known Resident of Otonabee Passes Away.

On Saturday evening another terribly sudden and sad death occurred when Mr. James Matchett, one of the most generally respected residents of this county passed away. It seems that Mr. Matchett went to the C.P.R. ticket office on George street about five o'clock on Saturday evening to purchase transatlantic tickets for himself and Mrs. Matchett who intended leaving for a trip to Ireland, the land of Mr. Matchett's birth. Whilst in the ticket office Mr. Matchett was suddenly taken ill with apoplexy, losing consciousness. Dr. Halliday was summoned and arrived at the office within in a very few minutes. The physician at once realized that the stricken man was beyond hope for recovery. He was taken to the residence of a family friend, Mrs. Campbell, 384 Water street. Shortly after being brought there, notwithstanding that everything known to medical skill or friendly aid was done, Mr. Matchett passed away within an hour's time.

The late Mr. Matchett, who was born 65 years ago in Ireland, has lived the greater part of his life in the township of Otonabee, where he was held in the highest respect and esteem by all who knew him. In fact, by his kindly nature and upright life Mr. Matchett was beloved by all who knew him in county and city. The deceased was a Liberal in politics and a member of the Methodist church. Besides his widow, he leaves to mourn his loss, one brother John of Otonabee, and a sister, Mrs. John Devell also of Otonabee. Mrs. Matchett and the other relatives will have the heartfelt sympathy of the community in their affliction.

The funeral will be held this afternoon at 2.30 o'clock from the late residence of the deceased in Otonabee.

A GOOD INVESTMENT.

McCuaig Bros. & Co., Offer 6 Per Cent. Gold Bonds With Perfect Security.

In this city are hundreds of citizens seeking investment for their surplus funds. In another column of this issue appears an advertisement of Messrs. McCuaig Bros. & Co., of Montreal, who offer $600,000, 5 per cent. Consolidated First Mortgage Sinking Fund Gold Bonds, carrying 40 per cent. stock bonus of the Sherbrooke Railway and Power Co. This concern is incorporated under the laws of the Province of Quebec. As an absolute guarantee of the reliability of this proposition it might be noted that the trustees are the Montreal Trust Company, and the bankers the Eastern Townships Bank.

The company is issuing 5 per cent. thirty-year Gold Bonds, dated July 1st, 1910, payable July 1st, 1940. The interest is payable semi-annually. The field of operation of the company issuing the bonds has its headquarters in the city of Sherbrooke. This city gives the company a franchise for forty years, with the exclusive right to build and operate a street railway within the city during that period. The company has purchased water powers on the Magog river. This water power will be developed, and will give some 3000 h.p. over and above the needs of the street railway. The terms arranged for subscription to the above bonds are very reasonable, viz., 10 per cent. on application, 15 per cent. on allotment, 20 per cent. Aug. 1st., 25 per cent. Sept. 1st, and 25 per cent. Oct. 1st. For full particulars or bond issue address McCuaig Bros & Co., 157 St. James street, Montreal.

THE C. G. E. ADD ANOTHER WIN TO LIST.

The unbeaten C.G.E. added another victory to their credit and another cup to their collection Friday when they journed to Warkworth and defeated the homesters in an interesting game by 2 goals to nil. The electricians had not their strongest lineup on but in spite of that fact they had little difficulty in defeating Warkworth, the C.G.E. goaler having but three shots to handle during the match. There was a god crowd present and the C.G.E. players report most hospitable treatment and a very enjoyable holiday. The cup which was donated by the Warkworth people for the game is a very handsome silver trophy which the Electricians will prize highly.

The teams lined up as follows:

C.G.E.—Goal, Watson, Backs, Crib and Forrett. Halves, Sparrow, Pagett, Flett.

Forwards, Miller, French, Fielder, Baird, Williams.

Warkworth—Gilray, goal, backs, Hill, Doherty. Halves, Masters, Wiggins, Spinks. Forwards, Phillips, Williamson, Robson, Curtis Jones.

There will be a general meeting of the C.G.E. club on Monday night at 8 o'clock in the Y.M.C.A.

"FEELS LIKE A NEW WOMAN."
Years of Ill Health Cured.
..."Like many another woman," writes Mrs. J. H. Hilliard of Ashland, N.Y., "continued weakness caused by poor stomach and constipation led me to believe I would always be sick. It was Mrs. Ryan, my neighbor, who advised me to use Dr. Hamilton's Pills and it was the means of teaching me 'It is never too late to mend.' I am rather a small woman, always pale, except when my skin becomes a muddy yellow. I never had much of an appetite because my digestion was never very good and still worse my system was seldom regular. Mrs. Ryan had become healthy and well with Dr. Hamilton's Pills and kept telling me that they would fix my system so it would work well too. Certainly Dr. Hamilton's Pills must have made right all that was wrong, because I weigh ten pounds more than ever before and feel fine. If you could see my rosy color and watch how quickly I do my housework. I am sure you would think just as much of Dr. Hamilton's Pills as I do. They are a real fine medicine for women and like as not would do a man just as much good too."
There's no remedy for general use in the home to make you well when sick, to keep you from getting sick—no medicine with half the merit of Dr. Hamilton's Pills—see you get us, all dealers or The Catarrhozone Co., Kingston, Ont.

REPORT OF THE DIRECTORS.

After submitting the annual statement the general manager of the Home Bank of Canada, Colonel James Mason, read the following report from the Directors:

"The Directors have pleasure in submitting to the shareholders the fifth annual report, giving the result of the bank's business for the year ended May 31, 1910, together with the balance sheet of the Bank at that date.

"Four quarterly dividends at the rate of six per cent. per annum have been paid and provided for; $41,247 has been added to the rest, being a sum sufficient to keep that account equal to one-third of the paid up capital, $99,000 has been placed to the credit of contingent account, and the balance $39,293.54 carried forward at the credit of profit and loss account.

"Branches were opened during the year at the following points:—Weiwyn, Sask., Neepawa, Grandview and Goodlands, Man., the latter a sub-branch.

"The three hundred and thirty-five farmer shareholders in the northwest Provinces at the end of last year have increased to seven hundred and nine. Their holdings are but for a few shares in most cases, but their numbers should have a favorable influence on the Bank's business throughout that part of Canada. The total number of shareholders has increased from 991 to 1,346.

The usual examination by the Directors of the treasury and securities was made, and the branches inspected.

"The Directors regret to have to report the loss by death of one of their colleagues, the late Lieut.-Col. John I. Davidson, who died in April last. Colonel Davidson was a director of the Bank from its organization and his business knowledge and influence were of much benefit to it. The vacancy thus caused was filled by the appointment of Mr. Thomas A. Crerar, President of the Grain-growers' Grain Company of Winnipeg."

THE PRESIDENT'S ADDRESS.

Mr. Eugene O'Keefe then submitted his address as President of the Home Bank of Canada:—

"We have much pleasure in again meeting you at this, the fifth annual meeting of the shareholders of the Bank.

"The year just passed has not been a particularly eventful one. The days have apparently done more or less injury.

"Manufacturers generally report a successful season, and look forward for a continuation of it.

"Our paid-up capital is now $1,128,000, with an additional $100,000 subscribed for, and the list of shareholders shows the satisfactory increase in number of 497, with a total of 1,346, of whom over 700 are farmers of the northwest. Our deposits have increased about $1,500,000, of which $1,000,000 are savings account. Our circulation also shows a satisfactory increase. We have added to the rest some $41,000, being the amount required to keep up its proportion to the paid-up capital, viz.—one-third; $50,000 has been placed to the credit of a contingent account, and the balance $39,293.54, carried to profit and loss account, but little has been done in the way of branching out, offices having been opened only at three points, all in the northwest, with one sub-agency. The total assets of the bank have reached the sum of $9,700,000, an increase of $1,000,000 for the year.

A resolution was proposed and adopted extending the thanks of the shareholders to the president, vice-president and directors for their careful attention to the affairs of the Bank, and a resolution was also passed extending the thanks of the shareholders to the general manager and the other officers of the bank for the efficient manner in which they had discharged their duties during the past year.

ELECTION OF OFFICERS.

After the adoption of the annual report of the reception of the directors' and president's addresses, the election of the officers was held, and the scrutineers reported the following board:—

Eugene O'Keefe, E. G. Gooderham, W. Parkyn Murray, J. Kennedy, Thomas Flynn, John Pearson, Thomas A. Crerar, Colonel James Mason.

The new name on the board is that of Mr. Thomas Crerar, President of the Grain Growers' Company of Winnipeg, who takes the place of the late Lieut.-Col. John I. Davidson.

At a meeting of the Board of Directors, held immediately after the general meeting, Mr. Eugene O'Keefe was re-elected President and Mr. Thomas Flynn, Vice-President.

Mr. and Mrs. D. S. Harvie of Port Colborne, are visiting Mrs. Allen, Monaghan street.

THE NEW GOLDEN BUCKET

A few years ago, the recovery of Gold from auriferous grounds and subaqueous beds, was considered impossible. The "pan" and "grizzly", operated by hand, appeared to be the sole method of recovering values. It was during this period that Dr. Linderman, Director of the United States Mint expressed the opinion that he who, could devise a machine, without adding proportionately to the cost of production, capable of saving 50 per cent. of all the placer gold, would not only enrich himself, but within the lives of men still living, would double the world's available gold bullion. The Director of the United States Mint further said.—"WE CAN HARDLY HOPE FOR THIS, THOUGH NO MAN DARE SAY IT IS IMPOSSIBLE."

The perfected modern Dredge, is to-day a substantial reality. Allowing for delays in shifting, for necessary repairs, etc., the Gold Dredge runs on an average about 16 hours out of twenty-four, thus making up in length of working day, loss of operation during winter months. These Dredges are operated in ready made mining areas, recovering millions of dollars annually, at the lowest possible cost.

The Director of the Mint of the United States in his report for 1909 says:

"The Gold Dredge makes money where a coolie would starve."

Outing Magazine: "When you think that bold inventive talent, has been able to devise machinery that makes it profitable to extract ten cents worth of gold from a ton of earth, the enterprise becomes one of the romances of American industry."

"A chain of powerful buckets bite into the earth, each bringing up a tremendous quantity of earth and gravel. These are subjected to screen treatment and the gold recovered."

California in 45 years, within radius of less than ten miles of placer ground, produced $200,000,000 in gold. To-day the vast number of Modern Dredges working over old ground are recovering millions annually.

"SCIENCE" ON NATIONAL AND RACE SUICIDE.

Once more a decrease in the French birth rate is recorded, and Dr. Bertillon, the statistician, psychologist and criminologist, is sounding his recurrent warning refrain. This time he predicts something worse than defeat for France in a war with Germany; depopulation and national suicide, he foresees, will leave beautiful France a wilderness, which the adventurist Teuton will simply annex without a shot. And as the Germans add 1,000,000 a year to their population it is clear that they will need plenty of space and resources, and of course France is preferable to Brazil or Africa.

We are not sure that the complacent French intellectuals, the thrifty bourgeois and peasantry will be stirred even by the picture of their country as a desert open to Teutonic occupation. They will insist on thinking that a stationary population with a high degree of comfort, prosperity and culture is preferable to an increasing population with growing poverty, emigration, unemployment and discontent. They argue that even in war mass is only one factor, and a factor of declining importance Money, skill, education count more and more, and so do alliances, understandings, the good will of other nations. The French make heavy sacrifices for defense, but they do not admit that they must live, move and have their being in an atmosphere of war talk and war worry, instead of in an atmosphere of peace, industry, art, individual happiness. As for a depopulated France, they haven't the imagination of a Bertillon and will never "visualize" it. It will, at the worst, take a good many centuries to "depopulate" France.

Bertillon's solemn warning reminds one of the equally earnest prediction of a Boston savant that in exactly 265 years the United States will be nothing but a chain of lunatic asylums. Strenuosity, alcoholism, flats, congestion and lots of other evils, it seems, are driving us mad, and our days are literally numbered. But the alarmed doctor forgets a number of ifs and buts. He forgets that life is change, that things never go on "at this" or that rate, and that evils have a way of reforming themselves. He forgets the forces that make for sanity, health, vigor, progress.

If we can't be induced to mend in this or that particular by appeals to our present interest, our common sense, our conscience, savants may depend on it that pictures of "ultimate" desolation, extinction and death will utterly fail to strike terror.

ENGLAND AND HEAT.

England's Unpreparedness for the Sweltering Heat.

There are still King Canutes in England. Nowadays, however, they defy not sea-waves but heat-waves. When London swelters in hot weather, its inhabitants look the heat indignantly in the eye and bid it begone. They do not yield to it one inch. If the heat insists upon staying, it does so without their consent, and they decline to recognize its presence by a change of food and clothing. Such, at any rate, is the conclusion which might be drawn from the remarks of an editorial writer of the London Mail, who proceeds to demonstrate England's unpreparedness for hot weather as follows:

"Were I to rake out a delightfully cool suit of pongee from my trunks, and to walk down the Strand with it as I should do in similar heat in Shanghai or Colombo, I would be followed by a group of gaping, laughing youngsters. Even on the hottest day the city man is expected to wear his dark-colored clothes and his silk "topper." Our food is not prepared with a view to heat. The middle-class household that has a refrigerator is decidedly the exception, and iced drinks are so rare outside of restaurants as to be practically unknown. Ice cream, which the American girl for example, eats by the pint and dreams of by the gallon, is here served up at an exorbitant price in minute portions. Stay-at-home folk have yet to learn that to endure great heat comfortably one must leave off spirits, eat plenty of fruit, cut down one's meat, and go moderately on all food.

That is the case in a nutshell, "leave off spirits, eat plenty of fruit, eat down one's meat, and go moderately on all food." And the wee folk should be dressed as lightly as the grown ups, and fed as lightly in proportion. Dr. MacKarsky's recent report on infant mortality emphasizes the danger of clothing the little tots too heavily. There is, on the other hand a danger in the iced drink which an exchange so ardently commends. Moderately cold water is quite as satisfying and more healthful.

DOCTORS CONDEMN OILY LINIMENTS.

The Public are Warned to Be Careful of These Strong-Smelling Oily Liniments, Containing Harmful Acids, Ammonia, Etc.

Many people have clung to the old-fashioned idea that a thick, greasy liniment is the best kind. Doctors say not—and they know.

Recently a number of these white, oily liniments were analyzed, and they were found to contain an enormously high percentage of harmful acids, and such irritating chemicals as ammonia, etc. For the moment they may cause a warm sensation when first applied, but their continued use may cause rheumatism, and only deteriorates the skin, sets up inflammation and causes endless trouble.

When a doctor warns you to quit using a white, oily liniment—do so. He knows that a thick liniment can not penetrate, cannot sink through the pores and reach the seat of the pain.

When asked his opinion a few days ago, Dr. Roberts stated that he considered a strong, penetrating, pain-subduing liniment, such as Nerviline, to be superior to any of the white ammonia liniments. In his twenty-five years of practice he had witnessed cases of rheumatism, sciatica and lumbago that simply would not respond to ordinary treatment—but Nerviline cured them. The same physician also spoke of the great advantages of keeping a preparation like Nerviline in the house always, because of cramps, diarrhoea, stomach disorders, earache, toothache, headache and such minor ailments. Nerviline is a first-class cure. There is scarcely an ache or a pain, internal or external, that Nerviline won't cure. In thousands of homes no other pain-relieving medicine is used. Fifty years' continued success and the endorsements of the profession are proof that Nerviline is the liniment for the home.

Any good druggist or dealer can supply the large 50c. bottles of Nerviline.

SECURITY AND EARNING POWER

The bonds of the Company are secured by a deed of trust in favor of the Montreal Trust Co., which is an absolute First Mortgage upon the Hydraulic development and transmission lines upon all street railway extensions, present and future and upon all new rolling stock of the Company, and which is a mortgage on the rights, powers, franchises and existing lines, subject only to the outstanding $100,000 Sherbrooke Street Railway Bonds.

Messrs. Ross & Holgate, Consulting Engineers, of Montreal, who have examined and reported upon the position of the Company, estimate that its earnings when in full operation, should be as follows:

Street Railway—

Gross Revenue		$68,250
Operating Costs		40,250
Net Revenue		$27,000
Power Department—
Gross Revenue		$52,000
Operating Costs		13,000
Net Revenue		$39,000
Rentals		3,000
Total		42,000
Bond Interest		30,000
Surplus		34,000

RAILWAY EARNINGS.—As the gross earnings of the old system for 1909 amounted to $31,222, with the largely increased mileage, reaching the residential portions of the city, the above estimate should be conservative.

POWER EARNINGS.—As applications have already been received for the greater part of the available power there is every reason to believe that on the completion of the development in November the whole will be contracted for.

BUSINESS FOR TRACTION SYSTEM AND MARKET FOR POWER

The city of Sherbrooke and surrounding country offer a very attractive field for both the Traction and Power Departments of the Company.

The growth of the population of Sherbrooke has been of a very steady and permanent character. In 1871 it had a population of 4,332, which has increased to about 17,000 at the present time. It is estimated that including the town of Lennoxville, where Bishop's College is situated, that the Street Railway serves a population of 20,000.

Although the population of the city has increased over fifty per cent. in the fifteen years since it commenced operations, the present street railway system has never been extended. It is now proposed to more than double the existing mileage.

Sherbrooke is the commercial centre of the Eastern Townships, which results in it having at nearly all times of the year a fairly large transient population.

It is also an important Railway and Industrial centre. It is a divisional point of the Canadian Pacific Railway; the Canadian terminus of the Boston and Maine System, the headquarters of the Quebec Central Railway Co., and is on the main line of the Grand Trunk Railway.

Its importance as an Industrial centre may be judged from the fact that it is the headquarters of such well-known concerns as the Jeanne Mendoza Company and Rand Drill Company, which supply large part of the mining machinery used in Canada, the Paton Manufacturing Company, the largest woollen company in the Dominion, the Fairbank's Scale Company (Canadian Branch), the Webster Cigar Company the Silver Springs Breweries, the Sherbrooke Iron and Foundry Company, and the Paper Machinery Manufacturing Company.

In addition to the above, several important interests are considering at the present time locating in Sherbrooke, the conditions pertaining to labor, transportation and cheap power being favorable for the operation of industrial plants. The surrounding district, besides being rich in timber and minerals, comprises the greatest asbestos deposits in the world.

STRONG FRANCHISE POSITION

The Sherbrooke Railway and Power Co. is right from its inception a going concern.

As a Street Railway concern the new company has a 40-year franchise from the city of Sherbrooke which gives the exclusive right to build and operate a street railway within the limits of the city during this period, with exemption from all taxation for the first twenty years. At the end of twenty years the municipality has the right to purchase the Street Railway as a going concern.

For its power department the company has purchased certain water powers on the Magog River within the precincts of the City of Sherbrooke. These will be developed at one site, and will have sufficient capacity not only to provide for the increased requirements of the extended Street Railway, but also to leave 2,000 H. P. available for sale outside to the numerous industries in and about Sherbrooke.

These figures are based upon the minimum flow of the Magog River. Under its charter the Company has the right to sell Hydro-Electric Power not only in the City of Sherbrooke, but as well throughout the District of St. Francis. This District takes in the counties of Sherbrooke, Stanstead, Wolfe, Compton, Richmond and Megantic and comprises a total population of about 150,000 people.

Outlook for city:—

Sherbrooke, by its situation as an industrial centre, is destined to keep pace with the tremendous development that is taking place in Montreal, and in the future an increasing number of industries will find it advantageous from a point of view of labor and power to locate within its limits.

As the centre of one of the richest farming districts in Eastern Canada, it will gain additional importance as a retail and distributing centre.

The Sherbrooke Railway and Power Company will share in both its departments in the growth and development of the City and its surrounding districts.

NEWS OF THE CITY

A Drunk Got Off Easy.

At the yesterday morning's session of the police court, one man let his relatives down easy. That is, the fact that he appeared there, let them down light. It seems that the prisoner had purchased a lager beer bottle full of alcohol and proceeded to get outside the contents of that bottle. The fine was $5. The awarder however, is, that his relatives did not have to call on a local undertaker, have due measurements made and then negotiate for a plot in the cemetery. A $5 fine was easy.

Prisoner's Trial Postponed.

James Edwards of Havelock, arrested last week and brought here on a charge of stealing a boat, was to have been given his trial yesterday, but as the prisoner, High County Constable Cochrane and his worship County Magistrate Edmison were making for the 11.26 C.P.R. train yesterday morning, word was received that the complainant would not be able to attend, and also that several of the witnesses had not been summoned. Edwards is the man who was implicated in the theft of a colt and whose case was enlarged. The prisoner was brought to the city to await trial.

Mr. Fred Miller's Gallant Action.

Whilst a number of boys and young men were swimming in the Little Lake, near Barnham's Point on Sunday afternoon, a young lad, recently arrived from England, with the proverbial ambition of his race, swam out to the Dickson Company's boom, where he was seized with cramps. Fortunately for the boy, Fred Miller, who was sitting on the bank, recognized that the lad was in serious difficulty. Mr. Miller, at once, discarded part of his raiment and plunged into the lake. By quick and scientific work, Mr. Miller managed to reach the boy before he finally sank and brought him to land. Here is a case worthy of attention by the Royal Humane Society, who present medals for the saving of life.

Clear the Streets of "Hooligans."

(To the Editor of The Times.)

Sir,—The public, through The Times, have complained again and again of crowds of hoodlums at the street corners, ogling or insulting women, expectorating on the sidewalk, blocking the free movement of the people. Any citizen can see that when there is a policeman at any important corner he does not interfere with the rowdies. He watches them expectorating. He hears their insulting language. Very frequently, indeed, he is seen in the midst of such groups, in the center of the sidewalks, fraternizing with them, instead of showing the power of the law over them. There are larger reforms, no doubt, which will engage the attention of the new chief, but if he will, at once, order his men to look after the "Hooligans," and have the streets better lighted he will be performing what is an elementary duty, but one which has been much neglected.

PROGRESS.

Former Peterborough Boy Returns.

An old Peterborough Collegiate Institute student, who lived for many years in this city, but, who a quarter of century ago left to make good in Chicago, is revisiting the scenes of his boyhood. The former citizen is Mr. Chas. Orde, now of the Windy City, who is visiting his mother, Mrs. Bertram Orde, of Toronto. The latter is a guest of Mrs. Archer, Rubidge street. The many old friends of Mr. Orde, will be reminded with pleasure that he has certainly accomplished the purpose for which he left Peterborough and went to Chicago: He has "made good." For some years Mr. Orde was the buyer, in Chicago of the largest book house in the world and is now in business for himself. Mr. Orde and family will go to Rice Lake today, and he will return to Chicago via Cobourg.

City Fathers Met in Regular Session

A COMMITTEE APPOINTED TO LOOK INTO THE QUESTION OF ADDITIONAL PARK ACCOMMODATION.

The Council Appointed Mr. F. Bartlett, Foreman of the Sewer Construction to Be Done by Day Labor.

The City Council met in regular monthly session last night. There were present Mayor Morrow, and Aldermen Hicks, Duncan, Morgan, Buller, Bradburn, Turner, Metheral, Graham, Batten, Phelan and Duffus.

The minutes of the last meeting were confirmed.

COMMUNICATIONS.

An invitation was received from Marathon Lodge, K. of P., for the mayor and council to meet the delegates to the Grand Lodge at 10 a.m., on July 12th.—Referred to the Legal Committee.

From W. J. Green, asking for an increase of salary for 1910—Finance Committee.

FINANCE REPORT.

Ald. Bradburn presented the following:

Gentlemen,—Your Finance Committee beg leave to report and recommend as follows:

1. That a matter of the claim of the city against the Peterborough Rolling Company for a balance on account of the expense of voting on a bylaw be referred to the city solicitor with power to act.
2. That D. C. King be granted a kennel dog license for $10.
3. That a cheque left with the city by Purity Ware, Limited, in connection with a bylaw to aid that company be deposited in the bank to the credit of the city.
4. That a number of accounts be paid.

BOARD OF WORKS.

Ald. Hicks submitted the report of the Board of Works. This energetic committee's work during the past month has already been published from time to time, as the board met.

Ald. Buller asked that the extensions of George and Aylmer streets be gravelled and made sufficiently solid to reduce the superabundance of dust in these neighborhoods.

This matter will be attended to as thoroughly as the board's appropriation will permit.

GRAFTON & CO'S SIGN.

In regard to the Grafton & Co.'s illuminated sign, Ald. Hicks said that under the bylaw the Board could not possibly permit the erection of this sign, which would extend over the sidewalk ten feet.

Ald. Turner remarked that the sign in question was a very costly and handsome one, and would be a credit to the city. He would like to see Grafton & Co., given permission to erect same, which had been in use in Hamilton.

Subsequent discussion revealed the fact that the fees for illuminated signs, provided for by bylaw, are not being collected.

The clause in the Board of Works' report, refusing permission for the erection of Grafton & Co.'s sign was referred back to the committee for further consideration, otherwise the report was adopted.

F. BARTLETT FOREMAN.

The appointment of a foreman over the sewer construction to be done by day labor proved a bone of contention. The Board of Work's report recommended that such appointment be made by City Engineer Hay, with the approval of Chairman Hicks, and Ald. Hicks made himself quite clear that he did not approve of the engineer's proposed appointment of Mr. Neary as foreman. He had nothing against Mr. Neary, but he could not approve of his appointment as he knew nothing of the man's qualifications for the position. And were the council to insist that he approve of any such appointment, he must be in a position to have a thorough knowledge of the foreman's ability to satisfactorily undertake the work in hand.

Ald. Buller contended that as the engineer would be held responsible for the work, he should appoint his own foreman. The council had no right to interfere.

Ald. Turner supported Ald. Buller. The city engineer had undoubtedly estimated on the work with a view to the appointment as foreman of Mr. Neary, who had filled such a position under him for the past three years. Naturally he would not expect Mr. Hay to submit to being held responsible for keeping within his figures were he not allowed to appoint a foreman in whom he had every confidence of carrying out his instructions to the letter and in a capable manner. Continuing, Ald. Turner contended that the work should have been let by contract, in which event the contractor would be held responsible for his figures and for any poor work. In doing it by day labor, should its actual cost exceed the engineer's estimates, the ratepayers would have to pay the difference; and all neglected and inferior work would also have to be paid for out of the general tax.

Ald. Bradburn replied that on the other hand should the engineer construct the sewers at a figure below his tender, the city would benefit thereby.

His worship pointed out that the engineer in this tender had added five per cent: to his previous figures for similar work.

Ald. Phelan wanted to know why Ald. Hicks interfered with this appointment of a foreman. He had never stepped in, between the engineer and such matters when he was chairman of the Board of Works. Then Mr. Neary had filled a similar position for three years now, and no complaint against him had been made.

Ald. Hicks replied that he was not interfering with the engineer, and reiterated his previous statement that were he to be asked by council to approve of the engineer's appointment of a foreman, he could not do so in this case, as he knew absolutely nothing of Mr. Neary's qualifications as a foreman over sewer construction. But were the council to relieve him of giving his approval he would be satisfied. Ald. Hicks then went on to say that as long as he was chairman of the Board of Works he would exercise his privilege to interfere in such matters when he considered it necessary to do so. That was the trouble three years ago when he held this office. The Romaine street sewer, he insinuated, was an expensive example of an instance in which he had been derelict in his duty by relying upon the advice of others that such work could be and was being satisfactorily done, and under capable oversight, when he should have inquired more thoroughly into the matter himself. Hence his present stand.

Ald. Duncan here moved, seconded by Ald. Graham,—That Mr. F. Bartlett be appointed foreman over the sewer work in question.

Ald. Buller moved in amendment, seconded by Ald. Turner,—That the appointment be left in the hands of the engineer, exclusively.

The amendment was lost, and the motion carried. The council have consequently appointed Mr. Bartlett foreman, over the engineer's head, and the latter stated to The Times after the meeting that he could not be expected to assume responsibility for keeping within his figures under such circumstances. He knew Mr. Neary's proven qualifications for such a position, and had figured accordingly.

LEFT OVER.

The reports of the Fire, Water & Light and Property Committees will be published tomorrow.

On Ald. Bradburn's initiative the matter of a sidewalk for Babb's lane was referred to the Board of Works.

MORE PARK PROPERTY.

Ald. Buller wanted the council to secure the land offered by Mr. Best as a desirable addition to the new King Edward park, south end.

Ald. Turner suggested that the piece of land on Hunter street, Ashburnham, where the old blacksmith shop was situated, be converted into a breathing spot for weary pedestrians, on their way to and from the lift lock, and others. He also asked that public bathing privileges be provided at the two islands owned by the city, south of Riverside Park. These islands could be connected with the main shore by means of a rustic bridge at but little cost, and an ideal spot for bathing would thus be offered the small boy and others.

Ald. Turner moved, seconded by Ald. Buller,—That the park question and bathing spot suggestion, be referred to a special committee.—Carried.

His worship named this committee as follows:—Aldermen Graham, Turner, Bradburn and Buller.

A QUAINT OLD TAVERN

The Old Cheshire Cheese, in the Heart of London.

SERVES A FAMOUS PUDDING.

A Noble Pantry It Is, and It Was Sampled by Such Men as Gladstone, Dickens, Thackeray, Tennyson, Trollope and Whitaker.

Nearly all Americans when they go to London make it a point to visit that quaint old tavern in the heart of the newspaper and printing business, the Old Cheshire Cheese, to partake of its famous pudding.

It is the Londoner's delight when he gets back to Fleet street to make a rush for the pudding, and it is almost the last thing he eats before leaving it. Travelers in the Sahara have seen mirages of that pudding, and during the Boer war the men shot up in Ladysmith and Mafeking dreamed of it at regular intervals.

Precisely at 1 o'clock p. m. Tom conveys the pudding from the first to the main floor. It is a big pudding, and the price of it is just 2 shillings—that is to say, a fiend of it is 2 shillings, as much as you please, as many slices as you ask for, cut and come again, all for 48 cents of American coin. Cheap, yes, and, oh, how good it is! It is worth crossing the Atlantic to get a whiff of it, and the aroma lingers in the memory for many a day.

Big? The dimensions are Falstaffian. It is a round earthen vessel something more than two dozen inches deep, with a diameter of about eighteen inches. A noble pantry, my masters!

When it is placed upon the service table an elliptical white crust means the hungry gaze. Then cut his appetizer into their pieces in front of the host, who, knife and spoon in hand, poses with gentle dignity and indulgent mien. It is a moment of solemn thought when every man hopes that his portion will be larger than his friend's and that he will be blessed with an abundance of gravy. But they ought from years of acquaintance with the host to understand that his hand is as steady on his judgment is impartial.

The same and nothing better for one than for another. His virtues his vengeance, and the first onslaught is made. The room is full of a delicious steam, bursting with it the concentrated essence of [illegible] and [illegible] spoils sniff it up and murmur choice blessings on the cook, the original inventor, the house and the host. It is a time which must feel good, and be used the other.

One small of that pudding makes the whole world kin. This famous pudding, which has tickled the palates of thousands, is thus compounded:

A crust of flour, water and suet.
Beefsteak.
Chopp's kidneys.
Larks.
Mushrooms (freshly gathered).
Oysters.
Stock.
Pepper and salt.

But it is the boiling that does it. For at least twelve hours this heaven sent pudding is kept slowly simmering in an immense copper specially constructed for the purpose. It must not boil quickly, but the same temperature be kept up the whole period. The steak assumes a juicy tenderness; the larks—not sparrows, as some malignant spirit has suggested, although sparrow pudding is not to be despised—are cooched to the bone, and you can chew up each little songster without an effort; the kidneys are soft and mushy and offer no resistance to the digestive organs, and the oysters, despite their lengthened cooking, are not leathery. The amalgamation and assimilation of the variety of constituents are perfect; the result is bliss.

There is a story told of one enthusiast Londoner who had seven helpings of the pudding and still yearned for more, and there is another remarkable narrative of four men who ordered a pudding of the regulation size and finished it among them.

J. Pierpont Morgan praised the pudding, and Theodore Roosevelt was delighted with it. Lord Rosebery declared his appreciation thereon, and Gladstone thought it far superior to his famous "three courses." Dickens, Thackeray, Meredith, Swinburne, Tennyson, Trollope, Whistler, Leighton, Sala, Phil May—all sorts of the best of men of their day have fed upon the pudding, and it no doubt helped to inspire their work.

Apparently any cook can fashion it, but it, for it, built it. Let any cook try it. Lots of cooks have tried it, but the results have not been satisfactory. There was a man who once ran the Old Cheshire Cheese, and in his day the pudding first achieved its great fame. When he sold the old hostelry and built a house in the financial district he entertained that the same pudding—the same in every respect—would be served every Saturday.

Many of the Cheese's old patrons came around to celebrate. There was the dish, but the aroma was wanting; there were the historical associations, but the flavor was not in them. It was not the same, not a bit of it. There was something missing. It may have been the shadow of the departed great ones of a bygone time. And so it is that today the famous dish of the Old Cheshire Cheese tastes as of old, and its Goodness cannot be endowed by any flattering invitation based upon "Just as good" simply because there is nothing just as good.—Philadelphia Ledger.

JACK JOHNSON SUSTAINS HIS TITLE AS CHAMPION OF WORLD

Defeated James J. Jefferies in Fifteen Rounds at Reno, Nevada, Yesterday--Johnson Had the Bear-Man Completely at Sea Throughout the Battle

Jeffries Tried to Wear His Opponent Down with His Weight—Johnson Forced the Fighting After the Sixth Round Until the Knockout in the Fifteenth

The great heavy-weight pugilistic battle for the championship of the world is over, and Jack Johnson still holds the title which he won from Tommy Burns in Australia two years ago.

Before describing the actual fight as appended below local opinions of yesterday will be of interest. Never in the history of this city, possibly, has any event whether political, criminal, social—or otherwise, aroused so general an excitement. Not even a Dominion election would have drawn a greater crowd during the afternoon than thronged the rotunda of the Oriental. From say, 2.30 until the last telegram concerning the fight the rotunda was an excited crowd of respected citizens eagerly awaiting the reports as they arrived. Mr. Geo. Graham, the proprietor, a sportsman known throughout the whole Dominion, naturally took great interest in the fight, his advocacy being for Jeffries, arranged to have a special telegraph wire inserted into the hotel. Everywhere throughout the city scenes of money were waged. The odds ran mainly at 10 to 8 on Jeffries. Such odds were freely offered and taken. In one instance $200 to $20 was offered and taken, the long odds afterwards offering ($5 even that he would win the bet. This, however, was not taken.

FIRST ROUND TAME.

They came up. Jeffries walking in and pointing. Both smiled and Jack gave ground. Johnson led a straight left and landed a light one on Jeffries' face. They were in a clinch. Johnson shoving Jeff away. Jeff walked in and hooked left to the mark and in a clinch sent right to body. Johnson responded with a left and they continued to stand breast to breast, trying for short inside blows. As they broke Jeff sent a left to Johnson's neck and the negro stepped in with a left but missed. The gong rang when they were in a clinch. The fighting was tame and as they turned to their corners, Jeff tapped Jack on the shoulder and smiled.

ROUND TWO.

Jeff assumed his crouch but missed his first attempt. Jack forced and Jeffries stepped nimbly away. Jack sent a left to the face and then rushed in. Jeffries sent right to ribs. Then took left on face at close quarters. They came together without a blow and Johnson tried his uppercut but missed. Jeffries put his weight on Johnson and pushed him out. When they broke John son sent left to Jeffries' face and tried to uppercut but missed. There was a lot of wrestling and not much fighting.

ROUND THREE.

"Take it easy, Jeff," said Corbett, as they walked to the center. Jeff rallied in and led for the head, but missed. Johnson hooked a stiff left to body and right to head, but neither blow was hard. Jeffries hooked to body. Johnson sent two lefts to face and tried the right for the chin, but missed the latter. Jeff called at the left and bored in. It was simply a wrestling bout thus far. The gong rang while they were in a clinch.

ROUND FOUR.

ROUND FIVE.

Jeff walked straight out and tried to land left. They both sparred carefully and Jeff sent left for body which was blocked. In a clinch that followed Jeffries shoved Johnson back easily. When they broke Jack swung him a left for the body, but missed. Johnson shot an uppercut and cut Jeffries' lip slightly. As they broke Jack landed left to face and Jeffries came right back on the body. Johnson held Jeff and as they broke again tried an uppercut and missed, but eding Jeffries on the face with a left. "That left is a John," said Corbett. Jeff stepped in with a left to Johnson's head and the crowd cheered. The gong found them in a clinch. The pace up to this time was slow without doing much damage to either man.

ROUND SIX.

Again Jeffries crouched. They stepped around each other, Johnson parrying in two stiff lefts to face. One of them cut Jeff's cheek a bit. Again they lolled in each other's embrace, neither of them willing to take a chance. Jeff rushed in but missed a left for the body and took a left on the chest in return. Johnson kept up a running flow of talk to Jeff when they came to a clinch. Jeff calmly chewed gum and waded in. He missed a left and took a left and right on the head. Johnson shot a left to Jeffries' ear and ripped Jeff's right eye. Jack missed two rights. Jeffries' nose was bleeding when the gong rang. When Jeff took his seat his seconds got busy with his eye, and Jeffries said it was alright.

ROUND SEVEN.

Johnson led with left and right but missed. Jeff missed left to body, hooked left to head and Johnson laughed loudly. Johnson sent two lefts to face. Jeff landed with left and cut Jack's face. Johnson landed two lefts and cut Jeff's face. This round was faster.

ROUND EIGHT.

"Come on, Jeff," said the black and landed on Jeff's face. Jim missed a body blow and got two lefts in face. Hello Jimmy," said Johnson to Corbett, as he landed on Jeff. "Come on brack," said Jeff as Johnson held his glove. Jeff drawed two left swings and got left in the face.

ROUND NINE.

Jeff shoved Johnson to the ropes and seemed to be waiting to land. He walked into two exclusive lefts, jabs on the face. His wrist lands on Johnson's chin and seemed to anger the black.

ROUND TEN.

Jack shot left to face, Jeff blocked, responded with left to body. Jack missed fighting left for jaw but landed left uppercut to face. Jeff sent two lefts to face and received three in return. Jeff appeared fresh when gong sounded.

ROUND ELEVEN.

Johnson sent stiff left to face and right to body, followed with two uppercuts to Jeff's face inclusive. Jeff is tiring. Jeff got two exclusive lefts to John's body. Round finished decidedly in Johnson's favor.

ROUND TWELVE.

Jeffries tried to get inside negro's defense but Johnson drove back and headed left to face, Jeff was using his weight throughout and shoving Jack. Jeffries [error] his way into close quarters but Johnson landed on his nose. Jeff spat blood as he returned to his seat. He was not worried and looked fresh.

ROUND THIRTEEN.

Fighters clinched. Jack sent left to body, and right uppercut to chin in break. Jack drove two lefts and right uppercut to face, holding him with right on shoulder. Johnson sent three lefts to face in quick succession and then uppercut to face. Jeff was tired and slow. Jack had him dazed and sprung left to face and then calmly clinched. Jeff continued to come in, his eye was almost closed.

ROUND FOURTEEN.

Jeff walked into a left in the ear. Jack tapped the big fellow on the face twice and blocked Jeff's attempt at close fighting. Jeffries took three straights to the face and got in a left to the face. Jeff's lips were blushed, by Johnson, before they could get within six inches of the face. "How do you feel, Jim," said Cook, as they stood clinched. "How do you like em?" Jeffries was sober and made no response. He took three more lefts.

ROUND FIFTEEN.

It was a clinch to start with, following Jeff's attempt to land on the face. Jack forced the pace, and sent Jeffries down with a left and right to the jaw. Jeff got up but was sent down again for the count. The crowd yelled "stop it," "Don't let him knock him out."

Johnson wins.

THE PURSE.

As a result of the big battle Johnson gets $225,777 and Jeffries $149,035.

FORMER U.S. GOVERNOR IN PETERBOROUGH YESTERDAY.

Hon. Laurence Graham, former governor of the West Indian Island of Porto Rico, now a U.S. colony, passed through the city yesterday en route to his summer residence at Stony Lake. The Hon. Mr. Graham, who is the only Canadian in the U.S. diplomatic service, is a great admirer of his countrymen. It will be remembered that during his regime in Port Rico, one of Peterborough's brightest and most promising young civil engineers went to that island and there made a name for himself.

Stories of crop failures in the Canadian West inspire less alarm today than they did years ago. The territory covered is so large and the climate conditions so varied that a shortage in one place is likely to be made up by a bumper crop in another.

NERVILINE.

Fifty years ago Nerviline was used from coast to coast and in thousands of homes this trusty liniment served the entire family, cured all their minor ills and kept the doctor's bill small. Today Nerviline still holds first rank in Canada among pain-relieving remedies — scarcely a home you can find that doesn't use it.

TESTIMONIAL NO. 4368

From Port Hope, Ont., Mr. W. T. Greenway, of the Guide newspaper staff, writes: "For twenty years we have used Nerviline in our home, and not for the world would we be without it. As a remedy for all pain, earache, toothache, cramps, headache and disordered stomach, I know of no preparation so useful and quick to relieve as Nerviline."

Let every mother give Nerviline a trial; it's good for children, good for old folks—you can rub it on as a liniment or take it internally.

Wherever ther is pain, Nerviline will cure it. Refuse anything but Nerviline, 25c. per bottle, five for $1.00, all dealers, or The Catarrhozone Co., Kingston, Ont.

TUESDAY, JULY 5, 1910.

EARL GREY ABROAD.

His Excellency the Governor-General crossed the Atlantic on the Canadian Northern steamship, "Royal George," landing at Bristol. He was received by the Lord Mayor and other officials of the city. In responding to their kindly welcome he spoke at some length upon the advantages which Canada offered to the manufacturers of Great Britain, and which, perhaps had been neglected in the past.

The British commercial houses were not taking advantage of their opportunities to the same degree as the corresponding houses of France, Germany and the United States were doing. The United States had devised a means of paying the salaries of a strong force of consular agents, who were scattered all over the Dominion. These men were business agents, whose object was to secure the Canadian market for United States exports, and their salaries were paid without the cost of a single cent to the United States taxpayer by the expedient of refusing to receive into the United States any parcel great or small, on which a fixed tax had not been paid. In consequence of this, and of their contiguity, the United States manufacturers were formidable rivals to British traders. Mr. Grigg, the representative of the British Board of Trade was doing admirable work but the resources at his disposal were quite inadequate to meet the requirements of British trade.

His excellency took occasion to make special mention of the Canadian National Exhibition, and the great opportunity it afforded to manufacturers. The population of of Ontario was about two million, more than double that of New Zealand. The organizers of the Toronto Exhibition, had with the greatest generosity, established at their own expense, a building at the cost of $100,000 for the purpose of allowing British manufacturers to give an exhibition of their products, proving that the desire of the population was to throw trade into the hands of England if England would take the trouble to take and keep it.

Respecting emigration, Lord Grey was careful to say that opportunity awaited the settler in the older Provinces as well as in the west. It was impossible to paint the future of the country in terms which were too glowing. After a word of commendation respecting the enterprise of Mackenzie and Mann, and the far-sightedness of the Bristol Docks Committee his excellency touched on the Imperial sentiment of Canadians. Sir John French, who had been on a tour of inspection through the Dominion, expressed himself as being very much pleased with what he had seen. As to the spirit of the rising generation, he could only say that he wished those at home could see a parade such as they had in Toronto on Empire Day, when 2,500 boys from the schools marched past dressed in red coats.

No other governor-general has been more ardent in his admiration for this confederation than Lord Grey.

RAILWAY EARNINGS.—As the gross earnings of the old system for 1909 amounted to $31,222, with the largely increased mileage, reaching the residential portions of the city, the above estimate should be conservative.

POWER EARNINGS.—As applications have already been received for the greater part of the available power there is every reason to believe that on the completion of the development in November the whole will be contracted for.

BUSINESS FOR TRACTION SYSTEM AND MARKET FOR POWER

The city of Sherbrooke and surrounding country offer a very attractive field for both the Traction and Power Departments of the Company.

The growth of the population of Sherbrooke has been of a very steady and permanent character. In 1871 it had a population of 4,332, which has increased to about 17,000 at the present time. It is estimated that including the town of Lennoxville, where Bishop's College is situated, that the Street Railway serves a population of 20,000.

Although the population of the city has increased over fifty per cent. in the fifteen years since it commenced operations, the present street railway system has never been extended. It is now proposed to more than double the existing mileage.

Sherbrooke is the commercial centre of the Eastern Townships, which results in it having at nearly all times of the year a fairly large transient population.

It is also an important Railway and Industrial centre. It is a divisional point of the Canadian Pacific Railway; the Canadian terminus of the Boston and Maine System; the headquarters of the Quebec Central Railway Co., and is on the main line of the Grand Trunk Railway.

Its importance as an Industrial centre may be judged from the fact that it is the headquarters of such well-known concerns as the Jeffrey Machine Company and Rand Drill Company, which supply large part of the mining machinery used in Canada, the Paton Manufacturing Company, the largest woollen company in the Dominion, the Fairbank's Scale Company (Canadian Branch), the Webster Cigar Company the Silver Springs Breweries, the Sherbrooke Iron and Foundry Company, and the Paper Machinery Manufacturing Company.

In addition to the above, several important interests are considering at the present time locating in Sherbrooke, the conditions pertaining to labor, transportation and cheap power being favorable for the operation of industrial plants. The surrounding district, besides being rich in timber and minerals, comprises the greatest asbestos deposits in the world.

STRONG FRANCHISE POSITION

The Sherbrooke Railway and Power Co. is right from its inception a going concern.

As a Street Railway concern the new company has a 40-y ear franchise from the city of Sherbrooke which gives the exclusive right to build and operate a street railway within the limits of the city during this period, with exemption from all taxation for the first twenty years. At the end of twenty years the municipality has the right to purchase the Street Railway as a going concern.

For its power department the company has purchased certain water powers on the Magog River within the precincts of the City of Sherbrooke. These will be developed at one site, and will have sufficient capacity not only to provide for the increased requirements of the extended Street Railway, but also to leave 2,000 H. P. available for sale outside to the numerous industries in and about Sherbrooke.

These figures are based upon the minimum flow of the Magog River. Under its charter the Company has the right to sell Hydro-Electric Power not only in the City of Sherbrooke, but as well throughout the District of St. Francis. This District takes in the counties of Sherbrooke, Stanstead, Wolfe, Compton, Richmond and Magantic and comprises a total population of about 150,000 people.

Outlook for city:—

Sherbrooke, by its situation as an industrial centre, is destined to keep pace with the tremendous development that is taking place in Montreal, and in the future an increasing number of industries will find it advantageous from a point of view of labor and power to locate within its limits.

As the centre of one of the richest farming districts in Eastern Canada, it will gain additional importance as a retail and distributing centre.

The Sherbrooke Railway and Power Company will share in both its departments in the growth and development of the City and its surrounding districts.

THE GIFT HORSE.

Sometimes the Part of Wisdom to Look Horse in Mouth.

Despite the maxim to the contrary it is sometimes the part of wisdom to look a gift horse in the mouth; also to enquire into its kicking capacities, and to ascertain whether the brute is liable to run away with its new owner, and carry him where he has no intention of going. Gift horses are one of the real dangers of modern business life. There are circumstances in which acceptance of them involves the future ruin of the recipient. The Trojans dragged a gift horse within their gates, and the next morning they awoke to find the enemy in their midst and Troy in flames.

It seems that there have been too many gift horses in the printing bureau at Ottawa, but the gift horse system is one of which that city has no monopoly. It has permeated the commercial life of the country. Even men who do not seek gifts may, if they control the purchase of supplies or the awarding of contracts have gifts actually thrust upon them. At Christmas time they receive a handsome present with no other explanation than the card of a supply house, and the temptation is to keep the gift. The recipient does not always realize that it involves a moral obligation to repay the favor, not, perhaps at his own expense, but often at the expense of the man whose purchasing agent he happens to be.

"Purchases on merit" is an excellent commercial motto. "A fair field and no favors" is a principle which may be applied with splendid results when contracts are being awarded. And if, these things are true in business life, and in the management of municipal affairs, there seems no reason why they should not apply to the country's purchases also. Party patronage, which has always existed to a greater or less extent in Canada, is a gift horse. Its tendency must be to impair the efficiency of the civil service.

FIGHTING THE FLY.

Declaring War Against the House Fly.

A good purpose is served by the articles now appearing in Canadian and American papers declaring war against the house-fly. In one article it is remarked that England is so thoroughly rid of flies that the English rarely screen their houses. "How did the English do it?" As we must do it: by each family keeping its house clean. Screens will keep flies out of a house and fly-paper will kill them. But neither gets at the cause. There is only one way to do away with flies, and that is to keep clean the places where they breed and love to feed."

The advantage of this campaign is that it is not only gainst the fly but against filth. The means are as important as the end. A place that will afford no comfort to flies will be a clean and wholesome place, which will not give offence or breed disease. There will be a regular course of purification by fire, water soap and disinfectants, and when the fly disappears it will be found that other nuisances and danger have taken their departure.

STABLE BOY SHOT.

Garland Murray Critically Wounded In Row Over Game of Dice.

Buffalo, N.Y., July 2.—Garland Murray, a negro stable boy for "Dick" Williams, at the Fort Erie track, is at the Buffalo general hospital, hovering between life and death, as the result of a 38-calibre bullet wound, while the police of Buffalo and Canada are searching for a negro hostler known as "Big Boy" Graham, suspected of doing the shooting.

The two became involved in an argument during a dice game at the track yesterday morning, and it is alleged Graham with a shot from his revolver. Several hours were lost before the wounded man was brought here. The surgeons have not located the bullet, and because of Murray's serious condition, fear an effort to do so would only hasten the end. The intestines are punctured in a number of places.

Chief of Police Dowd of Bridgeburg, thinks Graham escaped on a freight train.

Interest in Alberta Elections.

Edmonton, Alta., June 2.— The electors in Vermilion, Medicine Hat and Lethbridge districts are today expressing their political preference at the by-elections and on their verdict depends the fate of the Provincial Government, which under the leadership of Premier Sifton, came into power recently on the fall of the Rutherford Cabinet.

It is expected that Premier Sifton will be elected from Vermilion without serious opposition. The election of Hon. A. J. McLean, Provincial secretary, who is running in Lethbridge district, is also regarded as certain. Hon. C. R. Mitchell, the new minister of education and attorney-general, has opposition in Medicine Hat, his brother-in-law having been nominated by the Conservatives.

A RAILWAY PROPOSITION.

From Montreal Gazette, June 27, 1910.

What has recently been advanced in behalf of United States' railways claims to an increase in their freight charges, has been illustrated in the case of the Canadian roads in connection with the late award of the board sitting under the conciliation law. From the nature of the thing wages enter more largely into the cost of operating the railways than in connection with any other industry. When to wages is added the cost of fuel and material in the production of which the cost of labor is a main factor, it may be said that there is no business which pays out so large a proportion of its gross receipts to the actual worker as the railway. Some statements just issued illustrate the point. In the year ending with June 30, 1909, the gross earnings of the Canadian railways amounted to $145,956,000. Of this sum 42½ per cent. was paid to the men who work and manage the lines. In the United States the percentage of gross earnings paid in wages during the same time was only 41 per cent. The difference of 2½ per cent. is not the result of divergencies in the rate of pay, but is to be ascribed to the fact that in large sections of the United States the population is much denser than it is in Canada; the trains there as a rule carry more passengers, more freight often according to length of line, and the same operating force takes care of a heavier volume of business. When it is remembered that the state of New York has a population as large as all Canada the situation in this regard may be realized. When it is urged that the pay on Canadian roads should be as high as those in the neighboring parts of the United States some things are forgotten. That, however, is aside. Canadian roads must pay approximately the same as those over the border or they will not retain good men. When, however, they have to increase the rates of pay for their men, and for their supplies faster than they can increase their traffic and traffic earnings they find their financial position growing weaker. The estimate is that in twelve years up to 1910 the cost of labor on the Canadian railways increased by 30 per cent., that of supplies, material and equipment, exclusive of lumber, by 44 per cent., and that of lumber by 65 per cent. The companies have been able to maintain their standing by the large and effective expenditure of money on track and rolling stock equipment. Tracks have been straightened and doubled, the grades on them reduced, and the lines laid with heavier rails. Bridges have been strengthened. The power of locomotives and the capacity of cars increased till a train's freight tonnage is almost or quite double what it was a score of years ago. The benefit has not all been to the railway share and bond holders. Rates have been reduced by some that seems nothing stated by itself fractions of a cent a ton a mile, but that multiplied by the tens of millions of tons carried a mile means a large saving to those who pay transportation charges. The roads, however, cannot continuously go on spending money on improvements and increasing wages and operating outlays and maintain their financial standing unless they can also increase their earnings in proportion near to that of the growing demands upon them. The calculation is made that the increase to the trainmen just recommended by the board of conciliation, when conceded, and made the basis of concessions to other branches of labor, will raise the percentage of the cost of wages on Canadian roads as a whole from 42½ to about 54½ per cent. of the gross earnings. Business men will appreciate what that will mean in its effect on the net earnings. A large increase in the cost of working the roads cannot be considered alone. If the companies are to meet their responsibilities, maintain their credit, and keep themselves in a position to meet greater demands on their facilities, they must get more for services that cost them more.

VOL. XXXI NO. 153 PETERBOROUGH, ONTARIO WEDNESDAY JULY 6 1910 PRICE TWO CENTS

Mr. Wm. Snowden's New Garage Completed A Unique Building

Yesterday a Times' representative had the privilege of inspecting the splendid new garage, completed last week, erected by Messrs. Rutherford Bros., for Mr. Wm. Snowden. This handsome building on Charlotte St., is one of the strongest in the city and in its architecture and adaptibility for the purpose intended, compares favorably with any similar structure in Canada. As one enters the heavy plate glass doors, 10 feet in size, from Charlotte street, one enters a room 85x35 feet in size. This room has no pillars or other obstructions, the upper stories being held by the latest invented system of massive iron girders. This feature reflects great credit upon Mr. Tom Rutherford who, after much research and thought developed in his mind this system of steel beams which enables the whole ground floor, unobstructed, to be used for the storage of automobiles or other conveyances. The Charlotte street part of the ground flat is floored with pine. For some 20 feet to the rear is a concrete floor for the washing and repairing of autos. In the concrete floor are sunk two wells or operating spaces, so that a chafleur or other mechanic, can get underneath an automobile and repair its machinery. From the yard are again tenfeet doors, leading from a well graded approach. Just outside these doors, one sees a 2-inch pipe, with padlock attachment projecting about a foot above ground. Here gasoline is lowered to hugh subteranean tanks. Inside the yard door is a latest design machine for filling the reservoirs of automobiles within. This machine has a handle with a padlock. When required to draw gasoline, the chaffuer can draw off, from a pint to several gallons of this power impelling liquid.

The basement is all in one room in the same size. It is cement floored. Down here are lavatory, closets, place for furnace, etc. It is Mr. Snowden's intention to rent the cellar for storage of apples and other fruit, or such commodities as require an equitable temperature. The top floor is also in one room. To this flat from the ground floor runs a huge elevator adapted to carrying up anything from a needle to a 60 h.p. automobile. This flat will probably be used for the storage of conveyances of all kinds. The office, just to the right as one enters from Charlotte street is large and airy.

Both Mr. Snowden and Messrs. Rutherfors Bros., are to be congratulated on this building, the former for his enterprise in erecting such a building, and the latter for the splendid job they have accomplished.

WAVE OF RIOTING SWEPT COUNTRY

MR. RIORDAN'S PLUCKY RESCUE

Little Cyril Hughes Saved From a Watery Grave By Quick Action.

By an almost miraculous intervention of Providence, little Cyril Hughes, seven-year-old son of Mr. Walter Hughes, 477 Bolivar street, was on Monday afternoon saved from a watery grave. His saviour was Mr. Jack Riordan, an employe of the C.P.R., who resides on Bethune St. It seems that little Cyril, possibly after holding up the index and next finger of his right hand to convey to his pals that a swim was in order, as most of the adult males of Peterborough did when a boy, he wandered down to where the trestle bridge is situated on the C.P.R. spur line to the Quaker Oats Co., on arriving there, not being able to actually swim the boy took to the water on a log. He got beyond his depth, and when seen by Riordan was limply hanging to the end of the log, his head just above water.

It didn't take Mr. Riordan many seconds to jump into the water with out taking the trouble to discard his clothing, and young Hughes was taken to safety just at the right moment for his hold on the log had loosened.

Needless to say the parents of the youth are grateful to his rescuer and wish to publicly thank him.

There was a good attendance at Victoria Park last night to hear the Salvation Army Band discourse sweet strains.

A LOCAL WEDDING.

Miss Ethel Sherwood is Now Mrs. W. Adams, of Buffalo, N.Y.

A very pretty wedding was solemnized yesterday afternoon in St. James church, when Miss Ethel Sherwood and Mr. Wm. Adams of Buffalo, were joined in the bonds of holy wedlock, by the Rev. Mr. J. G. Brown.

The bride was becomingly attired in chiffon taffeta silk with white lace yoke and pearl trimming, and was given away by her father, while Mendelsohn's march was played by Mrs. Rehill.

Miss Christina Sherwood, sister of the bride, was attractively attired in a point desprit gown of mauve. Mr. Leonard Adams acted as grooms man.

After the ceremony a dainty wedding luncheon was partaken of.

The church was very prettily decorated for the occasion with palms and flowers.

Mr. and Mrs. Adams left on the 4.38 C.P.R. for Toronto, Niagara and Detroit. the bride travelling in a braided suit of light grey material with cream lace hat.

Many out-of-town guests were present, mostly from Toronto and Buffalo.

A Bailieboro Wedding.

A very pretty wedding took place on Thursday, June 30th, at 6 p.m. at the home of Mr. Joseph B. Porter, of Bailieboro, when his daughter Mary Frances, was united in marriage to Mr. Robert Tasses McIlmoyle of Fraserville. The ceremony, which was performed by Rev. D. A. McKenzie, B.A., of Centreville, in the presence of about fifty guests, took place on the lawn. The bride was given away by her father. Miss Mamie Fisher of Fraserville, played the wedding march.

Chief Shows Cafed the Town.

Yesterday afternoon, the brightly painted official carriage of Chief Howard, head of the local fire brigade, rode that very efficient official and the new head of the local police department. Mr. Thompson. Chief Howard showed Chief Thompson the rounds of the city. Possibly in the whole town. Chief Thompson could not have found a man more willing or able to educate him on the typography of Peterborough than Chief Howard.

Sails for England.

He will be away about six weeks.

RACE FEELING RAN HIGH AS A RESULT OF PRIZA IGHT AND DEATHS RESULT.

Many Cities in Turmoil—In Some Cases Blacks Were Aggressors and in Other Cities the Whites—Police and Militia Kept on the Move.

New York, July 5.—When Jack Johnson knocked out Jim Jeffries at Reno, 2,500 miles away, he started a wave of rioting in New York that kept the negro sections in turmoil throughout the night and past daylight this morning.

Not till after dawn, when scores had been injured, one man killed, and a negro saved from lynching as he was strung up by a drunken crowd of whites, did the police, heavily reinforced, restore quiet. In twelve years no such scenes have been enacted in New York.

THE INJURED WILL DIE.

When the tally of the known victims was made today it was declared by the authorities that several of the injured would probably die, besides George Crawford, a negro whose skull was crushed in Lower Eighth avenue.

THREE NEGROES KILLED.

New Orleans, La., July 5.—Three negroes have been killed and a dozen whites and blacks seriously injured in riots in Southern Louisiana, resulting from the Jeffries-Johnson fight, according to despatches received here today. Fighting is general at many points.

IT WAS A WILD NIGHT.

Philadelphia, July 5.—More than one hundred whites and blacks, some with their heads bandaged or showing other evidence of their participation in last night's race riot following Johnson's victory at Reno were stood up before police magistrates today to receive punishment.

A cablegram has been received from Dresden, announcing the death there last week, of Harold, only son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Jarvis of Detroit. His father and mother were with him, and have the sincere sympathy of many friends.

Gets Fined for Disorderly.

The young man who tried on Monday night, to "get gay" in front of the Crystal Theater, was fined $2 and costs at the police court yesterday morning. It seems that on Monday night, Mr. Edwards, proprietor of the Crystal, was standing under the arch in front of his place reading the newspaper reports of the fight. The young man referred to, came up to Mr. Edwards and knocked the paper out of his hands. Mr. Edwards, naturally, asked what he meant. The young man made an attack upon Mr. Edwards, when the latter gave him a slap in the face. This resulted in the young fellow resuming his attack. Mr. Edwards then got hostile and, without inflicting any serious injury on the man as he was drunk threw him out into the street, when he was arrested.

BACK-WEARY MEN.

The Helping Hand of Dr. Hamilton's Pills Will Cure in a Few Weeks.

"Foundry work compels men to work in the winter in very cold shops," writes Thos T. Bolter, a well-known mechanic in Hamilton. "I contracted a very severe cold a few months ago which settled in my back and kidneys. I suffered constant pain, and in bending over my work and in heavy lifting, the pain at times was excruciating. My digestion got all out of order, doubtless because the kidneys didn't work right. My wife had used Dr. Hamilton's Pills as a family medicine and I took her advice and started them also. To my great delight a few doses helped me so much it was proof I was using a true remedy. Natural action of the kidneys was brought about, burning and aching ceased, and the back-lameness gradually disappeared. I no longer fear my work. I feel strong and robust, and with such a remedy as Dr. Hamilton's Pills at hand I will probably never again be sick. I advise every working man to use Dr. Hamilton's Pills.

No other medicine will regulate the system and maintain health like Dr. Hamilton's Pills—beware of the dealer who tries to induce you to take something else on which he makes more profit. Sold in yellow boxes 25c. Prepared by The Catarrhozone Co., Kingston, Ontario.

Porcupine Captured at Corner of Murray and Water Streets

A unique sight was seen last night at about half-past six at the corner of Water and Murray streets. Some one saw a strange wild animal loping along Water street. The clumsily moving quadruped, when followed, quickly displayed an unexpected nimbleness when it reached a tree near St. Paul's church. It went up this tree quicker than a politician would go after a $2500 a year job. A Mr. Redpath was the first to trail the animal, a full plumaged porcupine to the tree. One of the scores of people who soon gathered at the scene, climbed the tree and despatched the porcupine with a club. This porcupine, for this season of the year, had well developed quills. Where the animal came from is hard to say.

Found $960 Next His Flesh---Gouldthrite's Body Sent to Ottawa

Detroit, Mich., July 5.—Upon taking the clothes off the body of F. S. Gouldthrite, Undertaker Blake discovered $960 which with $96 already found in the pocket book, makes a total of $1,056.86 in money, with other valuables discovered on the remains. The $960 was in a wallet next to the flesh. There was also a note of identification with a request that the money be sent to the owner's wife.

Previous search of the pockets of the suicide had brought to light a fine gold watch and other jewelry, and three keys, one of which read 68 Yates Hotel, Syracuse. The note found with the money was written in a scrawling hand on two sheets of blank employment request sheets from the office of the Canadian Printing Bureau.

Three Months' Notice of Termination of Agreements Between School Board and the Teachers

This Will Be Insisted Upon in Future—And All Engagements Can Only be Terminated at End of Current Term—One Teacher's Resignation Not Accepted Last Night.

The Board of Education met in regular monthly session last night. There were present: Chairman Hayes and Trustees Crane, Fair, Dumble, Hill, Ackerman and Miller.

The board have experienced so much trouble through teachers resigning, in many cases at most unseasonable dates, and in some instances, irregularly, that last night they determined to adopt more precaution in safeguarding the interests of our educational system. Peterborough's Board of Education have always, and do, exercise a full measure of consideration for the teachers under its control, and are at least entitled to courteous reciprocation on the part of those members of the staff who happen to be seeking a change. For instance, they had to hand last night, the resignation of Mr. Arnott, Mr. Patterson, whom the board only engaged for the High School at last month's regular meeting. Mr. Patterson wrote that he had secured a better position, both in point of salary and of advancement. His resignation was dated at the end of the last school term, June 30th, so the board had no other resource than to receive it. On motion of Mr. Dumble, they did not "accept" it in the literal meaning of the word; they simply permitted him to withdraw, and strongly expressed their opinion that while Mr. Patterson had not actually broken the letter of his contract, he had violated the spirit of such contract in a manner that would compel the board to seek protection from the department in any similar cases in future. Mr. Patterson sought the appointment, and was engaged a month ago in good faith that he was satisfied with the position, and that the board would not need to seek an aspirant for said position at a season when, generally speaking, applicants are scarce. The board consider that Mr. Patterson has not kept the spirit of his contract, and look upon his untimely resignation as a breach of good faith on his part.

To safeguard themselves against any recurrence of similar inconvenience to the foregoing, the board, on motion of Mr. Dumble, seconded by Mr. Hill, adopted a resolution that in future all contracts between them and teachers shall contain a provision that neither party can terminate their agreement with less than three (3) months' notice, such termination of engagement to take effect only at end of current term.

In this connection Miss Sloane's resignation was dated after the close of last term, and Mr. Hill moved, seconded by Mr. Dumble, that it be not accepted, and that she be expected to carry out her contract.—Carried.

The resignations of Miss Watt and Miss Sutton were accepted.

A communication was received from Mr. Wm. Smith, thanking the board for their kindness to him now that he is retiring from the Public school teaching staff.

CLAIM TO BE PAID.

Mr. Dumble moved, seconded by Mr. Fair,—That the claim of $13.77 made against the board for hospital and medical charges, accruing from injuries received by the school boy Ashcroft, in falling from a fence on the Collegiate Institute property, be paid.—Carried.

This resolution provided that this payment is not to be taken as a precedent in similar cases.

In connection with the foregoing Mr. E. A. Peck legally advised the board that they had better settle the claim. The fence inquestion was of a frail nature merely erected to keep the public from off the lawn. But Mr. Dumble here pointed out, its height was such as to induce and tempt any boy, or adult citizen in fact, to squat upon it, and in such case should have been strong enough to sustain the average human weight.

$6 FOR CAR FARE.

Mr. Crane moved, seconded by Mr. Ackerman,—That Miss Burgess be paid $6 for street car fare in travelling from Queen Alexandria school to the King Edward school.—Carried.

Miss Burgess is kindergarten directress in the Queen Alexandria school, and during a period of congestion she undertook to teach half a day in each of the schools in question. And as their distance is so far apart, street car service is necessary.

FINANCE REPORT.

Mr. D. W. Dumble submitted the above report, recommending payment of a number of accounts.

SUPERVISION COMMITTEE.

Gentlemen, —As authorized, your committee advertised for tenders for text books and supplies, also for the Collegiate Institute supplies, and we have awarded the contract to Mr. R. J. Soden, his being the lowest tender.

Your committee wish to draw the attention of the board to the necessity of having the class rooms in the upper flat of the King Edward school finished and furnished; the southern portion of the city is filling up very rapidly and the school will undoubtedly be overcrowded. While the situation may be overcome during the fall term, your committee is strongly of the opinion that some action must be taken in the very near future.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

JOHN CRANE.
Chairman.

COMMITTEE ON APPOINTMENTS

Gentlemen,—Your Committee on Appointments beg leave to report and recommend as follows:

1. That Mr. W. J. Neale of Cayuga, be appointed to fill the position on the Public school staff rendered vacant by the resignation of Mr. Wm. Smith, at the minimum salary of $650, increasing according to schedule, and duties to start 6th September, 1910. That he be placed on the staff of the Normal Training School, and be paid the special government grant of $100 per year.

2. That Miss Sadie H. Carmichael of Jarratt, Ontario, be appointed on the Public School staff to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Miss Watt, at the minimum salary $450, increasing according to schedule, and duties to start 6th September, 1910.

3. That clause 6 of the contract of hiring, be amended by striking out therein, the word "two," and inserting in lieu thereof the word "three;" and that this amendment take effect 1st September 1910, and to be applicable to all new appointments made on the staff, as well as to the teachers at present in the service of the board, whose services are continued after 1st July, 1911.

4. Your committee ask that they be authorized to advertize for an assistant science master at the Collegiate Institute, to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Mr. Arnott M. Patterson, with power to act.

Mr. Patterson was appointed permanently on the staff at the last meeting of the board, but has since resigned to accept a more lucrative position.

Respectfully submitted.

W. H. HILL.
Chairman.

Treaty of 1818 Shuts Out the United States

London, July 5.—Speaking before The Hague Fisheries' Tribunal, Sir James S. Winter, on behalf of Newfoundland, endeavored to show the hollowness of ex-Senator Turner's argument for the United States that the legislation on the Newfoundland fisheries favored Newfoundland fishermen at the expense of Americans. With regard to the herring fishery regulations, counsel observed they could not affect American fishermen, because this kind of fishing is carried out on bays, harbors and creeks of territorial waters, which Americans are not allowed to enter by the treaty of 1818. In addition, he said, Newfoundland is not opposed to a modification of any regulations which might be deemed harsh towards Americans.

He argued that Newfoundland did not infringe on the treaty of 1818 by forbidding Americans in 1905 and 1906 to buy herring in Newfoundland as bait for codfishing, and from engaging the inhabitants of Newfoundland to catch herring there. These regulations are commercial in character, he said, and with regard to the other regulations prohibiting the use of certain nets, etc., even if American criticism justified it, which the speaker denied, that in no proof that the United States had the right to veto Newfoundland fisheries legislation which affected vital interests, and he said, Newfoundland intended to prevent Americans from abusing their privilege by destroying the fisheries.

He then showed that the treaty of 1818 granted Americans the right to fish only in the bays, harbors, and creeks of Labrador, and not those of Newfoundland.

Be sure and take a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy with you when starting on your trip this summer. It cannot be obtained on board the trains or steamers. THE SASKATCHEWAN RIVER

Days of "Grizzly" and "Rocker" Now Over—Succeeded by Modern Steam Dredge.

The evolution of gold extraction from the river bed and bars of the Saskatchewan would form a volume of interesting details. On the hilly shore of the North Saskatchewan, drive from Duke Lake, the famous battle ground of 1885, on the south to Prince Albert tourists may view an old, curiously constructed, ramshackle, abandoned steamboat, which somewhat resembles a sternwheel passenger craft, and is yet rigged with an apparatus evidently intended for dredging. This is a disused gold dredge, which represents some $10,000 or $12,000 invested, mostly by Englishmen, in enabling an English engineer to develop his ideas as to what a gold dredger should be. Perhaps, if he had been furnished with wheels, pulleys, chains, stanchions and other mechanical parts of good steel; it might have worked to this day. But the parts were made in England, possibly by some one used to contracting for the war office. They gave out at all critical junctures, with wondrous rapidity, and the dredger practically went to bits, as has been said, almost after the manner of Dr. Holmes' "one-hoss shay." Yet it produced in the open season of the year, gold that sold at the mint for $6100, from 16,000 cubic yards of gravel dredged from the bars of the North Saskatchewan; this means 45 cents of gold per cubic yard. The tailings are said to have contained enough to be worth reworking.

Now, extensive gold-dredging operations are carried on along the the Feather River of California, in gravel or sand, which yields less than 20 per cents per cubic yard. Boston men and money are engaged on Feather River. Many have since turned their attention to the Saskatchewan.

Stories of crop failures in the Canadian West inspire less alarm to-day than they did years ago. The territory covered is so large and the climate conditions so varied that a shortage in one place is likely to be made up by a bumper crop in another.

A failing tiny nerve—no larger than the finest silken thread—takes from the heart its impulse, its power, its regularity. The Stomach also has its hidden, or inside nerve. It was Dr. Shoop who first told us it was wrong to drug a weak or failing Stomach, Heart or Kidneys. His prescription—Dr. Shoop's Restorative—is directed straight for the cause of these ailments—these weak and faltering inside nerves. This, no doubt clearly explains why the Restorative has of late grown so rapidly in popularity. Druggists say that those who test the Restorative even for a few days seem become fully convinced of its wonderful merit. Anyway, don't drug the organ. Treating the cause of sickness is the only sensible and successful way. Sold by all dealers.

NERVILINE.

One of the most soul-distressing accidents that can befall one is a bad ankle or wrist sprain. "If I had only known of 'Nerviline' earlier, I could have saved myself an enormous amount of pain, and many agonizing nights of sleeplessness." Thus writes P. P. Quinn, a young farmer living near Brockville. "I tumbled from a hay loft to the barn floor and sprained my right ankle and left wrist. They swelled rapidly and caused excruciating pains. It was not convenient to go to the city, and the liniment in the house was useless. When I got Nerviline relief came quickly. It took down the swelling, relieved the pain, and gave me wonderful comfort.

TESTIMONIAL NO. 4260.

"I can recommend Nerviline for strains, bruises, swellings muscular pains and sore back. I have proved it a sure cure in such cases."

Think what it might some day mean to you to have right in your home ready for an accident or emergency sickness, a bottle or two of Nerviline. Get it today, 25c., or five for $1.00, all dealers, or The Catarrhozone Co., Kingston, Ont.

"SCIENCE" ON NATIONAL AND RACE SUICIDE.

Once more a decrease in the French birth rate is recorded, and Dr. Bertillon, the statistician, psychologist and criminologist, is sounding his recurrent warning refrain. This time he predicts something worse than defeat for France in a war with Germany; depopulation and national suicide, he foresees, will leave beautiful France a wilderness, which the advancing Teuton will simply annex without a shot. And as the Germans add 1,000,000 a year to their population it is clear that they will need plenty of space and resources, and of course France is preferable to Brazil or Africa.

We are not sure that the complacent French intellectuals, the thrifty bourgeois and peasantry will be stirred even by the picture of their country as a desert open to Teutonic occupation. They will insist on thinking that a stationary population with a high degree of comfort, prosperity and culture is preferable to an increasing population with growing poverty, emigration, unemployment and discontent. They argue that even in war mass is only one factor, and a factor of declining importance Money, skill, education count more and more, and so do alliances, understandings, the good will of other nations. The French make heavy sacrifices for defense, but they do not admit that they must live, move and have their being in an atmosphere of war talk and war worry, instead of in an atmosphere of peace, industry, art, individual happiness. As for a depopulated France, they haven't the imagination of a Bertillon and will never "visualize" it. It will, at the worst, take a good many centuries to "depopulate" France.

Bertillon's solemn warning reminds one of the equally earnest prediction of a Boston savant that in exactly 265 years the United States will be nothing but a chain of lunatic asylums. Stremuosity, alcoholism, diets, congestion and lots of other evils, it seems, are driving us mad, and our days are literally numbered. But the alarmed doctor forgets a number of ifs and buts. He forgets that life is change, that things never go on "at this" or that rate, and that evils have a way of reforming themselves. He forgets the forces that make for sanity, health, vigor, progress.

If we can't be induced to mend in this or that particular by appeals to our present interest, our common sense, our conscience, savants may depend on it that pictures of "ultimate" desolation, extinction and death will utterly fail to strike terror.

A book on Rheumatism, by Dr. Sheop, of Racine, Wis., tells some plain truths, and in a plain and practical way. Get this booklet, and a free trial treatment of Dr. Sheop's Rheumatic Remedy for some disheartened sufferer in your vicinity. THE BILLION DOLLAR MARK.

As far as our Canadian trade is concerned the figures just issued for May show another record advance. A despatch from Ottawa says that the total trade for the month was $59,187,972, an increase of $14,276,236, or over thirty per cent. as compared with May of last year. At the present rate of increase Canada's total monthly trade will within two years reach the billion dollar mark. For the current year indications point to a total trade of over $800,000,000.

There is many cancers in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until they had the power was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven cancer to be a constitutional disease and must be treated constitutionally. S. S. S. (Swift's Specific) is the only blood remedy that can reach cancer, F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally, and acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials. Address: F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, Ohio. Sold by druggists, 75c.

SECURITY AND EARNING POWER

The bonds of the Company are secured by a deed of trust in favor of the Montreal Trust Co., which is an absolute First Mortgage upon the Hydraulic development and transmission lines upon all street railway extensions, present and future and upon all new rolling stock of the Company, and which is a mortgage on the rights, powers, franchises and existing lines, subject only to the outstanding $100,000 Sherbrooke Street Railway Bonds.

Messrs. Ross & Holgate, Consulting Engineers, of Montreal, who have examined and reported upon the position of the Company, estimate that its earnings when in full operation, should be as follows:

Street Railway—

Gross Revenue		$69,200
Operating Costs		30,200
Net Revenue		$37,000
Power Department—
Gross Revenue	$53,000
Operating Costs	13,000
Net Revenue		$30,000
Rentals		3,000
Total		69,200
Bond Interest		35,000
Surplus		$34,200

RAILWAY EARNINGS.—As the gross earnings of the old system for 1909 amounted to $81,222, with the largely increased mileage, reaching the residential portions of the city, the above estimate should be conservative.

POWER EARNINGS.—As applications have already been received for the greater part of the available power there is every reason to believe that on the completion of the development in November the whole will be contracted for.

BUSINESS FOR TRACTION SYSTEM AND MARKET FOR POWER

The city of Sherbrooke and surrounding country offer a very attractive field for both the Traction and Power Departments of the Company.

The growth of the population of Sherbrooke has been of a very steady and permanent character. In 1871 it had a population of 4,332, which has increased to about 17,000 at the present time. It is estimated that including the town of Lennoxville, where Bishop's College is situated, that the Street Railway serves a population of 20,000.

Although the population of the city has increased over fifty per cent. in the fifteen years since it commenced operations, the present street railway system has never been extended. It is now proposed to more than double the existing mileage.

Sherbrooke is the commercial centre of the Eastern Townships, which results in it having at nearly all times of the year a fairly large transient population.

It is also an important Railway and Industrial centre. It is a divisional point of the Canadian Pacific Railway; the Canadian terminus of the Boston and Maine System, the headquarters of the Quebec Central Railway Co., and is on the main line of the Grand Trunk Railway.

Its importance as an Industrial centre may be judged from the fact that it is the headquarters of such well-known concerns as the Jenckes Machine Company and Rand Drill Company, which supply large part of the mining machinery used in Canada, the Paton Manufacturing Company, the largest woollen company in the Dominion, the Fairbank's Scale Company (Canadian Branch), the Webster Cigar Company the Silver Springs Beverages, the Sherbrooke Iron and Foundry Company, and the Paper Machinery Manufacturing Company.

In addition to the above, several important interests are considering at the present time locating in Sherbrooke, the conditions pertaining to labor, transportation and cheap power being favorable for the operation of industrial plants. The surrounding district, besides being rich in timber and minerals, comprises the greatest asbestos deposits in the world.

STRONG FRANCHISE POSITION

The Sherbrooke Railway and Power Co. is right from its inception a going concern.

As a Street Railway concern the new company has a 40-y ear franchise from the city of Sherbrooke which gives the exclusive right to build and operate a street railway within the limits of the city during this period, with exemption from all taxation for the first twenty years. At the end of twenty years the municipality has the right to purchase the Street Railway as a going concern.

For its power department the company has purchased certain water powers on the Magog River within the precincts of the City of Sherbrooke. These will be developed at one site, and will have sufficient capacity not only to provide for the increased requirements of the extended Street Railway, but also to leave 2,000 H. P. available for sale outside to the numerous industries in and about Sherbrooke.

These figures are based upon the minimum flow of the Magog River. Under its charter the Company has the right to sell Hydro-Electric Power not only in the City of Sherbrooke, but as well throughout the District of St. Francis. This District takes in the counties of Sherbrooke, Stanstead, Wolfe, Compton, Richmond and Megantic and comprises a total population of about 150,000 people.

Outlook for city:—

Sherbrooke, by its situation as an industrial centre, is destined to keep pace with the tremendous development that is taking place in Montreal, and in the future an increasing number of industries will find it advantageous from a point of view of labor and power to locate within its limits

As the centre of one of the richest farming districts in Eastern Canada, it will gain additional importance as a retail and distributing centre.

The Sherbrooke Railway and Power Company will share in both its departments in the growth and development of the City and its surrounding districts.

ENGLAND AND HEAT.

England's Unpreparedness for the Sweltering Heat.

There are still King Canutes in England. Nowadays, however, they defy not sun-waves but heat-waves. When London sweltters in hot weather, its inhabitants look the heat ingenuously in the eye and bid it begone. They do not yield to its sway. If the heat insists upon staying, it does so without their consent, and they decline to recognize its presence by a change of food and clothing. Such, at any rate, is the conclusion which might be drawn from the remarks of an editorial writer of the London Mail, who proceeds to demonstrate England's unpreparedness for hot weather as follows:

"Were I to rake out a delightfully cool suit of pongee from my trunks, and to walk down the Strand with it as I should do in similar heat in Shanghai or Colombo, I would be followed by a group of raging, laughing youngsters. Even on the hottest day the city man is expected to wear his dark-colored clothes and his silk "topper." Our food is not prepared with a view to heat. The middle-class household that has a refrigerator is decidedly the exception, and iced drinks are so rare outside of restaurants as to be practically unknown. Ice cream, which the American girl for example, eats by the pint and dreams of by the gallon, is here served up at an exorbitant price in minute portions. Stay-at-home folk have yet to learn that to endure great heat comfortably one must leave off spirits, eat plenty of fruit, cut down one's meat, and go moderately on all food.

That is the case in a nutshell, "leave off spirits, eat plenty of fruit, cut down one's meat, and go moderately on all food." And the wee folk should be dressed as lightly as the grown ups, and fed as lightly in proportion. Dr. MacMurchy's recent port on infant mortality emphasizes the danger of clothing the little tots too heavily. There is, on the other hand a danger in the iced drink which an exchange so ardently commends. Moderately cold water is quite as satisfying and more healthful.

THE POLITICAL MEMORY.

One of the first aids to political success is the faculty of remembering, or appearing to remember, names and faces, an accomplishment of Sir John A. Macdonald's which won him friends wherever he went. It is said that his feats of memory were sometimes due to judicious prompting, but in the main they were undoubtedly the result of a special and highly cultivated faculty which only one person in the ranks possesses. Theodore Roosevelt is said to be one of these fortunate men, but his memory failed him in at least one instance during the reception tendered him at New York. Says a report of the proceedings:

Capt. Cosby of the Rought Riders met an error, if not always an accurate announcer. Among the first in line was Clement A. Driscoll, recently appointed by Mayor Gaynor to the board of estimate and known as "Mr. Driscoll of Washington."

"Why, old fellow, delighted to see you again!" exclaimed the colonel, pumping his arm vigorously.

"Say," said Clement a few minutes after, "what do you think of that for a bunk? He never saw me before."

But Colonel Roosevelt probably knows that it is better to err on the side of remembering a man whom he has never met, than to forget one whom he has.

Throughout the English speaking world many memorials of different kinds will be erected in the next few years in honor of the memory of the late King Edward. None will be more symbolical of sovereign worship than those memorials which combine usefulness with effect in design and architecture.

The British residents of Pittsburg are almost radical in what they are research laboratory which will be endowed. It is indeed a distant departure from the conventional type of statues, columns, chapels, marble arches and public buildings, but it will putting up—namely, a tuberculosis meet a better purpose in as much as amelioration of the great ill consumption. If there were more institutions of this kind erected they would serve better modern ideas of human progress.

ONE KIND OF SPORT.

Ideas vary as to what is sport and what is not sport very greatly. In France they think it fine sport to "hunt" larks. In England they chase the fox. In Africa, the impression has been, they bag somewhat dangerous game, and risk their lives in the getting of it.

Such an impression, however, is somewhat dispelled by reading Mr. Roosevelt's account of his African adventures in the July Scribner, particularly that part of it which refers to his experiences with a hen ostrich. The bird is dangerous enough. Its kick has proved fatal to hunters before now. But Mr. Roosevelt took pains that it should not get within kicking distance. He says:

The next day we returned and dismounted, before we reached the near neighborhood of the nest. Then I advanced cautiously, my rifle at the ready. It seemed impossible that so huge a bird could lie hidden in such scanty cover, but not a sign did we see until, when we were thirty yards off the hen, which this time was on the nest, rose, and I killed her at sixty yards. Even this did not make the cook desert the nest; and on a subsequent day I returned and after missing him badly, I killed him at eighty-five yards; and glad I was to see the huge black and white bird tumble in the dust.

It pleased Mr. Roosevelt, but some people will still insist upon believing that shooting birds upon the nest is not good sport.

ELEVEN MURDERS In Six Months in the Province of Ontario---A Startling Report
SEVEN MURDERERS AT LARGE

TOO EASY TO PROCURE CHEAP REVOLVERS, SAYS PROVINCIAL POLICE.

Fines of $25,000 Levied—Over 4,000 Bottles of Whiskey Seized and $9,000 in Fines—Over 200 Persons Deported.

Toronto, June 6.—"The facilities for procuring cheap revolvers, guns and other weapons are so great that the efforts of the police are of no avail. It is to be regretted that the sale of weapons is not under control."

This is the warning sounded by the superintendent of Provincial Police, Mr. Joseph E. Rogers, in a report of the first six months of the reorganized department as issued today.

A serious condition of affairs backs up the words of the superintendent. In the six months ending June 30, there has been eleven murders in the Province; warreants for 18 persons suspected of the crimes have been issued, and over half of these, seven, are still at large. The great majority are of the foreign laboring population.

These seven are the two men suspected of the recent murder of the Chinaman at Streetsville; two, Eli Conduet and Tony Birtso, on the charge of killing the Macedonian at Niagara Falls; Frank Mutt, suspected of murdering Venjah at Fort William, whose body was not recovered for six months; Samuel Salvador for the murder of a workman in a construction gang at Foote Bay, and the murderer of Alando Vito at Sault Ste. Marie three months ago.

LOCAL MAN WEDS.

Mr. J. T. O'Connell Now Away on His Honeymoon.

Mr. and Mrs. J. T. O'Connell are in the east on a honeymoon trip to Montreal, Quebec and Halifax.

The wedding was celebrated in St. Mary's church, Lindsay, on July 5th, by Ven Archdeacon Casey. The bride was Miss Rose McGeough, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. McGeough of Omemee, and the groom is the well known real estate dealer of this city. The bride was charmingly attired in ivory silk crepe de chene over taffeta with braided chiffon and pearl trimmings and picture hat to match. The bridesmaid was Miss Agnes Fitzsimmons of Toronto. Mr. Jas. C. O'Connell, the groom's brother, was best man.

Mr. and Mrs. O'Connell will be away about a month.

KINDRED TROUBLE.

Scregerville Has Trouble With New Public School Teachers.

It seems that the Board of Education in Lindsay is up against the same difficulty as our local board, i. a., regarding teachers. The Lindsay papers cite two cases, where, after the board has been put to considerable trouble two teachers were appointed and then shortly after notifying the board of their acceptance, each asked to be relieved of the position, so that they might remain in their own towns.

In both cases the board in the place where the teachers held positions, had increased the salaries and this brought about their resignation of the position in Lindsay.

The two teachers are Mr. I. Clark of Bracebridge, and Mr. Mott of Belleville.

Premier Leaves for His Tour of the West

Ottawa, July 6.—The political tour of Sir Wilfrid Laurier and Hon. G. P. Graham to the West may be said to have begun this afternoonwhen a special car containing the newspaper correspondents were attached to the transcontinental train.

It contained W. H. Anderson, of the Globe; B. B. Cooke, of the Toronto Star; F. A. Carman, of the Montreal Star; Rene Chevrasseu, of Le Canada, Montreal; R. H. Patchlin, of the New York Herald; T. W. King, of the Mail & Empire, and Fraser of the Halifax Chronicle, and St. John Telegraph.

Sir Wilfrid will follow tomorrow afternoon, taking on his car Mr. E. M. MacDonald, M.P., for Pictou, N. S.

Hon. G. P. Graham left for Brockville last night, and will go to Toronto tonight, leaving there in company with F. F. Pardee, chief Liberal whip, and Senator William Gibson, of Beamsville.

The premier will be given quite a send-off tomorrow. He is in splendid health, and is looking forward with pleasure to his first official visit to the west since his appointment as prime minister.

Sir Richard Cartwright will be acting premier, and there will at all times be enough ministers in touch with Ottawa to allow of a cabinet meeting being held if necessary.

Newport to Have An Airship Line

Newport, R.I., July 6.—Newport's wealthy summer residents are to have a sensation this year.

The novelty will be a dirigible airship line, the first in America. With his machine already on the ground, Stuart Davis of Providence, who represents the Zodiac Dirigible Airship Company of New York, is hustling here today, completing the aerodromes at which the big flyer will barth after its voyages here via Rocky Point to Scarboro Beach at Narragansett pier.

It is expected that an air line will be in operation here within six weeks. The dirigible was quietly brought into New York on Monday by Davis and was shipped here. As soon as the first aerodrome here is ready it will be inflated and tried out. Already scores of applications for seats on its voyages have been received, and if the plan proves successful, the company which owns the dirigible will duplicate its venture at other points along the coast.

WEDDED AT APSLEY.

Nuptials of Mr. G. R. Johnson and Miss Ellen Tanner.

On Wednesday, June 29, a very pretty wedding was solemnized at St. George's Anglican church, Apsley, when Miss Ellen Tanner, daughter of Mr. Thomas Tanner, of the township of Chandos, was united in the bonds of holy matrimony to Mr. George Rubin Johnson, son of Mr. Peter Johnson of the same township. The ceremony was performed by the rector, the Rev. S. Lord.

The bridesmaid was Miss Sarah Tanner, sister of the bride, while the groom was supported by his brother, Mr. Robert Johnson.

The church was tastefully decorated for the occasion, the choir being in attendance, and during the ceremony sang the following hymns, "The Voice that breathed o'er Eden,' "O perfect love," and "At Thy feet, O Christ."

The many useful presents they received showed the popularity of the young couple.

Mr. and Mrs. George Johnson intend to make their home on the shore of Loon Lake.

Prize Fight Pictures.

(To the Editor of The Times.)

Sir,—In the Examiner of a few nights ago I saw an advertisement of Messrs. J. J. Turner & Sons, to the effect that they do not allow prize fight pictures to be shown in the Grand Opera House. This was presumably the result of my showing the Johnson-Ketchell fight in the Princess. I wish to say that the first prize fight picture ever shown in Peterborough was shown in the Grand Opera House, long before I ever got the Johnson-Ketchell picture, viz., the Johnson-Burns fight, and also the picture of Battling Nelson. For the Johnson-Burns picture 50 cents was charged, whilst I only got 35 cents for the Johnson-Ketchell fight. I think in this picture business it is better for the man running a picture house to attend to business and his own business only.

M. PAPPAS.

Last Member of Dalton Gang.

Columbus, O., July 7.—Charles Hall, the last surviving member of the famous Jack Dalton gang of Texas train robbers, is looking forward to an early release from the Ohio penitentiary, where he has been confined since 1895. In that year he was brought here to serve 30 years for train robbery. Last year the sentence was commuted to 25 years by President Taft and consequently Hall will soon be freed by virtue of his allowance for good behavior. He has been a nurse in the prison hospital during the greater part of his confinement and he says when he is released he will go to Texas and open a sanitarium.

Canada is the Greatest Nation That Has Ever Been Within The Greatest Empire, Says Earl Grey
Favors Emigration of Children to Canada

London, July 6.—At the horticultural section of the Women's Congress Miss J. S. Turner said there was an opening for women market gardeners in Canada.

LOOK FOR GOOD SEASON.

The report of the International Mercantile Marine Company states that the Laurentic and Megantic earned a good reputation but the financial results disappointed the directors, who, however, are hopeful that the present season will justify the placing of such vessels for Canadian trade.

CANADIAN CHARACTERISTICS

Earl Grey in this week's Standard of Empire gives a statement of his hopes and convictions regarding Canada, and says, "Canadians are a sane, sober, strenuous, earnest people, patriotic, invincibly industrious, a people worshipping no false gods and following no will of the whisps, but steadily and surely with their eyes open alike to opportunity and dangers, are building up between the Atlantic and the Pacific the greatest nation that has ever been made with in the greatest Empire. That has ever been Canada's wonderful inspirations to any right thinking man. No better fate could befall any British boy, girl, man or woman than to become a good Canadian and play his or her part in the Dominion's great forward march, which is the most wonderful process in this wonderful age." Earl Grey strongly favors emigration of young children to Canada.

The Imperial Copyright Conference concluded at Brussels, Messrs. Hutchinson and Cote on behalf of the government gave a brilliant fete to the Canadian section of the exhibition. Eight hundred guests were there. Mr. Cote made a stirring speech of welcome. The Belgian minister of labor, Mr. Hubert, praised Canada as an immense beautiful land of promise.

CHEESE BOARD BET.

Mr. Gillespie Plays His Usual Prominent Part as a Buyer.

Three thousand five hundred and forty-eight cheese were boarded and 10 9-16 was the high price at yesterday morning's meeting of the cheese board.

The buyers present were Messrs. Cook, Weir, Riddell, Fitzgerald, Watkin, Morton, Kerr and Gunn and Langlois.

Mr. Gillespie opened the bidding at 10 cents. Mr. Morton made a 1d bid. After considerable raising Mr. Fitzgerald offered 10 5-8. There was no advance and Mr. Fitzgerald named as his selections, Warminster, Warminster, Warsaw, Central Smith, Cedardale.

Mr. Cook bid 10 5-8 for further selections. He took Shearer, Villiers Westwood, Ormonde, Indian River.

Mr. Cook named 10 9-16 for additional selections, and Mr. Gillespie made it 10 9-16 for the balance of the board. Nobody raised the price to a higher notch.

Mr. Gillespie secured Fleetwood, Tavenville, Beaufort, Trewern, East Emily, Keene, Selwyn, Oakdale, Lakefield, Pine Grove, King Edward, Maple Leaf, Myrtle, Young's Point, Lang, Fraserville and North Dummer.

Reserves Store for White Men.

In this city, not a thousand miles from the Grand Trunk station is a building now in course of re-alteration. Instead of the building being used for its former purpose, it is being largely changed to convert it into stores. About two weeks ago a Mongolian called on the owner wanting to rent the corner store The Chinaman offered a good rent but was put off. Again and again the Celestial called on the proprietor trying to get the store. At last the owner, to save argument and dismiss the subject, replied, "Well, I've been offered $800 per annum for that store, but I must get $1000." The Chink, at once answered, "Come down to a lawyer's, and have the papers drawn up." The proprietor then had to declare himself, and told the Chinaman he would not let him have the place at any old price. The store referred to is worth probably $650 a year.

Chemong Indian Village Wedding.

An interesting event took place at the Chemong Indian Village Methodist church on Saturday, July 2nd, when Mr. Don Fairman, of Vancouver, B.C., was united in marriage to Miss Rose Prosser, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Prosser of the village. The bride was given away by her father, and the church was beautifully decorated for the occasion. The ceremony was performed by Rev Mr. Cragg of Lakefield. Many guests were present.

The happy young couple will reside in Vancouver. The bride's father was for years a teacher among the Indians.

A New Summer Song Hit.

The advent of summer usually brings an unusual number of so-called popular songs to our great metropohtan city, and this year has proven no exception to the rule. There is always one, however, which stand out prominently from the rest and which, for a time at least seems to hold sway with all the bands, orchestras, singers, and, in fact, with everybody in any way musical.

The favored song this season is a novelty conception, entitled "I've Got the Time; I've Got the Place, but It's Hard to Find the Girl." No matter where one wanders, he's bound to hear the strains of this song, either whistled, played or sung the only fortunate point being that the terrible hand organ man hasn't started to grind it out as yet.

The writers of this song are S. R. Henry and Ballard Macdonald, whose names are well known in the world of popular music, for they are the authors of such successes as "Down at the Huskin' Bee, "I wish I Had My Old Girl Back Again," "When It's Moonlight on the Prairie," "Down in Yucatan" march and a number of others equally well known The accompanying extract is taken from the principal theme of "I've Got the Time; I've Got the Place."

Church Forces Arrayed Against Fight Pictures

Feared That the Display Will Create More Racial Violence—Wide-Spread Effort to Prevent Demoralizing Shows—Seven Cities Have Decided to Shut Out the Pugilistic Films.

Scores of Telegrams Received From All Over the Country Pledging Support of Prominent People to the Movement.

Boston, July 6.—The force of the church is being concentrated in a movement against the fight pictures and against pugilism such as has never been seen.

The pictures are already barred in seven cities, and Mr. Shaw, secretary of the Christian Endeavorers, believes hundreds of others will join. Christian Endeavores is being employed in the anti-fight pictures campaign, and Mr. Shaw has sent a telegram of protest to President Taft, Theodore Roosevelt, the governor of every State, and the mayor every important city in the country as well as to points abroad.

WILL CREATE VIOLENCE.

This telegram reads: "Race riots and murder already follow the announcement of Johnson's victory. Moving pictures of the prize fight will create more violence. Will you join in appeal to authorities, cities and towns to prohibit pictures as law requires? Help save our young people from these demoralizing shows. Wire answer.

Scores of telegrams were received at Mr. Shaw's headquarters, from prominent people in various parts of the country and abroad, pledging support to the movement.

MORAL FORCES TO RISE.

"The time has come," said Secretary Shaw, "for the Christian and moral forces of the country to rise up and demand the suppression of these moving pictures."

"I Do Not Regret that The Big Fight was Held in Nevada"

SAYS GOVERNOR.

Reno, Nev., July 6.—Governor Dickerson gave out the following statement to newspaper friends respecting the Jeffries-Johnson fight, at which he was one of the most interested spectators, seated with friends among a crowd of 16,000 others.

"I do not at all regret that the fight was pulled off in Nevada. It was a clean fight, and "Tex" Rickard's assurances to me personally were made perfectly good. I am in favor always of manly sport, just as long as the game is played clean and square, as this was. There is absolutely no warranty, in my judgment, for the protests that have been made against it. The fight just having taken place in Reno demonstrated fully that there was nothing about it but what was proper for any State to permit.

"Of my own personal knowledge the holding of this event in Nevada was beneficial rather than injurious, notwithstanding the claims advanced by some, as it has made the possibilities and natural advantages of this State with its undeveloped wealth, familiar to many who otherwise would not have heard of the State. I am well pleased with the intelligent manner in which the crowd was handled and treated by the people of Reno, and I have heard only expressions of good will for the city upon all sides.

"I will further state that as long as the law licenses glove contests I will not attempt to interfere with such events in any manner. As for the contestants in this fight, I can only say that the defeat of Jeffries demonstrated the experience and contention of all students of athletics that after a man has for some time been out of condition he cannot regain his former vitality and condition of physical perfection for nature will invariably assert itself. He was not and never could be the Jeffries of former days."

His Last Hope Gone

Ottawa, July 6.—The cabinet has decided that the law will take its course in the case of Archie McLaughlin, the Uxbridge murderer under sentence of death for taking the life of his wife and two children. He will be executed on July 13th.

JUST ESCAPED JAUNDICE.

Shows How Important It is to Keep Liver and Kidneys Active.

When you read of the growing yellowness of the skin extending to the whites of the eyeballs, as described by Mr. J. P. Nostrand, a well-known grocer in Manchester, you will realise that jaundice is nothing to be sniffed at. "Despite the best medical skill my face grew more yellow every day. It is no fun," he writes, to be given a lemon and find its hue reflecting itself upon every part of the body. My physician informed me that a catarrhal condition had resulted in a plugging of the bile ducts and the absorption of the bile into the blood. I had some knowledge of the remarkable, stimulating and healing qualities of Dr. Hamilton's Pills, and started in using them. At first I felt better, had more appetite, and entire freedom from headaches. Then came an easier feeling in the region of my stomach and I saw an almost imperceptible fading away of the yellow tinge in my skin. I persevered; used Dr. Hamilton's Pills for twelve weeks. My reward was cure—today I am healthy, happy and well."

Nothing ever discovered has such an influence on liver diseases as Dr. Hamilton's Pills of Mandrake and Butternut. Refuse any substitute. Price 25c per box, all dealers, or the Catarrhozone Co., Kingston, Ont.

OUR GREATEST ASSET.

Apropos of the recently published remarks of Mr. Flavelle, it seems that Canada's reputation as an agricultural Dominion is likely to rest solely upon her wheat producing capacity. Whether any sytem of crop rotation will come into force within a reasonable period or not is a moot problem, but it would not be amiss if the Commission of Conservation were to take measures to prevent an excess of that kind of farming, which takes all out of the soil and then departs elsewither leaving nothing—a thing which has in some measure, characterized the development of the grain belt in the past. The seriousness of the outlook has been realized by the Scottish Agricultural Commission, which visited Canada last year, and these figures are in their report. They declare that: "If it were not for the vast virgin area which awaits development, the Canadian farmer might be censured for his improvidence. In the great wheat belt the commissioners found farming which surprised them by its short-sightedness. In the older and more settled districts on the prairie there is a method of mixed farming, in which wheat is succeeded by oats or barley seeded down with grass But in the newer lands of the Far West the system is more exhaustive to the soil. It is to crop wheat for two or three years in succession, then to leave the land fallow for a year, and back to the wheat again."

The improvidence of this practice is, the commissioners say, perfectly understood by some of the intelligent wheat farmers of Canada. One of them, a German, said to the commissioners' "You need not tell me about these things. I know perfectly well that continuous wheat farming exhausts the soil; but I know, too, that stock raising—at any rate, dairy farming—means continuous and hard work; and I know, too, that wheat growing requires less capital and less labor, and give better returns.

AN IDEAL PLACE TO HOLIDAY.

Clifton Hotel, Niagara Falls, One of the Pleasantest Places in Canada.

Among the many attractions at Niagara Falls, Ontario side, one of the strongest is the Clifton Hotel, a place full of comfort and conveniences. This house with its large airy bedrooms, spacious verandahs and balconies, beautiful parlors, magnificent dining rooms and superior cuisine, is a wonderful help in making your visit to Niagara Falls an enjoyable one. On the hottest day or night, those wide balconies, within a stone's throw of the falling waters, are cool and comfortable. The descending waters, the uprising mist and spray, create a moderation of the temperature to a degree almost unbelievable. Those who were fortunate enough to have been guests of the hotel during those very hot days of the last week in June will appreciate what has been said of the cool atmosphere surrounding the hotel.

Every day hundreds of visitors from all over Canada and the United States can be seen promenading the balconies, on the golf links, tennis courts, bowling greens or the croquet lawns. An orchestra plays through the dinner hours and in the beautiful ball room every night. Those of our readers who have not had the pleasure of a visit to the Clifton must not forget it on their next trip west.

ACCIDENT AT SHOVEL WORKS.

There was a narrow escape from death yesterday morning when two men, at work on the roof of the Lundy Shovel and Tool Company fell. It seems, that the two men, working on the roof, had for their support a rope passing over said roof. In some inexplicable manner the rope became detached and the men slid to the ground. One of the men, in his fall fell on his companion, who preceded him by a second or two.

DEATH OF MR. J. A. WARNER.

Word was received here yesterday morning of the very sudden death of Mr. J. A. Warner at Cobourg, who some twelve years ago married Miss Minnie Butler, a sister of Mrs. Adam Dawson of this city. The late Mr. Warner sustained a stroke a few months ago, but seemed to have entirely recovered. He was well known in Cobourg, where he carried on a music store, as well as in Peterborough where he had many friends.

Miss Lottie A. Boyle, B.A., of Ottawa, has been the guest of her aunt Mrs. C. D. Crowley, 777 Water St., for a few days.

Mr. and Mrs. James Church, of Toronto, have returned home after a holiday spent with Mr. J. Hanrahan Bolivar street.

Sciatica

EXPECTED DEATH ANY DAY.

Another Case Where Life Was Saved and Health Restored By Nerviline.

We have all read and heard of the agonies of Sciatica, but only those who have been tortured by this dread malady can fully appreciate what it must mean to be cured after years of suffering.

It is because he feels it his solemn duty to tell to the world his faith in Nerviline that Victor P. Hiros makes the following declaration: "For three years I was in the Royal Mail service and in all kinds of weather had to meet the night trains. Dampness, cold and exposure brought on sciatica that affected my left side. Sometimes an attack would come on that made me powerless to work. I was so nearly a cripple that I had to give up my job. I was in despair, completely cast down because the money I spent on trying to get well was completely wasted. I was speaking to my chemist one day, and he recommended Nerviline. I had this good liniment rubbed on several times a day and got relief. In order to build up my general CURED health and improve my blood I used Ferrozone, SIX one tablet with each meal YEARS. I continued this treatment four months and was cured. I have used all kinds of liniments, and can truthfully say that Nerviline is far stronger, more penetrating, and infinitely better than anything else for relieving pain. I urge everyone with lumbago, neuralgia, rheumatism or sciatica to use Nerviline. I know it will cure them."

There isn't a more highly esteemed citizen in Westchester than Mr. Hiros. What he says can be relied upon. For six years since being cured he hasn't had a single relapse. Don't accept anything from your dealer but "Nerviline." 25 cents per bottle or five for $1. Sold everywhere or the Catarrhozone' Co., Kingston.

THE RESULT AT RENO.

The fight promoters at Reno had something to dispose of which appealed to the public. Their wares, a prize fight in this instance, were widely advertised with the usual result. A host of people who would not be seen at the ringside for the world were interested, and waited for the fight returns with impatience Exhibitions of strength have ever appealed to mankind. When such exhibitions are competitive, the acquire the added interest which attaches to all contests in which one human being, or one racehorse for that matter is pitted against another. When the third element of race prejudice is also a factor, such a contest becomes even wider in its appeal to manvind.

The competitive instinct aroused by a fight such as that at Reno is not, on such occasions, seen in its noblest form. Turned to higher and to worthier aims, it is a phase of man's nature, which brings to him much of the joy of life. The sense of overcoming difficulties, the zest of achieving despite obstacles, is one of the things which make a healthy man happy. Perhaps that is why he is interested in any hard fought contest which is brought vividly to his notice, even in a fight which appeals to his primal instincts. The pitting of one man against another, or of one child against another in school life for instance, may often be unwise, but it involves one of the real elements of progress.

The victory of one colored man over one white man has nothing to do with race supremacy. It may excite the negroes of the south, it may even more some of them to frenzy and to crime, but, as between the races, it demonstrates nothing. Among his own people, Johnson will be something of a hero, as cheap a hero as Jeffries would have been among his kind had he "come back." He will rush across continent in his automobile, breaking speed laws and paying fines and rejoicing in the notoriety which he achieves. He has made a small fortune, made it quickly, and will probably lose it quickly. There are plenty who will gladly help him to lose it.

The self control of the fighters, the physical improvement in a man as old as Jeffries is, as the result of simple living and abstemiousness, are things which will probably be lost sight of by the majority of those who became interested in the fight. The larger problem, a problem which the United States would fain lose sight of but cannot, is not the black man and white at Reno, but the black man and the white through out the South, the great race question which the republic must answer as best it may.

SECURITY AND EARNING POWER

The bonds of the Company are secured by a deed of trust in favor of the Montreal Trust Co., which is an absolute First Mortgage upon the Hydraulic development and transmission lines upon all street railway extensions, present and future and upon all new rolling stock of the Company, and which is a mortgage on the rights, powers, franchises and existing lines, subject only to the outstanding $100,000 Sherbrooke Street Railway Bonds.

Messrs. Ross & Holgate, Consulting Engineers, of Montreal, who have examined and reported upon the position of the Company, estimate that its earnings when in full operation, should be as follows :

Street Railway—

Gross Revenue		$92,200
Operating Costs		40,000
Net Revenue		$57,200
Power Department—
Gross Revenue	$52,600
Operating Costs	13,800
Net Revenue		$39,000
Rentals		3,000
Total		60,200
Bond Interest		26,000
Surplus		34,200

RAILWAY EARNINGS.—As also gross earnings of the old system for 1909 amounted to $61,222, with the largely increased mileage, reaching the residential portions of the city, the above estimate should be conservative.

POWER EARNINGS.—As applications have already been received for the greater part of the available power there is every reason to believe that on the completion of the development in November the whole will be contracted for.

BUSINESS FOR TRACTION SYSTEM AND MARKET FOR POWER

The city of Sherbrooke and surrounding country offer a very attractive field for both the Traction and Power Departments of the Company.

The growth of the population of Sherbrooke has been of a very steady and permanent character. In 1871 it had a population of 4,332, which has increased to about 17,000 at the present time. It is estimated that including the town of Lennoxville, where Bishop's College is situated, that the Street Railway serves a population of 20,000.

Although the population of the city has increased over fifty per cent. in the fifteen years since it commenced operations, the present street railway system has never been extended. It is now proposed to more than double the existing mileage.

Sherbrooke is the commercial centre of the Eastern Townships, which results in it having at nearly all times of the year a fairly large transient population.

It is also an important Railway and Industrial centre. It is a divisional point of the Canadian Pacific Railway; the Canadian terminus of the Boston and Maine System, the headquarters of the Quebec Central Railway Co., and is on the main line of the Grand Trunk Railway.

Its importance as an Industrial centre may be judged from the fact that it is the headquarters of such well-known concerns as the Jenckes Machine Company and Rand Drill Company, which supply large part of the mining machinery used in Canada, the Paton Manufacturing Company, the largest woollen company in the Dominion, the Fairbank's Scale Company (Canadian Branch), the Webster Cigar Company the Silver Springs Breweries, the Sherbrooke Iron and Foundry Company, and the Paper Machinery Manufacturing Company.

In addition to the above, several important interests are considering at the present time locating in Sherbrooke, the conditions pertaining to labor, transportation and cheap power being favorable for the operation of industrial plants. The surrounding district, besides being rich in timber and minerals, comprises the greatest asbestos deposits in the world.

STRONG FRANCHISE POSITION

The Sherbrooke Railway and Power Co. is right from its inception a going concern.

As a Street Railway concern the new company has a 40-year franchise from the city of Sherbrooke which gives the exclusive right to build and operate a street railway within the limits of the city during this period, with exemption from all taxation for the first twenty years. At the end of twenty years the municipality has the right to purchase the Street Railway as a going concern.

For its power department the company has purchased certain water powers on the Magog River within the precincts of the City of Sherbrooke. These will be developed at one site, and will have sufficient capacity not only to provide for the increased requirements of the extended Street Railway, but also to leave 2,600 H. P. available for sale outside to the numerous industries in and about Sherbrooke.

These powers are based upon the minimum flow of the Magog River. Under its charter the Company has the right to sell Hydro-Electric Power not only in the City of Sherbrooke, but as well throughout the District of St. Francis. This District takes in the counties of Sherbrooke, Stanstead, Wolfe, Compton, Richmond and Megantic and comprises a total population of about 150,000 people.

Outlook for city :—

Sherbrooke, by its situation as an industrial centre, is destined to keep pace with the tremendous development that is taking place in Montreal, and in the future an increasing number of industries will find it advantageous from a point of view of labor and power to locate within its limits.

As the centre of one of the richest farming districts in Eastern Canada, it will gain additional importance as a retail and distributing centre.

The Sherbrooke Railway and Power Company will share in both its departments in the growth and development of the City and its surrounding districts.

COMMERCIAL UNITY.

The recent commercial treaties entered upon by Canada have moved the London Morning Post to advocate a policy of commercial unity within the Empire.

"The Canadian negotiations, in form," it says, "represented the furthest development of colonial independence yet reached. The Canadian government have, in the case of the United States, carried on the negotiations almost as if it were the central government and the Empire were non-existent.

"There is no link," it proceeds, between the fiscal system of Canada and that of this country, such as might render one in any way dependent on the other. If this country had been in a position to back Canada against the United States when the Americans raised the 'big stick' of their penal tariff, the Canadian government would have had some reason to enlist the practical co-operation of the British ambassador at Washington, but to no common interest, in fact, existed apart from that of mere sentiment, and there was no practical reason why the Canadian Government should give any thought to Downing street at all.

"It is true that if the government of the United States were afterwards to refuse to carry out the contract the Dominion government would have to look to the United Kingdom which controls practically all the fighting power of the Empire, for the ultimate means of enforcing Canadian rights, but that contingency is so remote that in practice it is never thought of."

MISS DEACON MARRIED TO PRINCE RADZIWILL.

The Affair Was Postponed Last Week —Groom Fared Well in Money Matters.

London, July 5.—Prince Antoine Albert Radziwill of Poland, was married at 12.30 today in St. Marys church to Miss Dorothy Deacon, daughter of the late Edward Parker Deacon of Boston. Monsignor Bidwell officiated.

Owing to the curiosity arising out of last week's unexpected postponement of the wedding, every effort was made to have the ceremony conducted with as much privacy as possible. Only the closest friends of the couple were present, and the reception that had been planned was abandoned.

An enormous crowd waited outside the church and the police were called upon to hold the people in check.

Despite the recent explanation that the wedding was postponed last week owing to the objection of the Prince's grandmother to his marrying a woman without a title, it is generally believed today that the prince's family were holding out for a more liberal settlement upon the bridegroom. The financial arrangement has not been learned, but Mrs. Baldwin, mother of the bride, and Solicitor Adams were both quoted as saying that "the prince had fared well in the money arrangement."

The demand for a settlement on the prince is said to have been made in view of that fact that it may be several years before he comes into possession of the family estates in Poland, which bring in a great revenue.

FIGHTING THE FLY.

Declaring War Against the House Fly.

A good purpose is served by the articles now appearing in Canadian and American papers declaring war against the house-fly. In one article it is remarked that England is so thoroughly rid of flies that the English rarely screen their houses. "How did the English do it?" As we must do it; by each family keeping its house clean. Screens will keep flies out of a house and fly-paper will kill them. But neither gets at the cause. There is only one way to do away with flies, and that is to keep clean the places where they breed and love to feed."

The advantage of this campaignis that it is not only gainst the fly but against filth. The means are as important as the end. A place that will afford no comfort to flies will be a clean and wholesome place, which will not give offence or breed disease. There will be a regular course of purification by fire, water soap and disinfectants, and when the fly disappears it will be found that other nuisances and danger have tak en their departure.

STABLE BOY SHOT.

Garland Murray Critically Wounded In Row Over Game of Dice.

Buffalo, N.Y., July 2.—Garland Murray, a negro stable boy for "Dick" Williams, at the Fort Erie track, is at the Buffalo general hospital, hovering between life and death, as the result of a 38-calibre bullet wound, while the police of Buffalo and Canada are searching for a negro hostler known as "Big Boy" Graham, suspected of doing the shooting.

The two became involved in an argument during a dice game at the track yesterday morning, and it is alleged Graham with a shot from his revolver. Several hours were lost before the wounded man was brought here. The surgeons have not located the bullet, and because of Murray's serious condition, fear an effort to do so would only hasten the end.

The intestines are punctured in a number of places.

Chief of Police Dowd of Bridgeburg, thinks Graham escaped on a freight train.

Jim recognized from former hailings the well known magisterial dais and witness box. He begged to be put on the b.nk list and was accommodated. He claimed to have had $600 to his credit when on the proscribed list before. The local licensees for liquor sale were notified. There is the making of a man in this man.

There is more catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.

Nothing in the way of a Cough is quite so annoying as a tickling, teasing, irritating, bronchial Cough. The quickest relief comes perhaps from a prescription known to Druggists everywhere as Dr. Sheop's Cough Remedy. And besides, it is so thoroughly harmless that mothers give it with perfect safety even to the youngest babes. The tender leaves of a simple mountain shrub, give to Dr. Sheop's Cough Remedy its remarkable curative effect. It is truly a most certain and trustworthy prescription. Sold by all dealers.

A falling they never—no longer than the finest silken thread—taken from the heart its impulse, its power, its regularity. The stomach also has its hidden, or inside nerve. It was Dr. Sheop who first told us it was necessary to drug a weak or failing Stomach, Heart or Kidneys. His prescription—Dr. Sheop's Restorative—is directed straight for the cause of these ailments—then weak and faltering inside nerves. This, no doubt clearly explains why the Restorative has of late grown so rapidly in popularity. Druggists say that those who test the Restorative even for a few days seem hardly to realize the result of its wonderful merit. Anyway, don't drug the organ. Treating the cause of sickness is the only sensible and successful way. Sold by all dealers.

THE NEW GOLDEN BUC KET

A few years ago, the recovery of Gold from auriferous gravels and subaqueous beds, was considered impossible. The "pan" and "grimsby," operated by hand, appeared to be the sole method of recovering values. It was during this period that Dr. Linderman, Director of the United States Mint expressed the opinion that he who, could devise a machine, without adding proportionately to the cost of production, capable of saving 50 per cent. of all the placer gold, would not only enrich himself, but within the lives of many still living, would double the world's available gold bullion. The Director of the United States Mint further said:—"WE CAN HARDLY HOPE FOR THIS, THOUGH NO MAN DARE SAY IT IS IMPOSSIBLE."

The perfected modern Dredge, is to-day a substantial reality. Allowing for delays in shifting, for necessary repairs, etc., the Gold Dredge runs on an average about 20 hours out of twenty-four, thus making up in length of working day, loss of operation during winter months. These Dredges are operated in ready made mining areas, recovering millions of dollars annually, at the lowest possible cost.

The Director of the Mint of the United States in his report for 1909 says:

"The Gold Dredge makes money where a coolie would starve."

Outing Magazine: "When you think that bold inventive talent, has been able to devise machinery that makes it profitable to extract ten cents worth of gold from a ton of earth, the enterprise becomes one of the romances of American industry."

"A chain of powerful buckets bite into the earth, each bringing up a tremendous quantity of earth and gravel. These are subjected to screen treatment, and the gold recovered."

California in 45 years, within radius of less than ten miles of placer ground, produced $200,000,000 in gold. To-day the vast number of Modern Dredges working over old ground are recovering millions annually.

LOCAL IMPROVEMENTS.

Messrs. J. J. Turner & Sons Make Important Changes in Grand Opera House.

Messrs. J. J. Turner & Sons, with their proverbial hustle and "Get there," are making great improvements at the Grand Opera House. In fact these changes were about completed last night.

The work has been done by Messrs. Maitland & Moore. A cornice has been fitted to the west end of the roof, of the east stories. It is the intention of the management to erect an additional storey to the west end to make it the same height as the other end. The plans are now being drawn and the work will commence as soon as these have been received.

She was born in Ireland 77 years ago. Surviving her are four sons, Messrs. The funeral will take place tomorrow morning from the late residence at nine o'clock to St. Joseph's cemetery.

Broke Wildst Breaking Broncbos.

From baggage smashing to broncho busting is a far call. Still, a former Peterborough man has taken this jump. Mr. Alex. Caulder, was, some time ago baggage agent at the G.T.R. station here. Mr. Caulder, however, quit the baggage business and went out west on a ranch. His many friends will regret to learn that this gentleman, a few days ago, whilst engaged in breaking a number of fractious broncbos, had the misfortune to get tangled up with his lariat, and thrown to the ground Mr. Caulder sustained a compound fracture of the wrist bones. It is expected that he will return to Peterborough.

OLD CITIZEN GONE.

Mr. A. H. Peck Passes Away at the Venerable Age of 90 Years.

Yesterday morning one of Peterborough's oldest and most respected citizens passed away, in the person of Mr. Arthur Harry Peck, at his residence, 197 Mark street, Ashburnham.

The late Mr. Peck was born at Maid stone, Count Kent, England, in 1821. He came to this country in 1839, and purchased a farm in Otonabee, and for some years followed the agricultural life. In 1855 he disposed of his farm and returned to England. Fifteen years later he again came to Canada and has resided here ever since. In 1845 he married Miss Mary Armour, daughter of Rev. Samuel Armour, the first rector of St. Johns Anglican church, Peterborough.

Up till the time of the union of Peterborough and Ashburnham, the late Mr. Peck had been a member of Ashburnham Council, and fulfilled the duties of treasurer for many years.

He was also a faithful member of the Church of England, and was a past master of the Corinthian Lodge A.F. & A.M.

His wife died in 1894.

Surviving him are three daughters and two sons, namely Caroline, Henrietta and Ellen, of Peterborough; John Henry Peck, of Vancouver, and Edward Armour Peck, barrister, of this city.

The funeral will be under Masonic auspices at 2.30 o'clock tomorrow afternoon, interment taking place in Little Lake cemetery.

TO SETTLE KING'S OATH FORTH-WITH TO PREVENT AGITATION

NONCONFORMISTS WILL PRESENT A MEMORIAL TO ASQUITH.

THE DECLARATION BILL WILL BE PASSED BEFORE BRITISH HOUSE RISES FOR RECESS.

To Prevent Agitation Sir Howell Davis Will Try to Prevent Exhibition of Fight Pictures in Great Britain.

London, July 7. — The Fairfield Company have launched the Princess Adelaide for the Canadian Pacific, Vancouver-Seattle service. It has accommodation for 240 first and 240 second-class passengers.

TO PROHIBIT PICTURES.

London, July 7.—Sir Howell Davies has given notice of his intention to ask the home secretary in the House of Commons "in the interests of public decency," to prohibit the exhibition of biograph pictures of the Johnson-Jeffries fight.

London, July 7.—In the Commons Premier Asquith announced that the declaration bill would be passed before the House rose. That the premier's decision was that he considered it desirable in order to prevent agitation in the country during recess. The Nonconformist members of the House, numbering one hundred, decided to present a memorial to Asquith, and to repeat their declaration that they think it sufficient that the King should declare his adherence to Protestantism, not to the Church of England.

INDIA'S VICEROY.

In the choice of a viceroy for India the British administration seems to be guided very largely by a consideration of hereditary fitness. In 1894 the Earl of Elgin was appointed. He was the son of the Earl of Elgin, who was governor-general of India, and after a brief term in office, in which he greatly distinguished himself, died at Dharmsala, the place of piety," in November 1863. In 1905 the present viceroy, the Earl of Minto, was nominated by Mr. John Morley. Lord Minto is the great grandson of the Earl of Minto, who served as governor-general of India from 1806-7813. Now the viceroy appointed is a grandson of Viscount Hardinge, one of the most distinguished soldiers of the British army, who as governor-general in 1879, commanded the army in person at the battles of Mundi, Ferashah and Sobraon, which eventually gave to Great Britain the province of Punjab. Nothing takes with the nabobs of India like pedigree and this is now being recognized at home.

The office of the viceroy of India is truly a princely one, indeed it is a imperial position. The viceroy rules 300,000,000 people, made up of the most war-like races of the whole earth. He is the greatest ruler of Mohammedan peoples ever known. No calip, shah or sultan has ever ruled 77,000,000 of these Moslems.

There is nothing either radical or democratic in the position of viceroy of India. His five years of office may be extended or may be curtailed by the British administration in power.

Merry Del Val is to Resign Office

Madrid, July 7.—In case of a break between the Vatican and the Spanish Government as the result of the present discussion, regarding the revision of the concordat, Cardinal Merry Del Val, papal secretary of state, it was announced today, would resign his position. The papal secretary, his friends say, has the strongest national feeling and will not wish to remain in a position where his feeling would be in a constant clash with his official duties.

The debate over the religious questions at issue continues to be the all-absorbing topic in both Houses of Parliament. While the clericals are making the fight of their lives for the dominance of the Catholic Church in the government, there are increasing evidences that Premier Canalejas will win his fight against the invasion of State sovereignty by the Church.

Sardinal Merry Del Val will be remembered by Canadians generally, as he paid an extended visit to this country some years ago.

He has been the cynosure of all eyes for a length of time, as he is considered one of the moving spirits in the Vatican.

"White Trash" Crowded Into Background

Chicago, July 7. — Fashionable "Coontown" crowded around the Chicago and Northwestern railroad station today, flanked the approaches to the station and waited patiently for the arrival of their high priest "Lil Artha" Johnson, carrying with him the scalp of one James J. Jeffries now retiring with a well developed grouch to his Alfalfa farm in California.

Every sort of colored "gent" and his lady friend were on the waiting list many hours before the train drew into the station, several hours behind time.

DRESSED UP QUAINT DESIGN.

Old "mammies" familiar before the war, wearing dresses of quaint design and pattern stood alongside coontown's "belles" dressed on the latest conceivable styles and wearing the broadest and most lavishly plumed hats purchaseable since July 4th.

Thirty-five chugging, puffing automobiles carrying the elite of the Armour avenue society and the reception committee were on hand and stood about nervously. Younger members of the race were also on hand to pay homage to the conquering hero.

A damper was thrown on the affair by the refusal of the police to allow the colored populace to hold a parade in honor of their hero.

MOTHER IS HAPPY.

Mrs. Tina Johnson, mother of the black champion, was on hand early and could scarcely be kept in her automobile while efforts were being made to locate when the train would arrive.

"I jess wants to see that boy Arthy," said the old woman nervously. "I jess knows he'll be po'ful glad to see his mammy."

Miss Deacon Married to Miss Radziwill

London, July 5.—Prince Antoine Albert Radziwill of Poland, was married at 12.30 today in St. Marys church to Miss Dorothy Deacon, daughter of the late Edward Parker Deacon of Boston. Monsignor Bidwell officiated.

Owing to the curiosity arising out of last week's unexpected postponement of the wedding, every effort was made to have the ceremony conducted with as much privacy as possible. Only the closest friends of the couple were present, and the reception that had been planned was abandoned.

An enormous crowd waited outside the church and the police were called upon to hold the people in check.

Despite the recent explanation that the wedding was postponed last week owing to the objection of the Prince's grandmother to his marrying a woman without a title, it is generally believed today that the prince's family were holding out for a more liberal settlement upon the bridegroom. The financial arrangement has not been learned, but Mrs. Baldwin, mother of the bride, and Solicitor Adams were both quoted as saying that "the prince had fared well in the money arrangement."

The demand for a settlement on the prince is said to have been made in view of that fact that it may be several years before he comes into possession of the family estates, in Poland, which bring in a great income.

Prisoner Escaped from Cobourg's Jail

Toronto, July 7.—The Toronto police are looking for Ed. Geary, a young prisoner, who escaped from Cobourg jail last night by a sensational method.

Geary's home is in Belleville. He is an expert bicycle thief, and has made a profession of stealing and selling bicycles. He was convicted on four charges and there are as many against him.

While serving a sentence at Cobourg jail he managed to exchange his prison clothing for his own suit, and having constructed an aeroplane out of a plank and a rope, he joined the profession of aviation, and flew over the wall. He has not been recaptured. The jailers at Cobourg were changed recently.

May be Huge Strike 50,000 are Out Now

New York, July 7.—A strike of the fifty thousand or more women in the International Ladies' Garment Workers' Union was declared at a meeting of the committee of 60 today, to go into effect at two o'clock this afternoon. The workers demand recognition of union, shorter hours, increased pay and better working conditions. It is said the employers expect to have work on hand completed in Cleveland and Chicago, and that at the first sign that this is being done, strikes will be called in those cities.

Not a minute should be lost when a child shows symptoms of croup. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy given as soon as the child becomes hoarse or even after the croupy cough appears, will prevent the attack. Sold by all dealers.

Peterborough Man in Big Deal.

The largest single shipment of syrup and molasses ever consigned in the world's history, was sent a few weeks ago from Fort Scott, Kan., by two former residents of Peterborough. These gentlemen are Messrs. Mark and Bertie Orde, sons of Mrs. Bertram Orde, who has been the guest of Mrs. Archer, Rubidge street. Mr. Mark Orde is secretary-treasurer of the Chicago Street Railway, who with his brother Bert, is interested in the Fort Scott sugar factory, which made this immense shipment. The consignment consisted of one hundred car loads, or four million pounds of syrup.

Hospital for Sick Clothing.

"A change came over the spirit of my dreams," might well be recited by the spirit who may haunt the vacated, but re-occupied premises formerly owned by the Commercial House, at the corner of George and Brock streets. Instead of a place where intoxicants were dispensed to those having the price, or possibly the credit, there are now three fine stores. The store at the north-east corner has been taken, and already occupied by Wesley Bros., "The Clothes' Doctors." Messrs. Wesley Bros., are too well known by our readers to require a detailed account of their business. The point to be presented is the celerity with which this enterprising firm occupied and fitted up their new location.

This hospital for clothes requiring a clean up or trousers that bag at the knees and want pressing to make said unmentionables look like new is an improvement to George street, and doubtless Messrs Wesley Bros., will do a large and rapidly increasing business in their new stand.

Blamed for Secret Agreement Made Between Japan and Russia

GREAT BRITAIN'S POLICY THE CAUSE OF THE CHANGE.

BLAMED FOR SECRET AGREEMENT MADE BETWEEN JAPAN AND RUSSIA.

Her Prestige Decreased in the Far East, It is Said at Washington—Will Attempt to Retrieve.

Washington, July 7.—Government experts on Far Eastern affairs are searching for proof of a secret agreement between Japan and Russia for the partition of Manchuria adverse to the United States. For months past these diplomatic sleuths have been convinced that some such understanding has been reached.

The railroad agreement just signed by both powers provides for the elimination of competition between the Russian and Japanese systems in Manchuria. It is suspected that this is but a blind to deceive the other powers.

Its reiteration of the intentions of the two countries to preserve the status quo is regarded as no more than a thrilling phrase, which has been used repeatedly to distract attention from the real underground working of the two nations to secure a firm grip on China's riches, provided

COMPLETE UPHEAVAL.

A complete upheaval in the Far Eastern diplomacy is looked for during the next few months. A realignment of the powers which will probably make the British alliance with Japan a mockery. Whatever the ultimate purposes of Japan and of Oriental politics. The "open door in what and bolted in Manchuria," and the gospel of equal opportunity has become obsolete.

The negative policy of Great Britain is regarded as being the principal cause of the change.

BELMONT CLUB.

Fine New Home of Local Gathering Formally Opened.

The splendid new home of the Belmont Club, situated most charmingly on the bank of the Otonabee, has been formally opened. Dr. A. W. MacPherson, the president of the club, extended a most hearty welcome to the guests present. He explained that the object of the club house was to give the members who could not get away from the city to the summer resorts an opportunity of enjoying the pleasures of boating and expressed the hope that this would not be the only opportunity that the Belmont Club would have of welcoming its friends to spend an evening in the club house.

Hon. J. S. Hendrie made a well timed and happily expressed speech at the opening ceremony. He referred to the grand motives actuating the members in building this club house for the upbuilding of the young manhood of our city. He also referred to the quick and satisfactory work done by the contractor, Mr. W. Hipperson in completing so good a job in such quick time.

OFFICIALS ENTERTAINED.

Toronto's Mayor Dines Peterborough's Mayor and Local Officials.

His Worship Mayor Morrow, seven aldermen and City Engineer Nasy, of Peterborough, were in the city yesterday in quest of information on roadmaking and pavement construction. They were taken on a tour of inspection of the city streets by Ald. Maguire, Ald. Chisholm, and Assistant City Engineer Powell. They were entertained at luncheon at McConkey's, when his Worship Mayor Geary extended civic greetings to the visitors. The party is visiting other cities to inspect the streets. Mayor Morrow has inaugurated a good roads campaign in Peterborough and the city intend paving the principal streets, and the council is making a tour to ascertain the best system to adopt. The visitors were greatly impressed with the condition of the city streets and complimented Commissioner Harris on keeping them so clean.—Mail and Empire.

RELIGIOUS DEBATES IN SPAIN.

Country to Place Herself Abreast of Modern Nations.

Madrid, July 6.—Religious debates are raging in both Houses of Parliament.

The Bishop of Madrid, leading the attack the Senate, claimed that the laws of the Church are the laws of the country because the constitution makes Catholicism the State religion. Canalejas in reply stated that the invasion of the State sovereignty by the Church was no longer intolerable.

"I know that [illegible] to accomplish my [illegible] Whether it succeeds or not does not matter, as [illegible] Spain will place herself abreast of modern nations."

COMMERCIAL UNITY.

The recent commercial treaties entered upon by Canada have moved the London Morning Post to adopt a policy of commercial unity within the Empire.

The Canadian Gazette, in [illegible] says, "represented the further development of colonial independence yet realized. The Canadian government has, in the face of the United States, carried on the negotiations almost as if it were the [illegible] and the British [illegible] were non-existent."

"There is no Hab-" it proceeds, "between the fiscal system of Canada and that of this country, such as might render one in any way dependent on the other. If this country had been in a position to back Canada against the United States when the Americans raised the 'big stick' of their penal tariff, the Canadian government would have had some reason to enlist the practical co-operation of the British ambassador at Washington, but to no common interest, in fact, existed apart from that of mere sentiment, and there was no practical reason why the Canadian Government should give any thought to Downing street at all.

"It is true that if the government of the United States were afterwards to refuse to carry out the contract the Dominion government would have to look to the United Kingdom which controls practically all the fighting power of the Empire, for the ultimate means of enforcing Canadian rights, but that contingency is so remote that in practice it is never thought of."

STABLE BOY SHOT.

Garland Murray Critically Wounded In Row Over Game of Dice.

Buffalo, N.Y., July 7.—Garland Murray, a negro stable boy for "Dick" Williams, at the Fort Erie track, is at the Buffalo general hospital, hovering between life and death, as the result of a 38-calibre bullet wound, while the police of Buffalo and Canada are searching for a negro hostler known as "Big Boy" Graham, suspected of doing the shooting.

The two became involved in an argument during a dice game at the track yesterday morning, and it is alleged Graham with a shot from his revolver. Several hours were lost before the wounded man was brought here. The surgeons have not located the bullet, and because of Murray's serious condition, fear an effort to do so would only hasten the end.

The intestines are punctured in a number of places.

BOARD OF DIRECTORS

CLARENCE J. McGUAIG, Montreal, President.....Vice-President Black Lake Consolidated Asbestos Company, Director Ottawa Light, Heat & Power Company
WM. FARWELL, Sherbrooke.....President of the Eastern Townships Bank
S. H. EWING, Montreal.....President Montreal Cotton Company. Vice-President Molsons Bank.
R. T. HOPPER, Montreal.....Director Amalgamated Asbestos Corporation. President Dominion Marble Company.
W. H. BROUSE, Toronto.....Brouse, Mitchell & Co., Vice-President Cobalt Hydraulic Power Company. Director Canadian Niagara Power Company.
FRANK THOMPSON, Montreal, Secretary-Treasurer.....Frank Thompson & Company.

SECURITY AND EARNING POWER

The bonds of the Company are secured by a deed of trust in favor of the Montreal Trust Co., which is an absolute First Mortgage upon the Hydraulic development and transmission lines upon all street railway extensions, present and future and upon all new rolling stock of the Company, and which is a mortgage on the rights, powers, franchises and existing lines, subject only to the outstanding $100,000 Sherbrooke Street Railway Bonds.

Messrs. Ross & Holgate, Consulting Engineers, of Montreal, who have examined and reported upon the position of the Company, estimate that its earnings when in full operation, should be as follows:

Street Railway—

Gross Revenue	$66,250
Operating Costs	40,950
Net Revenue	$27,300

Power Department—

Gross Revenue	$62,000
Operating Costs	12,000
Net Revenue	$50,000
Rentals	3,000
Total	53,200
Bond Interest	35,000
Surplus	24,200

RAILWAY EARNINGS.—As the gross earnings of the old system for 1909 amounted to $61,322, with the largely increased mileage, reaching the residential portions of the city, the above estimate should be conservative.

POWER EARNINGS.—As applications have already been received for the greater part of the available power there is every reason to believe that on the completion of the development in November the whole will be contracted for.

BUSINESS FOR TRACTION SYSTEM AND MARKET FOR POWER

The city of Sherbrooke and surrounding country offer a very attractive field for both the Traction and Power Departments of the Company.

The growth of the population of Sherbrooke has been of a very steady and permanent character. In 1871 it had a population of 4,332, which has increased to about 17,000 at the present time. It is estimated that including the town of Lennoxville, where Bishop's College is situated, that the Street Railway serves a population of 20,000.

Although the population of the city has increased over fifty per cent. in the fifteen years since it commenced operations, the present street railway system has never been extended. It is now proposed to more than double the existing mileage.

Sherbrooke is the commercial centre of the Eastern Townships, which results in it having at nearly all times of the year a fairly large transient population.

It is also an important Railway and Industrial centre. It is a divisional point of the Canadian Pacific Railway; the Canadian terminus of the Boston and Maine System, the headquarters of the Quebec Central Railway Co., and is on the main line of the Grand Trunk Railway.

Its importance as an Industrial centre may be judged from the fact that it is the headquarters of such well-known concerns as the Jenckes Machine Company and Rand Drill Company, which supply large part of the mining machinery used in Canada, the Paton Manufacturing Company, the largest woollen company in the Dominion, the Fairbank's Scale Company (Canadian Branch), the Webster Cigar Company the Silver Springs Breweries, the Sherbrooke Iron and Foundry Company, and the Paper Machinery Manufacturing Company.

In addition to the above, several important interests are considering at the present time locating in Sherbrooke, the conditions pertaining to labor, transportation and cheap power being favorable for the operation of industrial plants. The surrounding district, besides being rich in timber and minerals, comprises the greatest asbestos deposits in the world.

STRONG FRANCHISE POSITION

The Sherbrooke Railway and Power Co. is right from its inception a going concern.

As a Street Railway concern the new company has a 40-y ear franchise from the city of Sherbrooke which gives the exclusive right to build and operate a street railway within the limits of the city during this period, with exemption from all taxation for the first twenty years. At the end of twenty years the municipality has the right to purchase the Street Railway as a going concern.

For its power department the company has purchased certain water powers on the Magog River within the precincts of the City of Sherbrooke. These will be developed at one site, and will have sufficient capacity not only to provide for the increased requirements of the extended Street Railway, but also to lease 2,000 H. P. available for sale outside to the numerous industries in and about Sherbrooke.

These figures are based upon the minimum flow of the Magog River. Under its charter the Company has the right to sell Hydro-Electric Power not only in the City of Sherbrooke, but as well throughout the District of St. Francis. This District takes in the counties of Sherbrooke, Stanstead, Wolfe, Compton, Richmond and Megantic and comprises a total population of about 150,000 people.

Outlook for city:—

Sherbrooke, by its situation as an industrial centre, is destined to keep pace with the tremendous development that is taking place in Montreal, and in the future an increasing number of industries will find it advantageous from a point of view of labor and power to locate within its limits.

As the centre of one of the richest farming districts in Eastern Canada, it will gain additional importance as a retail and distributing centre.

The Sherbrooke Railway and Power Company will share in both its departments in the growth and development of the City and its surrounding districts.

LONDON NEWSPAPERS NOT SURPRISED AT THE RACE RIOTS WHICH FOLLOWED.

London, July 6.—While deploring the American race riots that followed the Jeffries-Johnson fight, London newspapers today unexpectedly offered excuses for the disorders, and generally admitted that Europeans have little idea of the race situation in the U.S.

The usually anti-American Evening Globe, referring to the attempt to lynch a negro in New York city declares:

"Really our sympathy runs more to the men with the rope than to the blatant blacks. It is against human nature to expect the whites to accept the negroes' insolent assertion that Johnson's victory established the superiority of the blacks without instant protest.

"The Reno contest was one of the most injudicious ever permitted, and its racial effects will continue for years. Americans are the trustees of the predominance of the whites over the blacks and we believe they will be true to their trust.

The London papers generally deplore prize fights between whites and blacks as tending to raise the racial issue, which is now worrying England in South Africa.

A CRACK AT TEDDY.

The Evening Star seizes the occasion to make fun of Col. Roosevelt and his Guild Hall speech. It recites Roosevelt's contention that the first duty of a civilized nation must be to preserve order and then says that his complacency must indeed be shaken."

"We wait to see whether he will apply his criticisms of England in Egypt to his own country," the Star adds. "It is a pity that Americans are not cultivated in the art of taking defeat in sports in a dignified way, and of minding their own business politically."

The Star also finds comfort in the statement of Foreign Secretary Grey that Sir Eldon Gorst, whose administration of affairs in Egypt was inferentially condemned by Roosevelt, is not to be removed as British agent and consul-general in Egypt.

"Roosevelt allowed himself to be the cat's paw," the Star says, "of a cabal against Gorst, and Sir Edward Grey's admission of the knowledge of the speech did much to kill the Liberals' confidence in him. We are glad Sir Edward has settled the removal rumor."

The Standard is shocked at the presence of women at the fight, and says: "When next we are shocked by the spectacle of Spanish women at a bull fight, let us remember that in an Anglo-Saxon community women looked on while two nearly naked men fought each other until one was pounded into insensibility."

THE RESULT AT RENO.

The fight promoters at Reno had something to dispose of which appealed to the public. Their wares, a prize fight in this instance, were widely advertised with the usual result. A host of people who would not be seen at the ringside for the world were interested, and waited for the fight returns with impatience. Exhibitions of strength have ever appealed to mankind. When such exhibitions are competitive, the acquire the added interest which attaches to all contests in which one human being, or one racehorse for that matter is pitted against another. When the third element of race prejudice is also a factor, such a contest becomes even wider in his appeal to manvind.

The competitive instinct aroused by a fight such as that at Reno is not, on such occasions, seen in its noblest form. Turned to higher and to worthier aims, it is a phase of man:s nature, which brings to him much of the joy of life. The sense of overcoming difficulties, the zest of achieving despite obstacles, is one of the things which make a healthy man happy. Perhaps that is why he is interested in any hard fought contest which is brought vividly to his notice, even in a fight which appeals to his primal instincts. The pitting of one man against another, or of one child against another in school life for instance, may often be unwise, but it involves one of the real elements of progress.

The victory of one colored man over one white man has nothing to do with race supremacy. It may excite the negroes of the south, it may even move some of them to frenzy and to crime, but, as between the races, it demonstrates nothing. Among his own people, Johnson will be something of a hero, as cheap a hero as Jeffries would have been among his kind had he "come back." He will rush across the continent in his automobile, breaking speed laws and paying fines and rejoicing in the notoriety which he achieves. He has made a small fortune, made it quickly, and will probably lose it quickly. There are plenty who will gladly help him to lose it.

The self control of the fighters, the physical improvement in a man as old as Jeffries is, as the result of simple living and abstemiousness, are things which will probably be lost sigh of by the majority of those who became interested in the fight.

The larger problem, a problem which the United States would fain lose sight of but cannot, is not the black man and white at Reno, but the black man and the white throughout the South, the great race question which the republic must answer as best it may.

Little Local Lines

The lawyers and doctors of Peterborough will be the hosts of the local merchants in a trip down the river next Thursday afternoon per Str. Otonabee.

Mme. Melba will not sing in Peterborough this season. Mr. J. J. Turner does not feel justified in putting up a guarantee of $2500 for one night.

Mr. Frederick Nicholls, head of the Canadian General Electric Co., says that, for the Canadian Electrical Association to affiliate with the American Association would mean disintegration for the former.

The dry goods merchants of the city and the members of the Law Association closed their doors yesterday at one o'clock, the occasion being the first Thursday half holiday.

Last night yewo young men on their way home at a late hour woke up a mutual friend living on Hunter street. The one awakened from sleep, looking out of the window, remarked, "You boys go on or I'll come down and Johnson you."

All Saints' infant class picnic, which was to have been held Thursday afternoon, has, owing to the wet weather, been postponed until Saturday. It will start at 2.45 Saturday afternoon at the church, and after an hour's ride on the cars will go to Jackson Park.

New Government Wharf.

Mr. McGillvray, of the Public Works Department, is in the city in connection with the new government wharves which are in process of construction at Rice Lake and other points. The work on the new wharf in Auburnham at the Otonabee Navigation Company's yard will be constructed this year, not however, before it is needed, as the dockage accommodation is a disgrace to the department.

THE NEW GOLDEN BUCKET

A few years ago, the recovery of Gold from auriferous grounds and subaqueous beds, was considered impossible. The "pan" and "grizzly," operated by hand, appeared to be the sole method of recovering values. It was during this period that Dr. Linderman, Director of the United States Mint covering values. It was during this period that Dr. Linderman, Director of the United States Mint expressed the opinion that he who, could devise a machine, without adding proportionately to the cost of production, capable of saving 50 per cent. of all the placer gold, would not only enrich himself, but within the lives of men still living, would double the world's available gold bullion. The Director of the United States Mint further said,—"WE CAN HARDLY HOPE FOR THIS, THOUGH NO MAN DARE SAY IT IS IMPOSSIBLE."

The perfected modern Dredge, is to-day a substantial reality. Allowing for delays in shifting, for necessary repairs, etc., the Gold Dredge runs on an average about 18 hours out of twenty-four, thus making up in length of working day, loss of operation during winter months. These Dredges are operated in ready made mining areas, recovering millions of dollars annually, at the lowest possible cost.

The Director of the Mint of the United States in his report for 1909 says:

"The Gold Dredge makes money, where a cookie would starve."

Outing Magazine: "When you think that bold inventive talent, has been able to devise machinery that makes it profitable to extract ten cents worth of gold from a ton of earth, the enterprise becomes one of the romances of American industry."

"A chain of powerful buckets bite into the earth, each bringing up a tremendous quantity of earth and gravel. These are subjected to screen treatment, and the gold recovered."

California in 45 years, within a radius of less than ten miles of placer ground, produced $200,000,000 in gold. To-day the vast number of Modern Dredges working over old ground are recovering millions annually.

Over 70,000 Men and Women in the Battle Against Fight Pictures

7,000,000 MEN AND WOMEN ENGAGE IN BATTLE AGAINST FIGHT PICTURES.

"Pirates" Took Views Says Edison, and He Has No Control Over the Parties—A National Campaign Against Pugilism.

Boston, July 7.—Seven million men and women in the United States today are working might and main to secure the absolute prohibition of the Jeffries-Johnson fight moving pictures. Every member of the United Society of Christian Endeavorers, numbering 4,000,000 persons, and each of the 3,000,000 enrolled in the Epworth League, are taking part in the campaign. As a result it was announced today that the films had been barred from more than fifty cities and towns.

Wm. Shaw, general secretary of the Christian Endeavorers, declared that he and his supporters were gratified at the manner in which city after city from Portland Me., to Los Angeles, had taken a stand against the pictures.

Memphis, Tenn., July 7.—Rev. Dr. James R. Winchester, pastor of Calvary church, and a leading minister of Memphis, said this morning he was glad Jack Johnson won over Jim Jeffries.

"It will teach those living in certain localities in the north a lesson, he continued. "It will show them how disgusting it is for a black man to be paraded over the country as a superior person to a member of the white race."

He also said Johnson's winning had aroused the better class of people to acknowledge that something must be done to stop the brutal sport of prize fighting.

NOT FIT TO SEE.

Dr. Winchester is leading a strong movement to stop the exhibition of the fight pictures. He says no decent white man could sit and look at the pictures, and if they are permitted to be shown it will create race troubles between the rough element of the whites and blacks that it may be hard to control.

"Memphis has some good Christian blacks," said he, "and they will join me in this movement, and the best class of negroes, knowing what element would patronize these shows will use their influence to keep the pictures out of Memphis."

Governor Patterson will be in Memphis tonight, and the Rev. Mr. Winchester will visit him and plead to not permit the pictures to be shown in Tennessee.

FORCED RUSSIA INTO JAP CAMP

St. Petersburg, July 7.—The Novoe Vremya ascribes the Russo-Japanese treaty to the proposals of Mr. Knox, the American Secretary of State. Japan was only induced to abandon her lingering dreams of further aggression against the Russian sphere by the sudden development of the forward policy of the United States. The paper adds, exultantly, that the agreement deals a blow to the hopes of those whose plans were based on a continuance of the friction between Russia and Japan. It declares that the American policy for the moment is foiled.

The Reuch, on the other hand, is sceptical as to the value of theagreement, which it says looks like the partition of Manchuria. It may irritate the growing power of China and lead to deplorable results in the future.

Lived for 30 Years as Her Sister's Husband

London, July 8.—The officials who conducted the inquest into the death of "Harry Lloyd," a strange woman, who for thirty years posed as the husband of her sisteri expressed the opinion today that the woman had practiced the deception to save the honor of her sister, and of the latter's daughter.

Thirty years ago Maria Lloyd dropped out of sight and "Harry Lloyd" appeared. Inquiries were made in educational circles for Miss Leroy, but none knew where she was, and she was soon forgotten. "Harry Lloyd," was also a teacher of German, French and Flemish.

"Harry Lloyd" was 78 years old when she died, and had been cared for by her supposed daughter, Elizabeth, in the latter years of her life.

WORLD'S FOREMOST CATHOLIC POWER CHALLENGES VATICAN

FORBIDDING RELIGIOUS ORDERS TO ENTER SPAIN TILL DISPUTE IS SETTLED.

Is Alphonse Sincere—Many Say That He and the Premier are Not—Clericals are Outspoken.

Madrid, July 8.—With the presentation to the Cortes of the bill, already signed by King Alfonso, barring new religious orders from the country during the Concordat negotiations, Spain, long the world's foremost Catholic power, today challenged the Vatican to a struggle as serious as that which in France led to expulsion of all religious organizations.

By this step, Spain definitely takes the offensive in the negotiations with Rome regarding the Concordat. The situation is unprecedented on the Iberian peninsula, for hundreds of years the stronghold of the church.

STAND BY PREMIER.

With the King's signature affixed to the bill, the supporters of Premier Canalejas were today reinforced by a faction which hitherto was neutral in the dispute.

The lieutenants of Canalejas are now confident that the govern ent's program can be carried out in full, even if it is necessary to widen the breach between Madrid and Rome still further.

MAY BRING ON CRISIS.

Though Canalejas' stand has done much to bring about peace in the the disorders resulting from the exinternal affairs of Spain, following the disorders resulting from the execution of Francisco Ferrier and the resultant riots, the fear is spreading that this decisive line up of clerical forces will bring on a new crisis. Many disorders have already occurred as the result of the government's stand against the religious orders and Canalejas' demand that non-Catholic churches be allowed to display the emblems of their faith.

The forces that have been at work since the war with the United States have almost reached the triumph in the long-growing opposition to the church's domination.

EXCURSIONISTS HERE.

Visitors From Lindsay, Omemee and Other Points Enjoy an Outing.

Another sample of the good work done this season for the Otonabee Navigation Company, by Mr. Pinchin, the new general manager, was shown by the splendid way in which the company's steamer Otonabee, handled the crowd from Oakwood, and East Oakwood. Yesterday morning about two hundred and fifty to three hundred people arrived in this city from Oakwood, Lindsay, Omemee and other points. Possibly seventy or eighty people remained in in the city for the day. The balance however, boarded the steamer Otonabee, and took a trip over the lift lock to Lakefield, where a most enjoyable day was spent. Mr. Pinchin had every detail of arrangement made so that those taking the Otonabee were looked after thoroughly in every respect. The excursionists, who came in under auspices of the Oakwood Methodist S.S., returned home from the city at 6 p.m.

GOVERNMENT WILL PREVENT FIGHT PICTURE EXHIBITIONS

Toronto, July, 8.—The movement inaugurated in a number of United States cities to prevent the exhibition of the moving pictures of the Jeffries-Johnson fight, on the ground that they are immoral and degrading, has borne fruit in Canada. The Ontario Government has decided to fall into line, and at a meeting of the Cabinet yesterday an order-in-Council Yas passed prohibiting the exhibition of prize-fight moving pictures in Ontario. This will apply to all prize-fight pictures, but is aimed at the Jeffries-Johnson series. Instructions will be sent at once to all the municipalities of the province. The penalty for a breach of this regulation will be a fine not exceeding $200, and a further fine of $25 per day after the first conviction.

This movement had its initiative in Boston, which is the headquarters of the Society of Christian Endeavor, but behind it are hundreds of other societies the purposes of which are similar to those of the Boston organization.

No other movement in the direction of better public morals that has been started in years in in this country has taken hold so rapidly as this one, the authorities of hundreds of cities having already declared that they will not tolerate any exhibition of the pictures.

That the moving picture syndicate owning the Johnson-Jeffries fight films will resort to the courts of the several different states to determine their right to produce the pictures was indicated when one of the best knownmoving picture men in the country, who has a big interest in the syndicate, said that the agitation against the display of the pictures would be fought.

He said that too much money had been invested by the syndicate, which represents twelve different interests to stand by and see the fight pictures prohibited without making a contest to determine the rights of the authorities to stop the display.

Western Wheat Crop Is Being Baked As If In An Oven

CROP REPORTS ARE FAR FROM REASSURING AND THE OUTLOOK GLOOMY.

Expected Rains Failed to Materialise—The Season is a Fickle, and Disappointing One.

Brandon, Man., July 8.—As a result of the very continued hot weather the crop reports are far from reassuring. With the heavy rain of ten days ago it was felt that the growing grain would completely recover from the effects of the early June drought, but expectations have not been realized. The showers expected to follow the drought period did not materialise, and a scorching heat is baking the growing grain.

"Wheat is not a tropical plant," said a prominent grain grower this morning, "and the tropical weather of last week has been working havoc with the crop. The conditions are about the same as if the wheat had been put in an oven and practically baked. Cold weather would result in some benefit, but it is questionable if even that now would do much good."

For a few days after the drought period the recovery of the grain was wonderful, but with the heat which followed everything fell back as quickly as it had improved.

That today's outlook is decidedly gloomy must be admitted. While a few crops will yield well, many will be practically a total loss, and the season will go on record as one of the most fickle and disappointing in the country's history.

AFTER LOCAL BOATS.

Head of Toronto Branch of Kleine Optical Co., in City Yesterday.

Mr. Cohen, the Toronto manager of the great Klein Optical Company, was in the city yesterday. Mr. Cohen, accompanied by a party of personal friends, arrived in the automobile of the former. Whilst in the city Mr. Cohen, naturally called on the moving picture house proprietors and exchanged a word or two of picture gossip and the outcome of the Johnson-Jeffries prize fight. Mr. Cohen thinks that the moving picture manufacturers will be very heavy losers owng the actions of the governments of Canada, England and the United States, forbidding the fight pictures to be shown. It is understood that Mr. Cohen's visit to Peterborough this trip, is mainly to purchase rowboats and canoes.

NATIVE BANDS DEFEAT JAPS

Victoria, B.C., July 8.—Heavy fighting has taken place in Formosa, in connection with Japan's "little war" with the Formosan natives near Guiran.

On June 15, a number of native bands combined and surrounded the Japanese troops who extricated themselves with a loss of 62 killed and wounded.

Three battalions of infantry and a battery of artillery were hurried to the scene from Taipeh and the natives were dispersed with much loss. The casualities on the Japanese side totaled 78 in killed and wounded.

Whitby Woman in a Trance for 48 Hours

Whitby, July 8.—In a trance or coma for forty-eight hours, and yet knowing everything that went on about her, has been the experience of a young Russian woman, Jenka Grab, here this week. A charge of theft was preferred against her by some of her compatriots, and when the police arrived to arrest her, she locked herself in a room. Ultimately the door was burst open and the girl found in a comatose condition. Not responding to restoratives, she was taken to jail, where the coma continued for forty-eight hours, from Sunday afternoon till Monday evening. Then she awoke, and appeared her natural self. She says she knew all that went on about her, but could not move.

"Can be depended upon," is an expression we all like to hear, and when it is used in connection with Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, it means that it never fails to cure diarrhoea, dysentery or bowel complaints. It is pleasant to take and equally valuable for children and adults. Sold by all dealers.

CUBAN NIGHTINGALES.

Operatic Singers at the Royal Theater Delight Local Audiences.

For the past two days music lovers, particularly those who lean towards vocalism, have had a treat in singing never before excelled in Peterborough. At the Royal Theater are two Cuban ladies, who present a program of music that is unexcelled. These Cuban singers have awakened in thousands of our citizens, an emotion only to be conjured up by such magnificent voices at controlled by the Cuban nightingales. One of these singers, Madame Bobes, has a lyric-soprano of great range and tone. The other Cuban, May Hyer is, without meaning any offence to her, a curiosity in the musical world She has a man's voice, varying between the sweet tones of a tenor whilst touching, and having the timbre of a baritone. At times she even takes a bass note that could hardly be attempted by the average masculine vocalist. The combination of the splendid soprano voice with this feminine tenor produces a result that entrances an audience. Any lover of high-class vocalism should not miss hearing the Cuban nightingales at the Royal this afternoon and evening, as this is the last day they will appear in Peterborough. Miss May Fallon also appears in her very clever quick change act and draws applause at every appearance.

Dashing Woman Aviator was Fatally Injured

Rheims, July 8.—Baroness de la Roche was fatally injured today when flying in a Voisin biplane at the avitation meet.

The machine went wrong and plunged straight down 150 feet, tangling the victim in the devris. She was internally injured and also sustained a fracture of the arm and leg.

GREAT CROWD SAW FALL.

A great crowd had gone out to Bethany Plains, drawn by the hope of seeing more records broken. The opportunity of witnessing a flight by the famous woman aviator raised the enthusiasm to a high pitch.

She set off in her biplane confident and laughing. It was when at the height of 150 feet that it became evident to the spectators that something had gone wrong. In the few moments that the incident occupied, the crowds were turned from cheering enthusiasts to a horror-stricken multitude.

AT TERRIFIC SPEED.

The biplane, going at a terrific speed, suddenly seemed to halt; it appeared tossed on the wind. Then while the driver could be seen to tug at levers, the machine fell, whirling and tossing.

The crowd swarmed over the field in an instant, and the authorities had difficulty in clearing it. Finally a squad of infantrymen forced back the throng.

HURRIED TO HOSPITAL.

A hasty examination of the Baroness was made, and, as soon as the exact extent of her injuries was ascertained, she was hurried to the field hospital..

After a dashing career as an automobilist in the last month, the Baroness came to the front as an aviator and earned a name as one of the most daring air pilots.

She was the first woman to ascend alone in an aeroplane, and the first to take up the sport.

A failing tiny nerve—no larger than the finest silken thread—takes from the Heart its impulse, its power, its regularity. The Stomach also has its hidden or inside nerve. It was Dr. Shoop who first told us it was wrong to drug a weak or failing Stomach, Heart or Kidneys. His prescription—Dr. Shoop's Restorative—is directed straight for the cause of these ailments—these weak and faltering inside nerves. This, no doubt clearly explains why the Restorative has of late grown so rapidly in popularity. Druggists say that those who test the Restorative even for a few days soon become fully convinced of its wonderful merit. Anyway don't drug the organ. Treating the cause of sickness is the only sensible and successful way. Sold by all dealers.

OVER-WORKED KIDNEYS.

Cause, Rush of Blood, Fulness, Dizziness.

J. T. Chetland, the well-known railway engineer of Hamilton, found the strain always resting upon men of his occupation vastly intensified by a tendency of the blood to rush to his head and often at times when clearness of vision and great steadiness were demanded. Finding some difficulty in bending—a stiffness with pain having settled in his back, it occurred to him that his kidneys might be at fault. "This was a happy idea, for by it not only got rid of the pain but many other troubles as well. I took a full dose of Dr. Hamilton's Pills and was glad to note that some obstruction of the kidneys which had lately noticed was at once relieved. The flushed appearance of my face gave way to a more rational color and there was a perceptible improvement in my appetite. Dr. Hamilton's Pills certainly act splendidly upon the blood, removing heat and fulness and that sort of dizziness that makes a man at the throttle wish when it seizes him that he was elsewhere."

No medicine gives such unquestionably good results for stomach, liver and blood troubles as Dr. Hamilton's Pills, they are mild, certain and always curative. Refuse any substitute.

All dealers sell Dr. Hamilton's Pills. 25c. per box, or The Catarrhozone Co., Kingston, Ont.

LONDON NEWSPAPERS NOT SURPRISED AT THE RACE RIOTS

London, July 6.—While deploring the American race riots that followed the Jeffries-Johnson fight, London newspapers today unexpectedly offered excuses for the disorders, and generally admitted that Europeans have little idea of the race situation in the U.S.

The usually anti-American Evening Globe, referring to the attempt to lynch a negro in New York city declares:

"Really our sympathy runs more to the men with the rope than to the blatant blacks. It is against human nature to expect the whites to accept the negroes' insolent assertion that Johnson's victory established the superiority of the blacks without instant protest..

"The Reno contest was one of the most injudicious ever permitted, and its racial effects will continue for years. Americans are the trustees of the predominance of the whites over the blacks and we believe they will be true to their trust.

WILL BUILD 25 HOUSES.

Mr. H. Carveth, the local contractor, has about closed a deal to erect twenty-five houses for Mr. T. Hurley the real estate agent. These additions to Peterborough's homes are to be built on Mr. Hurley's property in the south end of the city, adjacent to the Sand Stone Brick Company property. Five new houses in connection with this proposition are now in course of construction. Mr. Carveth prophizes that there will be more than a hundred houses built on this property within the year.

MAC'S LUCK.

The Young Woman Reporter's Story

The following food tale written by a clever young newspaper woman is a true story that came under her personal observation:

"I have been with the ——— (a paper in a Calif. town) for nine years and Mac has been with us all that time and I do not know how much longer.

"Last winter and the winter before, Mac, probably from constant night work and improper food, got badly run down, could not eat much what little he did eat did not do him much good and he always complained that he could not keep warm.

"I missed him for awhile until yesterday I overtook him on the street going toward the office, and hardly knew the man, had it not been for the familiar walk I should have passed without recognizing him. He was stout, his face was round and ruddy, and his eyes bright as I had never seen them before.

"I said, 'Mac, I hardly knew you, what on earth have you been doing to get so fat?' He replied, 'Grape-Nuts,' nothing else. I started in on Grape-Nuts food three months ago when I weighed 126 and was feeling miserable, but now I weigh 160 and feel better than I have ever felt in my life. I quit my old diet and went on Grape-Nuts, and that's the whole story.'"

Exercise is necessary but there's no nourishment in it and proper food alone can supply that. Grape-Nuts for 10 days is a pleasant trial and proven big things.

"There's a Reason."

A CHOIR LEADER

Tells How Pe-ru-na Rid Him of All Catarrhal Troubles.

PE-RU-NA SCORES

Another Triumph in Canada.

"A Relief to Breathe Freely Once More."

MR. G. W. MARTIN, Hartford, Ont., choir leader at St. Paul's Episcopal church, writes:

"Peruna is a wonderful remedy for catarrhal troubles.

"I have been troubled with catarrh for a great many years, and always trying something for it, but was able only to secure temporary relief until I used Peruna.

"Only five bottles rid my system of all traces of catarrh, and I have not noticed the slightest trouble for several months.

"My head was stopped up, my breath offensive, and it is a relief to be able to breathe freely once more."

THE GREATER POWER AT RENO.

Reno has been repeatedly called a godless town, yet an overruling Providence appears to have been present on the Fourth, and not only present but active. On that great day the award and the punishment alike seem to have been meted out by a power above. The mother of Johnson, fortified by the prayers of the churches in the black belt, calmly and confidently left the issue in hands stronger than her own. The Jeffries, when informed of the result, reverently declared; "It's the Lord will."

SUMMER SERMONS.

The holiday season is upon us and everybody who can reasonably anticipate such a luxury is thinking of holidays. And there are some upon whom moral responsibility does not rest as an overwhelming burden who seem to think that the holiday should extend to the pulpit. A few may express and more may hold the idea that hot weather sermons should be curtailed, on the principle that the hoter the day the shorter the sermon should be—forget of the fact that the sermon and what it implies have a very vital relation to the tempering of the temperature in the hereafter. It is also forgotten that the preacher has his responsibility to meet, his message to deliver. If the verities of religion are real, the weight of the obligations they involve and the responsibilities they create are unaffected by varieties of temperature or the desire to be at ease in Zion. If a man takes his religion seriously—if it is not a mere sham, a comfortable conformation to the requirements of Christian civilization, he will not consider it a sacrifice to listen to a sermon which his weariness to the flesh—a generous euphemism for laziness may suggest is a few minutes too long. Sitting quietly in a pew, the hearer should find it much less exhausting to cultivate a perceptive mood, than it must be to the preacher, with the thermometer at 95 degrees to deliver a sermon with sufficient earnestness to show that he is alive and awake and to keep his hearers awake. Aside, altogether, from his moral obligations a preacher owes it to himself and congregation to always say something worthing hearing and worth saying. If he contented him-

There is more catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.

Get Well First
Don't risk even a penny—until health first returns.

And I mean just exactly that. I am the one physician who says to the sick, I will, out of my own pocket, pay for your medicine if it fails to bring you back health—and for 20 years Dr. Shoop's medicines have been sold and recommended by every druggist and banker in America. They are positively stocked and in every community—and every druggist knows them well. They say the cash, and go your daily to what is recommended and accepted by the people as thousands voted for Dr. Shoop's Restorative. When the stomach nerves, or the heart or kidney nerves fail, these sick ones know from years of personal knowledge that they will bring them back to health again. But best of all, they positively balance money-rich inheritance. They know that when these health builders are gone, the system, Dr. Shoop's Restorative will still be there to help Nature rebuild the wasted nerves. Then Dr. Shoop's Night Cure will quiet the kidneys, and Dr. Shoop's Pain Pills will relieve pain. And that's all 30 day treatment is usually required. But write me first for an order.

This will save delay and disappointment. All druggists sell Dr. Shoop's Restorative and Dr. Shoop's Rheumatic Remedy, but all are not stocked to give the 30 day test. So drug one of these—for I have appointed an honest druggist in every community to sell my medicines to the people. Tell me which book you need. The books below will surely open up new and helpful ideas to those who are not well. Besides you are positively free to consult me just as you would your home physician. My advice and the test today will cost you—and without cost.

Perhaps a word or two from me will close up some serious ailment. I have helped thousands upon thousands by my private prescription or personal advice. My best effort is entirely worth your simple request. So write now, while you have it in mind, for tomorrow never comes. Dr. Shoop, Box 12, Racine, Wis.

INSURANCE STATISTICS.
Making and Destroying Wealth.

The recently-issued Dominion insurance statistics for the last year indicate among other things a very rapid growth in the value of the actual wealth of Canada. These figures cover only the transactions of the companies licensed to do a Dominion wide business and do not deal with property insured in such concerns as the farmers' mutuals of Ontario. Nor on the other hand, do they show the very considerable insurances effected especially by large property owners, through brokers in companies not reporting to the Dominion authorities While not a reflex of all the insured property in Canada, these figured when compared year by year, show the rapid growth in the value of buildings and their contents. In 1909, for instance, the total amount of insurance in the companies here reported upon amounted to a little over nine hundred millions. In the decade since then the insurance has just been doubled. It is not supposed by anybody that the population of Canada has doubled in ten year. These figures would go to indicate therefore, that the average Canadian is a good deal better off than he was ten years ago. Even in the year 1909 there has been an increase of over a hundred and sixty millions in the amount of insurance, which means that the rate of growth is now sixty per cent. greater than the average of the decade.

But, while the energy and skill of Canadians has thus been adding to the number of houses and to the quantity and value of their contents not enough attention has been paid to decreasing the fire waste. The sums paid by these companies directly for losses last year amounted to no less than eight and a half millions. As this is not equal to twice the loss of 1899, it would seem, at first glance, that the waste is not allowed to increase so rapidly as the houses and goods to be insured. But last year seems to have been a rather favorable year in the matter of fire losses. In the year before, the loss was over ten millions, or more than double that of 1899. If these figures afford a fair basis for judgment, the position is that out of every hundred dollars worth of wealth created by builders and other producers, eight dollars' worth of it goes up in smoke.

These figures coincide with all the other figures available in proving that Canada is making rapid progress in development and in the increase of wealth. But the old proverb warns us that pennies may be gained by saving as well as by production. The shocking and wicked waste by fire is attracting very general attention and fires are coming to be regarded not as visitations of inscrutable Providence, but as the necessary result of carelessness or worse. There is no reason to slacken speed in the production of houses and other burnable things, but even a slackening of speed that would give more safety and less waste would mean in the long run, greater wealth for the country.

THE NEW GOLDEN BUCKET

A few years ago, the recovery of Gold from auriferous grounds and subaqueous beds, was considered impossible. The "pan" and "grizzly", operated by hand, appeared to be the sole method of recovering values. It was during this period that Dr. Linderman, Director of the United States Mint expressed the opinion that he who, could devise a machine, without adding proportionately to the cost of production, capable of saving 50 per cent. of all the placer gold, would not only enrich himself, but within the lives of men still living, would double the world's available gold bullion. The Director of the United States Mint further said,—"WE CAN HARDLY HOPE FOR THIS, THOUGH NO MAN DARE SAY IT IS IMPOSSIBLE."

The perfected modern Dredge, is to-day a substantial reality. Allowing for delays in shifting, for necessary repairs, etc., the Gold Dredge runs on an average about 16 hours out of twenty-four, thus making up in length of working day, loss of operation during winter months. These Dredges are operated in ready made mining areas, recovering millions of dollars annually, at the lowest possible cost.

The Director of the Mint of the United States in his report for 1909 says:

"The Gold Dredge makes money where a cooli would starve."

Outing Magazine: "When you think that hold inventive talent, has been able to devise machinery that makes it profitable to extract ten cents worth of gold from a ton of earth, the enterprise becomes one of the romance of American industry."

"A chain of powerful buckets bite into the earth, each bringing up a tremendous quantity of earth and gravel. These are subjected to screen treatment and the gold recovered."

California in 45 years, within radius of less than ten miles of placer ground, produced $200,000,000 in gold. To-day the vast number of Modern Dredges working over ground are recovering millions annually.

AFTER TREATMENT

Peter E. Summers relates his experience:

"I was troubled with Nervous Debility for many years. I lay it to indiscretion and excesses in youth. I became very despondent and didn't care whether I married or not. I imagined everybody who looked at me guessed my secret. Sometimes dreamed at night and would get up—my head ached, had pains in the back of my head, hands and feet were cold, tired in the morning, poor appetite, fingers were shaky, eyes blurred, hair came, memory poor, etc. Numbness in the fingers set in and the doctor told me he feared paralysis. I took all kinds of medicine and tried many first-class physicians, were an absolute leak for three months, but received little benefit. I was induced to consult Drs. Kennedy & Kennedy, though I had lost all faith in doctors. Like a drowning man I commenced the New Method Treatment and it saved my life. The improvement was like magic—I could feel the vigor going through the nerves. I was cured mentally and physically. I have sent them many patients and continue to do so.

DOCTORS CONDEMN OILY LINIMENTS.

The Public are Warned to Be Careful of Those Strong-Smelling Oily Liniments, Containing Harmful Acids, Ammonia, Etc.

Many people have clung to the old-fashioned idea that a thick, greasy liniment is the best kind. Doctors say not—and they know.

Recently a number of these white, oily liniments were analyzed, and they were found to contain an enormously high percentage of harmful acids, and weak irritating chemicals as ammonia, etc. For the moment they may cause a warm sensation when first applied, but their continued use never cures rheumatism and only deteriorates the skin, sets up inflammation and causes endless trouble.

When a doctor warns you to quit using a white, oily liniment—do so. He knows that a thick liniment can not penetrate, cannot sink through the pores and reach the seat of the pain.

When asked his opinion a few days ago, Dr. Roberts stated that he considered a strong, penetrating, pain-subduing liniment, such as Nerviline, to be superior to any of the white ammonia liniments. In his twenty-five years of practice he had witnessed cases of rheumatism, sciatica and lumbago that simply would not respond to ordinary treatment—but Nerviline saved them. The same physician also spoke of the great advantage of keeping a preparation like Nerviline in the house always, for colds, cramps, diarrhoea, stomach disturbances, earache, toothache, backache and such minor ailments. Nerviline is a first-class cure. There is no substitute, what Nerviline won't cure, thousands of homes no other liniment can relieve, and the fact that Nerviline is the most widely used liniment in Canada is proof that Nerviline is the best liniment or family cure obtainable. Large family size bottles of Nerviline cost only 25 cents.

Special Policeman for Park.

There is no contradicting the statement that Mr. Harry Hedge, present caretaker of Victoria Park, has kept this public breathing place and pleasure spot in possibly better condition than what it was ever kept before. Last night The Times had a man present at Victoria Park whilst the crowds were enjoying the 57th Regt. Band concert. Everywhere throughout this park were hundreds of people destroying the grass (this cannot be helped), and throwing thousands of peanut shells bushels of banana skins and unlimited quantities of newspapers and empty bags everywhere. Mr. Hedge seemed somewhat discouraged, saying, "I can't possibly keep this park as I would have it. Tomorrow I will have quite three hours work gathering up the mess made here." Now, would it not simplify matters if Mr. Hedge were given a special policeman's badge for band nights, so that he would have authority to prevent spoliation of the place he does such good work in beautifying.

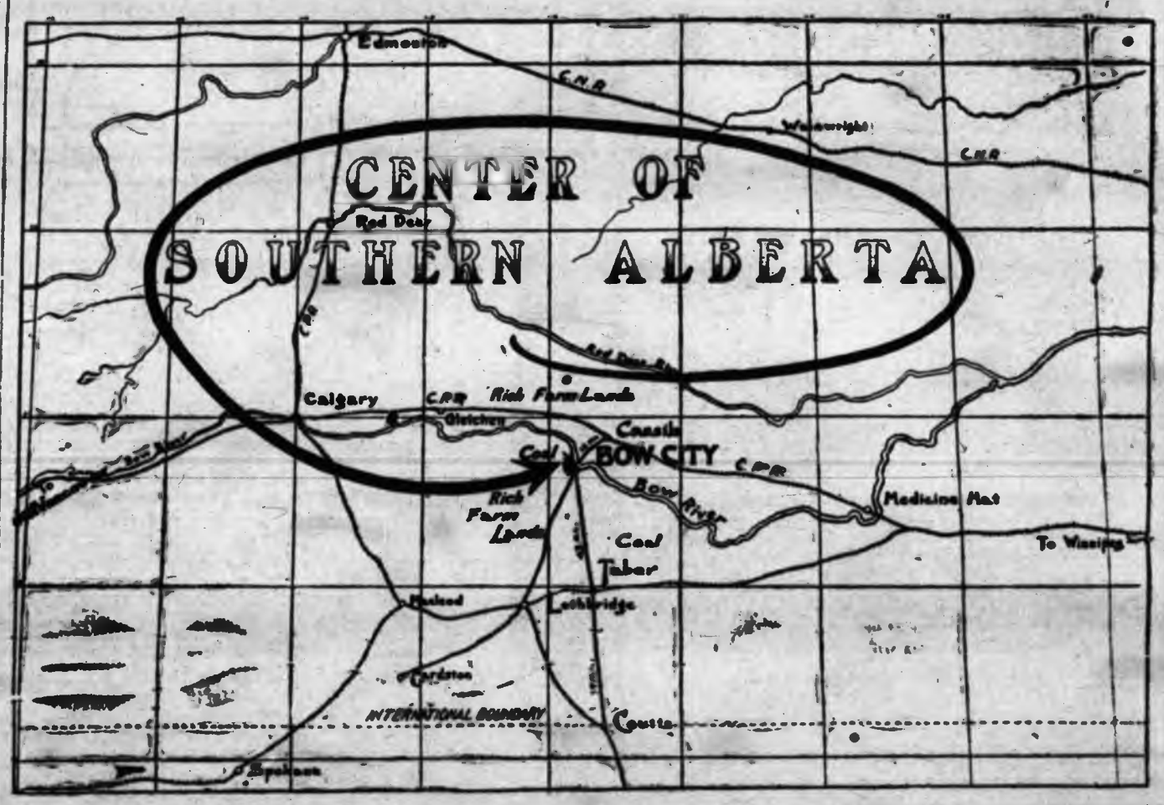
Bow City

The Metropolis of Southern Alberta

Situated in the centre of Southern Alberta, and on the famous Bow River, at the intersection of two projected railways, is Bow City—the logical location for a great commercial and industrial city.

Bow City is surrounded by thousands of acres of broad, open, fertile prairie land, while the city itself is immediately above one of the richest beds of bituminods coal ever unearthed in the Western Provinces.

The Bow Centre Collieries, Limited, are now developing their coal lands at Bow City. This gigantic corporation will, through the operation of their coal lands, eventually give employment to some 1,500 miners the whole year round—these miners will form the basis for a most prosperous town, while the thousands of prosperous farmers in the immediate vicinity of Bow City, will naturally establish a market and purchasing depot, equally as prominent and as important as Winnipeg, Calgary or Edmonton.



Bow City has a future; it is the point in the Western prairies endowed by nature with all the natural resources which go towards laying the foundation for a great city.

The map reproduced herewith is taken from the Government survey, and gives you the true location of Bow City.

You will see that it is twelve miles from the main line of the C. P. R.

Bow City is to be the headquarters of the Bow River Railway Company's lines of railway operating south of the C. P. R. main line and to the United States boundary, tapping, as they will, the richest farming lands in the Province of Alberta.

The farmers in the vicinity of Bow City have no fear of drought, since the great C. P. R. irrigation system completely envelopes the whole district, thereby supplying water in dry seasons, insuring the maximum growth of crops at all times.

There is only one Bow City—there will never be another in our Western heritage. It will be too late for you to apply for ground-floor prices in lots in Bow City a few days hence. This great coal mining and farming townsite will be sold of the market in the immediate future.

If you act promptly, you can buy lots in Bow City at prices which prevailed in Calgary, Edmonton, Regina, Brandon and other great points in the Western prairies five years ago.

A 50-dollar lot in Bow City, judging from the experience in other cities, should be worth and sell for $250 to $300 in four years' time. This means that those who take advantage of this advertising announcement, and make application at once for a $50 lot, remitting by the same mail ten per cent.—$5, will be allotted a $50 lot close in.

Remember, the terms of Bow City are:—Ten per cent. cash, balance ten per cent. per month; or, one quarter cash and balance one-quarter each three months. Where all is remitted, a discount of ten per cent. will be allowed.

Plans of the Bow City townsite, price list and full particulars may be had on application to the Sub-Agents or General Agents of the Bow City Townsite.

ST. JOHN'S CHOIR OUTING.

Enjoyable Trip Well Patronized to South Beach, Clear Lake.

There was a good attendance at the annual outing of St. John's church choir, via the Str. Monarch, from the Wolfe street wharf to South Beach, Clear Lake. Although the appearance of the weather in the morning boded ill for the enjoyment of the excursion, it did not deter the picnickers. South Beach was reached about 12 o'clock, and the appetizing dinner provided by Mr. Brooks proved very satisfying to all who partook of it.

After dinner the party touched at Mount Julian, where a splendid list of races were run off.

Supper was served on board by W. J. Coleman.

A Fatal Accident on Saturday Afternoon

Mr. I. Vinette, a Lineman, Falls Forty Feet From Pole, Breaking His Neck--Inquest will be Held

One of the saddest accidents that have distressed our citizens occurred on Saturday afternoon, and which resulted in the instant death of a well-known Peterborough young man, Mr. I. Vinette, 10 Lisburn St., Auburn. It seems that Mr. Vinette, who was a lineman in the employ of the Ontario Power Co., was working on the company's poles at the corner of Perry and George Sts. He was seated on a cross arm about forty feet from the ground making some repairs to the lines. Suddenly he was seen to fall, without any visible cause, to the roadway below. Unfortunately the body turned in falling, so that Mr. Vinette's neck was instantly broken, death being instantaneous. One of his legs was also broken between the knee and ankle.

Richard Burke, who conducts a butcher shop on the corner opposite the scene of the accident, saw Vinette fall, and he and one of Vinette's fellow linemen, went to the fallen man's assistance.

Dr. Gallivan and Dr. Greer were summoned, but the young man was dead when they arrived.

The body was taken to Comstocks undertaking rooms.

Vinette was twenty-three years old and leaves a wife and one child.

As there seemed to be a divergency of opinion as to the cause of Vinette's fall from the cross arm, he being an expert lineman, Coroner Dr. Greer decided an inquest to be necessary. The following jury was empanelled at Comstock's undertaking establishment, J. A. Brunwell, T. F. Houlihan, H. Newton, G. Patterson, Jos. Kelly, J. Armstrong, C. Blewett, A. Allison, C. E. Clegg, C. T. Butcher, W. Carter, U. Hawley, J. Mills, H. Cassels.

Mr. Blewett was elected foreman. The jury viewed the body, after being sworn. Coroner Greer explained that the jury had to determine the cause of death. Some seemed to think sun-stroke or excessive heat had caused Vinette to fall, whilst had caused Vinette to fall, whilst others thought he might have touched a live wire, and the shock from this might have caused the fatal fall. Vinette's shirt in the part covering his heart showed a distinct burn, in fact the skin of the breast showed a freshly made scar that might have been caused by a live wire. The jury decided that an autopsy was necessary. The coroner named Dr. Gallivan and the jury Dr. McPherson, to perform the post mortem. The inquest then adjourned to meet tonight in the City Council Chamber at eight o'clock.

The sympathy of the whole community will be extended to Vinette's widow, who is left with one small child to face the world.

The funeral will be held from the late residence of the deceased, tomorrow morning at nine o'clock to St. Peter's Cathedral, and thence to the Roman Catholic cemetery.

Tiger Breaks Loose Runs Amuck at Sea

Bremen, June 10.—A most exciting incident which occurred on board the German steamer Ramses is described in the Petit Journal.

The steamer was bound for South America, with a cargo which included a number of wild animals for a menagerie. A magnificent specimen of a royal Bengal tiger succeeded in escaping from its cage, and creeping into the crew's quarters, the entrance to which had been left open, attacked the cook who was asleep in his hammock. The shouts of the man who was being badly mauled by the animals claws, alarmed the rest of the crew who surrounded the tiger and drove it back to the deck.

The now enraged beast could not be forced into its cage, and some of the crew wounded it with a revolver shots, whereupon it suddenly turned leaped into the sea, and was not seen again.

A. H. Peck Laid to Rest.

The funeral of the late A. H. Peck, of Ashburnham, was held on Saturday from his late residence, 197 Mark street, to Little Lake cemetery. The pallbearers were members of Corinthian Chapter, R.A.M., No. 30, under whose auspices the funeral was held. The names are: H. Rush, Dr. Boucher, John A. Belcher, H. C. C. Winch, J. J. Lundy and R. E. Wood.

Butchers' Half Holiday.

The butchers of Peterborough are making a strenuous effort among themselves to effect a deal, whereby every butcher shop in Peterborough shall, like the dry goods stores be closed on Thursday afternoons during the months of July and August. From enquiry made by The two of the local butchers object to Times, it seems that only one of this well needed half holiday. When one considers the late, or possibly early hours worked on Sunday mornings by this branch of trade, customers should arrange to assist these hard working employees and clerks in obtaining one half day's outing per week during the hot weather.

Orangemen at St. Mark's.

Last night there was a good turn out of the local Orangemen, who, with quite a goodly number of visiting brethren, paraded to Mark street church to hear the annual sermon. The pastor, Rev. C. H. Coon delivered an eloquent address replete with references to the Orange Order and the good work they accomplish. At the morning service, Rev. Mr. Coon addressed the members of the Sunday school.

Nothing in the way of a cough is quite so annoying as a tickling, teasing, wheezing, bronchial Cough. The quickest relief comes perhaps from a prescription known to Druggists everywhere as Dr. Shoop's Cough Remedy. And besides, it is so thoroughly harmless that mothers give it with perfect safety, even to the youngest babes. The tender leaves of a simple mountain shrub, give to Dr. Shoop's Cough Remedy. Its remarkable curative effect. It is truly a most certain and trustworthy prescription. Sold by all dealers.

THREATENED WITH PARALYSIS

Peter E. Summers relates his experience:
"I was troubled with Nervous Debility for many years. I lay it to indiscretion and excesses in youth. I became very nervous and didn't care whether I existed or not. I imagined everybody was talking of me and avoiding my society. Sometimes dreadful thoughts would enter my mind. I had pains in the back of my head, hands and feet were cold, tired in the morning, poor appetite, dreams were shaky, eyes blurred, hair coming out, weak memory, poor, etc. Numbness in the fingers set in and the doctor told me he feared paralysis. I took all kinds of medicines and tried many first-class physicians, even an electric belt for three months, but received little benefit. I finally was induced to consult Drs. Kennedy & Kennedy, though I had lost all faith in doctors. Like a drowning man I commenced the New Method Treatment and it was my help. The improvement was like magic—I could feel the vigor going through my veins. I was cured mentally and physically. I have sent them many patients and continue to do so.

The Entrance Board has referred the answer papers of three candidates to the Education Department for their decision.

No Agreement on the Veto Question

London, July 10.—Although no definite announcement has been made, it is known on all sides today that Premier Asquith has failed to force the Liberal party into an agreement with the Conservatives for the indefinite shelving of the reform program, for which the Liberals have been working for so long. The premier's defeat is due to the progress bargain was definitely closed between the premier and Arthur J. Balfour, former premier, and leader of the Conservatives, it would be at least a year before the Liberals would be in shape to renew their progressive campaign. The Liberals were willing for a brief respite out of respect to the memory of the late King Edward, but they have not seen the necessity of a continued truce.

The progressives had the support of the Irish and Labor members, and the combined opposition has been so strong that Asquith was frightened into dropping his schemes. The fight for Reforms in the House of Lords will, therefore, probably be resumed at the autumn session of parliament and by January it is predicted that another general election will be in order, on the definite issue of the Lord's extermination, or stripping them of all their privileges.

75,000 Men and Women on Strike in New York City

New York, July 10.—The garment makers' strike declared by Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, to be the largest strike in point of numbers that has ever taken place in this country, continued in full effect today, with no sign of weakening on either side. It is said that 75,000 men and women are out in this city.

"This," said Mr. Gompers after attending a conference with other national labor officials and strike leaders at the Victoria, "is a strike against a continuance of the inhuman conditions under which the workers in this industry have been laboring, and when the actual conditions are made known to the world the support of the working people of the country will soon be enlisted on the side of the strikers. The people are beginning to realize the deplorable condition under which the garment workers are laboring at the present time."

A failing tiny nerve—no larger than the finest silken thread—takes from the Heart its impulse, its power, its regularity. The Stomach also has its hidden or inside nerve. It was Dr. Shoop who first told us it was wrong to drug a weak or failing Stomach, Heart or Kidneys. His prescription—Dr. Shoop's Restorative—is directed straight for the cause of these ailments—these weak and faltering inside nerves. This, no doubt clearly explains why the Restorative has of late grown so rapidly in popularity. Druggists say that those who test the Restorative even for a few days soon become fully convinced of its wonderful merit. Anyway don't drug the organ. Treating the cause of sickness is the easily sensible and successful way. Sold by all dealers.

60 Ton Tug Crosses Atlantic Men Mutiny on the Grub Supply

Montreal, July 10.—By far the strangest transatlantic voyage ever made in connection with the Port of Montreal was completed today, upon the arrival of the tug Sogeneda, from the Clyde, which took six weeks to make the passage, replete with mutiny and excitement. The final chapter will probably be finished this week as a member of the crew has decided to place a complaint before the shipping master of Montreal, following a similar complaint laid with the Portuguese official in the western islands, Azores, where the ship coaled.

The plaint is made on behalf of the crew is that the regulation schedule of food prescribed by the British Board of Trade for sailors was not in force and that practically the only staples provided were potatoes, "hard tack" and salt junk. According to the story of the men, part of the meat supply had to be thrown overboard and the monotony of potatoes three times a day resulted in a large quantity of these vegetables finding their way to the same resting place.

That the voyage was an exciting one will also be drawn from the fact that the crew numbered among its forces two Russians, one German, two Scotchmen, one American and three Englishmen.

A curious sequel to the affair will probably grow with the immigration enquiries. These men are all to be paid off in Montreal, where they will be free to enter the country. They have never passed a government enquiry, however.

CROP REPORTS ARE FAR FROM REASSURING AND THE OUTLOOK GLOOMY.

Brandon, Man., July 8.—As a result of the very continued hot weather the crop reports are far from reassuring. With the heavy rain of ten days ago it was felt that the growing grain would completely recover from the effects of the early June drought, but expectations have not been realized. The showers expected to follow the drought period did not materialize, and a scorching heat is baking the growing grain.

"Wheat is not a tropical plant," said a prominent grain grower this morning, "and the tropical weather of last week has been working havoc with the crop. The conditions are about the same as if the wheat had been put in an oven and practically baked. Cold weather would result in some benefit, but it is questionable if even that now would do much good."

Development of the Naval Policy

London, July 10.—Rear Admiral Charles E. Kingsmill, commander of the marine services of Canada, has arrived here, and on being interviewed said he looked forward hopefully to the development of the naval policy in Canada. A huge amount of interest is being taken by his visit to Queenstown by the press. All sorts and conditions of people and many communications have reached the headquarters opened on the Strand.

AT THE HAGUE TRIBUNAL.

London, July 9.—At the Hague Fisheries Tribunal, replying to President Lammasch, who asked what significance Great Britain attached to the word "bays" in the renunciatory clause of the treaty of 1818, Senator Elihu Root said Great Britain understood by this word all bays in a geographical sense without taking into account if they were or were not included in British territorial waters. Attorney-General Robson pointed out that the bays in which America had renounced the fishing rights were in fact territorial waters, but that from a British viewpoint. This question was of secondary importance, as the treaty of 1818 excluded Americans from all bays on the coast not expressly mentioned in treaty.

Counsel Warren for the States then continued his speech, and said Great Britain has never seized vessels outside of the three mile limit.

CANADA'S DEVELOPMENT.

London, July 10.—W. Sanford Evans, the Mayor of Winnipeg, interviewed prior to his departure, said he was impressed by the great practical interest taken here in Canadian development by British investors, who are evidently prepared to assist in the development of the resources of Canada.

Chief Thompson Begins Well.

The good work inaugurated or possibly "enforced" by Chief Thompson is already showing marked results. On Saturday the gangs of young men and boys who up to now seemed to think they had a monopoly on the leading street corners were conspicuous by their absence. Chief Thompson kept busy all day patrolling some of our leading streets and showed the corner loafers that he means business, and the loafers will now have to move on and keep moving.

Real Husband Returns Finds Wife Re-Married

London, July 10.—A real version of "Enoch Arden" has just been enacted at Preston.

In February last the body of a man was found floating in the river. From certain marks on the arm a woman identified the body as that of her husband, whom she had not seen for nine years. After the inquest the coroner granted the necessary certificates and the woman drew the insurance money. Since then she has married again, and was living happily until a few days ago, when her real husband appeared. It seems that he has been living in Wales and has not been in Preston for a considerable period.

Much sympathy is expressed for the woman in her unfortunate position. When the original husband returned the second "husband" left her. "We have been so happy together, and I hope he comes back to me," she declared tearfully.

South Africa is a Most Cosmopolitan Land

British South Africa is the latest of our possessions to unite its four colonies, and the Cape of Good Hope, Natal, Transvaal and Orange River now form a United South Africa, writes a special correspondent of The Montreal Star.

An enormous territory is this lying south of the great Zambesi River, all of which, with the exception of that arid and pestilence strip known as German Southwest Africa, now belongs to the British Empire; yet at what cost has it been obtained and retained! Its administration and government has proved the fall of many an otherwise able statesman and soldier; its acquisition has only been gained by the colonists after strenuous and unremitting conflict against every conceivable kind of foe. Internecine wars 'twixt English, Dutch and native races have marked the land with visible scars, and thus for the dates of the country's history are fixed by such and such a rebellion or war.

Even the land seems to have more than its due share of the primeval curse, for it is not fruitful, and the farmer has to face numerous pests such as rinderpest, red-water fever and other cattle diseases, which has so far baffled the experts who are employed by the Government to make researches. But against all the drawbacks there is this one advantage, that it is a sunny land, when the sunshine is on continuously and so regular that occasionally a beclouded day comes as a relief. The newly-arrived Englishman always suffers from a red neck, which has led to the Dutchman's term of contempt for the uitlander, "rooi-neck." The Boer's supreme contempt is aroused when it sees a rooi-neck essaying his first horse riding attempt or firing a rifle.

This vast sub-continent is but sparsely populated, the black inhabitants numbering over six millions, and the European only a little over one million.

Broadly speaking, there are three important constituents in the population, (1) English, (2) Dutch, and (3) native; but over and above these are people of all European and many Asiatic countries. It is evident that the immigration laws have been put into effect, with the result that the population is as heterogeneous a one as can be seen anywhere, though this statement applies to the towns of Johannesburg, Durban and Cape Town, the gate to the sub-continent. A walk along Adderley street will bring one in contact with complexions of every hue and shade, and upon the ear will fall conversations which will perplex the professional linguist. Veritably, it is a land which might have been under the shade of the Tower of Babel. In the law courts and other official circles more interpreters are employed here than under any other British administration.

The colonies of Natal and the Transvaal, not content with the difficulty of keeping the native Kaffir and Zulu in hand, have added to public politics what is known as the Indian problem, for years ago they introduced large gangs of coolies from Bombay to work in the banana and tea plantations, and also on railway construction. These wily hewers of wood and drawers of water served their terms of indenture, then settled in the land of their adoption, and today Mr. Ghandi, their champion, is a thorn in the side of the Government.

This composite nature of the community involves a splitting up of the actors of national life; churches, schools, public meetings, travelling facilities, etc., all have to be considered and provided in this light. In the cities of Cape Town and Johannesburg are to be found all the Christian churches of English origin, several European, as well as native and colored missions, and also Hindu temples and Malay mosques.

The Dutch section of the population, as the name "Boer" (farmer) indicates, is, chiefly engaged in pastoral life. Until very recent years the Boer despised education, and was opposed to modern civilization and its innovations. He preferred the ox wagon method of locomotion, going at the rate of three miles an hour, and even after the construction of the main line from Cape Town to the Rand, many of the Boers held that the train ought to come to a stop on the veldt if its three days' journey included the Sabbath.

But a perceptible change is creeping over the Boers; they are beginning to recognise the value and advantage of education, as being the first essential to the attainment of political power. The young Afrikanders are going to college, learning both languages, and many of them proceed to Leyden and Heidelberg Universities to study law. Had the advice of the younger generation of Afrikanders been followed, it is highly probable that the ultimatums of 1899 would not have been despatched, for there would have been concessions made; but Oom Paul belonged to the back-veldt school which was destined to be obliterated by the march of progress.

Whole Town Bought.

Strange things obtain in the old country. For instance the town of Castlerea, one of the most progressive centres in the west of Ireland with some 3,000 of a population, is owned by a private family, the lands belonging to the Sandford estate. The estate is now to be acquired by the Congested Districts Board and as this means that present tenants will have the option of becoming their own landlords, and that fresh lands will be broken up into small lots, the sale is very popular and will it is expected have a considerable influence on the commercial prosperity of the place.

MERGERS AND MERGERS.

It was claimed for the original modern merger that its justification would be found in the economies effected by the consolidation. The grouping of individual plants under one management was to eliminate unnecessary salaries and reduce operating expenses. The hope was even entertained that the public would enjoy a share of the savings thus made in the form of lower prices.

Such pleasant anticipations have scarcely been realized. Too often the merger of today is a medium for brazen stock-watering, an easy road to wealth for the promoters, or the vehicle by means of which a dying enterprise or a decadent industry is unloaded upon unsopisticated purchasers. In such cases the proprietors wish to "get from under," and resort to the combine as a convenient means of passing their troubles along to other shoulders.

More often the industries merged are really going concerns in the best sense of the term. In such cases the combine all too frequently becomes a financial and commercial tyranny, a clever machine for the undue enhancement of prices to the consumer and a well-buttressed opponent of organized labor.

LONDON NEWSPAPERS NOT SURPRISED AT THE RACE RIOTS

London, July 6.—While deploring the American race riots that followed the Jeffries-Johnson fight, London newspapers today unexpectedly offered excuses for the disorders, and generally admitted that Europeans have little idea of the race situation in the U.S.

The usually anti-American Evening Globe, referring to the attempt to lynch a negro in New York city declares:

"Really our sympathy runs more to the men with the rope than to the blatant blacks. It is against human nature to expect the whites to accept the negroes' insolent assertion that Johnson's victory established the superiority of the blacks without instant protest..

"The Reno contest was one of the most injudicious ever permitted, and its racial effects will continue for years. Americans are the trustees of the predominance of the whites over the blacks and we believe they will be true to their trust.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio., is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for a case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.

Tell Some Sick One
It Is Free If It Fails.

Will you do an act of Humanity?
Will you tell some sick friend of this, an unmistakable offer?

Tell him or her, that you have learned of a medicine in certain that its maker does say in the sick. It is absolutely and unconditionally free if it fails.

And you, no doubt, already know of Dr. Shoop's Restorative and its popularity.

For 20 years it has been the standard remedy for Stomach, Kidney and Heart ailments everywhere in America.

When the "inside" or controlling nerves of these vital organs begin to fail, it is Dr. Shoop's Restorative that has quickly vitalized, and strengthened, and brought them nerves and organs back to health again.

If the nerves of the Stomach, you diagnose the Heart or Kidneys—for that is all wrong.

Dr. Shoop's Restorative goes direct to the cause of these ailments—the failing, deficient, inside or controlling nerves. And herein lies the keynote to my success.

When the nerves are again made well and strong, then that is the certain end of all such sickness.

To me it is a great satisfaction that I can be the only physician able to say to the suffering sick, "Take my prescription for full 30 days, and if it fails to help you, the entire expense is mine—not yours."

Then why should the sick take any chance on any other medicine, when maker dare not back it just as I do by this remarkable offer?

I also have a Rheumatic Remedy—and that remedy is covered by the same identical "no risk, no pay" protective plan.

So first, you are free to consult me just as you would your home physician. My advice and the book below are yours—and without cost.

Perhaps a word or two from me will close up some serious ailment. I have helped thousands upon thousands by my private prescription or personal advice plan. My best effort is surely worth your simple request.

So let me send you an order at once. Take that first step to health—get relief.

A postal will bring the opportunity.

I will have an honest and trustworthy druggist to whom you can conveniently go for the order by.

But first, ask me for the order, for all druggists are not authorized to give the 30 day test. So write me now and save all doubt. Remember that tomorrow never comes. Address Dr. Shoop, Box 12, Racine, Wis.

THE ANIMAL DERBY.
It Would Be Ostrich 1st, Greyhound 2nd, Kangaroo Also Ran.

Most people have heard of those animal races which are a popular feature of gymkhana meetings, but it may be explained that for an animal race the competitor enters any sort of animal he likes, except a horse or a dog, and drives or guides his champion to the winning-post.

Now, we will turn the Derby into an animal race, open to the whole animal kingdom. We will suppose that each animal runs throughout at the greatest speed of which it is capable, and that they don't interfere with each other.

First of all the field. Some animals—such as cattle—are, obviously, too slow to stand a ghost of a chance, and so we will line up the following ten starters: Hare, lion, roebuck, greyhound, horse, giraffe, elephant, kangaroo, dromedary, and ostrich—the last-named because, although a bird, he runs, and runs mighty fast, too.

Indeed, here it may as well be said that, if you want to win money on an animal race, you back the ostrich every time, for he is the fastest thing on land, and only one bird can beat him—namely, the swallow. The ostrich, then, would win our animal Derby with the greatest possible ease, for he would cover the 1 mile 4 furlongs and 20 yards of the Derby course at the amazing speed of 100 miles an hour—that is, nearly three times as fast as any horse ever foaled could do it, and, roughly, twice as fast as any other competitor among those named.

The record time for the Derby was made in 1908, when Major Loder's Spearmint won in 2 minutes 36 4-5th seconds. The ostrich would take, roughly, 53 seconds.

But who would be second? Probably the kangaroo will have a good many adherents, for, outside Australia, people have the idea that the kangaroo hops along at a tremendous pace. But the kangaroo would finish "down the course," absolute last!

A kangaroo is a slow animal, 7 1-2 miles an hour being his best speed. For second place, it would be a fairly close fight between the greyhound and the roebuck. A greyhound can go nearly a mile a minute—54 miles an hour, to be exact—and this would just bring him home ahead of the roebuck, whose best speed is a trifle over 50 miles an hour.

Now, for fourth place. The hare escape a likely choice; but again you would be wrong. A lion can give a hare a start and a beating. A lion is capable of 45 miles an hour, but the hare is fully extended at 4 miles an hour less.

What about the horse? Well, 38 miles an hour is the thoroughbred's limit, and that brings him into sixth place. Spearmint won his Derby at the rate of, roughly, 35 miles an hour, but a horse is capable of 38 miles an hour over a short distance.

Not far behind the thoroughbred would come the giraffe, who gets along at the "useful" gait of 34 miles an hour.

Then would come a big gap, closed at the other end by the elephant, who would come trumpeting along at a sedate 12 miles an hour.

The dromedary's speed, too, is a myth. Mr. G. E. Larner, the amateur walking champion, would make the dromedary step out, for the beast is not up to more than about 9 miles an hour, and Mr. Larner has walked 9 miles in 67 minutes 37 4-5 seconds.

And so the final placings of our animal Derby would be—ostrich, greyhound, roebuck, lion, hare, horse, giraffe, elephant, dromedary, kangaroo.

A book on Rheumatism, by Dr. Shoop, of Racine, Wis., tells some plain truths, and in a plain and practical way. Get this booklet, and a free trial treatment of Dr. Shoop's Rheumatic Remedy for some discouraged sufferer in your vicinity. Make a grateful and appreciative friend of some one who is discouraged because of the failures of others to help him. Help me to make this test, and I'll certainly help your suffering friend. THE NEW GOLDEN BUCKET

A few years ago, the recovery of Gold from auriferous grounds and subaqueous beds, was considered impossible. The "pan" and "grizzly," operated by hand, appeared to be the sole method of recovering values. It was during this period that Dr. Linderman, Director of the United States Mint expressed the opinion that he who, could devise a machine, without adding proportionately to the cost of production, capable of saving 50 per cent. of all the placer gold, would not only enrich himself, but within the lives of men still living, would double the world's available gold bullion. The Director of the United States Mint further said,—"WE CAN HARDLY HOPE FOR THIS, THOUGH NO MAN DARE SAY IT IS IMPOSSIBLE."

The perfected modern Dredge, is to-day a substantial reality. Allowing for delays in shifting, for necessary repairs, etc., the Gold Dredge runs on an average about 16 hours out of twenty-four, thus making up in length of working day, loss of operation during winter months. These Dredges are operated in ready made mining areas, recovering millions of dollars annually, at the lowest possible cost.

The Director of the Mint of the United States in his report for 1909 says:

"The Gold Dredge makes money where a coolie would starve."

Outing Magazine: "When you think that bold inventive talent, has been able to devise machinery that makes it profitable to extract ten cents worth of gold from a ton of earth, the enterprise becomes one of the romances of American industry."

"A chain of powerful buckets bite into the earth, each bringing up a tremendous quantity of earth and gravel. These are subjected to screen treatment and the gold recovered."

California in 45 years, within radius of less than ten miles of placer ground, produced $200,000,000 in gold. To-day the vast number of Modern Dredges working over ground are recovering millions annually.

"I think it should be the duty of the schools to teach the children how to keep well," writes Miss Nannie E. Naydon, a well known and highly esteemed resident of Bristol. "Ignorance of the laws of health and the use of improper medicines destroyed my vigor and led me to the verge of consumption. I was but a girl really and strong. Nothing seemed to affect me until I was about thirty. Then pain began to form in the stomach. I suffered with blood [illegible] and a general failure in strength set in. If I went upstairs my breath hurt. My eyesight was very irregular and until I grew pretty bad I didn't pay much heed to my condition. Then I got [illegible] and [illegible], wakened in the night [illegible] get to sleep again. None of the medicine I took helped me. One day I was read ingof a very interesting case like mine cured by Dr. Hamilton's Pills. I took the same treatment. It was just right—didn't physic me to death, but took hold of the weak, sick parts of my system and set things right. BURIED PLUNDER.

Recovered by Thieves After Serving Out Their Jail Terms.

It is well known to the police that there are a number of ex-convicts who are literally rolling in riches and driving about London and the provinces to-day in their own motor-cars and carriages, said a detective to the writer the other day. The majority of these men are old embezzlers, and there seems to be little doubt that they are able to live well and keep going lavishly furnished residences because the money they stole was hidden by them before being arrested and sent to prison.

There are thousands of pounds' worth of valuable property looted by thieves from various sources that lies buried in odd corners of Britain and will probably only be recovered by the men themselves on their release. Cases are constantly occurring where an embezzler after running off with a large sum in gold refuses to divulge the hiding place of his ill-gotten gains. He is sent to prison, and the loot remains unrecovered. In nine cases out of ten the embezzler, finding arrest imminent, buries his stolen property and digs it up again when he comes out of prison.

A man who was for many years an inmate of one of our prisons is now living in affluence in a town up north. He was imprisoned for embezzling $350,000 from his employers, and he declared at the trial that he had spent every penny of it. For some time after his release from jail he lived in a cheap lodging house at Hoxton, and then one day he declared that he had come into a fortune, a brother in Australia having died and left him some thousands. As a matter of fact, although the police had no proof, he had recovered the money which he had embezzled years before.

A man of considerable means now living in the United States served a term of imprisonment for forgery, having obtained $75,000 by means of false checks. Not a penny of the money was recovered by the police. During the forced confinement of the thief his wife, in pursuance of a previously agreed plan, went out to service in a gentleman's family. As soon as the husband was liberated, however, his wife resigned her position, and the pair sailed immediately for the colonies. It ultimately came to light that the money which had been stolen by means of the forged checks had been buried under the flooring in a Soho house.

Some fifteen years ago a Hindu merchant who had come to London to make purchases of gems was robbed of many thousands of pounds. The thieves carried their ill-gotten wealth to a cheap tenement in Whitechapel; but, finding the police hot on their track, they carried the loot one dark night to a remote spot on the Essex marshes and secretly buried it. They then disappeared and have not been seen since. It is believed that the money remains to this day where it was buried—London Tit-Bits

Thousands Would Do the Same.

A pretty story concerning Mr. W. H. Lever, of Sunlight soap fame, is going the rounds. At an outing of the children of Port Sunlight two little girls invited Mr. Lever to go with them on the switchback railway. Like a jovial schoolboy he consented. As they were going along one little girl said, "I've been in one of these before at New Brighton. I've got a rich aunt there." "Oh, indeed!" said Mr. Lever. "Yes," went on the little one, "she has got £300 saved up." "But you've got more than that, haven't you, Mr. Lever?" inquired the other child. "Well, you know," replied Mr. Lever, seriously, "I keep spending my money, and you can't have money if you spend it, can you?" "And are you very 'poor now?' asked the first tiny girl, anxiously. "Well," said Mr. Lever, "I keep spending, and whatever shall I do when all my money is gone?" Almost simultaneously his small companions shouted, "Come and live with us!" "I have received a large number of invitations in my lifetime," says Mr Lever, "but none so dear and so sweet to me as that."

A Daring Noblewoman.

Lady Ernestine Hunt, the eldest daughter of the Marquis of Aileebury, is the first woman to receive a commission as lieutenant in the medical branch of the territorial division of the British army. Lady Hunt is an unusual woman. She was one of the half dozen adventurous women who took part in the Jameson raid in South Africa in 1896, in connection with the ambulance department. For some years now she has divided her time between a little place she has in Ireland and her ranch in Canada. At the latter place she is an extensive breeder of horses, which are sold in London and Dublin at very remunerative prices, thus making her ranching adventure an exceedingly profitable one.

The King's Right-Hand Man.

Lord Knollys, who is to be private secretary to George V., acted in a similar capacity to the late King for nearly forty years. His lordship is the only man who can approach His Majesty at all hours and under any circumstances. Lord Knollys delights in relating an amusing malapropism in which he figured recently. A gentleman-in-waiting, who was anxious to obtain some favor from the King, but was too nervous to interview His majesty, sought the assistance of Lord Knollys. "I do not like to speak to the King," said the applicant, "because he might not care to listen to me. It would be a different thing, though, if it were yourself, Knollys, for, of course, there is nothing of the 'gentleman' about you."

An Opalized Snake.

What is supposed to be an opalised snake has been discovered by a prospector at White Cliffs opal fields, South Australia, from whom it has been secured by an Adelaide resident, named S. Saunders. On a piece of ironstone, dark brown in color, and therefore making an excellent background to show off the precious stone, was embedded the form of a small snake or lizard of pure opal. The head and eyes are to be plainly seen. Even the scales of the back can be discerned.

ADVERTISE IN THE TIMES.

MOOSE HUNT TO ORDER

HOW VAN HORNE FURNISHED SPORT TO TWO WRITERS.

He Didn't Know Where to Find a Moose, But He Warned Them Not to Make a Slaughter — Turned Them Over to Pat Murphy and Patrick Did the Rest—Five Moose Just Off the Railway Track!

Sir William Van Horne, of the Canadian Pacific Railroad, once told Mr. J. R. Harrett how he furnished Julian Ralph and the late Frederick Remington a complete moose hunt, which was duly described and depicted in Harper's Magazine, a few years ago. True the moose were there, were shot, and photographed, but how they happened to be there is another story. Mr. Barrett quotes Sir William as follows in The Bellman, (Minneapolis):

I was sitting in my office one day when two cards were brought in bearing the names of Julian Ralph and Frederick Remington. I knew the names and told my secretary to show the gentlemen in. They came, and presented a letter from Harper's Magazine, from which it appeared that they had been sent, the one to write and the other to illustrate a Canadian moose hunt. The editor of Harper's Magazine asked me to show them any courtesies which would assist them in their object.

Now I hadn't a notion whether there was a single blast moose along the whole line of the Canadian Pacific, but I wasn't going to say so to two men from New York. So—

"I understand, gentlemen," I said, "that you have come here to shoot moose." They said that was the case.

"Well, now," I continued, "I suppose that I can take it for granted that you are gentlemen and have the proper sporting instinct. If I turn you loose you are not going to go slaughtering our moose and filling the woods with blood?"

No, no, no; they wouldn't think of such a thing.

"You don't propose to decimate our herds of these noble animals?"

"Why certainly not."

"I presume that one good bull moose apiece would satisfy you?" And their eyes glistened as they said that indeed it would. "On that understanding," I said, "I'll give you a letter to our agent at Mattawa."

The reason why I chose him was because if there was a moose to be found in Canada Pat Murphy was the man to find it when told to. If there wasn't a moose in the country, I knew he could take a joke. So I wrote:

Dear Murphy.—This will introduce to you Frederick Remington, the well-known artist, and Julian Ralph, the equally well-known writer, who have come in the interest of Harper's Magazine to describe and illustrate a moose hunt. They have promised not to kill too many of the noble animals, but will be content with getting one good bull moose apiece. I trust to you to see that they get them. Yours, etc.

Now it was up to Murphy.

I had forgotten all about the matter in the press of business, when a couple of weeks or so later, the same two cards were brought to me again and once more I met Mr. Ralph and Mr. Remington. They were delighted. Had they got their moosen, or meese, or whatever it is? Of course they had. They had had a simply glorious time, and couldn't say enough in thanks to me or in praise of Murphy. In due course, the article appeared in Harper's. One of them sent me a copy, and a rattling good article it was, pictures and all. But what puzzled me was how it had all happened. Murphy told me some time later.

When they arrived with my letter he didn't know whether there was a moose within five hundred miles. He hadn't heard of one for ten years, but he wasn't going to give us away to any New Yorkers any more than I was. Besides, I had said that he was to see that these men got their moose, and he proposed to do it.

He made excuse that his best hunters happened to be away for a few days and it would be necessary to wait till they came back. Then he sent out runners. He sent them to every point of the compass to start the Indians hunting the woods towards Mattawa. I don't know how many Indians and others he got to work, but they beat for all that was in them. From somewhere up in the Arctic regions, from east to west, the entire population of the country came converging toward Mattawa, with a distinct understanding all along the line that any man who let a moose through would be shot out of hand.

It took six days, but they got 'em. By the evening of the sixth day, men came in and told Murphy that they had five moose, two bulls and three cows, safely cornered ten miles off in the woods. So Murphy announced that his hunters had come back, and would be ready to go out next day.

They went. The skill those men showed in reading the moose signs impressed Ralph and Remington as simply marvellous. Within a few hours they were on the track of a herd of five, and early next morning one of the ambitions of the lives of both was realized, for each had shot with his own rifle a good Canadian bull moose.

Within a few miles of the line of the railroad, to strike off at random into the woods and pick up moose as if they were prairie-chickens—what a paradise for hunters!

A Link of Empire.

Another link in the bonds of Empire was forged the other day when the Tasmanian Government presented a gold watch, suitably inscribed to Constable Walter Lygo, who, while on duty in London, some months ago found a young Tasmanian seaman named George Johansen in a starving condition and assisted him with both food and money. The people on the West Coast of Tasmania, where Johansen's parents lived, desired to make some recognition of Constable Lygo's kindness and opened a subscription for the purchase of a testimonial.

A RAILWAY PROPOSITION.

From Montreal Gazette, June 27, 1910.

What has recently been advanced in behalf of United States' railways claims to an increase in their freight charges, has been illustrated in the case of the Canadian roads in connection with the late award of the board acting under the conciliation law. From the nature of the thing wages enter more largely into the cost of operating the railways than in connection with any other industry. When to wages is added the cost of fuel and material in the production of which the cost of labor is a main factor, it may be said that there is no business which pays out so large a proportion of its gross receipts to the actual worker as the railway. Some statements just issued illustrate the point. In the year ending with June 30, 1909, the gross earnings of the Canadian railways amounted to $145,056,000. Of this sum 43¼ per cent. was paid to the men who work and manage the lines. In the United States the percentage of gross earnings paid in wages during the same time was only 41 per cent. The difference of 2¼ per cent. is not the result of divergencies in the rate of pay, but is to be ascribed to the fact that in large sections of the United States the population is much denser than it is in Canada; the trains there as a rule carry more passengers, more freight offers according to length of line, and the same operating force takes care of a heavier volume of business. When it is remembered that the state of New York has a population as large as all Canada the situation in this regard may be realized. When it is urged that the pay on Canadian roads should be as high as those in the neighboring parts of the United States some things are forgotten. That, however, is aside. Canadian roads must pay approximately the same as those over the border or they will not retain good men. When, however, they have to increase the rates of pay for their men, and for their supplies faster than they can increase their traffic and traffic earnings they find their financial position growing weaker. The estimate is that in twelve years up to 1910 the cost of labor on the Canadian railways increased by 30 per cent., that of supplies, material and equipment, exclusive of lumber, by 44 per cent., and that of lumber by 65 per cent. The companies have been able to maintain their standing by the large and effective expenditure of money on track and rolling stock equipment. Tracks have been straightened and doubled, the grades on them reduced, and the lines laid with heavier rails. Bridges have been strengthened. The power of locomotives and the capacity of cars increased till a train's freight tonnage is almost or quite double what it was a score of years ago. The benefit has not all been to the railway share and bond holders. Rates have been reduced by some that seems nothing stated by itself fractions of a cent a ton a mile, but that multiplied by the tens of millions of tons carried a mile means a large saving to those who pay transportation charges. The roads, however, cannot continuously go on spending money on improvements and increasing wages and operating outlays and maintain their financial standing unless they can also increase their earnings in proportion near to that of the growing demands upon them. The calculation is made that the increase to the trainmen just recommended by the board of conciliation, when conceded, and made the basis of concessions to other branches of the cost of wages on Canadian roads as a whole from 43¼ to about 54¼ per cent. of the gross earnings. A large increase in the cost of working the roads cannot be considered alone. If the companies are to meet their responsibilities, maintain their credit, and keep themselves in a position to meet greater demands on their facilities, they must get more for services that cost them more.

Explosion Near Arnprior with Awful Results

Ottawa, July 11—Three people were killed and four seriously injured in an explosion this morning at the works of the Dominion Explosives, Limited, at Sand Point, six miles from Arnprior.

The dead are Earl Murphy, Frank Pittmer, and John Hebolt.

The injured are Edward Lynn, David Lynn, John Chatterton, Sand Point; Thomas Mullett, Carleton Place Donald McLean, Arnprior; J. Natchett, Ottawa; and W. Bradley, Perth; Only David Lynn was seriously injured.

Hebolt and Pittser, two of the dead, are German experts from Philadelphia. Murphy was a 13-year-old boy.

BUILDING CAUGHT FIRE.

From the details received from the scene of the accident, it appears the building caught fire, and got where the explosive substance was stored. The explosion occurred before the employes could get out of the way. The company, which has its headquarters in Ottawa, and is directed by Mr. H. Nicholls of New York, started operations last fall and made an explosive known as the "blaster's friend."

SUPPOSED TO STAND FIRE.

Like the product of the Hull works, which blew up a few weeks ago, the article was supposed to stand fire without going off, and a test of it was conducted before several engineers in Hull some months ago. It stood the heat and concussion then.

FELT FOR MILES.

The explosion shook up things badly at Sandy Point and was felt around the country side. Arnprior doctors were telephone for and went to the scene immediately.

Little Local Lines

Dr. D. N. Carmichael has been appointed on the Board of Examiners of the Ontario Medical College.

Yesterday afternoon, the funeral of the infant child of Mr. and Mrs. Reed, 126 Stewart street, was held to Zion Cemetery. The little one passed away on Saturday night.

The adjourned inquest on the late Mr. I. Vinette was continued last night in the City Council Chamber. A full report given on the front page.

On Thursday evening, July 14th, a lawn social and supper will be held on the grounds of the Sacred Heart church, in aid of the building fund. Supper will be served from 6 to 8 p.m.

The two-year-old son of Mr. Chas. McGee, 599 Downie street, fractured his collar bone on Saturday morning The boy was on the roof of the verandah, and fell off, striking the steps below with the above result. The fracture was at once set and the lad is now doing nicely.

The local Trades and Labor Council will meet tomorrow night at 8 o'clock sharp. The Knights of Pythias Hall has been secured and all meetings will be held in their hall in the future. The second Wednesday of each month is the night of meeting.

By today's despatches we see that the whole congregation of Holy Nazarene church, Chicago, have been arrested for creating a nuisance through their excessive zeal. It would be a good idea to arrest a few thousand of Peterborough's useless dogs which are a worse nuisance than any religious body.

LOSS ON KING'S DEATH.

English Tradesmen and Others Protected by Insurance.

Several millions sterling will be paid in insurance in London as a result of King Edward's death. A story is told of one of the biggest dry goods merchants in western London who just before closing hours dashed to Lloyds in a taxicab and sought to insure the stock which he had laid in for the coming season. He succeeded in getting a policy at 60 per cent. for a month. However, the amount of business done at that rate was not great. Eighty per cent. was paid at the time the King underwent an operation for peritonitis and there was a belief that he would pull through this time also. Large sums will be paid over by members of Lloyds.

Most of the functions which were to have taken place this summer, and a majority of which will either be canceled or suffer financially by the King's death, were insured for a fairly large aggregate. Practically every insurance company in England will have to meet claims. Anyone can insure on the King's life, and the possibilities of losses are so many in the event of the monarch's death that a big business is done in one form or another. Many tradesmen stand to lose a great deal by the death of the King and a large number of them insure against risk. The drapery trade will be much affected, as large stocks of colored summer materials which have been laid in will have, to a large extent, to be displaced during the period of mourning.

It is impossible to estimate the loss to trade, but much of it is covered by insurance in a variety of other ways on which claims will have to be met on the death of the monarch. Certain property in the duchy of Cornwall and the duchy of Lancaster is liable to pass from the holders, who provide against loss by insurance. Suspension of official incomes is another risk which the companies cover, and many owners of stocks and shares, and especially of gilt edged securities, make provision against a fall in the event of the monarch's death.

An Unintended Error.

The Critic—In the twelfth chapter of your novel you say, "As Clifford Dangerfield came slowly up the long garden walk Clarissa, with maidenly admiration, gazed upon him."

The Author—Well, isn't that all right?

The Critic—Hardly. How can Clarissa "gaze" after she has been blinded?

The Author—After she has been blinded? What are you talking about?

The Critic—Why, in the previous chapter, in which you describe Clifford's planing mill, you say, "For a long, fascinating minute Clarissa rested her beautiful brown eyes upon the swiftly revolving bandsaw."

The Oldest Known Bookkeeping.

In the primitive villages of the Andes, scattered through Peru, Bolivia and Ecuador, the descendants of the ancient Incas depend upon the "kipu" for keeping all their accounts. It was in use when Pizarro conquered Peru, and the Andean Indians have never improved on it. It is the oldest known form of bookkeeping. The kipu is simply a collection of knotted strings. Differently colored strings denote different articles in daily use and ten distinct knots the ten numerals. In the absence of a written language it is a marvelously perfect system. Large transactions are conducted as accurately by it as if double entry bookkeeping were employed.

Very Fishy.

She was a fisherman's daughter, she wore her hair in a net, and she preferred love in a piscatorial way.

"My love," he whispered, "you hold first place in my heart! Although I flounder about in expressing himself, my sole wish is that you will save me from becoming a crabbed old bachelor. I shall stick to you closer than a limpet. From you a wink'll be the road to guide me. Together we will skate over life's rocks, and when I look at your hand beside me I shall say to myself, 'Fortune was mine when I put her-ring there!'"

And then the lady dropped her eyes in sweet confusion and murmured:

"Pass the salt."

Didn't Choose Well.

Some years ago a certain candidate, a relative of one of the present New Brunswick Senators, was running for the House of Assembly of that province. One canvass against him was that he was an infidel; and in the course of his nomination speech an opponent who possessed a rather shady business reputation shouted: "You don't believe there is a God."

"Do you, Mr. B.?" asked the candidate.

"Of course I do," replied the opponent.

"Then why have you served the devil all your life?"

The Canary's Claws.

If you have a canary or other cage bird look to its claws from time to time, for in a state of captivity the bird's nails grow so long that they need cutting. If this be neglected the bird is in danger of getting its nails caught in the cage and hanging there till it dies. Use a sharp pair of nail scissors and take care not to cut more than just the tips of the nails. If you hold the bird in a good light you will see a little red "thread" in each nail. This you must avoid, or you will draw blood and hurt your little pet.

The Burning Question.

Venus was rising from the sea.

"Great Jupiter!" cried the men as they crowded the beach. "How did you lose your arms?"

But the women never noticed the arms.

"In the name of all that is wonderful," they chimed, "how do you keep your hair in curl in salt water?"

The Test Star.

What is the farthest limit to which the human vision can reach? Power in his book, "The Eye and Sight," gives the ability to see the star Alcor, situated at the tail of the Great Bear, as the test. Indeed, the Arabs call it the test star.

"Till Rome Cancels Her Curses Hands Off Coronation Oath"

Hon. S. H. Blake Gives Some Startling Advice—Other Canadians Write to Opposition —England is Making History

London, July 11.—With reference to the King's declaration, organizers of the opposition here have received several expressions of opinion from Canada. Hon. S. H. Blake writes: "England is making history; keep profane hands absolutely off the coronation oath until Rome cancels her curses and herself grants what she demands—world-wide religious liberty."

Dr. T. S. Sproule says 300,000 Orangemen and hundreds of thousands of protestants in Canada, are heartily in sympathy with you."

H. Lovelock sends a protest. A petition against the alteration signed by 25,000 Canadians has been received.

No Power to Stop Prize Fight Views

London, July 11.—The British Government has no power to prevent the exhibition of pictures of the Johnson-Jeffries fight, according to a statement which Winston Churchill, the Secretary of State for Home Affairs made in the House of Commons today in reply to a question put by Sir Howell Davies.

There seems to be little disposition in England to exhibit these pictures. The leading London music halls have declined to show them.

HOW TO PAY BILLS.

Local, But Foreign Business Man Throws Account Collector Into the street, After Hitting Him.

A foreigner has recently opened a place of business on George street. Some of those who have had business dealings with this recent acquisition to the local business world say that this newly arrived citizen does not pay his bills more than a thousand years before they are collectable. In fact more than one merchant or mechanic, who has gone to collect an account, has been blandly informed "I do not pay you go to the judge and he give you an order to collect so much a week." The climax,or just about, however was reached yesterday afternoon, when the collector for a local coal company called to collect an account. The proprietor of the place of business referred to, instead of going down to his pocket or till, simply grabbed the collector, landed a couple of streatious blows on his person and then threw the collector out into the street. The collector, last night told a Times' representative that if his (the collector's) "boss" did not take proceedings, he, the collector would,and would do so at once. Canadian or American business life may be strenuous owing to competition and a desire to advance, but this mode of settling a debt is possibly a little too much of the "rush" kind to meet with approval here. The foreigner in question is a big built himself is no babe-in-the-arms.

Nothing in the way of a cough is quite so annoying as a tickling, teasing, wheezing, bronchial Cough. The quickest relief comes perhaps from a prescription known to Druggists everywhere as Dr. Shoop's Cough Remedy. And besides, it is so throughly harmless that mothers give it with perfect safety, even to the youngest babes. The tender leaves of a simple mountain shrub, give to Dr. Shoop's Cough Remedy. Its remarkable curative effect. It is truly a most certain and trustworthy prescription. Sold by all dealers.

Off for Lindsay Today.

Two hundred Orangemen will leave Peterborough at 9.30 this morning for Lindsay. Mr. Archie McDonal will be in charge as director of ceremonies. Some other officers who will attend are N. Hopkins and W. E. Wiley. It is expected that Lindsay will have the time of that town's life today. Possibly more visitors will make a friendly invasion of that pretty town on the Scugog river, than the town has residents.

OVER-WORKED KIDNEYS.

Cause, Rush of Blood, Fulness, Dizziness.

J. T. Chetland, the well-known railway engineer of Hamilton, found the strain always resting upon men of his occupation vastly intensified by a tendency of the blood to rush to his head and often at times when clearness of vision and great steadiness were demanded. Finding some difficulty in bending—a stiffness with pain having settled in his back, it occurred to him that his kidneys might be at fault. "This was a happy idea, for by it I not only got rid of the pain but many other troubles as well. I took a full dose of Dr. Hamilton's Pills and was glad to note that some obstruction of the kidneys which I had lately noticed was at once relieved. The flushed appearance of my face gave way to a more rational color and there was a perceptible improvement in my appetite. Dr. Hamilton's Pills certainly act splendidly upon the blood, removing heat and fulness and that sort of dizziness that makes a man at the throttle wish when it seizes him that he was elsewhere."

No medicine gives such unquestionably good results for stomach, liver and blood troubles as Dr. Hamilton's Pills, they are mild, certain and always curative. Refuse any substitute.

All dealers sell Dr. Hamilton's Pills. 25c. per box, or The Catarrhozone Co., Kingston, Ont.

Y.M.C.A. CAMPERS.

Arrive Safely at Sandy Beach—Boys Greatly Excited.

After a very pleasant trip up the lake on the Water Lily, the Y.M.C.A. boys, in charge of Mr. B. W. Sharpe, boys' secretary, arrived in Camp. Here they found all things in readiness for their two weeks of camp life. Mr. Thampson who had proceeded them on Friday with a squad of engineers had everything in ship-shape as far as tents were concerned. The boys soon had their places assigned to them and fell to fixing up their beds for the night. This being done, some of the small boys enquired "Where is the store?" for they had a purse full of money in their pockets and it must be spent. To those who know anything about camp, it is unnecessary to say that sleep was out of the question on Saturday night. Excitement runs high and not until the small hours of the morning is there any real attempt to sleep. The boys are divided into two squads with a large tent for each squad. Mr. Sharpe is in charge of one and Mr. J. J. Thompson is in charge of the other.

The campers enjoyed the rainstorm, for their tents were sound and as it was Sunday thy were not missing any sport because of it.

On Sunday morning at 10.30 the boys gathered together in the shade of the trees and after singing a few hymns listened to a very helpful sermon from Rev. Mr. Stevens, who occupies a cottage in close proximity to the camp.

Messrs. "Sandy" Hall, A. Fitzgerald and E. Haswell were visitors at camp on Sunday.

The boys are very grateful to some unknown friend who sent them a welcome donation of fruit.

The "Camp Jollier," is the name of a paper published every once in a while, on the typewriter and circulated among the boys. The boys' secretary, Mr. Sharpe is editor.

Local Orators Wanted for Lindsay.

Mr. Wm. Gillette, the furniture dealer, and undertaker of Millbrook, yesterday telephoned to Peterborough, asking that some local sweet voiced orator go to Lindsay today and "ballu-hoo" or "spell" on a "grand aggregation of natural phenomena," that that gentleman is taking to the banks of the Scugog. Mr. Gillette is taking, among other curiosities the wonderful double-headed calf, born in this city about two years ago. Up to going to press none of our L.S.V.O.'s could be found who could spare the time to earn the goodly sum offered by Mr. Gillette.

Mrs. W. C. Young and Mrs. F. Miller left for their home in Owen Sound after visiting Mr. C. Browne, Chamberlain street.

Father Donovan of Chicago, who has been visiting Mr. M. McFadden, Elm street, returned to his home on Saturday.

75,000 People Slept on the Sands of Coney Island--The Death List

THE CASUALTIES.

Deaths from heat—Philadelphia, 13; Greater New York, 10; Washington, 1; Boston, 2; Poughkeepsie, 2; scattered 5, Total 33.

TUESDAY, JULY 12, 1910.

Deaths by Drowning—New York, 5; Philadelphia, 3; Scranton 2; Lake Placid, N.Y., 1; Oswego, N.Y., 2; Connecticut, 7; elsewhere in New England, 8; scattered, 3. Total 31.

New York, July 11.—Seventy-five thousand men, women and children, fagged out by the hot wave, slept on the sands of Coney Island last night. When dawn came bringing the prospect of another scorching day, fully half a million people were sleeping in the open in Greater New York.

The tenement districts fire escapes and roofs were crowded; every park had its full quota, and the great bridges of the East River were lined with thousands craving a bit of air.

The prospects were this morning for another day as severe as yesterday, when, in all the sweltering east more than 30 were killed by heat and 30 persons were drowned.

ANOTHER SCORCHER.

In spite of a sudden drop in the temperature last evening, the outlook in Philadelphia this morning, according to weather bureau reports from there, was for a day at least equaling yesterday, when 13 persons perished from heat—three more than died from the same cause in Greater New York.

A good percentage of the 500,000 people who crowded Coney Island yesterday remained through the night. At midnight the police estimated that, fully half the maximum crowd was still at the beach, and of those who tried to get away, thousands were kept till near dawn by the congestion of transportation systems.

A failing tiny nerve—no larger than the finest silken thread—takes from the Heart its impulse, its power, its regularity. The Stomach also has its hidden or inside nerve. It was Dr. Shoop who first told us it was wrong to drag a weak or failing Stomach, Heart or Kidneys.His prescription—Dr. Shoop's Restorative—is directed straight for the cause of these ailments—these weak and faltering inside nerves. This, no doubt clearly explains why the Restorative has of late grown so rapidly in popularity. Druggists say that those who test the Restorative even for a few days soon become fully convinced of its wonderful merit. Anyway don't drug the organ.Treating the cause of sickness is the only sensible and successful way. Sold by all dealers.

The Inquest on the Late Isodore Vinette

Physicians Performing Post Mortem Cannot Say Whether He was Electrocuted by Live Wire or Not

Last night, at eight o'clock, the inquest on the late Isodore Vinette, killed at the corner of George and Perry streets, was continued in the City Council Chamber, Coroner Dr. Greer presiding. After the jury had responded to their names, the first witness was called. He told of the accident, stating how he had seen Vinette fall from the pole. He did not know how the accident had occurred.

A little seven-year-old boy saw Vinette fall. He turned his face away as he fell through the air. He saw Vinette lying dead.

Dr. Gallivan, who made the autopsy, read the result of his post-mortem. There were decided marks of burns on the back and hand. Most of the organs were in absolutely healthy condition. The cardiac cavity was filled with a dark bloody secretion. This was due to a rupture of the spleen, caused by his fall. The post mortem could not determine whether Vinette was dead before his fall: that is, he could not say, for certain whether Vinette had died from electrocution.

Dr. McPherson, who assisted at the post mortem, corroborated the evidence given by Dr. Gallivan.

Mr. Fife of the Peterborough Light and Power Company gave evidence as an electrical expert. His testimony, as far as possible, seemed sing an opinion, for or against, the somewhat to waver between expres condition of affairs existing in the Otonabee Power Co., at the scene of the accident, or saying whether Vinette lost his grip on the pole cross-arms on account of an electric shock. He went into details as to a wire that hung from a cross arm to another. This wire formerly ran down to a transformer on the pole, but the transformer has been removed. The wire might have touched an iron brace, thus electrifying the brace and the hanging wire which was attached to a live wire carrying a current of over two thousand volts.

Mr. Guerin, who was with Vinette at the time of the accident, gave evidence. He said he had come to the corner of George and Perry streets to fix a pin on a cross arm and also to cut off the wire beforementioned, whichused to run down to the transformer. Vinette, he said had worked with him for some months and was a good wireman and a careful worker. He was filling his pipe at the second Vinette fell. He looked up ak and saw Vinette in a position on the cross arms, that made him, the witness, think Vinette was ill. He shouted out to Vinette asking wheth or he could clear things. Then Vinette fell to the ground. Witness laid him out on the bank, and very shortly saw that Vinette was dead.

A store keeper, whose place of business is just opposite the scene of the accident, saw Vinette up the pole but did not see him fall. He heard the fall however. A doctor was sent for but Vinette was dead when the doctor arrived. His neck was broken.

The County Crown attorney at 11 o'clock, suggested that the inquest be adjourned until tomorrow night at eight o'clock in the same place. This suggestion was adopted.

SPRAINED WRIST AND ANKLE.

Pain for Ten Days, Relief Was Gained Instantly By Applying

NERVILINE.

One of the most soul-distressing accidents that can befall one is a bad ankle or wrist sprain. "If I had only known of 'Nerviline' earlier, I could have saved myself an enormous amount of pain, and many agonizing nights of sleeplessness." Thus writes P. P. Quinn, a young farmer living near Brockville. "I tumbled from a barn floor and sprained my right ankle and left wrist. They swelled rapidly and caused excruciating pains. It was not convenient to go to the city, and the liniment in the house was useless. When I got Nerviline relief came quickly. It took down the swelling, relieved the pain, and gave me wonderful comfort.

"I can recommend Nerviline for strains, bruises, swellings muscular pains and sore back. I have proved it a sure cure in such cases."

Think what it might some day mean to you to have right in your home ready for an accident or emergency sickness, a bottle or two of Nerviline. Get it today, 25c., or five for $1.00, all dealers, or The Catarrhozone Co., Kingston, Ont.

THE NEW REIGN.

King George V. of England has come into his great heritage with the friendly wishes of all nations, the good will and loyalty of his subjects. No matter how familar a figure the heir apparent may be, acquaintance with him as the sovereign must often be made afresh, for great opportunities and responsibilities work changes in human individuality; but in this instance the only change is in the natural development of the Prince of Wales into the King, whose words and deeds have stilled anxiety and inspired great confidence in a brilliant promise.

King George ascends the throne a man trained in the discipline of the British navy, a prince acquainted with "many lands and divers people" of this dominions, a king with the royal gift of reading his people's hearts. The nation feels this, and the page is turned, the new chapter has begun free from the misgivings of uncertainty. Without uncertainty, that is to say, as regards the King himself, but it rests equally with the nations of the empire to do their duty to the crown, to each other, and to themselves, for at this stage of our progress, it is given to no man, be he king or commoner, to impose his will upon the English race by autocratic right alone. In this new chapter will be writ large the response of democracy to the call of high imperial destiny; its fitness for the task of welding the sister states together in indissoluble ties of amity and progress. All hands must pull towards the same goal, and it needs a "long pull and a strong pull, and a pull all together." Inspiration, and guidance may well come from the sailor King who has said that he has personally realized the affectionate loyalty which holds together many lands and diverse people in one glorious fellowship.

Self government, the development of civic liberty, "the benignant spirit of imperial rule" are in the gracious gift of the crown, at once the symbol of empire and the charter of unity; but the practical, actual relations of the dominions with each other and with the mother country, upon which the whole structure more and more depends will be determined by the governments and peoples of the different states. This "imperial spirit is spreading, though it is not yet in the floor of democratic being, not yet accounted as the vital and natural strength and health of the whole body politic; but its rising tide is forced onward as much by the logic of events as by human speech and effort. The demands of the years now at hand is for a period of clear thinking, plain speaking systematic doing. The echoes of "progress and friendly words spoken by the "struggle within our gates" are still ringing in English ears.

The prime minister eloquently said that King Edward VII. has given his people "a memory of great opportunities, growth, expansion, attitude which the humblest of his subjects may treasure and strive to follow, of simplicity, courage, self-denial, tenacious devotion * * * to work, to duty and to service.

Mr. Balfour has said that King George "brings to the task which has thus unexpectedly been thrust upon him, the greatest of all qualities, the qualities of a deep-rooted patriotism and love of the empire of which he has been called upon to be head, and an earnest desire, as he has constantly shown to do his duty."

The new King himself has said: "It will be my earnest endeavor to uphold constitutional government, and to safeguard in all my actions the liberties which are enjoyed through my dominions, and under the good guidance of the Ruler of all men I will maintain upon the foundation of freedom, justice and peace the great heritage of the united British Empire.

As Great Britain and Greater Britain meditate upon these influences and opportunities for high achievement, if will be seen that the greatest glory of the new reign will be in the majestic consolidation wrought by the united people of the empire.

Get Health
First
Then
Pay
Afterwards

Don't think even a penny—until health returns. And I mean just exactly that.

I am the one physician who says to the sick, "I will, out of my own pocket, pay for your medicine if it fails to bring you help."

Now for 30 years Dr. Shoop's medicines have been curing sick people, and at your risk. Just what we mean by this offer, and how we can afford to make it, is explained in Dr. Shoop's Restorative, Dr. Shoop's Night Cure, Dr. Shoop's Pain Relief, Dr. Shoop's Kidney Remedy, and Dr. Shoop's Restorative.

Why do these remedies cure? Because they are made to cure. Because they are made right. Because they are made to help Nature do her own work. This will save delay and disappointment.

All depends on Dr. Shoop's Restorative and Dr. Shoop's Night Cure. Dr. Shoop's Restorative is for the stomach, heart, blood, nerves. Dr. Shoop's Night Cure is for kidneys, liver, bowels, bladder. Both work in the blood and through the health nerve. Remember that. Dr. Shoop's Restorative is not a cure-all. It is not guaranteed to cure everything. It is not guaranteed to cure at all. It is guaranteed to help Nature cure. It is guaranteed to make you well if you can be made well by the use of a tonic. It is guaranteed to make you well if you can be made well by the use of a tonic. It is guaranteed to make you well if you can be made well by the use of a tonic.

Dr. Shoop's Restorative will surely help you. Dr. Shoop's Night Cure will surely help you. Dr. Shoop's Pain Relief will surely help you. Dr. Shoop's Kidney Remedy will surely help you. Dr. Shoop's Restorative will surely help you Unfounded Rumor.

A statement made in an evening paper last night to the effect that options had been secured by the C.P.R. on Stony and Pigeon Lakes properties is, The Times is informed incorrect. We only hope that it might be true, for we believe that a first-class hotel is needed at both places mentioned. Although Mr. R. L. Thompson, district passenger agent of the C.P.R., went through from Peterborough to Coboconk recently on the Str. Otonabee, it was more to see the lakes than a business trip. Mr. Thompson expressed himself as much delighted with the splendid water stretches and magnificent scenery.

HARD TO PLEASE.

Regarding the Morning Cup.

"Oh how hard it was to part with coffee, but the continued trouble with constipation and belching was such that I finally brought myself to leave it off.

"Then the question was, what should we use for the morning drink? Tea was worse for us than coffee; chocolate and cocoa were soon tired of; milk was not liked very well, and hot water we could not endure.

"About two years ago we struck upon Postum and have never been without it since.

"We have seven children. Our baby now eighteen months old would not take milk, so we tried Postum and found she liked it and it agreed with her perfectly. She is today, and has been, one of the healthiest babies in the State.

"I use about two-thirds Postum and one-third milk and a teaspoon of sugar, and put it into her bottle. If you could have seen her eyes sparkle and hear her say "good" today when I gave it to her, you would believe me that she likes it.

"If I were matron of an infants' home, every child would be raised on Postum. Many of my friends say, 'You are looking so well!' I reply, 'I am well; I drink Postum. I have no more trouble with constipation, and know that I owe my good health to God and Postum.

"I am writing this letter because I want to tell you how much good Postum has done me, but if you knew how I shrink from publicity, you would not publish this letter, at least not over my name.

Forty-Three Hurt Six Likely to Die

Special Trolley Loaded with Orangemen Cut in Two by a Work Train—Happened at Oxford Station

Windsor, July 12.—Telescoped by a work train, a special D.U.R. car, loaded with Orangemen, bound for Windsor, was wrecked near Oxford, Mich., at 6 a.m.

Forty-three passengers are hurt, six of whom it is believed will die. On the special car were 90 members ofthe Loyal Orange Lodge No. 347, of Flint.

The collision occurred on a sharp down grade curve, eight miles north of Oxford.

The cause of the wreck was a misunderstanding of orders by the crew of the work train, who thought the three special cars had passed when only two had gone. The wreck was one of the worst in the history of the road, and it is regarded as a miracle that the passengers were not killed.

AN EXPLANATION.

Regarding the Unpleasant Incident Between an Account Collector and a Business Man.

The article that appeared in yesterday's issue of The Times, under the heading of "How to Pay Bills," was, it appears, misleading so far as the relationship between the business houses directly in question is concerned. There are two sides to every story, and the managing director of the firm for whom the collector was acting, after thoroughly investigating the unpleasant incident, assures us that he could and would not endorse the method adopted by his agent in this particular case. He considers the whole trouble to have arisen through lack of business tact and judgment on the collector's part. Said managing director goes further, and assures The Times that he has not had by past experience and does not anticipate in the future any reason to consider any account with the George street merchant in question to be of a doubtful nature in any respect.

Killed His Wife and Small Child

Montreal, July 12.—Marion Croche an Italian crazed with jealousy, murdered his wife and child early this morning in his boarding house at 11 St. Montique street, and then sent a bullet into his own brain. He first split his wife's head open with an axe and cut his three-year-old child's throat before sending bullets into their heads. The woman was shot in the left breast and the baby in the right eye.

They were both murdered as they lay in bed, the child on a cot near thebed of its mother. Croche fell between the two beds when he fired the bullet into his own head.

Those residing in the house say that the tragedy was the result of jealousy. The couple had been married about four years but did not get along very well.

THE KAISER THROWS DOWN THE GAUNTLET TO THE U.S. —SENSATIONAL STATEMENT

Plainly Tells the States He will Do As He Pleases in Central America

Document Says Germany Refuses to Recognize Supervision by the United States —Temper of Uncle Sam Sorely Tried by the Kaiser

Berlin, July 12.—Germany today threw down the gauntlet to the United States in an official statement issued by the foreign office, declaring that Germany intends to do as she pleases in South and Central American affairs, without supervision from America.

This belligerent message was given to a United Press representative, after another formal message, given out earlier in the day, had sought to conciliate the feelings of Americans regarding the Kaiser's attitude toward President Madriz of Nicaragua.

The second message was handed to your representative at the foreign office with the request that it be given widespread publicity in America. No explanation is given as to the wide difference between the first and second messages.

The second message said: "Germany refuses to recognize any right on the part of the United States to supervise her diplomatic relations with other countries, South and Central countries in general, and Nicaragua in particular.

"Germany's recognition of President Madriz is a matter that concerns herself and Nicaragua, but which concerns no third person or power."

SENATIONAL STATEMENT.

This sensational statement is interpreted by some as Germany's first step towards refusing to recognize the Monroe doctrine. In the first authorized message of the day, the foreign office declared Germany had no dream of a coaling station in South America, addingthat her desire in the western hemisphere was but to improve her trade relations.

REV. JOHN COBURN CALLS ON ORANGEMEN TO GET IMMEDIATE REMEDY.

Minister's Affidavits—Result of W. T. Allison's Investigations—The French Language Predominant.

Toronto, July 12.—"Prove all things; hold fast to that which is good," was the text upon which Rev. John Coburn, Grand Chaplain for Ontario West, preached to close upon three thousand Orangemen yesterday in Cooke's church.

The Orange Order, he maintained, stood on the great and broad principles of Protestantism and for religious and civil liberty.

Orangemen sought for the truth always and prized it beyond measure.

In the face of current events, Canadians could not fail to see the need for such an organization as the Orange order.

AGAINST SEPERATE SCHOOLS.

"We are all opposed to Separate schools," said Mr. Coburn. "We all desire to see Protestant and Catholic studying together at the little red school house, but today the Church of Rome is making a most determined and vicious attack on the Public school system of Ontario."

An enquiry, the preacher declared, had been made into school conditions in the three counties of Russell, Prescott and Glengarry in the Province of Ontario, and the conditions disclosed were such as to demand an immediate remedy.

"Where the French population is increasing, and the English-speaking people decreasing the policy of the Catholics is to turn the Public schools into Catholic ones."

The speaker quoting from affidavits made by residents of these sections, instanced cases where Protestant children had been struck for not repeating Catholic prayers and confession had been conducted by Catholic priests while the Protestant children had been dismissed to their homes.

Conditions such as these were not entirely of recent origin, and when they had been brought to the attention of the government the blame for the existence of such a state of affairs was invariably laid on predecessors in office.

"What Orangemen and every patriotic Canadian desires is a system of national non-sectarian schools where the children of Protestants, Roman Catholics, people of all creeds and races shall have their children taught side by side from the same text-books," declared Mr. Coburn. "In the meantime, and until that longed-for day arrives, it is necessary to carefully watch school conditions in the counties I have named."

"This is a matter vitally affecting the welfare of every Protestant in Canada," said Mr. Coburn, who pointed out that three alternatives lay before the Protestant parents in these districts. The first was to support new schools, the second to organize Protestant Separate schools, and the third to allow their children to be taught a religion in which they did not believe."

MIXED MARRIAGES.

Mr. Coburn declared that the attitude of the Roman Catholic Church on the question of mixed marriages was cruel to the contracting parties where, in such instances it held them to be guilty of adultery. While he was not himself in favor of such marriages, yet they were perfectly legal, and it should be made a criminal offence, if it were not so already for any clergyman or priest to declare that parties contracting such marriages were guilty of adultery.

AFFIDAVITS TAKEN.

During the sermon Mr. Coburn read several affidavits which had been secured by Rev. W. T. Allison during a recent investigation in these eastern counties.

In one affidavit, Margaret Hay, of the township of Caledonia, County of Prescott, declared that in the school she attended, all the pupils including the Protestants, were required to kneel and pray to the Virgin Mary four times each day. When the priest came to hear confessions the Protestant children were turned out in the cold or sent home.

Long Parade of Orangemen.

In the local Orangemen's walk yesterday morning Nassau and Downar's Corners lodges were well represented. When lined up, three abreast, the procession extended from the corner of George and Charlotte streets to the Grand Trunk station. Mr. Archie McDonald was director of ceremonies. The Duke of Manchester Lodge, No. 54, Diamond Lodge No. 60, and J. W. Bell Memorial Lodge, were all out in full strength.

Archie McLaughlin Hangs This Morning

Whitby, July 12.—This is the last day on earth for Archie McLaughlin, the youthful Uxbridge murderer, who last fall administered strychnine poison to his wife and then set fire to his home to cover up the crime, causing the death of two of his infant children.

It was reported that he had made a confession, but those in a position to know say that he still maintains his innocence, and that he is not at all likely to confess.

His demeanor is not at all that of a broken-hearted, crushed man. He faces death rather jauntly and did not flinch yesterday when he heard the carpenters at work upon the scaffold upon which he is to pay the price of his crime.

Certain it is that to his spiritual adviser McLaughlin assumes the role of a converted man, though he does not particularly impress his guards with any marked change of character.

Unless all signs fail, McLaughlin will walk to the scaffold tomorrow morning with the same jaunty air that has characterized him throughout. He impresses one with the thought that he is either lacking in sensibility and has no realization of the horrible crime he has committed or he is consciously assuming an air of bravado and indifference. But that he will go to the scaffold without making what may be called a confession may be taken as a settled conviction with those who know him best.

Mr. Tigh, his spiritual adviser, however, promises to have some statement to make after the execution, but this is not expected to be a confession in any detailed form.

OVER-WORKED KIDNEYS.

Cause, Rush of Blood, Fulness, Dizziness.

J. T. Chetland, the well-known railway engineer of Hamilton, found the strain always resting upon men of his occupation vastly intensified by a tendency of the blood to rush to his head and often at times when clearness of vision and great steadiness were demanded. Finding some difficulty in bending—a stiffness with pain having settled in his back, it occurred to him that his kidneys might be at fault. "This was a happy idea, for by it I not only got rid of the pain but many other troubles as well. I took a full dose of Dr. Hamilton's Pills and was glad to note that some obstruction of the kidneys which I had lately noticed was at once relieved. The flushed appearance of my face gave way to a more rational color and there was a perceptible improvement in my appetite. Dr. Hamilton's Pills certainly act splendidly upon the blood, removing heat and fulness and that sort of dizziness that makes a man at the throttle wish when it seizes him that he was elsewhere."

No medicine gives such unquestionably good results for stomach, liver and blood troubles as Dr. Hamilton's Pills, they are mild, certain and always curative. Refuse any substitute.

All dealers sell Dr. Hamilton's Pills. 25c. per box, or The Catarrhozone Co., Kingston, Ont.

Restaurant Keeper Roughly Used.

It seems that an attack, the cause of which is not generally known, was made Monday night upon Mr. M. Douris, proprietor of the Boston Cafe on George street. Mr. Douris yesterday complained to the police that he was attacked by three young men, whilst in the north end of the city. Whether this attack was provoked or not can only be ascertained by evidence in the police court. The cafe proprietor bears evident signs of having been roughly handled. It is generally thought that the attack was not made under the dictates of British fair play.

THE WEATHER.

North-west winds; fair and cooler.

Campbellton Wiped Out by Flames---Seven Deaths from Explosion

St. John, N.B., July 12.— Seven men are reported to have been killed in an explosion incident to a fire which practically destroyed the town of Campbellton, N.B., yesterday, and four thousand persons have been made homeless.

The body of an infant, suffocated in its home, also has been found.

LOSS IS HEAVY.

The property loss is roughly estimated at upwards of $2,000,000, the Intercolonial Railway's loss alone reaching $100,000.

An appeal for help has been sent out, and preparations are being made here and in Halifax to send food and necessities of life to the unfortunates.

DETAILS ARE FEW.

The full extent of the damage and loss of life cannot be learned positively until messengers who were despatched from neighboring towns return, all communication by wire being cut off.

Reports, say however, that buildings a mile from the center of the town have been destroyed together with a large amount of standing lumber of great value.

ORANGEMEN PARADE.

Fine Turnout of Local Brethren Before Leaving for Lindsay.

Local Orangemen, yesterday morning, had a parade, enlivened by the strains from several bands up Water street down George and along other leading thoroughfares, previous to their departure for the day to Lindsay. The parade included several hundred men and boys, whose walk, actions and appearance elicited hearty approval from the many citizens who saw the parade. As usual the Nassau men presented a fine appearance. The local brethren, after the local parade, took train for Lindsay, where an immense gathering of Orangemen enlivened that town greatly. A Lindsay despatch says that in the huge turnout there, the Peterborough representatives attracted great attention. As usual the Orange men from the rural districts were present in large numbers and displayed their evident interest in the Order.

Dr. McPherson, M.H.O., Explains.

Dr. McPherson, medical health officer, in answer to criticisms of the local Board of Health, in regard to disposal of garbage, said that the matter of cleaning up garbage in lanes and yards, rested with the council which had introduced a garbage bylaw which was voted down by the people. Only a few months ago Ald. Turner endeavored to get the council to take action on the recommendation of the Board that the garbage system be instituted but no action was taken on it.

SAD AND SUDDEN DEATH OF MISS MARION HARPER

Shortly before seven o'clock last evening death suddenly called Miss Marion Harper, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Harper, of this city. The deceased young lady was staying with friends on Bolivar St., while her mother and sisters were visiting in Hastings. Apparently in the best of health, she after a hearty tea and as was her custom immediately left the house for a short stroll. On reaching the side walk she was seen to fall to the pavement and roll over with a cry of distress. She was at once carried into the house in an unconscious condition and medical assistance summoned, but it is thought that life may have been extinct when the unfortunate young lady was picked up from off the side walk. The exact cause of death could not be ascertained last night, but in falling the deceased's glasses were broken and pieces of glass had evidently penetrated the temple. Whether she tripped on the steps or her fall was caused by some unsuspected physical ailment is not yet known. Neither is it quite clear if the injury in the temple proved fatal or if she was suddenly stricken by the grim reaper. One doctor when phoned last night refused to make any statement as to the cause of death.

The deceased was an estimable young lady of loveable disposition whose untimely demise will be deeply regretted by a large circle of friends and acquaintances. Mr. Harper was away in Lindsay with the 57th Band at the time of the sad occurrence, and was reached by telephone at Omemee on his return journey home. Mrs. Harper was telephoned to at Hastings in a guarded manner. The sad news was also gently broken by sympathetic friends to the deceased's sister Helen, who had returned to town for a few days, visit with friends. The bereaved family will have the sympathy of the entire community in their sad and sudden bereavement.

Overwhelming Victory for Roblin Government

Winnipeg, Man., July 12.—The general elections in Manitoba, which Premier Roblin regarded as an vindication of his honor, resulted in an overwhelming victory for his government.

Early returns indicate that only eleven Liberals have been returned as against thirteen in the former House while thirty Conservatives are numbered among the successful candidates.

The gains and losses were about equally divided. The Conservatives gained five seats in Arthur, Dauphin Emerson, Gimli and Deloraine while the Liberals gained four—in Lakeside, LaVerandrye, Minnedosa and Winnipeg North.

In Emerson, Hon. Mr. McFadden, who in 1907 was beaten by 105, has been returned over Geo. Walton by the handsome majority of 200.

DOCTORS CONDEMN OILY LINIMENTS.

The Public are Warned to Be Careful of These Strong-Smelling Oily Liniments, Containing Harmful Acids, Ammonia, Etc.

Many people have clung to the old-fashioned idea that a thick, greasy liniment is the best kind. Doctors say not—and they know.

Recently a number of these white, oily liniments were analyzed, and they were found to contain an enormously high percentage of harmful acids, and such irritating chemicals as ammonia, etc. For the moment they may cause a warm sensation when first applied, but their continued use never cures rheumatism, and only deteriorates the skin, sets up inflammation and causes endless trouble.

When a doctor warns you to quit using a white, oily liniment—do so. He knows that a thick liniment can not penetrate, cannot sink through the pores and reach the seat of the pain.

When asked his opinion a few days ago, Dr. Roberts stated that he considered a strong, penetrating, pain-subduing liniment, such as Nerviline, to be superior to any of the white ammonia liniments. In his twenty-five years of practice he had witnessed cases of rheumatism, sciatica and lumbago that simply would not respond to ordinary treatment—but Nerviline cured them. The same physician also spoke of the great advantages of keeping a preparation like Nerviline in the house always, because of cramps, diarrhoea, stomach disorders, earache, toothache, headache and such minor ailments. Nerviline is a first-class cure. There is scarcely an ache or a pain, internal or external, that Nerviline won't cure. In thousands of homes no other pain-relieving medicine is used. Fifty years' continued success and the endorsement of the profession are proof that Nerviline is the liniment for the home.

Any good druggist or dealer can supply the large 25c. bottles of Nerviline.

A CHAPTER OF ATTITUDES.

The man does not live who would lie in a hammock and read Malthus or Karl Marx. It would be utterly repugnant to his sense of fitness. No one knows the reason, but we almost invariably suit our physical position to the books we read. Bolt upright we pose over theology, or philosophy, or mathematics. We are Stoics for the nonce, careless of weariness and pain, heedless of physical comfort. The effort of our brain to comprehend is reflected in the undue stiffness of our muscles, and in a coldly ferocious countenance. One often thinks that Schopenhauer, who spent all the time at severe mental exercise must have had a face like a meat-axe.

History and biography loosen us up a little with Macaulay or Goldwin Smith, we may sit in an easy chair, with our feet respectably planted on the floor, a sense of easy dignity in our attitude, and a smile of toleration for the world upon our face. But with Carlyle it is different. A man who habitually reads the sage of Chelsea is in the midst of a constant display of fireworks. He gets uneasy and shuffles in his chair. At last he rises and paces the floor, holding the book with one hand and making appropriate gestures with the other.

The only proper way to read "Gulliver's Travels" or the "Arabian Nights" is to lie down on your watch chain before a grate fire. That is the proper attitude to stimulate the sense of wonder. "Robinson Crusoe," taken in this way on a November evening, is several notches better than any other literature we know. Poetry adapts itself excellently to this attitude. Perhaps Browning and Matthew Arnold will not. These are exceptions. Before beginning them seriously a wet towel around the head may be advantageous.

Fiction of the lighter type is the only form of reading suitable for a hammock. The author has expended so little mental effort in the creation of the story that the reader may send his intellect out to pasture before he begins Chapter 1. The tea-cent magazines are full of this sort of reading, and wisely so. How else could we get through our holidays without accumulating a massive and fearful grouch?

One more point. If you would read Bernard Shaw most effectively, stand on your head.

A failing tiny nerve—no larger than the most silken thread—takes from the Heart its impulse, its power, its regularity. The Stomach also has its hidden or inside nerve. It was Dr. Shoop who first told us it was wrong to drug a weak or failing Stomach, Heart or Kidneys. His prescription—Dr. Shoop's Restorative—directed straight for the cause of these ailments—these weak and faltering inside nerves. This, no doubt clearly explains why the Restorative's log of fine graves so rapidly in popularity. Druggists say that those who test the Restorative even for a few days soon become fully convinced of its wonderful merit. Anyway don't drug the organ. Treat for the cause of sickness in the easily sensible and economical way. Sold by all dealers.

IF SICK--WHY PAY

Unless Health First Returns.

Here is what should and can be done!

Now you would not willingly pay for that that was worthless—would you?

Then why pay for medicine until that medicine first proves to you its actual worth?

Positively ignoring what Dr. Shoop's Restorative can do for the sick, I say to you "Don't pay unless health first returns". And I say to my Restorative with a clear conscience and record of forty years, No pay demands.

I send it direct to the sick, entirely upon the merits of "Dr. Shoop's Restorative to Absolutely be Free if it fails". Let others do the common or class pays their possible good.

If you need more strength, more vitality, more vigor or more vim, you may have the same by just such means as millions have employed.

When the Stomach, Heart, or Kidneys do wrong, then best Dr. Shoop's Restorative. It is for these three—and for them only. Don't accept substitutes for they are wrong. I make but one medicine, which is Restorative. Dr. Shoop's Restorative. If that fails to help you, it costs you nothing. That is why I can afford to say, as I do, that if it fails, you are not to pay.

Those tender nerves that ache and pain, "the sick nerves," no longer. Once a Shoop Restorative habit has been formed, small doses suffice. Nothing else in the World has power, in time, like Restorative to bring back lost nerve force.

Prove this. You will count up every good thing done by those who are well. Then left out are the thousands and thousands here there and everywhere who are not well. They left out are the thousands who are sick and ailing because of some weak or failing inside nerve. All of these should use Restorative. That is why I can afford to say, as I do, that if it fails, you are not to pay.

This is why I say "Write me whether you a sufferer whose mother dare not bank it just as I do by this remarkable offer".

So write me today for the order.

I have appointed honest and responsible druggists in nearly every community to hand out medicines to the sick.

A FEAT OF HORSEMANSHIP.

Threading a Needle While Riding at Full Gallop.

Some amazing tests of horsemanship have been performed by cowboys and Indians, not to speak of those astonishingly expert Cossacks, but it is doubtful if these have ever exceeded the feat of a Rif irregular cavalryman.

Constable Ince once won a watch a baby from its mother's arms at full gallop, tore it into the air, caught it and repeat the performance. Indian riders in the far west have sprung from their horses' backs while the animals were moving at full gallop, picked up arrows and remounted instantly in a standing posture. But who ever heard of a Connaught, an Indian or a cowboy threading a needle while at full gallop?

The horsemen of the Rif coast are small mounts slight, but quick and wiry, of thoroughbred Arabian barb type. These of the irregular cavalry perform all manner of charges and evolutions. They will throw their swords and matchlocks into the air, catching them by the hilts and stocks. On one occasion, by way of offering some new and unusual entertainment to a French officer visiting that region, it was announced that one rider would attempt the needle threading feat.

A needle and a piece of thread possibly two or three feet in length were produced. They were both handed around for inspection. The needle was a cambric one and the thread fifty or sixty fins.
